SIXTH FLEET MOVES — The military coup in Iraq overthrowing the pro-Western regime of King Feisal caused President Camille Chamoun of tiny Lebanon to appeal to the United States for help. On direct orders from President Eisenhower, the Sixth Fleet, most powerful naval striking force in the world, moved to the Middle East with a detachment of 5,000 Marines. Destroyers of the fleet are shown in a recent photo. The Marines landed peacefully at Beirut, Lebanon.

The Passing Parade
By HAROLD S. MAY

It's a sin and a shame that a little thing like a threat of global war should run Squirming Sherman Adams off the front page.

The will of a wealthy eccentric was being read. His relatives to the third and fourth generations—plus all the far-distant cousins—were gathered and, with poorly concealed impatience, sat through page after page of bequests to the Society of Purple People Eaters, Foundation for Restoring Gas Street Lights and such important philanthropies. Finally, the lawyer reached the part that each was waiting for: "To all my relatives I promised to remember—Hil, there!"

The recession had struck hard at a New Yorker who, for many years, had been highly successful. Losing his entire fortune, he tried hard to find some work in the finance world to which he was best fitted. But there were no vacancies. Finally, he decided to become a counterfeiter and his first masterpiece was a $15.00 bill. He was proud of his effort and decided to try it out on a small five and ten in Brooklyn. The clerk accepted the bogus bill without question and without a murmur gave him the $1.00 worth of merchandise he had purchased and, after a fast trip to the cash register, handed the customer his change—two $7.00 bills.

Entering a swanky restaurant, a man took a seat at the counter and ordered a ham sandwich. The blonde behind the counter, looking down her nose at him, remarked that there was no ham sandwich on the menu. "What, no ham sandwich?" questioned the would-be customer. "No," was the blonde's reply, "but I can give you a midnight special. This is a very delightful triple decker with ham, cheese, tongue, tomato, lettuce, onion, pickle, mayonnaise, on raisin bread, toasted, with cole slaw on the side." Finally, thinking it over, the customer asked if he might have a piece of ham placed between two pieces of bread served on a plate? "I guess so," was the accommodating waitress' reply. Then, turning and addressing the short order cook, sang out: "One midnight special. Make it one deck. Hold the cheese, tongue, lettuce, onion, pickle, mayonnaise and cole slaw, and make the raisin bread white, untoasted."

At a little get together the other night, we were told of a letter received by a local couple as a thank-you note for a wedding gift. The letter read: "Dear Aunt and Uncle: If there's anything we need most, it's sheets—and such lovely ones! I wish we didn't have to wait until after the wedding to use all the lovely things we have received. Lovingly, Your Niece."

There's one in every congregation. You know what we mean, and it's usually a lady, who, when reading prayers, is always a step ahead of the remainder of the congregation. It seems that a local minister had asked that the congregation read the Twenty-Third Psalm in concert. The person of whom we speak stayed about twelve words ahead in the reading. A stranger at the services, a bit annoyed, asked the person next to him, as the reading was concluded: "Who is that lady that was already by the still waters while the rest of us were lying down in green pastures?"

An old-timer is a fellow who can remember when "party lines" referred only to the telephone system in the community.

John Patterson Picks Speaker, Other Leaders Alexander City Man Is Approved For House Post By Gov.-Nominate

State Rep. Charles C. Adams of Alexander City has been picked for Speaker of the Alabama House of Representatives by Gov.-Nominate John Patterson, it was announced Wednesday.

Patterson also named State Rep. Virgil M. Ashworth of Centerville as his choice for speaker pro tem of the incoming House—which in effect would make Ashworth Patterson's floor leader. Patterson's decision will not automatically insure the election of Adams and Ashworth to these positions but an incoming Legislature usually respects a governor's wishes in such matters. It was explained. It was felt that the governor-nominate would name several other administration men as assistants to Ashworth on the House floor.

Speculation in the state capital pointed to the following as possible choices for the other members on the Patterson team:

State Sen. (and newly nominated for the House) Joe Smith of Phenix City; Rep. E. K. Hanby of Gadsden; Rep. Bob Gilchrist of Hartselle, and possible Rep. Ira Pruitt of Livingston.

It was also reported in Montgomery that Earl McGowan, of Chapman, an official of the W. T. Smith Lumber Company, would be the new director of Alabama State Docks in Mobile. McGowan served as director of conservation in Persons administration.

Adams, Patterson's announced choice for speaker has been in the Legislature since 1951. He has had more legislative experience than other speaker candidates. During Governor Folsom's administration, Adams was chairman of the House committee on municipalities and floor leader for the Alabama League of Municipalities.

Speculation that Adams had supported Jimmy Faulkner in the recent political race brought a denial from Adams who said he did not identify himself with any candidate in the first primary since he was in a 3-way race for the House seat from Tallapoosa County.

Lawson Held On Murder Charge

72-Year-Old Purser Knocked Down And Stomped; Brother Held

Thirty-year-old Thomas Lawson, one of two brothers, charged with murder in the death of 72-year-old George Purser, has admitted to Chief Deputy Sheriff Mitchell that he knocked the older man down and stomped him.

Lawson made the statement in written form Saturday, saying that Purser drew a knife on him and he knocked him down and stomped him.

The incident took place the evening of Saturday, July 17, but the victim's body wasn't found until Thursday morning, July 17, by two members of the search party. The body was located at the Old Kilgore place approximately 10 miles out the Chisholm Highway and near a fence.

Purser's back was broken in two places and his ribs crushed, according to Mitchell.

Both brothers are still in Lauderdale County jail without bond on charges of first degree murder.

MIDEAST POWDER KEG — Newsmap spots the boiling Middle East where Iraq's military coup overthrowing the pro-Western regime of King Feisal—and subsequent defection to President Gamal Abdel Nasser—threatens a major supply of Western oil. Iraq's putsch leaves her impoverished partner in the Arab Federation—Jordan—in a precarious position.

James H. McClellan, only surviving son of Sen. John McClellan (D. Ark.) was killed Tuesday in the crash of a twin-engine plane crash at Little Rock. The 31-year-old McClellan, a Little Rock attorney, was getting a check ride in a flying service plane for a multi-engine license. The senator's two older sons also died violently. Max died in Africa during World War II but his body was not returned to the U. S. until 1949. Three days after the belated funeral service for Max, John Jr. died in a car crash in Arkansas. McClellan attended the funerals of both sons in a week's time. McClellan, who has lost two wives by death and is now married to a third, has two daughters.

"When you work for safety—safety works for you."

That's the theme of the 15th annual National Farm Safety Week, which is being observed this week. It is cosponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Purpose of the special week, which has been proclaimed by President Eisenhower, is to prevent accidents to farm families—in the home, in the field and on the highway.

Accidents to farm residents take nearly 13,000 lives and injure more than a million persons annually. Farming has more deaths each year than any other major industry.

Many organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life will take part in the campaign. "The National Safety Council urges everyone with an interest in the welfare of farm residents to participate in National Farm Safety Week, and to promote accident prevention the year 'round," it said.

The Council points out that in addition to some 13,000 lives being lost on America's farms through accidents that could have been prevented, a million or more farm people are injured, many of them at misery not only in pain and suffering for the victims but in financial troubles.

Everyone in the nation is affected by the annual farm accident toll. Business in general suffers as well as the families of the victims. Breadwinners who are killed or disabled cannot be replaced and many times homes are lost because of the economic blow.

The Council calls attention to the fact that human failure and not cars, tractors or farm machinery, is the basic cause of accidents. It is the failure to recognize and correct hazards that is the real cause of accidental death and injury.

Practically all accidents are avoidable since it is shown that where there is good planning there are virtually no accidents. National Farm Safety Week has been an important factor in bringing about a reduction in the farm accident rate and each year the effectiveness of this week-long campaign becomes more and more apparent.

Ike Challenges Khrushchev To Complain To UN

Mideast Talks Adjourn; Secretary-General Will Act To Step Up Force

The Security Council of the United Nations meeting in emergency session over the Middle East crisis precipitated by President Eisenhower's action in sending U. S. armed forces into Lebanon, adjourned Tuesday when Russia vetoed the Japanese proposal to replace U. S. troops with an expanded U. N. force. The vote was 10 for, one against, Russia's one vote killing further consideration of the measure.

The adjournment was also vetoed against by Russia but the vote did not constitute a veto.

Immediately following the killing of the Japanese proposal, UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld told the delegates that under the power granted to him in the United Nations charter he was acting on his own to "beef-up" the unarmed 100-man team already in Lebanon when the United States Marines moved in. Hammarskjöld favors U. S. withdrawal when the UN is ready to take over.

Prior to adjournment the Russian delegate, Arkady K. Sobolev, hinted that Russia was interested in the West's idea of a summit meeting but also indicated that the summit proposal should not be regarded as an excuse for the Security Council to stop the Middle East arguments. Russia's veto of the Japanese proposal came after her own amendments to the proposal were defeated.

Summit Proposal

Britain joined the United States in the offer to discuss the Middle East crisis with Russia's Premier Khrushchev at a summit meeting but France's Premier de Gaulle held back, proposing another time and place. He contended the UN headquarters in New York lacked the calm and serenity needed for such a meeting.

President Eisenhower, in defending his action in Lebanon, challenged Khrushchev to complain personally to the United Nations Security Council if he believed Anglo-American military moves endangered world peace. In his 1500 word letter, Eisenhower avoided promising that he would personally attend a summit meeting.

A rebel leader in Lebanon predicted Tuesday that U. S. Marines and paratroopers would be soon going back to their bases since the crisis in Iraq had about passed.

The leader was Hussein Oweini, former premier and leader of the national front and his remark was directed at Robert Murphy, undersecretary of state, sent to the Middle East as a trouble shooter by President Eisenhower. Murphy has been trying to find a way to effect a compromise in Lebanon's tangled presidential succession, the cause of the 74-day old rebellion.

Another Marine Killed
The Marines in Lebanon were still in the midst of considerable shooting and the second Marine was killed, this time by a bullet from a U. S. sentry. The other casualty was that of a Navy fighter pilot killed on Sunday in the crash of his plane.

New Assault on Major
Health Problems Is Set
National Polio Foundation Plans
Arthritic and Birth Defect Research

A program that will permit a scientific assault on major health problems of the nation, with arthritis and birth defects as initial new targets, was announced this week by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

While carrying on the winning fight against polio, the National Foundation will continue its history-making virus research program and investigations of disorders of the central nervous system, and will add research and patient aid in arthritis and birth defects.

The expanded program will be financed through the traditional March of Dimes conducted each January by volunteers in 3,100 county chapters across the country. Basil O'Connor, president of the organization, said:

"This is our concept for the future: The development of an organized voluntary force in the fields of medical research, patient care and professional education, flexible enough to meet new health problems as they arise, with specific goals initially.

"The heart of the new program is research. Research will be expanded from where it is now, without the restriction of being confined in the future to a single disease. Professional education also will be expanded to cover training of personnel both for research and patient care in all areas of activity."

Freedom to follow research clues wherever they lead will be combined with necessary limitations on patient aid in the beginning, Mr. O'Connor explained.

The limitations result from the enormity of the patient care problem: At least 11,000,000 persons have arthritis and rheumatism; 250,000 children are born with significant birth defects each year (excluding birth injuries); an estimated 150,000 persons who have had paralytic polio still will require some assistance in the years ahead.

It is planned to offer patient aid at first only to arthritis patients through 18 years of age and to children suffering from malformations of the central nervous system, all through age 18, he said. Some 16,000 childhood arthritis sufferers can be expected to seek treatment each year and about 8,000 patients annually have birth defects of the central nervous system that are treatable. Among these conditions are: spina bifida (open spine), encephalocele (water on the brain).

"Our objective in patient care is to continue the polio job until it is finished," he explained. "We have a moral obligation to do this and the American people expect us to recognize this responsibility."

"As an organized force for medical research, patient care and professional education, we have chosen the broadest program of all," Mr. O'Connor concluded. "Through it, we hope that infantile paralysis one day may be considered only a fortunate beginning."

MRS. GIBBONS INSTALLED AS DISTRICT PRESIDENT

Mrs. Tom E. Gibbons, Florence, who was installed as First District President, American Legion Auxiliary, at the state convention in Huntsville Sunday through Tuesday, has returned from the most successful meeting.

We Must Explore Every Angle

A lot of people are of the opinion that the present tossing of recriminations back and forth between the United States and Russia spells a virtual end to the worth of the current A-weapon talks at Geneva. This is not true though it would be foolish to state that the present situation in the Middle East has no bearing on such a conference. It is the security of the world 10 to 20 years from now that is at stake in the conferences and it involves more than the dangers of radioactive fall-out.

The National Planning Association in its recent booklet "1970 Without Arms Control" puts it squarely up to the world to do something about putting a brake on the arms race and warns that time should not be lost. Russia has stated she is willing to do something toward controls and has more than once urged the banning of nuclear weapon tests. Our politicians shout "propaganda" in each instance but they fail to admit the Russians may be just as frightened as we are and just as distrustful of us as we are of them. Hence no mutual accord has been reached and it goes without saying any agreement will be the result of some very astute and patient planning. Let us again separate this particular phase of our relationship with the Soviet Union from the present threat of a "hot" war in the Middle East which we agree is the result of Russian interference.

The NPA points out the intolerable situation facing the world in just a few short years if every nation is allowed to go on its own uninhibited way in stockpiling nuclear weapons. Little imagination is needed to see what could happen if tempers flared at such a time.

The two schools of thought in the argument on banning or not banning nuclear weapons involves diametrically opposed conclusions. One side emphasizes the threat of the Soviets gaining an advantage by cheating on the tests, the other side is willing to take the chance again emphasizing the long-range dangers of the armaments race.

It would admittedly be good propaganda for the Russians if a ban were placed on nuclear tests but it is such a serious matter, that propaganda may be relegated to a subsidiary political category if anything at all could be accomplished. The psychological effect of such an agreement could, many agree, bring about an easing of tensions throughout the world.

The discussions at the Geneva sessions concern mainly the problem of an effective inspection system with the whole world conditioned by the foregoing larger aspects of the dangers involved. If we assume the Russians are interested only for propaganda purposes then we not only show the measure of our ignorance, as we did in letting Russia excel us in the missiles race, but we are defeated to begin with.

The possibilities of arms control combined with A-weapon test bans, must be explored to the nth degree.

Farm Safety Week

No loss encountered in any disaster however serious is equal to the tragic loss suffered by home accidents that many times deprive the family of the breadwinner or that cripple or maim children. The sad part of it is these home accidents to a large extent are preventable.

Human error and not the mechanical failure of automobiles, tractors or other farm machinery, is responsible for most accidents that occur on the farm and it is the purpose of Farm Safety Week, being observed this week, to call attention to simple rules that may help prevent such accidents. Farm work accidents, records show, take more lives than any other major industry, 3,000 to 4,000 per year. More than three times this many farm residents lose their lives in all types of accidents.

The home itself is the leading offender with the bathroom and kitchen the greatest potential killers. Actually the rooms themselves are not dangerous and if you have had no accidents in the home the chances are you keep a pretty neat house and use common sense in preventing accidents. However it is well to check up at regular intervals just to see if things are alright and to be on the SAFE side.

For instance do you have a rubber mat in the bathtub or shower? If not get one. Just because you've never fallen in the bathroom is no excuse for not having this very simple safety device. And how about the medicine chest? Are poisons out of reach of small children? Make sure they are and also that they are plainly labeled. This applies to bug killers and bleaches as well as medicines.

Check your wiring in all parts of the house. More than 1000 persons die each year from faulty electrical connections. Replace those worn lamp or appliance cords.

Old refrigerators, lethal because they're airtight and because their doors can't be opened from the inside, annually snuff out the lives of about a dozen children.

In 1957, according to the National Safety Council, 14 children—five boys and nine girls—suffocated in airtight cabinets. In 1956, 11 died, and in 1955, 18.

More than 50 million refrigerators, iceboxes, freezers and other similar airtight cabinets are in use today. At a rate of about a million a year they're being carted to junk piles—or, worse yet, kept in the basement or left in the back yard.

Bedrooms are dangerous, too. Another reason people fall so often in bedrooms is because of the throw rug—a lethal weapon if unanchored.

"The ideal spot for a throw rug is right beside the bed—if you want an accident," the Council says.

How to remove the hazard? "Sew fruit jar rings on the underside of the rug, or use tape you can buy for the purpose."

A handy bed lamp will help cut down on the night-time toll from falls, too, the Council advises.

Other tips:
1. Light stairs and steps. Keep them uncluttered.
2. Fasten window screens securely. Use guards on windows with low ledges.

3. Keep ladders repaired. Place them and use them properly. Avoid reaching and makeshift substitutes. Sit in chairs—don't climb on them, the Council says.

The above are only a few of the many things one may do to prevent accidents in the home. However, common sense will help more than anything else and every week should be Safety Week in every home in the land.

Congress Passes
Bill For AgencyNew Civilian Group
Set Up To Command
Conquest Of Space Drive

Congress has given rocket-swift approval to a compromise bill to set up a powerful new civilian agency to command this country's long range drive to overtake the Soviet Union in the conquest of space.

The President will have step-by-step control over the activities of the new agency. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said the bill represented "an omen of good things to come" in research on the mysteries of outer space. He said the challenge of the space age is so great that it dwarfs the animosities and hatreds that divide humanity today. If man can meet this challenge properly, he said "we may find that the road to lasting peace truly lies through the stars."

The bill provides for creation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and a nine-member advisory council headed by the President. The agency would be built around the 47-year-old National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) now headed by Hugh L. Dryden.

Rev. G. M. Hamby

The Rev. G. M. Hamby, Methodist Evangelist of Florence, who recently returned from a "round the world trip with five months spent in India for special research, was the guest speaker at the Exchange Club meeting at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon. Ralph Young had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

The Rev. Mr. Hamby, after a few preliminary remarks concerning the political and religious attitude of the Indian people, presented two interesting films, one of which he took himself, and gave a running commentary as they were shown.

Of special interest was the film of the pilgrimage to the River Ganges of the holy men of India in which teeming thousands followed these men into the river where the process of cleansing their bodies and souls is an ancient rite.

Putman-Killen Nuptials

Miss Wanda Sue Killen and Johnny Wayne Putman were united in marriage in Lexington Methodist Church in an evening ceremony on Saturday, July fifth, as the Reverend E. C. Sheppard read the seven o'clock rituals.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Benton Killen and Mr. and Mrs. John Dee Putman, all of Lexington. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Jane Porter, pianist, and Miss Patsy Hollis, vocalist.

Wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A portrait neckline and long tapering sleeves distinguished the fitted bodice, and the bouffant skirt was very full. A halo of jeweled florets caught her veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid.

Attending as matron of honor was the bride's cousin, Mrs. Lelon Balch, who wore pink organza over taffeta. Candelights were: Miss Cathy Bishop, Miss Connie Mitchell; Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Gerald Campbell and Mrs. Hulon Haddock who wore identical frocks of blue. Wide-brimmed hats matched their dresses and they carried bouquets of carnations.

Donald Putman, cousin of the groom served as best man. Ushers were R. C. Bryan and Erion Norton.

The bride's parents were reception hosts at their home following the ceremony. Pink tulle over white satin covered the table where a three-tiered wedding cake was flanked by silver candelabra of pink tapers set in rosettes of pink tulle. Pink and white flowers were used in profusion through the party rooms.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. J. P. Griffin, Mrs. Coleman Howard, Mrs. George Lindsey, Mrs. Henry Nichols, Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. Hollis Truitt, Mrs. Donald Putman and Miss Kaye Griffin.

Attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Porter and Mrs. E. L. Parker of Huntsville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishop, Freddie and Cathy of Albertville, Mrs. Gaylon Hollis, Judy and Patsy of Lawrenceburg.

For their honeymoon trip to

Alabamian Heads Military District

Maj. Gen. S. B. Mason Succeeds Johnson As State's Army Chief

A native Alabamian, Major General Stanhope B. Mason, is returning to his home state as Chief of the U. S. Army Military District, Alabama.

He is expected to arrive in Birmingham the latter part of this month. His previous duty station was Chief of Staff, Headquarters U. S. Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe, Virginia.

General Mason succeeds Major General Harry W. Johnson who has held the post in Birmingham for the past fourteen months. He was born in Demopolis, but is more recently of Gadsden and Tuscaloosa. His family has lived in Alabama since 1819, the year the state was admitted to the Union.

After attending Alabama Polytechnic Institute, the General entered the United States Military Academy, graduating in 1938 as a 2nd lieutenant.

He was chief of staff of the First Infantry Division, the "Big Red One," which stormed ashore at Omaha Beach in Normandy on D-Day and smashed its way across France and Germany. Upon his return to the United States in 1945, he was appointed Professor, Military Science Tactics at the University of Alabama. He also served as Commanding General of the 24th Infantry Division in the Far East. General Mason is married to the former Miss Moria Lockwood of Boston, Mass., and they have two sons, Stanhope, Jr., and Charles E.

THE SPILLWAY

THAT CHARMING YOUNG gent... Charlie Volk... Thought marriage was for married folk... But now that he's tumbled He's really quite humbled And we're the blunt end of the joke...

A JOKE THAT STARTED during the days of Charlie's residence in Florence when friends kidded with him about his continued bachelorhood... "Just call us long-distance and COLLECT if the MAGIC SPELL should hit" we said on many occasions... and that's exactly what he's done... DAYTIME long-distance... at that... and from Niagara Falls... He'll do his middle-aisle-ing in early September and we hope he'll bring his OAO to Florence for a honeymoon 'midst old-time friends... We've heard that Esther and Charlie Green have offered their lakeside cottage as a "honeymoon hideout"... though we frankly admit we're planning to be on hand a big portion of the time... In the meantime... a raft of worm congratulations from all of us... Our thoughts are with you... Charlie... during these happy days...

WE'RE JUST IDLY wondering if you had the pleasure of meeting that very charming gent... a recent guest of host-with-the-most Hiram Douglass... who entertained his visitor from Aberdeen, Scotland, with a series of breakfast affairs... Wearing kilts... et cetera... the Provost of Saint Andrew's Cathedral (in Aberdeen) was "completely delightful"... and a "sparkling conversationalist"... as well as "very handsome" but the best descriptive phrase we heard was... "there was a pleasing aura about him... and it lingers... We hope he'll come again... and often..."

TRAVELERS HO... Returning from their recent Canadian trip... Julia Walker and Jo Penney brought with them some very lovely little "do-dads"... There are exquisite boudoir lamps on figurine bases... and there's a collection of enviable linen which friends are enjoying glimpsing... LEAVING FRIDAY... Glad Shepard and Lucia Reeder will depart for a Caribbean cruise... We think it's their fourth away-from-home-shores jaunt taken together and... as always... we wish them Happy Landin's... BAILEY SPRINGS ROAD is the address if you hanker to barge in on the Evelyn-and-Tom Mecke family reunion... Mike is home after separation from the service (he's had a tour with the United States Navy) and Ann arrived Saturday for a vacation visit from her pleasant job - surroundings in Louisville... It's hoped that Dot will return from her Summer visit in Ohio for the festivities... as days filled with gaily are planned for the weeks ahead...

OTHER TRAVELERS ARE Kating theine Maples and Lucile and Floyd Morrison who left Sunday for Cincinnati where they will be joined by Grace and Thetus Sims for a trip to New York and "the shows"... Let's Talk It Over
By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Save, It looks like my wife's brother-in-law has fallen in love with her and it's come to a place where I don't know which direction to take. I've been pretending not to notice, but now I believe it's going to cause talk. He's fourteen years older and I guess in a way it's really my wife's fault. I think she felt sorry for him because they (he and her sister) never had any children, and she knew he was heartsick about it. So she started paying him attention. Like calling him when I'm working late and telling him she'd like to see a movie. And she has gone with him a few times on out-of-town trips to keep him company. Her sister just seems to like to stay at home, but it's hard on my wife to make these trips because we have two children and she has to make arrangements every time. But she always says that he's not young any longer, and she feels like maybe her sister is letting him down, and she thinks he needs company. He has plenty, and always is giving her nice things to show that he appreciates her kindness to him. Now, I don't want to act up, as the saying goes. I'd sure be sorry to cause family trouble. But it looks like I need to get some advice from the outside. I'm not suspicious, and I love my wife, but (I'm ashamed to admit this) it looks like I feel a little unsure at times. Please give me your opinion. Bothered.

Dear Bothered, As a rule, I'm not suspicious, either, but it looks like I feel more than a little unsure of this situation. I wouldn't want to go so far as to place the blame, but I most certainly do not like the color of the picture you've given me, in spite of all your mincing of words and effort to the contrary. I suggest that you step out of your mousey role and have a straightforward talk with your "considerate" little wife. Suggest that she occasionally consider you and those two children she's neglecting while she trips around with this old man who may be all of forty, and who is so well able to shower her with gifts. I'm not surprised that his wife seems to like to stay at home. There's probably a very good reason for it and one of them may be that home is the best place to nurse an aching heart. My opinion is that you've been blind long enough. There may be real family trouble ahead if you continue to fail to speak out.

Dear Mrs. Saze, Lauderdale Lists Fifteen TB Cases

New cases of tuberculosis reported in Alabama during June numbered about two-thirds of the total reported during May. The State Health Department said today that the June total was 161 and the May figure was 247. The June cases were reported by 40 counties. Fifteen occurred in Lauderdale County.

Benefit Claims Drop Sharply Here

Unemployment benefit claims dropped from 1,832 to 1,697 during the past week at the Sheffield State Employment Office for extension of unemployment benefits under recent Federal law. There were 442 new work applications filed this week compared with 757 last week. A total of 154 new claims for unemployment benefits were processed as against 202 the previous week. The outlook on employment has looked better with almost every week since the middle of March when over 3,100 claims were on file at the Sheffield office.

Leo Views the College Campus

By Dottie McRae

This week started Sunday with a rather wet afternoon preceding the baccalaureate sermon that evening. The speaker Sunday night was Dr. R. Lambuth Archibald, pastor of Florence's First Methodist Church. Summer school will be all over by Saturday—Dr. D. P. Culp will deliver the commencement address Friday evening in the amphitheatre.

Last week had a couple of incidents to make it interesting. Thursday morning there appeared on the lawn of Bibb Graves Hall a small sign announcing that this was Dorris (I think) Brown's Kindergarten.

According to a particular person, it first made its appearance in the back yard of Keller Hall. Thinking that Bibb Graves would be a more appropriate place for its display, my informant moved the sign.

Thursday afternoon, I noticed that it had been returned to its owner. Friday morning at five minutes of eight a fire truck from North Florence and I reached the campus and joined two other fire trucks (on their way to Kilby) and several policemen.

In less than ten minutes they—trucks and policemen—were gone and all was quiet; I still haven't found out just why they were there. I suppose it was someone's idea of fun. It did make for an interesting beginning Friday, but I surely would hate to be a fireman and have to get rigged up in those hot slickers, or whatever they are, in the middle of July for nothing but a false alarm. The football schedule for this fall has been announced—six out of FSC's nine games will be played at home. The home games are Sept. 27, Murray, Oct. 4 and 11, Arkansas State and Livingston, respectively, Nov. 8 and 15, McNeese and TPI, and of course, homecoming, Oct. 25.

Tusculumbia Woman Is Top Gardener
Mrs. J. W. Stephenson of 625 N. Milton, Tusculumbia, a member of the Helen Keller Garden Club, was named "Gardener of the Year" by the makers of Eveready garden products in a nation-wide competition among non-professional gardeners. The selection of club winners was based on scores made on a competitive 100-question examination, designed to test gardening knowledge.

All Men Reaching 18 Must Register

Selective Service Lenient In Student Deferment And Other Exemptions

State Director James W. Jones today reminded young Alabamians just becoming 18 years of age that they are required by law to register with their Selective Service Boards, within five days after their birthday. Jones said that in recent months there had been increasing reports of tardy registration and delinquency, both of which are punishable by law. He pointed out that in Alabama, draft calls are still being made only in the age group of 23 years or older, and that under present rules, Selective Service is very lenient in deferments for students and those with dependents.

"Our sole purpose isn't just to induct men into the active forces," Jones said. "In addition to stimulating enlistments, we assist in maintaining the nation's reserve strength by inducing Ready Reservists who fail to participate satisfactorily, and defer those who enlist and meet training requirements. Few people understand the purpose and value of the Standby Reserve program, nor appreciate its magnitude," the state director said.

"By registration, Selective Service has tallied all the men of military age in the country. And through its constant classification actions, not only has it selected men for induction, but by deferments and exceptions, it has channeled others into essential activities such as engineering, scientific and technical pursuits, medicine and dentistry, teaching and study in preparation for such callings." Jones said, "National manpower experts agree that the reason America's shortage of scientists, engineers, physicians, and others in skilled classification is not more acute, is because Selective Service deferred thousands of men since 1951 to train themselves in such fields."

It is generally admitted that Selective Service is the only agency which could insure orderly withdrawal of men from civilian life for military services in the event of an emergency. Local boards in all communities keep the population aware that the nation's defense is every man's concern, Jones said.

Marine Pfc. Ernie D. Holland, son of Mrs. Virginia Holland of Route 3, Rogersville, was among the 1800 U. S. Marines who landed in Beirut, Lebanon, as the second group to be ordered ashore by President Eisenhower. State Supreme Court Duties Are Important

By DAVID ROBINSON

The Supreme Court of Alabama consists of a chief justice and six associate justices. These justices are elected for terms of six years each, with the terms of the associate justices being staggered, two of them being elected every two years.

Vacancies in the offices of the justices of the Supreme Court are filled by appointment by the governor, and the appointee holds office until the next general election for any state officer held at least six months after the vacancy occurs. The successor chosen at the general election holds office for the unexpired term.

Requirements for holding the offices of justices of the Supreme Court are that the holder must not be less than 25 years of age; must have been citizens of the United States and of the State of Alabama for five years next preceding their election or appointment; and must be learned in the law, also.

The Supreme Court, in most instances, exercises appellate jurisdiction only, but it also has the power and authority to issue writs of injunction, habeas corpus, prohibition, to exercise original jurisdiction in the issue and determination of writs of quo warrant (a writ to show by what right a person discharges the duties of an office to which not appointed or traced on a franchise to which he has no right or which has been revoked) and mandamus (a writ issued by a superior court directing person or inferior court to perform same act), to establish rules of practice in all courts of the state.

This high tribunal has the power to punish for contempt by the infliction of a fine as high as one hundred dollars, and imprisonment not exceeding ten days, one or both, and to give advisory opinions on important constitutional questions only, upon written request of the governor, or by resolution of either house of the legislature.

In the event the chief justice is absent from court for a period of thirty days or longer because of illness or some other disability, the duties imposed upon him must be performed by the associate justice having the longest continuous length of service on the court.

Regular terms of the Supreme Court begin on the first Monday of October of each year, and continue through the last day of June of the following year. But the court may, in its discretion, adjourn from time to time, and when ever it deems proper, order and hold special terms.

The State is divided into eight supreme court divisions, each division consisting of certain designated counties, for the purpose of hearing and considering the cases from the counties composing the several divisions.

A clerk is appointed by the justices of the court for a term of six years, but the clerk may be removed at any time for cause. The clerk has authority to administer oaths and take affidavits. It is his duty to issue and sign all writs issued under authority of the court, to keep in regular order the papers, dockets and records of the court, to record judgments and proceedings of the court, and to keep and have bound transcript records and manuscript opinions of all cases decided before the court.

A marshal is appointed by the justices of the court, and serves at the pleasure of the court. The marshal performs such duties as may be required by the justices in addition to serving as librarian of the State and Supreme Court library.

Reports of the cases decided in the Supreme Court are published under the supervision and direction of a decisions reporter, who is appointed by the justices of the Supreme Court for a term coextensive with that of the chief justice. The decisions reporter may be removed at any time.

This is the first of a series of articles on the organization of the judicial, legislative and executive branches of your State Government.

State Convicts 74 Of Receiving Unlawful Benefits

During the first half of the calendar year of 1958, 74 persons were convicted of drawing unemployment compensation unlawfully, according to a report released by Arthur D. Kelly, State Director of the Department of Industrial Relations.

According to the Department of Industrial Relations 43,334 claims were audited during the six months period to determine whether there was any "chiseling" by claimants. Investigations were conducted on 6,661 claims and it was discovered that 494 claimants were paid benefits to which they were not entitled.

The Fraud Investigation Section of the Department recovered $33,527.33 out of the $37,129.00 in overpayments and penalized 132 violators by disqualifying them from receiving part of their future entitlements. Furthermore, the State initiated criminal action against 100 claimants and referred 34 more, which involved jobless benefits for veterans, to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Unemployment Compensation Law provides for prosecution of individuals who make fraudulent misrepresentations in claims. Punishment may vary from a minimum fine of $25 to the maximum of $250, plus a jail sentence of three months for each separate offense. The Director is authorized to assess an additional administrative penalty against the claimant involving the reduction of future benefit entitlements.

News Of Our Men In The Military Service

Army Maj. Tom J. Perkins, whose wife, Florence, lives at 213 Mandalay Road, Florence, is assisting in the six-week summer camp training of Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets at Fort Benning, Ga.

Major Perkins is scheduled to return early in August to his regular assignment as associate professor of military science and tactics at Florence State College, Florence, Ala.

The major, 33, entered the Army in 1947 and holds the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service. The major is a 1943 graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School, San Antonio, Tex., and a 1947 graduate of U. S. Military Academy. He is a former employee of Carpenter Paper Company, San Antonio, Tex.

The new Marine enlisted in the 120-day program which permits a young man to join now and select an active duty reporting date within a four month period.

This Marine enlistment program allows a young man sufficient time to wind up civilian affairs prior to reporting for military duty.

Private Putnam is a graduate of Coffee High School. He was processed for enlistment by Marine Recruiters who visit Florence each week.

Details about the 120-day program are available from visiting Marine Recruiters or from the Marine Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, Decatur.

Work Begun On County UF Appeal

Carter, Tyree, Rosser Will Serve As Chairmen; Awards To Be Given

Work has already started on the annual appeal of the Lauderdale County United Fund. One of the important steps in the development of an up to date employee census and contacts have already started with local business firms and will continue until the entire list has been covered.

This year's co-chairmen, Edgar L. Carter, Karl T. Tyree, Jr., and C. B. Rosser, Jr., are asking the wholehearted support of business heads for this special UF campaign activity when contact is made with their respective firm.

The appeals of twelve deserving agencies have been combined and provides opportunities for the city and county to furnish funds for these agencies to render a more effective service. The agencies rendering relief are transient and local, health service, recreation and character building, disaster relief, service to men and women in uniform and ex-service personnel, crippled children, child care, library service to rural areas.

The need for more "Fair Share" giving is emphasized and it is an easy matter for most anyone to forget that this combined appeal covers twelve agencies instead of one.

Good Citizenship Awards will again be presented firms meeting Fair Share quotas.

Lauderdale Man Caught At Still

Jack White, a Lauderdale County man, was captured at the scene of a 200-gallon round-type distillery near Rhodesville Saturday and jailed on a charge of manufacturing whisky and possession of a still.

White was caught as he completed firing up the still and was preparing a run. Deputy T. O. Howard of the Lauderdale Sheriff's office and ATU agents Jim Lusk and Hamilton made the raid and arrested White.

Deputy Howard said the still was chopped up with axes. terranean throughout the summer. The carrier joined the fleet in February. Squadron 7's home base is Sanford, Fla.

Alabama Takes Second Place In Tree Farms

The number of certified Tree Farms in Alabama has increased by almost one third during the past year.

John Raeburn of Coosa Pines, chairman of the Alabama Forest Industries Committee which sponsors the program locally, said today 240 new Tree Farms have been approved in Alabama since July 1 of last year.

"According to American Forest Products Industries, which sponsors the program nationally and keeps official figures, we now have 1,033 Tree Farms including 4,155,402 acres in Alabama," Raeburn said.

The acreage figure, which is 391,020 acres higher than it was a year ago, has moved Alabama into second place nationally in that category, replacing Georgia, he added. Florida is still the leading state.

Numerically, Mississippi leads the nation with 1,232 certified Tree Farms, followed by Texas with 1,065. Alabama leads both these states in acreage, and is the only state with a combination of more than 1,000 Tree Farms and 4,000,000 acres enrolled in the American Tree Farm System.

"Tree Farm Chairman M. C. Leach, his committee and the more than 125 foresters in the state who work on the program have all done outstanding jobs on this project," Raeburn said.

Of Alabama's gains in the industry-operated Tree Farm program, he added that 182 units and 322,708 acres have been approved since Jan. 1 of this year.

Chairman Raeburn attributed much of the recent activity to a four-state "challenge" which came about at the editorial suggestion of the Mobile Press. Following up on that editorial, Leach in April challenged Florida, Georgia and Mississippi committees for the Tree Farm leadership in both numbers and acres.

Charles E. Wright, quartermaster third class, USN, son of Tommie L. Wright of Route 2, Killen, is among the Navy men who are in Beirut, Lebanon. He is aboard the ship, the destroyer USS Hailley.

Sgt. Earl W. Dowdy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Dowdy, of Rt. 2, Florence, and Pfc. Ernie D. Holland of Rt. 3, Rogersville, are with the U. S. Marines in Lebanon.

Veterans Selling Homes Should Contact VA First

A veteran selling his home and GI mortgage should first contact the Veterans Administration if he wishes to be released from liability to the Government on his GI loan.

Such a release protects the veteran in the event the new purchaser defaults in payments, Harley A. Smith, manager of the VA Regional Office in Montgomery, said today.

Smith explained that a 1956 law allows veterans to be released from liability to the Government, provided the new purchaser meets credit requirements and assumes the veteran's obligations to the Government on the GI loan.

The new purchaser need not be a veteran, Smith pointed out, and the Government's guaranty of the loan is not affected by releasing the veteran from his liability.

In most states the only cost of obtaining the release is a small fee, usually not more than $5, for a credit report on the proposed buyer, he said.

Release of the veteran from liability to the Government does not automatically release him from liability to the lender.

The use of fats and oils in prepared animal feeds more than doubled between 1954 and 1956.

Alabama Bar Assn. Adopts Proposal

Judge Hill Proposes Legislature Strengthen Pardon-Parole System

The Alabama Bar Assn. Saturday urged a constitutional amendment to be adopted to give the state Supreme Court full rule-making powers as to court procedures.

It also adopted a resolution by Circuit Judge Robert M. Hill of Florence that recommended that the Legislature strengthen the

Employers Must Report Wages

Mrs. Mary King Temple, District Manager of the Sheffield Social Security Office, stated today any person who employs domestic help in his home and pays the worker $50.00 or more in cash wages (including carfare if paid in cash) in a calendar quarter must report these wages and pay social security tax within one month after the calendar quarter ends.

According to Mrs. Temple, many domestic workers are receiving monthly benefits. Old-age survivor, and disability benefits are paid on the basis of earnings reported by employers in private homes, the same as earnings reported by employers and self-employed individuals.

Sports Car Race To Be Held Again At Courtland Base

Sports car racing, a two-day event acclaimed by some as possibly Alabama's best single sporting exhibition, is scheduled again this year at old Courtland Air Base, state and probation and parole system by adding additional probation officers.

Judge Hill served as a member of the first state pardon-parole board from 1939 to 1946.

His resolution said the state's probation officers now must try to service an average of 22 cases and can't efficiently assist in the courts in pre-sentencing investigations. If more officers were employed, it would make possible to lighten the load on the prisons and permit return of more offenders as useful members of society.

August 30 and 31. Recent meetings between Decatur Jaycees, sponsors of the event, and representatives of the Sports Car Club of America have been held to begin necessary preparations. As in last year's races, drivers from most sections of the United States are expected to enter.

This is the second year the Decatur club has staged the event and efforts are underway to make it an annual affair.

Some 7,500 persons attended the 1957 two-day event, when time trials were held on Saturday and actual races on Sunday. The same procedure is expected this year.

A possibility exists that a four-hour endurance race, European style, will be held, however, drivers' votes decide what type races will be run and a schedule is to be announced later. The course is over three miles long on airport runways, and contains 12 turns, most of them 90 degrees with two full 180 degree turns.

PLAN AHEAD! This is the time of year I like to get out and look over the summer's crop of new homes. They're all mighty nice—so pretty and modern. Of course, as a telephone man, I especially like to see the ones that are "telephone planned." Like Bud Booream and his family have just moved to their modern new home on Jackson Road. Bud was planning ahead when he contacted us to have his home "telephone planned," just after construction began. Now Bud and his family are really enjoying their telephones which are conveniently located throughout the house. No wires are around the doors and woodwork, all the wiring is concealed. You should see the color telephones Mrs. Booream selected and how they add a final touch to the beautiful coloring in her new home. If you're building your own new home (or even just remodeling your old one), call us and we'll be happy to help you with your telephone planning.

PHONE AHEAD: Just as July is a heavy building month, it's also vacation month — probably the most popular of the summer. So, remember, when you're traveling on the highway, take it easy! No reason to hurry! If you're going to be late or if you're worried about reservations, just call ahead. You'll find convenient outdoor telephone booths ready to serve you 'most everywhere you go.

IS THIS TAX FAIR? Somewhere recently I came across this little view of the past. It seems that in ancient Egypt the life of a tax collector was no cinch. Many were often attacked by the taxpayers, smeared with honey, and left tied to ant-hills. I'm certainly glad times have changed because the phone company is a tax collector of sorts. The tax we are required to collect from you for the government is the excise tax—the extra 10% added monthly to everyone's telephone bills. Originally, this tax was a war-emergency measure, but you still pay it today. No other household utility is subject to such a tax, so in fairness to all it's high time the Federal excise tax was abolished.

This is Texas Eastern...

La Gloria Oil and Gas Company... a versatile subsidiary

Like its parent Texas Eastern, subsidiary La Gloria Oil and Gas Company is versatile... having a variety of interests in several fields of activity.

La Gloria owns and operates one of the largest natural gas cycling plants in the world, at Falfurrias, Texas. It processes some 320 million cubic feet of natural gas each day to recover approximately 10,500 barrels of liquids including natural gasoline, kerosene, butane and propane.

As a production and exploration company, La Gloria occupies a commanding position. The company has under lease approximately 68,000 producing acres and some 103,000 acres of land as yet undeveloped for production, in the states of Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma. During 1957 La Gloria accounted for production of 2,588,300 barrels of crude oil and 25 billion cubic feet of natural gas from its producing wells.

Early in 1957, La Gloria acquired McMurrey Refining Company, Tyler, Texas. La Gloria now has one of the nation's most modern refineries at Tyler. This refinery is a custom producer of automotive and aviation gasolines in the high octane range. The Tyler refinery also produces a multitude of by-products, including petroleum coke for industry... aromatic distillate for paint solvents... carbon black oil essential in manufacturing tires and inks... specialty products for fertilizers and insecticides... high purity hydrocarbons and alkylates for top-quality fuels for today's modern jet aircraft.

The activities of La Gloria typify the Texas Eastern diversification pattern, which has enabled the company to keep pace with the fast changing national economy.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

...fields white to harvest

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Bank	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	4	21-28
Monday	Matthew	9	35-38
Tuesday	Luke	10	1-9
Wednesday	John	15	1-8
Thursday	John	15	12-17
Friday	John	4	19-28
Saturday	Matthew	28	18-29

Jesus had that piercing perception of spiritual opportunity!

Others saw teeming cities and quiet villages. He saw fields white to harvest. People were not simply people—they were souls to be brought to God.

It is a mistake to think of our churches as institutions. It is inaccurate to measure their strength by the size of buildings, or the number of members on the roll.

The strength of any church is its outreach. Constantly it seeks to win souls. And as it wins them, it enriches lives! It inspires men and women, boys and girls, with the same intense eagerness to win still others to the Christian faith.

The fields are white to harvest... with souls like yours and mine!

VA Survey Shows Nearly Half Of War-Blinded Work

Half of the nearly 2,000 war-blinded veterans of the Korean conflict and World War II hold jobs, even though many have other physical handicaps, a Veterans Administration study released today indicates.

This first comprehensive study of rehabilitation of the war-blinded by the VA shows most of the nation's war veterans without useful sight have rebuilt their lives.

In addition, the group is making a positive contribution as workers, citizens, and in many cases as heads of families.

One is a clergyman. Others include a professor of speech, and instrument maker, teachers of geology and sociology, a YMCA secretary, a biologist, and economist in international affairs, ten lawyers, three office managers, a personnel director of a large company, a plumbing and heating business engineer, and many salesmen.

Slightly more than 100 of the group are working in professional fields.

Some hold degrees from Harvard, Princeton, and other universities which they received for study under VA-administered programs. About 140 still were in training at colleges, universities, and technical schools when the study was completed.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends for the many beautiful flowers and for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our dear father, Tom M. Patterson.

We especially thank El Reposo for their care of him.
We especially thank Dr. D. W. Lund for his sincere kindness and aid during our father's illness.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By BOB JONES

Eighth District
REPRESENTATIVE

Capital Roundup

Although events in the Near East could have grave consequences for the future, Washington remains alert but calm. The Adams-Goldfine case faded somewhat in public interest as the Nation's Capitol mobilized its diplomatic, legislative and military thinking to fit this new crisis. Congress stands ready to meet any emergency which may arise from the explosive events of the past week.

Meanwhile, Congress has passed a number of pieces of legislation which can have deep effect on us in North Alabama and the rest of the country for years to come.

This week, the House Public Works Committee ratified the Tennessee-Tombigbee Compact, or the Jones Bill, which I introduced at the request of the Alabama and Mississippi Governors, with the Alabama delegation as co-sponsors. Final congressional approval of the Compact appears excellent. Connecting the Tennessee and Tombigbee Rivers by an canal could bring enormous prosperity to our area by attracting new shipping, industries and people with fine effect on trade and payrolls.

The Smith Bill was considered in the House yesterday. This 74-word measure, one of the shortest in congressional history, would prevent the courts from nullifying state laws because there is a similar federal law on the same subject. I voted for this bill. A strong federal government is desirable, but not at the expense of states' rights. Local laws serve local people best.

The Defense Department has approved my plan to erect a memorial marker at Cape Canaveral, Florida, to memorialize the work of Redstone personnel in firing the first American space missile.

Congress has provided $10 million more for the school lunch program beginning in September. Alabama will get $2,885,351 this year. This program helps children to a better diet, but it also expands the market for our farm products.

Better business and more jobs should come everywhere because Congress has approved spending of $4.4 billion for construction work for rivers and harbors. A record sum, it will develop our natural resources, replace old public buildings, and in adding to our assets should provide a shot in the arm for business and employment.

A Friend At Court
Several weeks ago, Eric Johnston, President of the Motion Picture Association of America, a former President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Eisenhower's advisor on Near Eastern Affairs, advocated TVA development to end poverty and fight communism abroad. I immediately thanked Mr. Johnston for his praise of TVA and pled with him to use his influence at the White House to stop the Administration's hostility and its campaign to wreck TVA. If TVA is fine for 40 foreign nations, why isn't it good for Americans who originated it, was the implied question in my letter to Mr. Johnston. In reply, Mr. Johnston had this to say:

"It was a pleasure to receive your letter of June 25 and I appreciate your remarks and the views you expressed on the Tennessee Valley Authority pattern for the undeveloped areas of the world. As you say, the whole world knows what the TVA did to improve the economic condition of the South and what similar projects have done for other areas of our country, including my own Northwest. Please be assured that I seize upon every opportunity to advocate the preservation of TVA."

Sherman Adams has been the hatchman for the private powers trust, but all indications are that he is on the way out. Perhaps the attacks on TVA will stop. Replaced by a man of Johnston's caliber, a lot of us would breathe easier.

COMPOUND PREVENTS POISONING BEES

A new compound which repels bees for as much as 48 hours after a field has been sprayed with a deadly insecticide is being tested in Oklahoma. If the new repellent continues to prove successful, researchers believe it will be valuable in saving bees from freshly-treated fields and will be useful on crops that depend on good pollination for proper seed development.

Farm Review and Forecast

Extension Staff Meets With Farm, Home Committee

The Lauderdale County Extension staff met on Tuesday night with a five member committee to make plans for expanding the Farm and Home Development Program in the county. Herman Marks and Mrs. Marilyn Moore, the assistants working with Farm and Home Development, sponsored the meeting.

L. T. Wagon, County Agent, discussed the Farm and Home unit approach to extension work and Miss Fariss Prickett, Home Demonstration agent pointed out how farm and home development work is related to the home demonstration and 4-H programs. The committee elected Joe Rasch chairman and Walker Brown vice chairman and recorder. Mr. Marks and Mrs. Moore talked on the work they have done in the county with families and asked the committee to help select new families who want extension service assistance on the farm and in the home.

Members of the farm and home development committee are: Mrs. J. H. Foster, Walker Brown, Weakley Cunningham, Joe Rasch, and Wilburn Whitten.

Any family interested in becoming a farm and home development family can obtain information by contacting the county agent.

Agricultural Reminders

By L. T. WAGON
County Agent

Farmers are asked to check to see if they have aphids and worms on grain sorghum by County Agent L. T. Wagon. Mr. Wagon said that if infestation of aphids is high, an application of 5 percent malathion should be used to control aphids. If both worms and aphids are on grain sorghum, a mixture of 20 percent toxaphene with malathion or aldrin and malathion is recommended.

If only worms are present, 10 percent DDT or 20 percent toxaphene should be used. It may take more than one application of poison to control the aphids and worms. Applications should be made at five day intervals.

W. A. Ruffin, entomologist from API, Auburn, was in Lauderdale County last Thursday and visited several farms to check on damages to crops as a result of insects. In every instance, L. T. Wagon, County Agent, stated, there was found some damage to cotton. At that time, damages weren't serious enough to justify the beginning of poison applications. However, Mr. Ruffin advised farmers to keep close watch for a buildup of infestation.

When the infestation reaches a point where 20 to 25 squares out of 100 squares checked are punctured, the control program should be started. Mr. Ruffin figured that by the last of this week that farmers would know about whether to start the program.

Mr. Wagon suggests that farmers, if program is needed to combat boll weevils, put on three applications of recommended poison every five days. When this is completed, farmers are asked to skip a few days and then check cotton. If applications are still needed, put three more applications on cotton at same intervals of five days each. After these applications are completed, skip a few days and check again. If applications are still needed, farmers should make the necessary applications that are needed.

Crops Are Growing With Ample Rain

Crops are making rank growth with ample to excessive soil moisture prevailing in all areas of the State. Showers continued during the week and this precipitation in addition to the heavy rains of the previous week left most soils saturated with little opportunity for field work until late in the week. A period of open weather is needed to clean out crops and to wage an effective program against insects.

Cotton is making above average growth and is fruiting well. Boll weevil infestation is reported high in some southern counties but is not excessive elsewhere as yet. Some boll damage is reported from many counties over the State. Rains have hindered an effective control program on insects attacking cotton. Many late planted fields need cultivation badly.

Corn prospects are the best in years in most areas. Early planted fields are now made or sufficiently advanced that present moisture supplies will be enough to assure good yields. Late plantings are making fine progress at this time. In northern counties some damage is still being done by the corn borer and some lowland fields have been flooded out but generally the crop is in good condition.

Hay crops are above normal but harvest is being delayed by wet weather. The small grain harvest is now about complete in northern counties and some land is being prepared for fall seeding. Late planted crops, such as sorghums, millets and soybeans, are making good progress with some planting still underway. Grass is a problem with some of these late planted crops.

Pastures are lush for this time of year and cattle are making good gains. Some movement of fall calves to market is underway.

Two-thirds of the farm families in the U. S. in 1954 owned a home freezer or rented a freezer locker.

Progress reports show that since 1940, when Alabama cattlemen received $7.5 million from the sale of beef cattle, sales have increased 800 percent. In 1957 cattle sales amounted to $60 million.
