The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Now, that the gubernatorial campaign has entered the final three weeks, it is possible to get a little clearer picture of the race, political observers over the state indicate. Wallace, who made such tremendous strides up until two weeks ago, is now being challenged on all sides and is being placed on the defensive, which, it is reported, has caused him to lose ground. Faulkner, who had been conceded front-running position until this was challenged by Wallace, was reported as again gaining ground after a slump that challenged his No. 1 spot. Patterson, who was said to be lagging within the past two weeks, has come out slugging at certain interests and at least one opponent and threatens to reveal a skeleton in the closet of one of the leaders. These aggressive moves have given his campaign a boost, so the report goes. Todd and his Chuck Wagon gang continue to attract large crowds in North Alabama, however an eye-witness report from Monroeville said that his appearance there attracted a handful of listeners. Owen, it is reported, with his solid stand on the Right to Work bill and record in office has given his campaign a definite boost in some quarters, with many observers now placing him in fourth place after Faulkner, Wallace and Patterson.

Of genuine interest to their supporters over the state are the gains reported for Hawkins and Harrison. Both these outstanding legislators, although late starters, are making steady progress and some observers believe that before election day one, at least, might be a threat to the run-off spots. The other seven candidates are given little chance to rise from the lower half of the fourteen in the race, the report shows.

It is commendable the manner in which all of the candidates in the local races are conducting their campaigns. But this is in line with the high-type candidates the political offices of Lauderdale County have always attracted.

The lament of the average husband, as he addresses friend wife, goes like this: You get dressed, I'll feed the pup, for tonight—we'll live it up! But, before we step out, honey—better let me have some money!

The young wife was in tears as she ran for comfort to her neighbor's home. "I've had a terrible quarrel with John and now he's gone," she cried. Her neighbor assured her that there was no need for her crying. "He's left you before and always come back," she soothed. "Yes, I know," sobbed the unhappy wife, "but this time he took his bowling ball."

The important thing in today's modern home is that the husband and wife must have minds that run in the same channel—or have two TV sets.

A survey shows that more and more women are working full time and providing the where-with for family living. It would seem that sooner or later modern times will catch up with the pattern established by the American Indian, whose squaw did all the work.

The average man today blames all his ills on two sources—his wife and the government. And it's a neck and neck race as to which gets most of the blame.

The son had been hearing a lot about traitors in politics and approached his father for an explanation. The father explained that such a traitor was a man who leaves his party and goes over to the other one. "What about a man who leaves his party and comes over to yours?" the son asked. The father was quick to explain: "Such a man, son, is a convert, a smart convert."

It's useless to try to hold a person to anything he says while he is madly in love, drunk or running for office.

Farmers Put $617,872 In Acreage Reserve Pot

Friday Is Deadline For Signing Contracts Under Soil Bank Program

Lauderdale County farmers eligible to place land in the Acreage Reserve Program of the Soil Bank must do so before Friday night, deadline for acceptance of agreements by the local office of the Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation agency.

As of Wednesday afternoon, more than 1,554 agreements, covering 11,582 acres, and representing claims totaling $617,872 had been filed by Lauderdale County farmers, according to Lawrence H. Rickard, manager of the Florence ASC office.

Indications were Wednesday that the total value of Acreage Reserve agreements would amount to $650,000 by the Friday office-closing deadline.

Mr. Rickard estimated that farmers in Lauderdale would plant between 15,000 and 16,000 acres in cotton this year, as compared with approximately 22,000 acres devoted to cotton in 1957.

But unless Wednesday's sunny weather continues, there is some likelihood that all of the permissible 15-16,000 acres won't be planted. County Agent L. T. Wagon said cotton should be planted in this section around April 20, but thus far this year the ground hasn't been dry enough to turn and prepare for seed.

He advised planting as soon as possible in May if the wet weather continues through this month. Wagon said land for cotton should be well fertilized with the recommended variety, but fertilizer should not be put down with the seed. He advised, rather, that it be put down two inches below seed or to the side to prevent injury.

Bobby McGuire Is Board Candidate

Resident of Lexington Community Is Interested In Aiding County Schools

Bobby J. McGuire, native and lifelong resident of the Lexington community, is a candidate for membership on the Lauderdale County Board of Education in the Democratic Primary, May 6.

Mr. McGuire, a graduate of Lexington High school, also attended Athens College and the extension service of Howard College. During his service in the U. S. Navy in the Korean War, he took various advanced training in technical subjects.

An athlete of exceptional ability, Mr. McGuire lettered in basketball and baseball at Lexington for three consecutive years and played semi-pro baseball for a number of years. In 1954, he was given a try-out with the Detroit Tigers at their Lakeland, Fla., camp and has several offers from major league clubs.

Active in church and community work, Mr. McGuire is employed in the aluminum foil mill of Reynolds Metals Co. In speaking of the campaign in which he is engaged, Mr. McGuire said that he feels he is well qualified to fill the position on the Board of Education he seeks and is vitally interested in serving the best interests of the county school system. "If elected," Mr. McGuire said, "I shall put forth every effort to be of value to the board and pledge myself to cooperate fully with the other board members and the superintendent to promote a larger, finer and better equipped school system for our county."

ACCUSED RAPIST WAIVES HEARING IN COLBERT

Leon Britnell, 32-year-old Lauderdale County resident charged with raping an expectant mother of four children in Sheffield, has waived his case to the next non-jury term of the Colbert County Law and Equity Court.

The charge against Britnell carries a maximum sentence of death.

TO ADDRESS RALLY—Jimmy Faulkner, front-running gubernatorial candidate, will address a "Faulkner for Governor" rally at the Central High School Stadium Tuesday night, April 22, at 7:30 p. m. On the following day, he will address rallies at Rogersville at 9 a. m., Killen at 10 a. m. and Waterloo at 11:45 a. m.

College To Crown Queen Of The May

WSGA Sponsors Program For Annual May Fete On Campus At FSC

On May 7, Florence State College will officially observe the beginning of the spring with a gala May Day program. The program, which is sponsored by the WSGA, will include music by the college band; dances and drills by Kilby Training School sixth graders, physical education students, and the Lionettes; and a short drama by the Rehearsal Club. The art department is working on the setting and posters and the Home Economics Club is planning the costumes.

This presentation will celebrate the coronation of the Queen of the May and her court. A committee of girls—two from each girls' dormitory, one from each of the Tri-Cities, and the president of the WSGA—constituted the nominating committee. The May queen and maid of honor must be seniors with a scholastic average of at least 1.5 and active in campus activities. Members of the queen's court will be two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore and a freshman. Court members must have at least a 1.0 average and be otherwise qualified as are the queen and maid of honor.

A campus election to choose queen, maid of honor and court will be held this week. Nominees are Seniors—Becky Blair, Florence; Sara Couch, Bridgeport; Betty Ann Gentry, Moulton; Mary Ann Guber, Birmingham; Frieda Hester, Guin; Sarah Kitchens, Tanner; Virginia McLaren, Orlando, Fla.; Bobbie Nell Maynor, Pisgah; Jane Mills, Vernon; Kathryn Phillips, Stevenson; Carolyn Posey, Double Springs; Christine Waldrep, Sheffield; Carol Ann McCann, Brilliant; and Mable Posey, Cherokee.

Juniors—Martine Baccus, Winfield; Barbara Brown, Paris, Tenn.; Carolyn Bullington, Athens; Lucy Heidorn, Dora; Peggy Kirkpatrick, Dora; Gerda Newton, Vina; Peggy Norton, Town Creek; Mayme Parker, Waverly, Tenn.; Jean Quinn, Sheffield; and Betty Rolen, Florence.

UC President Sees Present Conditions As 'Readjustment'

Won't Have Long-range Affect On Corporation Or Nation, Dial's View

Stockholders of Union Carbide Corporation were told at the annual meeting Tuesday that the management feels present conditions represent a short-term readjustment which does not effect to an important extent the long-range growth of industry in this country, or the long-range growth of Union Carbide.

Morse G. Dial, president, said that the advantages that accrue to Union Carbide as a supplier of basic raw materials to fast-growing segments of industry also impose certain obligations. "If we are to participate in their growth and expansion," he said, "We must equip to take care of their needs."

Sales of Union Carbide have held at a constant level since the sharp drop in November last year, Mr. Dial pointed out. Union Carbide now has plant capacity which, at present prices, could support sales of approximately $1.7 Billion a year. First-quarter sales, which are estimated at approximately $294 million, represent only about two-thirds of the corporation's total productive capacity. This was a decrease of approximately 16 per cent from sales for the same period a year ago, which amounted to $351 million.

Net income for the first quarter is estimated at about 70 cents a share, as compared with $1.18 a share for the first quarter of 1957. Directors, however, at their last dividend meeting on April 9, declared the usual 30 cents dividend payable June 2.

Plant construction in 1958 will total about $150 million.

"I would like to say that there is little that we alone can do to change the current level of industrial activity—aside from continuing to run our business in a prudent manner, with confidence in the future—yet I have the belief that our organization has the will, the ability and the ingenuity to adjust itself to the current operating conditions in a manner that will meet with the approval of our stockholders," Mr. Dial said. "We have an organization that is vigorous, it has high morale, it is resourceful, and it is ambitious; and it is ready to take advantage of any improvement that occurs in our economy. For these reasons, I have every confidence that the business of Union Carbide will continue healthy, that we will capitalize on the future business level when it comes, and will fully realize the great future growth potentialities of this corporation."

Family Life To Hold Conference

Sessions Start April 22 In Sheffield; Snapshot Winners To Compete

Mrs. Kenneth Bishop, Rt. 2, Cherokee, submitted the winning snapshot in the fifth and final week of the Family Life Conference snapshot contest. The picture, which was awarded the weekly prize of five dollars, was a snapshot of her husband reading the bible to the Bishop children, Don and Christie. It is eligible to compete for the grand prize of $25 to be awarded at the Family Life Conference, April 22-23 at the Muscle Shoals Hotel.

The sessions on that date will start at the First Presbyterian Church and the Muscle Shoals Hotel and will be open to the public without charge with the exception of the luncheon, a spokesman for the Conference stated.

Tickets for this meeting are available from any of the seven sponsoring civic clubs or religious groups at $1.50 each. Juvenile winners in the poster contest are: Jimmy Zickos, 407 Park Boulevard, Sheffield; Mary Ann Young, 702 Sherrod Ave., Florence; Sue Pennington, Route 2, Leighton. They are winners in grade school, junior and senior high school divisions. These attractive posters express the theme of the conference through visual information.

Florence Is Designated Area Of Surplus Labor

The government's General Services Administration in Washington has designated Florence and Sheffield among five Alabama municipalities with a surplus labor supply.

The agency announced that, as extensively as possible, it will set aside portions of its procurement to be bid on only by firms located in these areas. Most orders will be placed through smaller manufacturing firms but larger concerns in affected areas will also receive consideration, officials said.

The GSA recently estimated that some $300 million in purchase orders can be placed by June 30 in areas where labor is in surplus supply without any increase in the cost paid by the government for items involved.

Other Alabama cities with an oversupply of labor, all in North Alabama, include Gadsden, Jasper and Talladega.

Flagg Asks Sale, Curtailment Of Firm's Knit Goods Division

EVERYONE APPROVED, NEEDLESS TO SAY—Moscow's man of the hour, Nikita S. Khrushchev, now Communist party leader and premier of Russia, announces his new cabinet to a windup session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, in Moscow. Later, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko announced that Russia was suspending all further tests of atomic and hydrogen bombs. The announcement came just after the Soviets completed a series of nuclear explosions and just before the United States was scheduled to begin a long-deferred series of tests in the Marshall Islands of the Pacific.

Stockholders To Pass On Plan On May 8th

The uncertain position in which the J. T. Flagg Knitting Co., of Florence, division of Flagg-Utica Corporation, finds itself in today is expressed in a statement issued Wednesday by President Flagg from his New York office.

Mr. Flagg, in a message to this newspaper, announced a plan for the curtailment or disposal by Flagg-Utica Corporation of its knit goods business and the investment of its funds in other lines.

Continuing, Mr. Flagg said: "The time has come to put our money to use where we can earn reasonable profits, rather than the low profits we earn in our present business."

The corporation has called a special meeting of its stockholders on May 8 to consider and act upon a proposal authorizing the Board of Directors to sell any or all of the assets of the corporation, and a proposal to amend the corporate charter, among other things, to permit the corporation to engage in any business.

Subject to the approval by the stockholders of those proposals, the corporation has offered to purchase shares of its prior preferred stock at par ($50 per share) plus accrued dividends, and shares of its common stock at par ($5 per share).

The Jewett T. Flagg Trust, which controls 53.8 per cent of the voting power of the corporation, has announced that it will vote in favor of the proposals. The corporation's offer to purchase stock does not extend to stock owned by this trust.

Directors' Report
To further clarify the situation with Flagg-Utica, Austin Broadhurst, secretary, issued the following statement from the directors to the stockholders in a letter dated April 14:

"The directors have voted to recommend to the stockholders that the stockholders authorize the sale or other disposition of all or any part of the business and assets of the Corporation and the amendment and restatement of its Certificate of Incorporation. Such amendment and restatement will (1) broaden the purposes of the Corporation so as to permit it to engage in any type of lawful business and to acquire securities or assets of other enterprises, and (2) reclassify all the outstanding Convertible Second Preferred Stock into Common Stock. A Special Meeting of the Stockholders to consider and take action upon these proposals has been called for May 8, 1958. A notice of the meeting and a Memorandum in connection therewith are enclosed."

The directors have also determined that, subject to the approval by the stockholders of these proposals and the filing of the Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the Corporation shall offer to purchase on May 19, 1958, all or any part of the outstanding shares of its Prior Preferred Stock at the par value thereof, $50 per share, plus accrued dividends, and shares of its Common Stock at the par value thereof, $5 per share; all as more fully set forth at page 4 of the accompanying Memorandum for Stockholders.

"The major factor which has led the directors to recommend the proposals to be acted upon at the Special Meeting is their conclusion, after long study, that the continued manufacture and sale of knit garments without relocation and substantial change in the Corporation's present facilities and methods will not produce a reasonable return on the stockholders' investment. Furthermore, the directors are satisfied that, at least for the foreseeable future, any major investment in adopting new marketing methods presents risks of loss which outweigh the possible advantages. Although the directors believe that some relocation and new investment for certain of the Corporation's present activities does hold out hope of reasonable earnings on the funds required, they consider that the orderly disposition of those present operating properties which cannot be run profitably will result in the realization of the maximum proceeds from them. These proceeds can then be used with new corporate funds for investment in other types of enterprises or securities from over take Russia."

Approval apparently depends on whether or not officials of the Defense Department believe the scientific value would be worth $10 million, Von Braun said.

Dr. Herbert York, chief scientist of the Defense Department's new advanced research projects agency, told the space committee it would "take more than two years to over take Russia."

Army Has Plans To Fire Man Into Outer Space

Von Braun Says May Take Year If Project Is Given Approval

Scientist Wernher von Braun revealed this week that the Army wants to fire a man 150 miles into space and bring him safely back to earth again. The Redstone Arsenal missile expert said it would be done by means of the Army's already successful Redstone Rocket. He added there were volunteers ready to make the trip.

With respect to preparations for the trip Von Braun said it would take about a year after permission was granted. He said he was convinced that the Redstone's space flight could be made before the X-15 rocket plane could be ready to take a man into space near the top of the earth's atmosphere.

He said Russia now has the capability to send a man 150 miles into space. He added that the project for this nation would cost about $10 million.

In taking over details of the method of firing a man into space the scientist revealed that the first space traveler would be sealed in the nose of the rocket in a one-ton capsule. At the top of the flight the nose would detach and air-brakes and other equipment would be used to bring the passenger back immediately to a safe landing, preferably in the ocean near a ship. He said this would be safer than trying landing on the ground. The passenger's capsule would not go into orbit like the conventional satellites nor would it encircle the earth. He estimated that the entire project would take only about ten minutes, the rocket's speed being about 3,000 miles an hour when its engines cut off.

Von Braun said previously that Russia may well beat the United States in sending a rocket to the moon. He said the Army had filed manned-rocket proposals to the Defense Department about three months ago calling for four missile firings with the first two carrying animals instead of humans.

In discussing the scientific aspects of the project Von Braun said man would be "gravity-free" in approximately six minutes from take-off. He said medical scientists were intensely interested.

Approval apparently depends on whether or not officials of the Defense Department believe the scientific value would be worth $10 million, Von Braun said. He said the United States is moving as fast as possible in rocket research programs to fire a rocket to the moon. He said this nation had rockets with enough thrust to span the 239,000 miles to the moon but it would take many months to order the parts needed to complete them.

Dr. Herbert York, chief scientist of the Defense Department's new advanced research projects agency, told the space committee it would "take more than two years to over take Russia."

It's Everybody's Business

Spring is no longer just around the proverbial "corner." Spring is here. A few more cool snaps, "dogwood winter" perhaps, and then it's turn on the air-conditioners and the attic fans for good old Alabama summer-time.

The surest harbinger of spring isn't always the robin hopping across the lawn or the first jonquils but when ma hands pa the rake or the window washing equipment some Saturday and says it's time to do our spring cleaning." It's always "our" spring cleaning and it's the surest sign of spring that man has invented to date and a lot more accurate than all the almanacs put together.

And speaking of spring we were up on the mountain Sunday looking over the scenery and admiring the wildflowers peeping out from under the rocks and last year's leaves, when we happened to look over the side and right below us was a sight too often seen these days . . . beer cans. Not just a few beer cans but thousands of beer cans, some old, some new but all used. There were so many they spilled on down the mountain side as far as the eye could see . . . mute testimony to man's thoughtless and stupid desecration of nature.

Soon the flowers and weeds and foliage of the bushes growing on that mountain side will hide most of the beer cans but they will not change the fact that hundreds of human beings stopped there who had no more appreciation of the beauties of nature than they had of the rights of their fellow-man.

What perversity in human nature makes us do as we do? To litter up the country-side with refuse or trash of any kind is both stupid and reprehensible and yet there are people who think it is smart to load their car with trash and dump it somewhere in the country when a short trip to the nearest city trash can would be far less expensive and certainly less trouble.

Empty cans filling with water create mosquito breeding places that may infest a whole neighborhood with the pests in a matter of hours thus becoming a health menace. Other trash is equally obnoxious and unless covered immediately usually becomes odorous and attractive to flies and other insect pests.

So let's all do our part to keep the country-side clean and healthful and discourage at all times the dumping of trash along our roads and in our woodlands.

If we see others doing it we might remind them that it is also against the law and carries a heavy fine.

A Sound Economy

The current recession is viewed by most people with considerable apprehension and the nation's leaders are in agreement that combative measures should not be delayed.

There is this, however, that no one should lose sight of. This nation's real wealth lies in its ability to produce and consume and because of this there is an economic soundness possessed by no other country on earth. Our free enterprise system with its boundless resources and opportunities for continued expansion and growth remains unimpaired.

Steps are now being taken by the federal government to encourage investments and spending by lowering interest rates. Public works and highway building are designed to increase the flow of money into purchasing channels. More flexible credit plans are being offered in many categories of business from house-building to appliance-buying. Prices on some commodities are being lowered to stimulate buying though the overall cost of living still continues to spiral upward.

Two of the most potent weapons to combat the recession however lies in the public's hands. One is the refusal to buy items out of proportion to income resulting in payments that are too burdensome; the other is systematic savings out of income.

We must keep in mind that the people of this nation reached their present high level of living through energy, ambition and imagination. With these same three attributes we can and will weather the recession without a major setback to the country's basic economy.

3 Communities Set FFA Calf Show Candidate Rallies Set Wednesday

Suppers and candidate rallies have been announced for the coming week by three Lauderdale County communities.

On Friday evening, with serving beginning at 6 p. m., a spaghetti supper is on tap at Killen School. Candidates will address voters in the school auditorium afterward.

The candidates and their supporters will go to Whitehead Saturday evening, with the meal to be served at the luncheon in the school.

Pleasant Hill Methodist Church is arranging a pot-luck supper at that place for 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Coffee High's Bandmen Receive 'Superior' Rating

Coffee High School's band was one of five in its class competing in the annual three-day high school music competition at the University of Alabama this week to receive a Superior rating. Other high school band in Class A and AA designated Superior were Jones Valley High, Birmingham; Emma Sansom High, Gadsden; Butler High, Huntsville; and Robert E. Lee High, Montgomery.

Eighty bands competed in the event held at the university, of which 21 were in the Class A and AA contest.

Two Physicians' 50-Year Service To Be Recognized

Two area doctors will be among those awarded Certificates of Distinction tomorrow by the State Medical Association, at its annual meeting in Montgomery.

Area physicians receiving certificates are Dr. Thomas D. Cloyd and Dr. William R. Moore, both of Florence.

The award states that the physician "has practiced his chosen profession of medicine for fifty years, or more, and that through his proficient and untiring ministry of the science of healing has done honor to God, his community, his profession, and himself." The certificate is awarded as recognition of a physician's "unselfish devotion to his patients and his loyalty to the medical profession."

A total of 28 physicians compose the 1958 class of the Fifty Year Club.

QB's 'Pro Night' Proves Enjoyable

"Pro Football Night" at the Tri-Cities Quarterback Club Wednesday proved one of the most enjoyable meetings in the club's history, with present and former players in the National and Canadian football leagues tipping off QB members to some "inside" on the pay-for-play game.

Bill Wade, formerly of Vanderbilt but now quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams, was the principal speaker at the meeting at the Tennessee Valley Country Club.

Other pros present for the meeting included Harlon Hill, Chicago Bears; Bill Lumpkin, a draft choice of the New York Giants; Lum Snyder, Philadelphia Eagles; George Weeks, Brooklyn Dodgers; Ralph Jones, Detroit Lions-Baltimore Colts; Bo Russell, Washington Redskins; Darrell Crawford, Chicago Cardinals; Bobby Freeman, Cleveland Browns; Casey Jones, Detroit, and Monk Romine, Toronto, Canadian League.

Bill Mapes, WOWL Are Voted Honors

Recognition came twice the past week to Radio-Television Station WOWL.

William A. Mapes, manager of the station, was elected president of the Alabama Broadcasters' Assn., at the annual convention of that group in Mobile.

Five awards for outstanding news presentation were also captured by the Florence station, and were presented by Oliver Garmeling, general manager of the Associated Press. Nellie Bigbee's local news coverage, Bill Wynn's sports and farm broadcasts and Mays' comprehensive news reporting were termed outstanding.

The National Safety Council notified Public Safety Director Bill Eversly that Station WOWL was one of three Alabama recipients of public interest awards for 1957, two advertising firms receiving the others. WOWL was recognized for its outstanding contributions to traffic safety in the state.

Engelhardt Talks To Exchange Club

Explains Plan To Split Macon County, Prevent Domination By Negroes

The problems faced by white citizens of Macon County, home of Tuskegee Institute, and plans made to prevent the possibility of its government being taken over by Negroes, was explained to members of the Florence Exchange Club Tuesday by State Sen. Sam Engelhardt, Tuskegee attorney and candidate for lieutenant - governor.

Senator Engelhardt pointed out that Macon County has a population of 27,000, of which only 4,000 are white, and explained his legislation which gerrymandered 2,500 Negroes outside the city limits of Tuskegee, thus removing them as possible voters in the city. Only eight Negro families remained as residents of Tuskegee, he said.

He also recounted the growth of the Tuskegee Civic Improvement Association, and organization of Negro citizens of Macon County, which he claims became an adjunct of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The candidate for Alabama's second highest executive office displayed a map to Exchange members showing the proposed division of the county he represents in the state senate among the six adjoining counties—Bullock, Elmore, Lee, Montgomery, Russell and Tallapoosa.

Should Macon County be divided among its neighbors, a step Senator Engelhardt said would be taken reluctantly and only as a last resort against Negro domination, Tuskegee would become a part of Bullock County. Only pressure from outsiders would force dissolution of his county, Engelhardt declared.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting, for which U. O. Redd, Jr., arranged the program, included Tom Braly, Fred Osborn and James Manning.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

What About Weekly Teenage Allowances?

Every time teenagers get together, boys or girls, one of their topics of conversation, and they are seriously concerned, is their allowance. It takes more for a boy to have a date in 1958 than it did his father in 1938; money just doesn't stretch like it did. I don't think I know a teenager who believes his allowance is adequate. What's the answer? Does Dad dig deeper into his pocket to keep son and daughter financially solvent?

There are a couple of facts the teenager should consider before he answers with a big YES. First, Dad may not be able to dig deeper. And second, even if he can I'm not so sure he should.

The theory of allowances has been it gives a child a feeling of independence and teaches him how to manage money. That is true for younger children. I don't believe it is always true with the teenager.

A number of parents I know follow this plan, even though they can afford rather large allowances for their children:

They give their teenagers an allowance, but expect and urge them to supplement it with their own earnings. These parents report that their teenagers, especially the boys, suddenly acquire a new respect for money if they have had to earn it. And in every case, the parents report, they begin to manage their funds more efficiently.

Sounds reasonable to me. What do you think?

If you have a teenage problem you want discussed, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

No Suit Yet Filed In Officer's Death

Although a notice of claim for $125,000 against the City of Florence has been filed by Mrs. William D. Cole in connection with the death of her husband, a member of the city police force, no suit has been filed in either law and equity or circuit court.

The claim, filed by Mrs. Cole's attorney, Wilson S. Hite, seeks recovery of damages for the alleged wrongful death of Mr. Cole, due, the claim asserts, to a negligent act of an agent of the city.

Mrs. Cole's claim purportedly states that her husband was removed from a desk job with the Florence Department of Police by Chief Noah H. Danley, who ordered him to work as a patrolman in a patrol car in disregard of medical advice.

Mr. Cole died March 2 of what was described as a heart attack.

COMMISSIONERS ACCEPT TRANSMISSION LINE BID

A low bid of $120,836 from Dillard Smith Construction Co., of Chattanooga for construction of 10.3 miles of 44 KV electric transmission lines was accepted by the Florence Board of Commissioners Tuesday night. Acceptance of the bid must be approved by the Rural Electrification Administration before the contract becomes binding.

Little other business came before the commission.

Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the insured is or becomes age 70 and over). It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Be Insured With This Helpful Protection!

Margaret Godfrey Bride Of John Newton Archer

The beautiful stained glass windows of Trinity Episcopal Church were lighted by candles nestling in greenery for the ceremony on Saturday evening, April twelfth, which marked marriage vows of Margaret Lenore Godfrey, daughter of Mrs. Jack Thomas Godfrey and the late Mr. Godfrey, and John Newton Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jewell Archer.

Of antique ivory satin the bride's gown was fashioned along princess lines. The distinguishing feature, a bertha of Brussels lace, was a relic of the costume worn by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Otto Mueller, on her own wedding day. Also of heirloom lace was her cathedral length Rose Pointe veil and the Juliet cap from which it fell. She carried a cherished handkerchief and wore a gold locket which was worn by the bridegroom's mother and grandmother. Her prayer book was topped by a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

As guests assembled and for the ceremony, nuptial music was presented by organist Allen Robert Tomlinson.

The bridal tableau formed about the altar which was lighted by seven-branched candelabra of burning tapers with vases and standards of calla lilies and white stock interspersed. The Reverend Edward G. Mullen read the service at half after seven o'clock.

Dr. John B. Rice, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. Barbara Jane Godfrey was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Moody, Mrs. Kenneth Cantrell, Miss Helen Sedenquist, all of Florence, and Mrs. William Crabbe of Sheffield. Cousins, Carol Rice and Merrell Ware were flower girls.

Of blue faille, the sheath frocks worn by the maids were complemented by great bustle-bows of self material and headresses were of matching bands with tiny net veils. Their flowers were yellow shasta daisies. Flower girls, dressed in blue with wide sashes, carried baskets of rose petals.

The bridegroom's father was his best man, and groomsmen were Moultrie Plowden, George Thompson, Hubert Wright of Oxford, Miss, Charles Pritchard, Emmett Cox of Luverne, James Alford, Jr., of Albertville.

Mrs. Godfrey honored the couple immediately after the ceremony with a reception in the Parish House, using a profusion of Southern smilax and white blossoms in the decorations.

The heart-shaped wedding cake was five tiered and reflected in its mirrored base was a garland of lilies of the valley and smilax flanked by silver candelabra of burning tapers and clusters of white blossoms.

Assisting were Mrs. Edward G. Mullen, Mrs. Ben Cabbage, Mrs. Edward Gallagher, Mrs. Frank Crow, Mrs. A. R. Tomlinson, Mrs. Cecil Harrison, Mrs. Paul Hall, Mrs. Harry Herndon, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Edward Douglass, Mrs. Fred Osborn, Mrs. William Hairston, Mrs. T. T. Hackworth, Mrs. F. F. Beauchamp, Mrs. Tom Ware.

Leaving later in the evening for their honeymoon to Nassau and Havana, the bride wore a cotton tweed suit in beige and white with bone accessories. A brown and beige hat and the orchid from her bouquet completed her attire.

Upon their return they will be at home at 316½ East Tuscaloosa Street.

Following the rehearsal of wedding plans on Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Archer honored their son and his fiancée at Florence Golf and Country Club. Bowls of pink and white blossoms banked the mantel. Cloths of pale pink satin covered the tables where pale pink tapers burned in branched candelabra and silver epergnes of roses mingled with stock and tulips.

Included in their guest list were members of the bridal party, family members and friends and relatives from out-of-town.

Assisting the hosts were their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mrs. Otto Speake, Mrs. James Flagg, Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. Frank Crow, Mrs. Frank Foxworthy, Mrs. Ben Cabbage and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Jr., of Albertville.

Pre-Nuptials For Carolyn Bradford

Courtesies honoring bride-elect Carolyn Bradford continue to highlight the social scene. Jordan Hairston's recent party, a kitchen shower, took place at the home of her parents on South Cedar Street where bowls of Spring flowers decorated the rooms.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. W. Hairston.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradford were hosts on Sunday afternoon, the sixth, when they entertained as a compliment to their niece and her fiancée. Seventy guests accepted the invitation to tea at the Bradford home in Tusculum where flowers abounded to add a Springtime charm.

White gladioli and white candles in triple branched silver candelabra appointed the refreshment table which was covered with a floor-length cloth of white organdy over green taffeta.

Receiving with the hosts and the bride couple were parents of the bride and bridegroom-elect, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Howard and assisting with the amenities were Mrs. David McBride, Miss Betty Jo Keenum and Mrs. Bobby Cameron.

On the following evening the Charles Bradford home in Muscle Shoals City was the setting for an open house when three members of the wedding party, Mrs. Cameron, Jesse Bradford and Judson Cleveland, were hosts.

Party colors of yellow and white were caught by a yellow satin bow. A seven-branched crystal candelabrum holding burning yellow tapers was encircled by a massed arrangement of Dutch iris and snapdragons to form the centerpiece.

Assisting were Mrs. Roy J. Bradford, Mrs. W. C. Branscomb, Mrs. Charles Bradford, Miss Earline Bradford, Miss Joy White, and Miss Kay Bradford.

One hundred guests called during party hours.

Azalia Walker's Wedding Plans

North Wood Methodist Church will be the setting when nuptial vows are said by Azalia Walker and Jerry Gordon Shaw on May third. She will be given in marriage by her father, William Herschel Walker, at a seven o'clock ceremony in the evening. The Reverend E. M. Barnes, Jr., officiating.

Mrs. Clifford Farmer, a recent bride, and Miss Suzanne Shaw, the bridegroom's sister, will be honor attendants. Bridesmaids will be Martha Stuart, a student at API, Joanne Hammond and Carolyn Bradford who will become Mrs. Jimmy Dean Howard on April twentieth. Miss Walker's cousin, Deborah Sue Koonce, will be a flower girl, as will Wayne Price.

The bridegroom has asked his father, Willard Shaw, to be his best man and groomsmen will be William B. Mardis, Ronald Smith, Charles Frederick, Carl Van Bibber and Ronald Butler.

Church Ceremony For James Kennedy Nuptials

A six o'clock ceremony in North Wood Methodist Church marked vows which united in marriage Janice James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aubrey James, and Billy Joe Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Opal Kennedy on Saturday, April twelfth. Officiating in the double ring ceremony was Barney Keith, minister of Jackson Heights Church of Christ, assisted by the Reverend E. M. Barnes, pastor of North Wood Church.

Nuptial music was presented by J. B. Webb and Miss Shelia Jean Chowning.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her lace gown was fashioned with bateau neckline and long fitted sleeves in the molded bodice reembroidered with sequins and pearls. A voluminous skirt was ballerina length and scalloped at the hemline. A cap of lace and net held her fingertip veil, and she carried a heart-shaped bouquet centered with an orchid.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Eugene Grimes of Birmingham; Miss Joyce Pannell, also of Birmingham, and Miss Barbara Johnson were bridesmaids. Their white lace dresses featured deep V necklines, fitted bodices and full pleated skirts. Bustle bows at the back and veiled hair bows completed their attire. Their flowers were carnations, pink for the honor attendant; pink and white for the maids.

Mr. Kennedy served as his son's best man and ushers were Thomas Almon and Fred Kennedy.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. James entertained in the church parlors.

Candlelighted, the bride's table was garlanded with ivy and decorated with pink and white blossoms. White gladioli florets encircled the cake and serving were Mrs. John McSwain, Mrs. Ernest Haygood, Mrs. J. C. Scott, Miss Sarah Jo Bruce.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy left for their wedding trip she was wearing a navy blue silk sheath dress with small blue straw hat. The orchid from her bouquet was her corsage.

Upon their return the bride will resume for a brief while her duties in Birmingham and Mr. Kennedy, a co-op student at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, is working in Chattanooga during this semester.

Mrs. Rucker Is Firenze Hostess

"Names and Places in Early Lauderdale County" was the subject chosen by Mrs. Andrew J. Darby for her program at last Thursday's meeting of Firenze Club and, starting with Indian history from the year 1673, her discourse moved to old homes of the district and their original owners. Of interest to many in Lauderdale's enviable record, having sent forth four governors, one Supreme Court Justice, two Admirals and two Generals.

Mrs. Mary M. Rucker greeted her guests at her home, 442 North Court, where she is neighbor to many of Florence's oldest homes and "rubs shoulders" with "Wakefield," oldest of them all.

Mrs. Lewis Bruce was a guest of the club.

Mrs. D. J. Edwards and Mrs. J. W. Powell assisted the hostess in serving dessert and coffee from opposite ends of the table during the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Ben Cabbage of Birmingham spent the past weekend with her mother, Mrs. Frank Foxworthy, N. Court St., and was present for the Godfrey-Archer wedding on Saturday evening.

PRINCESS CHARMING—Once again the affairs of Princess Margaret, shown posing for a new official photo, have England in an uproar. Her Prince Charming, Capt. Peter Townsend, seemed about to resume what Britons called "an impossible suit" for Margaret's hand. Townsend denied he had any such intentions but romance-minded housewives in the tight little island were staring dreamily at his picture in the papers and murmuring how sad it all was.

Seasonal Program At Hyattian Club

Mrs. A. R. Tomlinson was hostess to the April meeting of Hyattian Club at her home on Sherrod Avenue and program chairman for the afternoon was Mrs. Julian Vance who pleased her listeners with a review of Edwin Wady Teale's "North With Spring."

Beginning in Florida the author gives a lovely and lively account of the progress of the Season in our homeland.

Augmenting the club membership were Mrs. James Montgomery (Pat Martin) of Tuscaloosa and the hostess' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Tomlinson.

Late afternoon refreshments were served following the program.

Current Events' April Meeting

Hostess to the monthly meeting of Current Events Club Mrs. B. V. Bender was also program chairman. Entertaining at her home on Walnut Street she presented Miss Mary Rogers and Miss Evelyn Peeler who told of their journeyings during last summer in the Sanibel Islands and through Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi. Referring occasionally to a favorite author Miss Rogers gave resumes of books pertaining to a study of nature: "North With Spring" by Edwin Wady Teale; "Sea Treasure" by Kathleen Johnstone;

"The Edge of the Sea" by Rachel Carson and "Wild America" by Roger Tory Peterson and James Fisher.

Slides shown by Miss Peeler and a shell collection by Miss Rogers were interesting additions.

Mrs. Bender was assisted by her sisters, Miss Virta Jones and Mrs. G. G. Glover, and by Mrs. Leo King and Mrs. E. B. Norton who presided at the treatable.

Many Parties Honor Bride Of Saturday

Numerous were the parties and gay the whirl which preceded the Godfrey-Archer nuptials on Saturday evening. A pretty tea was that tendered by Mrs. Otto Mueller and Mrs. John B. Rice as a compliment to their granddaughter and niece, Peggy Godfrey. They invited family friends to be their guests on Wednesday afternoon, April eighth, when they spread their silver-appointed table with an embroidered linen cloth and fashioned the centerpiece of yellow tulips and daffodils. Mrs. Ben Cabbage of Birmingham poured coffee.

Receiving with the hostesses were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Jack Thomas Godfrey, and the mother of the bridegroom-to-be, Mrs. J. Jewell Archer. Assisting with the courtesies were Barbara Godfrey, Jane Harris, Sylvia Towles and Suzanne Johnson.

Mrs. T. T. Hackworth and Mr.

THE FLORENCE HERALD, Thursday, Apr. 17, 1958—Page 3

and Mrs. F. F. Beauchamp were among the earlier host to entertain the couple. Their courtesy was a Sunday morning brunch at the Hackworth home on Chisholm Road when blossoming shrubs and bowls of mixed Spring flowers added to the charm of the party rooms.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Cecil Harrison, and Mr. Harrison, were dinner hosts at the Archer's lovely lakeside home, centering the serving table with pastel blossoms and seating their sixteen guests around four smaller tables.

Dancing and games followed the dinner hour.

Miss Helen Sedenquist took advantage of Spring vacation from the University to entertain with Mrs. Robert Moody in honor of Miss Godfrey.

Appointing their supper party in the Sedenquist home on Bluff Street in the pastel shades of Easter their guest list numbered twenty.

The A. R. Tomlinson home on Sherrod Avenue was the setting for the dinner party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crow in honor of the bridal couple.

Venetian lace cloth, white blossoms and white candles were used on the buffet table, with smaller tables arranged to seat their sixteen guests.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Barker Hostess Discussion Club

In continuing a series of programs on music appreciation, guest speaker Mrs. Wayne Christenson discussed classic symphonies at the April 10th meeting, confining her remarks to Hadyn, who was the first composer of similar works; to Mozart and his Symphony No. 40 in G Minor (composed in 1788); and to Beethoven.

A brief business session preceded the program with Mrs. R. T. Simpson Johnson in the chair. Officers to serve during the next club year will be: Mrs. Henry Lamar, president; Mrs. W. Otho Perritt, secretary, and Mrs. W. J. Callaway, Mrs. Richard Smith and Mrs. E. W. Gray, program committee.

The meeting took place in the Richard Smith home on Nellie Avenue. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Marion Barker hostesses, served party plates to their guests in the late afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Bailes and her nephew, John S. Hoskins of Birmingham, left Tuesday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Maxwell, and Col. Maxwell, prior to their departure for Hawaii. Mrs. Bailes will remain for an extended visit and Mr. Hoskins will return after a fortnight with his mother in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Witt and little daughter and Misses Dorothy and Francine Witt spent the week-end in Memphis with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wallace (Ila Jean Witt) and family.

Recent guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lester Hibbett were Mrs. George Corley of Alexandria, Tenn., Mrs. James Anderson of Raleigh, N. C., and her daughter, Miss Ann Anderson of Sullins College, Bristol, Va. Robert Seaton of Memphis joined them for a brief stay.

Arriving on the 8th, Mrs. James Powers Moody of Athens, Greece, and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, visited with Mrs. Pearl Powers Moody and her sisters on Wesleyan Ave., for several days.

Dr. George E. Rouhac has returned to his home in St. Louis, Mo., after spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. G. E. Rouhac, N. Wood Ave.

After a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Miller, Killen, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hooks, Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hooks and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Miller, Jr., have returned to their homes in Zion, Ill.

Coming from the University to attend the Peggy Godfrey-John Archer nuptials on Saturday were John Yelverton, Emmett R. Cox, Bob Martin, James Alford, Jr., James Fulmer, James Lewis, Robert Owen, Dick Allen, Sam Baranco, Joe Phelps, Thomas Hopkins, Arthur Brooks and Harold Albritton.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Hatcher were in Anniston the past week-end for the Golf Tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frank Smith of Baton Rouge announce the birth of a son on April 8 whom they have named Ted Edwin. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, 754 Meridian Street, are the paternal grandparents.

Attending the Godfrey-Archer wedding last Saturday evening were Mrs. J. W. Walker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Alford, Albertville, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slaghter, Fort Payne, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright, Oxford, Miss.

Mrs. Will Fort Price has returned to her home on Walnut Street after having been a patient at Mitchell-Hollingsworth Hospital.

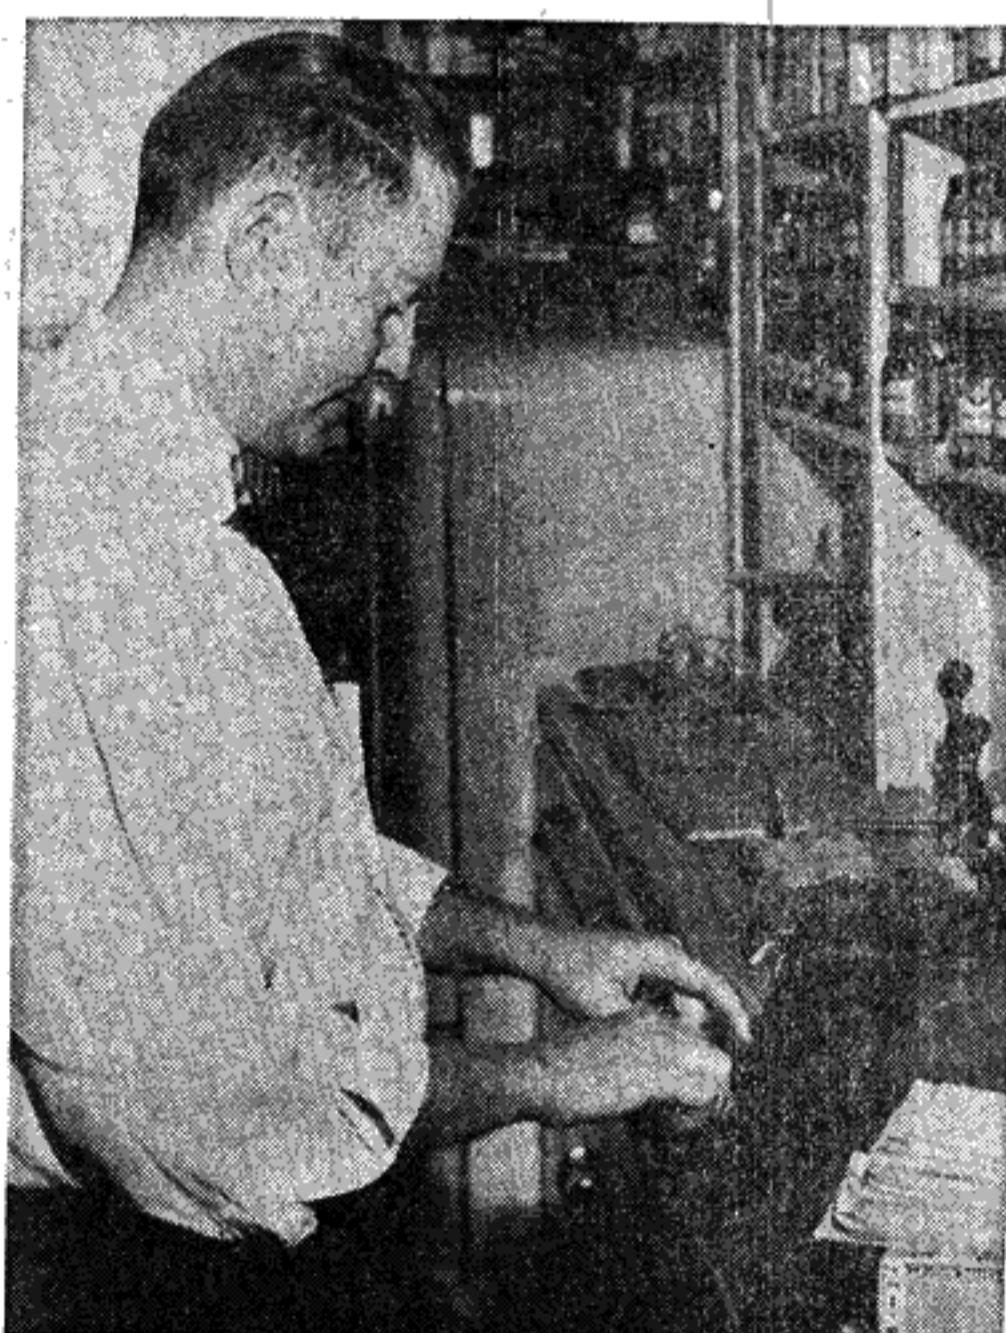

Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert are in Corpus Christi, Texas, for a visit to his daughter, Mrs. John Mathews, Mr. Mathews and family.

Guests for the last few days of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Stricklin, Jackson Road, have been Senator and Mrs. Albert Boutwell of Birmingham.

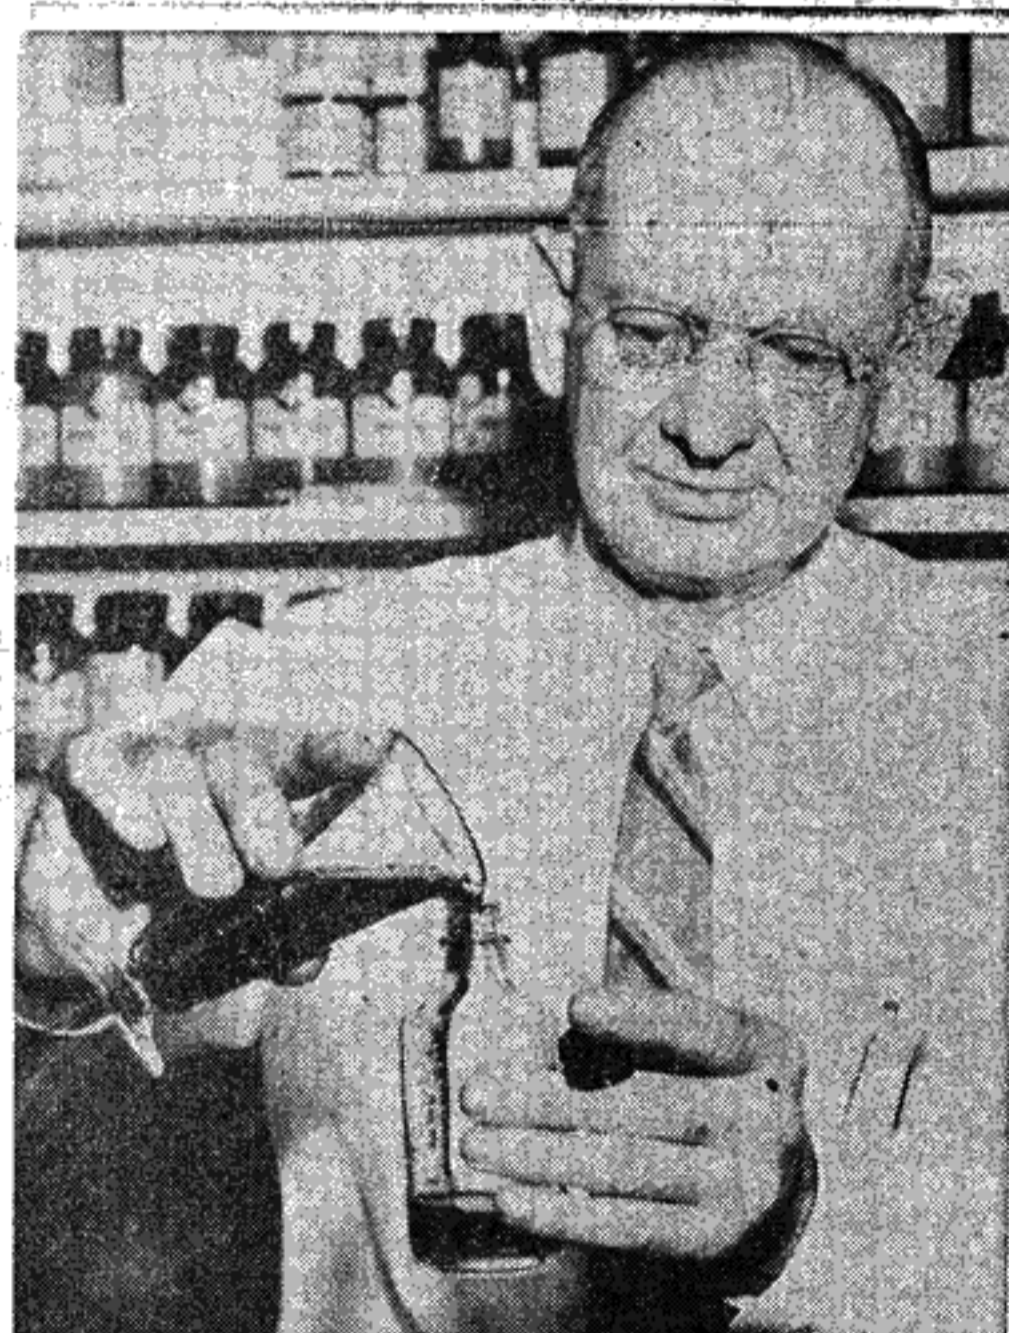

O. T. Mefford and O. T. Mefford, Jr., have returned from Birmingham where they attended the Alabama Retail Jewelers Convention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The spiritual relationship of God and man will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the lesson-sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement." Scriptural selections to be read include the following from John (17:1, 20, 21): "These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

THE SPILLWAY

A PLEASANT EVENING yesterday We spent with chatty friends... When conversation 'round the board Brought forth some merry grins...

"SMILE" WOULD BE a better word but... as is often the case a rhyme... There were many chuckles and even some guffaws when conversation somehow ran upon SOCIAL DICTATORS of the local scene... Past and present... And many amusing incidents were related which continued to continue much longer than you might imagine... If you should try this in the right gathering... we unhesitatingly guarantee good entertainment.

WE ALSO GUARANTEE good entertainment (the BEST... in fact) whenever you're exposed to the Hassell girls... (Frances Wade and Polly Nicholson)... One of our reporters tells of a delightful evening with these two delightful raconteurs as they chatted about their winter of tripping to and fro... three members of the family traveling in the beautiful new car... two members choosing to make the hops in their private plane... We received cards from them in New York... and a few days later from Charleston... South Carolina... Still later they were in Miami... Las Vegas... here and there in California... In Las Vegas they "came out in pretty good shape"... In Palm Springs they rubbed shoulders with Hoagy Carmichael who hesitated at the tenth hole on the world-famous golf course to devour the lunch he'd ordered served there... one hardboiled egg and a glass of tomato juice... (We're wondering how far he'd bounce the ball if he'd let himself go for a nice juicy steak)... There's ever so much more which you should hear first hand...

WE THINK THE SETTING was perfect when members of Mary Rueker's literary club gathered in her home recently to hear Katharine Darby talk in charming and imitable fashion of the old homes and places in our county... She was actually surrounded by exquisite antique furniture... family pieces... and above and behind the carved rosewood chair in which she sat hung a handsome framed oil portrait of Dr. William Henry Mitchell... pastor of our First Presbyterian Church during the War Between the States... taken captive by Union soldiers because of prayers he was "caught" offering for the preservation of the Confederacy... Dr. Mitchell was the grandfather of last Thursday's club hostess... and the great grandfather of Ellen Redd and Bill Mitchell... SEEN-ERY ABOUT TOWN... Hilda Shipper driving a new and very lovely car... and a gleam in Katherine Maples' eye which tells us it'll be ditto for her within a matter of days... Pearl

OUR LOVE AND hearty congratulations to the gent who became ninety-three years young on April fourteenth... Abounding in interests and enthusiasms... he keeps us on our toes... and how we do enjoy being kept there by our friend and everybody's all-time favorite... J. Fred Johnson.

WELCOME NEWCOMER... Jeanne Sue Hensel... who arrived in Milwaukee on March twenty-first... and whose parents are Pat (Rhodes) and Len Hensel... They have an older daughter... Lynn... AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodbye... until more news comes through The Spillway...

Visitors again. The United States Navy had a representative, complete with answers to just about every question concerning the Navy, in Bibb Graves Hall last week.

Last week was a busy week for FSC clubs; the Newman Club sent two representatives—Bill Hines, president, and Alan McRae, treasurer, both of Florence—to the Gulf States Province convention at the University of Tennessee. Incidentally, FSC's Newman Club was one of three nominated for the most outstanding small club title to be awarded at the National Convention of Newman Clubs in September.

As long as we're talking about the Military Science Department—the Bloodmobile is on the way back. The Provost Corps brought it to the campus in the fall and is sponsoring a return visit April 30.

Applications are being accepted for executive positions on the "Flor-Ala." Pretty soon the Selection Committee will have made ANGUISHED MOVIE QUEEN—Lana Turner hides her red-rimmed eyes behind sunglasses as she leaves the Beverly Hills (Calif.) jail with attorney Jerry Geisler. The movie queen had been to see her 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl Crane, who is being held for the knife murder of Johnny Stompanato, 32. The former bodyguard of hoodlum Mickey Cohen was killed after a violent argument with Miss Turner.

Deaths

Mrs. Viola Gilbert

Graveside services were held at the Florence Cemetery at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday for Mrs. Viola Gilbert, 56, a former resident of this city. Mrs. Gilbert, a resident of Paducah, Ky., for the past 20 years, died in a hospital there Sunday morning.

Lawrence Williams, a minister of the Church of Christ, officiated at the rites for Mrs. Gilbert. She leaves her husband, Charles L. Gilbert, an employee of TVA at Paducah; a son, Lloyd Gilbert, and two granddaughters, Betty and Doris Gilbert, all of Florence.

T. A. Lovelace

Services were held at 3 p. m. Monday from the Pleasant Hill Methodist Church for Thomas Alonzo Lovelace, 83, who died at 5 p. m. Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Vernon Cauhorn, Florence, Rt. 4. The Revs. C. E. Dobbs and Carl Harrison officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Lovelace, a native of Lauderdale County, was a retired carpenter and farmer.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Vernon Cauhorn, Mrs. Leo Abramson, both of Florence, Mrs. Joseph Whitaker, Edwards, Miss; two sons, Chief L. D. Lovelace, Florence Fire Department, Andrew M. Lovelace, Florence; two sisters, Mrs. Shaler England, Mrs. Mary Whitten, both of Florence; 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Gilbert Tate

Services for Gilbert Tate, 62, of Shoals Creek, were held at 2 p. m. Saturday from Brown-Service Chapel, the Rev. L. E. Kelley, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church, officiating, assisted by Dr. R. L. Archibald. Burial was in Greenview Memorial Park.

Mr. Tate, a retired ironworker and electrician, died at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Birmingham at 5:30 a. m. Friday. He was a native of Lauderdale County and a veteran of both World Wars.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Martha Locker Tate, Florence; three daughters, Mrs. James E. Larry, Manchester, Tenn.; Mrs. Keith W. McBrayer, Mrs. Wayne B. Rutledge, both of Florence; two brothers, Lake Tate, Florence, and John Tate, Seattle, Wash.

Alex Gibson

Last rites were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Hurricane Presbyterian Church near Rogersville for Alex Gibson, retired farmer, who died Monday night at Lawrence County Hospital, Moulton following a sudden illness. Gilbert Kretzer officiated with burial following in the adjoining cemetery.

He was a lifelong resident of Lauderdale County.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Emma White, Pulaski, Tenn., and Mrs. Sarah Felker, Minor Hill, Tenn.

Spry of Florence in charge of arrangements.

Clyde B. Dewberry

Services for Clyde B. Dewberry, 68, of Florence, Rt. 4, who died at 6:10 p. m. Monday in a Tusculoo hospital, were held at 4 p. m. Wednesday from Chisholm Funeral Home chapel. Ellis Coats and Chester Dobbs officiated and burial was in Greenview Memorial Park.

Mr. Dewberry was a native of Lauderdale County and a retired farmer and ginnee. He was a member of the Oakland Church of Christ.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillie Murphy Dewberry; a daughter, Mrs. Arietta McFall; a granddaughter, Joan McFall, and son-in-law, David McFall; a brother, H. Claude Dewberry, Sr.; three sisters, Mrs. Fred McIntyre, Sr., Mrs. William Smith and Miss Ola Dewberry, all of Florence, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Bessie Kennedy

Services were held from Hope-well Presbyterian Church at 2 p. m. Wednesday for Mrs. Bessie Kennedy, 60, of Florence, Rt. 1, who died at her residence Monday. The officiants were the Revs. S. T. Byars and T. R. Tablock and burial was in Tri-Cities Memorial Gardens.

She is survived by her husband, Felix H. Kennedy, Sr.; two sons, Felix H. Kennedy, Jr., Florence, J. D. Kennedy, Huntsville; and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Wilmer Melton

Services for Mrs. Wilmer Mamie Melton, a native of Florence, were held near Hayti, Mo., April 7 following her death at a Hayti hospital two days previously. The Rev. Fred R. Mann officiated and burial was in the Dry Bayou Cemetery.

Daughter of the late Frank and Stroma Richardson, Mrs. Melton was born in Florence Feb. 23, 1894, and was educated in schools of the city. In 1914 she was married to Jimmie Melton.

The family moved to Missouri in 1934 and in 1936 moved to Hayti, where she was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving her are her husband; four sons, James and Floyd, Hayti, William, Joiner, Ark., and W. B. Melton, Saratoga, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. Julia Lawrence, Lake Wales, Fla.; five brothers, Edward, George, Charlie, Henry and Jim Richardson, all of Florence; two sisters, Mrs. Willie Hughes, Florence, and Mrs. Emma Lawson, Underwood, Ind.; 16 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Agricultural Reminders

County Agent

Cotton Planting

In view of the fact that there appears to be a shortage of the good quality cotton produced in the southeast farmers in Lauderdale County are urged to do everything possible to produce a good yield of quality cotton this year.

The time to plant the 1958 crop is just around the corner. The following are offered as suggestions:

1. Select the best cotton land on the farm for cotton.
2. Prepare a good seedbed as soon as the weather will permit.
3. Apply fertilizer two inches below or to the side of the seeds. Do not put fertilizer and seeds together in the row.
4. Plant as soon as land can be prepared and fertilizer applied. Plant during April if possible.
5. Plant enough high germinating seed to assure a stand at the first planting.
6. Leave 2 to 3 stalks per hill about 12 inches apart when chopping.
7. Cultivate only enough to control grasses and weeds.

The best way to determine fertilizer needs is to have the soil tested. If this has not been done fertilize as follows: on fertile red soils use 300 pounds per acre of 4-16-8 and sidedress, at first plowing after chopping, with the equivalent of 75 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

On poorer red soils use 300 pounds of 4-16-8 and sidedress with the equivalent of 110 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

On gray soils apply 600 pounds of 8-8-8 at or before planting and use no nitrogen, or apply 400 pounds of 4-12-12 and sidedress with 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate, or its equivalent, from other sources of nitrogen.

The following cotton varieties are recommended for North Alabama:

Wilt Resistant — Dixie King, Plains, Empire, Coker 100 Wilt, Auburn 56, All-in-one.

Wilt Susceptible — Fox, Hale 33, Stoneville 7.

Garden Pest Control

Most pests in the garden can be prevented by planting in a new location every few years, rotating vegetables within the garden, using resistant plant varieties, cleaning away old plant material from the garden that may be harboring insects and diseases, and dust and spray to control diseases and insects.

The Auburn-approved garden dust will control most insects. However, it will not control blister beetles, green stink bugs, leaf hoppers and corn-ear worms. Control these insects with 20% toxaphene or 10% DDT.

Do not use DDT or toxaphene on edible parts of plants. Toxaphene burns the foliage of cucumbers, cantaloupes, squash, and watermelons.

To control cutworms, dust ground with 10% DDT or toxaphene before setting plants and again after plants are set.

Wash all vegetables thoroughly before eating following use of all insecticides.

Other Insect Control

Bagworms — Bagworms cause injury to many cedar-like trees and shrubs in spring. At first sign of worms, enclosed in a spindle-like bag covered with bits of leaves, dust with 20% toxaphene, or spray with 3 pounds of lead arsenate or 2 pounds of 25% wettable toxaphene in 50 gallons of water.

Cabbage Worms — These worms feed on cabbage leaves and related crops. Control with Auburn-approved garden dust, 1% rotenone, 5% methoxychlor, 5% TDE, or cryolite.

Control Colorado potato beetles in gardens with 1% rotenone and corn earworm with 10% DDT or 20% toxaphene. Control elm leaf beetles when damage appears in spring with 4 pounds of 50% wettable DDT or 4 pounds of lead arsenate in 100 gallons of water. For information on the control of other insects and pests contact the county agent's office or purchase a copy of the latest edition of the Handbook of Alabama Agriculture. This handbook is available at the county agent's office, 605 South Seminary Street, Florence, Alabama.

Dear Sara Saze,

I am writing for my friend, because I feel so sorry for her. We are both 16 and sophomores in school, and this is about her mother. She is young looking for her years and that seems to go to her head. She dresses exactly as we do, even to jeans and shirts, and she wears her hair in a long page boy. And she acts silly, like dashing about to get to a movie when somebody like Yul Brynner is in the picture, and getting excited like the bobby-soxers do.

The rest of us have mothers who behave like mothers, and I have seen my friend when I know she could just cry. Is there anything any of us can do to make this woman see how ridiculous she is or how she is hurting her own child?

We need advice very much.

Teen-ager.

Let's

By SARA SAZE

Dear Teen-ager,

I have occasionally watched situations such as you've described and I can tell you that "handling" them is ticklish business. There are many reasons for behavior patterns and it usually takes an expert to unravel any given instance. This particular mother may be acting like she feels, young. She could easily be in her late thirties which, believe it or not, is not a crippling age. Or there could be some psychological reaction stemming from her childhood which is not discernable to a layman.

No matter what, I think she would certainly like to be considered of her child. And I think, if you are a born diplomat, you may be able to drop a few hints. Mention occasionally that your own mother is a bit on the maternally side and that you love her being so. Just mention, that's all. When opportunity presents, say in a tone of deep admiration that your mother is "old fashioned." If any of this is done persistently you'll defeat your purpose and make an enemy. None of it may soak in but you'll have the satisfaction of knowing you've tried. And whatever else, proceed with care. Don't be a nuisance. And, should you get results, I'd certainly like to know.

Dear Mrs. Saze,

We have a new baby and want to begin taking pictures of him but neither of us know enough to take good ones. We blunder and ruin films every time we try. How do people learn to take good pictures, get the right distance from the object you're photographing, for instance?

Many thanks.
Mary and Bill.

Dear Mary and Bill,

I think by asking around you'd find that many of your friends can be helpful. But a better suggestion, I think, is for you to get a good book on the subject and study it. I can recommend "How to Take Better Pictures" by Arthur Goldsmith. If you do not find this in drugstore stands or local book stores, you may order from the publishers, Maco Magazine Corp., 480 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y. The price is 75c.

STATE'S INDUSTRY EXPANDING

Nearly Half Billion Of New Capital Invested In Alabama Last Year

Nearly a half billion dollars in new capital to be invested in Alabama by industry, utilities and industrial warehouses was announced during 1957 according to figures released by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce in Montgomery.

Roland L. Adams of York, president of the State Chamber, said this total was the largest to be announced during a single year in Alabama's history.

Adams said this half billion dollar figure, actually $475,117,000, represents investment capital announced by private industries and does not include any federal or state expenditures.

"There has been substantial industrial growth in Alabama in 1957," Adams continued, "but the real barometer of the state's progress is found in capital announced for investment in Alabama by public utilities." Alabama's utilities have announced plans to invest $368,433,000 in the state, Adams revealed, a positive sign of progress.

Largest utility investment announced was for $160,000,000 by the Alabama Power Co., with the Southern Co., planning a $150,000,000 investment. Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. plans to invest some $1 million dollars, Adams added.

Some 67 new and 46 expansions were listed by the State Chamber president for industry in Alabama during the year. Total capital investment for these new and expanded industries is $105,109,000, and more than 7800 new jobs will be available to Alabamians because of these new and expanding industries.

Although capital investment for new and expanded industry in Alabama is below some other years, John M. Ward, executive vice-president of the State Chamber, said this is because of a national trend as productive capacity in many lines has caught up with consumer demand. During 1957, Ward continued, Alabama had the greatest utility expansion announced in its history and with more than a million and a half dollars announced for new industrial warehouse construction, both these factors point to a sound economy in the state and continued economic expansion in the future. Ward called particular attention to expansion plans of 18 independent telephone companies in the state in addition to Southern Bell's plans.

State Chamber executives said reliable national estimates indicate for the second year Alabama would lead all 48 states in the percentage of increase in per capita income. It is estimated this percentage of increase for 1957 over 1956 in Alabama will be 6.6 percent as compared with 3.6 percent nationally.

Our town officers are appointing its first policeman. They are also installing a garbage disposal and truck.

Miss Marifred Ham, a student at Mars Hill Bible School, was in the chorus which went to Washington, D. C., with the Mars Hill seniors recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and children of Cullman County were week-end visitors of Mrs. Bailey's brother, Rev. D. H. Thomas, and attended services at the Methodist church here.

Mrs. Mary Riley of Florence was a visitor of her sister, Mrs. Mattie Crow and Miss Emma McCabe, Sunday.

Other week-end visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Stutts and son, Brad, of Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jones and Bobby of Columbus, Miss.; Miss Mattie Goutney of Birmingham; Mrs. Alice Putman of Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Hammonds and mother of Five Points, Tenn. School.

Billy Walker, one of the Candidates for governor of Alabama, spoke in the auditorium to a good-sized audience on Tuesday night.

We want all our good friends to attend the spaghetti supper in our luncheon room on Friday evening of this week and the Candidates' rally following in the auditorium.

The supper will be 75c per plate. The proceeds will be used to help sand and polish our hall floors.

Mrs. McPeters, our second grade teacher, has been absent due to sickness. Mrs. Mae Jones has been substituting for her.

Our pupils are being given achievement and intelligence tests following in the auditorium.

A new seventh grade boy entered our school on Monday. He is Billy Holden, and has been attending school in Cleveland, Ohio, for the past two years.

We made a check of the responses of parents relative to the questionnaire they recently returned as to the type of new report card they preferred. On a percentage basis, their choices were: For the A, B, C, D, F type card, 80 per cent; for the numerical type 16 per cent; for the S and U type, 4 per cent.

Fifth term report cards are going to parents this week. We hope the cards are well examined by the parents.

Viola Shields, an eighth grade pupil, had several guests from Moulton on last Sunday. Cecilia Clemons visited in Huntsville over the past week-end. Barbara Johnson, also a member of the eighth grade, visited in Rogersville on Sunday.

We are highly pleased over the prospect of having a new lunch-room built.

From The Simple Side

By THE FARMER'S WIFE

My spring cleaning was almost finished—Gone home, a bright shiny finish, furniture and mirrors had a new lustre, and for once this year I could reach any item in my home with little effort, for I knew its exact location. House-keeping was suddenly a much greater pleasure.

Then with spring cleaning over, furniture restored to its proper place and neatness and order around me, I took the time to sit down and enjoy my surroundings and ponder for a few moments life in general.

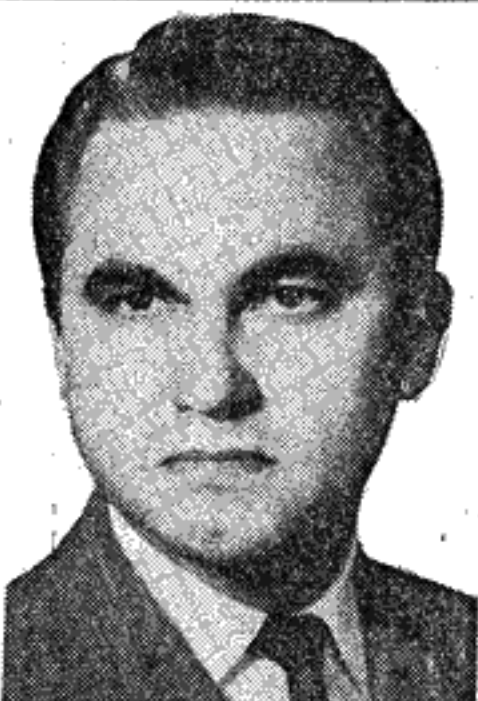

How wonderful life would be if there was always time to keep a house in such a neat manner. How little frustration, orderliness and neatness offered. Then I thought of deeper things—how wonderful if we could keep our emotions in such a well organized manner, with every one in its proper place. If our shabbiest emotions, such as anger and resentment, could be pushed back into a corner as we would do our shabbiest piece of furniture, concealing it as best we can with a better piece. How much less frustrated we would become in our emotional life if we could keep order in our "inner being"—for surely there is one in each of us. Surely our Creator intended that we be the master of that inner being, too, and not that it should master us, making of our lives selfish, undisciplined ones.

It is the Farmer's Wife's opinion that we might do more good than we realize, by taking the time to analyze ourselves at least once a year. There might be lots of things that we can find within ourselves that we could get along just as well without.

Repairmen Send Labeling Petitions To Sen. Morse

Petitions assembled by members of the Muscle Shoals Shoe Rebuilders' Assn., requesting that shoe manufacturers clearly label the composition of their product, were sent on their way to U. S. Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon following a dinner meeting of the organization at the Hotel Reeder Thursday evening J. C. Dobbs, of Athens, president of the association, presided over Thursday evening's meeting.

The organization of shoe repairmen here has joined with allied groups throughout the nation in the movement to have the makers of shoes clearly indicate the material used in their manufacture, much as is required of men's clothing manufacturers. Senator Morse is expected to introduce legislation to this effect in Congress.

Mrs. A. B. Rhodes was a recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. Len Hensel, and Mr. Hensel, in Milwaukee.

HE MAKES YOUR HOME

"living-ready"

Your new home comes to life when electric service is installed. Long before your home is built, we've been planning ahead for it. So when you move in you have all the electricity you need to light, heat and cool your home, do your other household chores. Yes, electricity makes your home "living-ready" . . . makes it a place of comfort and convenience for the whole family.

Setting the style trend

There's a lot of Thunderbird in every Ford Station Wagon. All six Ford wagons have Thunderbird-inspired style. You'll see it in the trim, sculptured lines and in the impressive front and rear treatment. It's style that sets the style.

Reversing the price trend

Ford made price news everywhere by being the only car in its field to reduce prices in '58. While prices of other cars went UP, Ford made big news by actually pricing some '58 models below comparable '57 models. What's more, Ford Station Wagons are the lowest priced of the low-price three.

With the world's newest V-8, Ford makes engine news, too, with a great new V-8, brim full of Thunderbird power, yet surprisingly economical to operate. Precision Fuel Induction gives you more power on less gas by delivering the fuel-air mixture directly to the cylinders through eight express-ways. Result . . . you GO better, for less.

With Cruise-O-Matic, 58's answer to the chauffeur shortage. It's the newest, most versatile automatic transmission yet. It's like having a built-in chauffeur to shift gears for you. Try it today!

The Rivers Of Alabama

Indians, Early Settlers Built Towns On Rivers

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of articles on Alabama's river systems. The stories will tell the history of navigation on these streams—where we are today in developing them—and something about their potential in terms of the economy of Alabama. The series was prepared by the Alabama River Development Authority.)

Alabama's rivers had much to do with the settling of this state and with the location of many of its towns and cities.

When Hernando De Soto and his adventurers arrived in Alabama they found the native Indians living in towns they had built by the riversides. About 1540, he and his men rested at the town of Coosa near the river in what is now Talladega County.

In 1702, Bienville located the capital of the territory of Louisiana at Mobile, originally a few miles upriver from the present site, but shortly moved to what is now Alabama's great port city. From this point the French settlers and traders pushed up the rivers to carry on their trade with the natives. Bienville later built Fort Toulouse on the point where the Coosa and Tallapoosa Rivers join to form the Alabama, a few miles south of Wetumpka.

From the other direction, pioneers from the British colonies were venturing down the streams from the Appalachians. Later, emigrants from the new states of Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia used the Coosa and Tennessee Rivers to raft their possessions down-stream to the new lands in Alabama.

By the 1820's steamboats were moving from Rome down the Coosa into Alabama, from Mobile northward into the Alabama and the Tombigbee and Warrior Rivers. In the north, steamboat traffic appeared on the Tennessee River. Traffic was hindered by falls and dangerous shoals, but the steamboat appeared on the rivers far from the sea.

Meanwhile, the towns that located along the rivers became important shipping points and trade centers. The Alabama territorial capital was St. Stephens near the Tombigbee. The first sessions of the state legislature were held in Huntsville, near the Tennessee River, and in 1820 Cahaba, at the junction of the Cahaba and Alabama Rivers, became the capital. Because of Cahaba's vulnerability to floods the capital was moved to Tuscaloosa on the Warrior River. In 1847 the seat of government was moved to Montgomery, another river city.

By mid-century the river steamboat was in its heyday, although the railroads were pushing across the state to become the major movers of freight and passengers.

From that time forward the rivers declined in importance as main navigation routes. The shallow-draft steamboats could not carry the great tonnage which makes modern barge operation both cheap and profitable.

In many places the river landings were abandoned and a new generation grew up which never knew the excitement of the arrival of the packet boat.

The renewed interest in river improvement is due to three main factors: hydroelectric power production, flood control, and modern barge transportation. Public and private agencies have built power dams on our rivers so that Alabama is now one of the prime producers of hydro power in the nation, and additional power dams are under construction or in advanced planning stages. Three of our rivers are open to modern barge tows, the kind that sometimes push the equivalent of twenty trainloads in a single tow. The upstream dams have reduced the flood danger to the towns and farms in the valleys.

Alabama still has a long way to travel before all of our navigable rivers are improved to carry the freight they could carry. Improvement of these waterways awaits Congressional action. Many of these projects are authorized, but await the appropriation of funds for construction. Some of these projects will be considered by the Congress this year.

(Next week: How River Improvement Controls Floods.)

STATE OF ALABAMA A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1957, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that the said election be held on the first Tuesday in May 1958; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday in May 1958 will be and occur on May 6, 1958; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, James E.

Folsom, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday the 6th day of May 1958, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The Court of Appeals is hereby constituted the Court of Criminal Appeals, which shall have final, exclusive and irrevocable supreme appellate jurisdiction coextensive with the limits of the State in all criminal and quasi-criminal cases of whatsoever grade. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have power to issue such original, remedial, and extraordinary writs as may be necessary to give it a general superintendency and control of inferior jurisdictions. The judges of the Court of Appeals holding office at the time this amendment shall become effective, or who shall be elected to a future term on the Court of Appeals, shall constitute the judges of said court for the remainder of the terms for which they were chosen as judges of the Court of Appeals. Appeals from death sentences shall be heard by said court augmented by four justices of the Supreme Court selected in rotation by the Chief Justice. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing. I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 6th day of May 1958 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 6th day of May 1958 in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery on this the 20th day of February 1958.

Extension Service Conducting Tests On Grain Sorghum

"Several varieties of grain sorghum are tested each year at different locations throughout the state," reports API Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews.

"These experiments, conducted by the API Agricultural Experiment Station, are to determine yields and other characteristics of varieties offered for sale in Alabama, and to determine the adaptability of new varieties to Alabama conditions.

"Hybrids on tests for the last two years," Andrews went on, "are not sufficiently tested to draw definite conclusions about their characteristics. Nevertheless, indications of their yield potential and lodging susceptibility have been noted."

"In northern Alabama, two-year average yields of the highest yielding hybrids—RS 610 and Texas 660—were about eight per cent greater than that of Martin Combine. However, both lodged considerably more than Martin Combine. The yield advantage of RS 610 and Texas 660 appears to be offset by their greater susceptibility to lodging.

"In central Alabama, two-year average yields of the highest yielding hybrids—DeKalb D-50A and RS 610—were about 15 per cent greater than those of Combine Sargrain and Early Hegari. Limited data on lodging from this region showed all entries lodged very little. Had differential lodging data been obtained, it would probably have followed a pattern similar to that for northern Alabama."

"Dry weather and bird damage limited information from southern Alabama during the last two years. Data obtained shows that none of the hybrids out-yield Combine Sargrain, the recommended variety for this region."

Eradication Of Imported Fire Ant On In 8 States

The imported fire ant, named for its fiery sting, is a destructive and annoying pest.

Commenting on these insects this week, API Extension Entomologist W. A. Ruffin said the ants are harmful to crops, livestock and humans. They often attack small animals, ground-nesting birds, poultry and newborn calves and pigs. The hard mounds of dirt built by the ants damage farm machinery that's used in heavily infested fields.

To get rid of these pests, an eradication program in eight southern states will get under way May 6. Forty-one counties in Alabama alone will be placed under quarantine regulations issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture due to fire ant infestations.

Articles subject to regulation when moved interstate from the regulated area are soil and unprocessed sand and gravel, separately or with other things; forest, field or nursery-grown woody or herbaceous plants with soil attached; plants in pots or containers; grass sod; unmanufactured forest products, such as stump wood or timbers, if soil is attached; and other products or articles that may be specifically determined as likely to spread the imported fire ant.

Farmers Should Be On Alert For Blackleg In Cattle

Spring and fall seasons are most favorable for the development of blackleg, warns Bob Farquhar, API Extension livestockman, although the disease may appear at any time.

Speaking in Auburn this week, Farquhar said that cattle 6 to 18 months old are most susceptible to blackleg. Cattle of improved breeding and fat, thrifty calves and yearlings are usually first to develop the disease, he said. Sheep, goats and hogs occasionally contract the disease, but man, horses, dogs, cats and fowls appear to be immune.

"An animal infected with blackleg has high fever and gaseous swellings from under its skin," said the livestock specialist. "It loses its appetite, stops chewing its cud, breathes rapidly and becomes depressed."

"The disease progresses so suddenly that animals first affected in a new outbreak usually die in the pasture before any of the symptoms are noticed."

"Isolate and treat all animals showing early symptoms of the disease," Farquhar urged. "Vaccinate apparently normal but exposed animals, and, if possible, move them immediately to a new pasture on higher ground. Promptly dispose of dead animals and clean and disinfect contaminated stables."

"You can reduce blackleg infection by following practices that insure cleanliness and freedom from contamination. See that animals have clean feed, water, and quarters, and uncontaminated pastures."

"When you suspect an outbreak of blackleg, promptly notify your veterinarian or the state livestock sanitary official."

How to Stretch a 1958 Dollar

First, open a checking account at State National Bank. There is less temptation to spend cash in the bank, and less chance for loss. Next, stick to your budget. It's easier with check stubs showing how much you have spent and where, and with cancelled checks returned as legal receipts.

A checking account at State National is the safe, convenient, "no cash, no carry" way. You save time and money by paying bills by check through the mail.

What is Peace Power?

Peace Power is the strength to keep the peace, of course. But that's not all.

Peace Power is also the scientist, patiently probing in the laboratory... and the kid starting his first awkward experiment at high school.

It's the lean young man in uniform... the men in coveralls at the factory... and the lone farmer, carving a furrow under open sky.

It's the professor, away "out in space" on the blackboard... and his intent students.

It's the hopeful diplomats at a conference table... men who must be able to talk strong and back it up... but whose real job is peace.

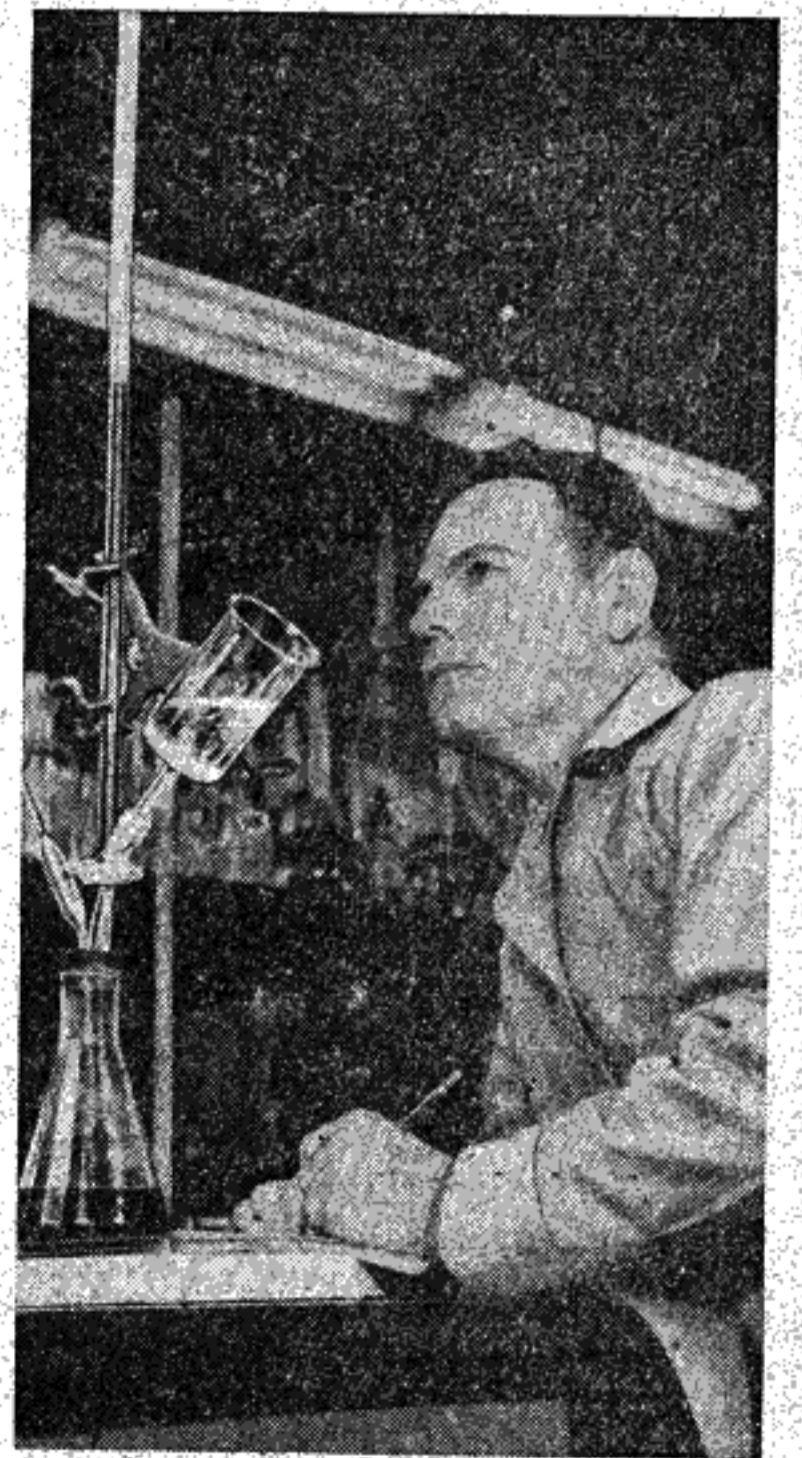

And you, too, are Peace Power. Because, wanting peace, you back your wanting with money. Peace costs money. Money for many different things: To help us keep the peace, through industrial and military strength. To help make it lasting for the future, through science and education. And, most important, it takes money saved by individuals. Your Savings Bonds, as a direct investment in your country, make you a partner in the job of strengthening America's Peace Power.

WMU

The Cumberland Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society met at the church on Monday evening with Mrs. J. T. Whitehead, Jr., and Mrs. Ishmael Perry hostesses.

The program, "The Cumberland Presbyterian Church A Missionary Church," included the annual report of WMU work.

Mrs. G. V. Tucker gave the devotional, "Wayside Prayer," explaining how it was used in different countries in missionary work.

The needs for trained personnel, for enlisting missionary personnel, and supporting missions were emphasized by Mrs. Walter Ingle, Mrs. Hubert Beddingfield and Mrs. Grady Butler.

The business was presided over by Mrs. J. R. Waddell.

To conclude the meeting the hostesses served a refreshment in the social hall.

WSCS

New officers for 1958-59 were named in the business hour presided over by Mrs. F. T. Vickers when the WSCS of the Methodist Church met on Tuesday night.

For the program, "The March Of Youth In Missions," led by Mrs. Preston McCormick, Mrs. Odie Harvey gave the devotional. Mrs. Cora Lewis assisted with the program.

Officers named were: President, Mrs. Buford Mitchum; vice-president, Miss Sarah Fuqua; recording secretary, Mrs. John Rigdon; treasurer, Mrs. Lester Grisham; secretary of literature, Mrs. Louis Fuqua; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. Cora Lewis; secretary of youth work, Mrs. James Whitehead; secretary of promotion, Mrs. F. T. Vickers; secretary of social relations, Mrs. Odie Harvey; secretary of the status of women, Mrs. Tolle McLenore; secretary of student work, Mrs. Bob Waddell; secretary of supply work, Mrs. Leslie Blair; secretary of children's work, Mrs. Preston McCormick. Mrs. Henry Hudson, Mrs. Marion Keller, Mrs. Zilpha Weaver and Mrs. Buford Mitchum were named as missionary education secretaries.

Garden Club

Thursday evening the Rogersville Garden Club met with Mrs. Polk Comer at her home.

For the study, "How To Grow Old-fashioned Garden Flowers and Arrange Them," Mrs. J. R. Waddell, who was in charge of the program, asked each one to name an old-fashioned flower and to imagine she was gathering and arranging a bouquet of them. Then she gave helpful tips on a simple or complex garden, soil preparation, arrangement as to height, blooming season, and contrast of colors, closing with a humorous poem.

Last year evergreens were planted in the Civilian Cemetery. Next Wednesday was designated as the day to work these shrubs. This is the first of the project for beautifying the town that has been done by the Club.
