

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

One of the largest crowds ever to attend an open house by any organization in this area visited the new and modern plant of Florence Coca-Cola Company Thursday. Certainly this was a fitting tribute to a concern that has played such an important role in the development of this district for the past half century. Our congratulations go to Manager Harold Hammond, the owners and fine group of employees for the manner in which the open house was handled. It was a real job well done and was enjoyed by the thousands who visited the plant.

We recall, with a great amount of pleasure, that we were one of the early customers of the Pratt Bottling Co., the forerunner of the present Coca-Cola plant. At that time the plant was located on the northwest corner of Tennessee street and Wood avenue. We operated a curb-side drink stand during the summer months and, with our little red wagon, would cart two cases of Coca-Cola each morning to our place of business on Wood avenue at the Nellie avenue intersection. We did a thriving business and derived our spending-money from this enterprise for a number of summers. Naturally, we are proud of our part in launching this international drink on its road to success.

Jewett T. Flagg, president of Flagg-Utica Corp., says that some day he plans to fire his entire board of legal advisers and employ a single, one-armed attorney. Then, he says, when giving him a legal opinion his new adviser will not be able to say, as do his present attorneys: "On one hand, the matter looks like such and such; while on the other hand..."

The old boy was spending his vacation on a swanky Florida beach. The wife, feeling that once in a blue moon friend husband should have time off by himself, stayed at home to mind the house. After a week of extra special enjoyment, he wired: Having a wonderful wish—time you were here."

"My dear," impatiently asked the husband next morning, "where in the world is my hat. I can't keep a thing about this house. It's a shame the way things disappear without any apparent reason. I would like to know where that hat is." "So would I," replied the wife sweetly. "You didn't have it on when you came home shortly before the break of dawn this morning."

The suggestion has been made that we should never attempt the ultimate of our ability... because, if we make good with our utmost, we have to do it again day after day.

There's a time in a father's life that is certain to come and he looks forward to it with misgivings. And so it was when a certain youngster approached his father the other day and asked: "Daddy, where did I come from?" The father squared himself away and launched into a painful and carefully prepared discourse on the facts of life. "And now you know," concluded the father with some relief. "But why did you ask?" "Nothing special," said the son. "That new boy in our class said he came from Birmingham and I was wondering where I came from."

Happiness: Something the Constitution guarantees you—the pursuit of.

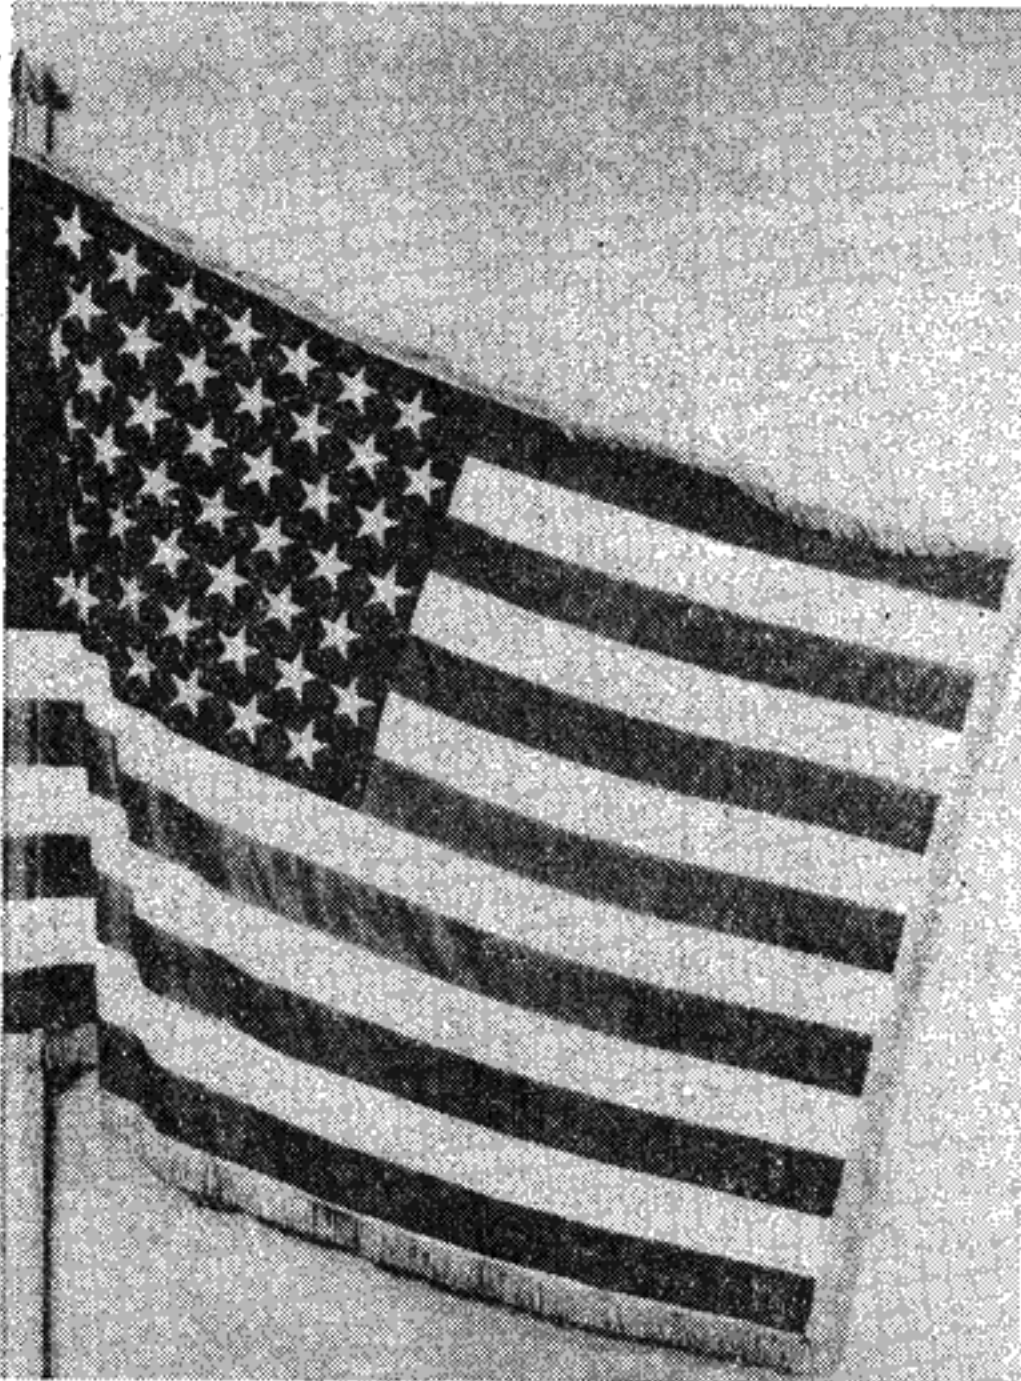

The husband brought home one of those little fortune cards that you get from a weighing machine that advises you, also, that you have gained needless pounds. He gave it to his wife and she read: "You're a leader of men. You're brave, strong-willed and popular with the opposite sex." The wife looked up and, with no trace of a smile, remarked: "And it has your weight wrong, too."

It is well to remember that every hard-boiled egg is yellow inside.

A farmer friend tells us that one time back a number of years ago when the road in front of his place was nothing but a series of mud holes whenever there was a heavy rain, a young boy appeared at his front door and asked to borrow a shovel. The farmer said he'd be glad to let him have it and asked what he was going to use it for. "Well, we hit a bump up the road and Grandpop fell into the mud up to his ankles." Puzzled, the farmer remarked that it shouldn't be too hard for Grandpop to walk out, and added: "I've been up to my ankles in mud dozens of times." "Maybe," said the youngster. "But you weren't in head first, were you?"

It was Junior's birthday and the postman brought him a birthday present all wrapped in pretty paper. He opened it and was puzzled. He took it to his mother and asked what it was. "Why, Dear, it's a book. It's what they make movies out of to show on television," was her explanation. "Oh," said Junior with complete understanding.

Then there was the fellow who whistled at a girl and got life at hard labor—she married him.

Plans For College Addition To Be Completed Soon

Construction Of Project Made Possible With Aid Of Federal Loan

Detailed plans for the additions to the Florence State College to be constructed with the aid of a $1,250,000 Federal loan, will be completed within 60 to 90 days, said Dr. E. B. Norton, president of the college.

The 40-year self-liquidating loan, bearing three per cent interest, will cost the state nothing in tax money, Dr. Norton said. It is to be repaid from rentals and from profits of such college enterprises as the bookstore and snack bar.

The Florence firm of Northington, Smith, and Kranert is the architect for the school's building project, and is drawing plans for a student union building and two dormitories.

The Student Union will be built on the site of the home of the former president of the college, the late Dr. James K. Powers, from whose heirs the property was acquired by FSC last Summer.

Two-story, of laminated wood arch construction, the lower floor of the building will have a great hall or lounge, the postoffice bookstore, snack bar, the Lion's Den and a faculty lounge.

The other two buildings are to be dormitories, one for women with accommodations for 60; the other will house 224 men students.

Both will be of certain wall construction with brick end walls. Above Wesleyan-Ave., main campus thoroughfare, the women's building will be situated between O'Neal Hall, oldest FSC dormitory, and Powers Hall, once known as the "apartment down."

Across campus, fronting on Circular Drive, the men's building will be an imposing structure cutting into the hillside, six stories at the front, three at the back.

Cotton Acreage Transfer Bill Is Before Congress

Sparkman, Hill Are Sponsors Of Proposal To Ease Farm Crisis

Senator John Sparkman on behalf of himself and Senator Lister Hill announced today that he is introducing legislation which would permit farm owners and operators to transfer acreage allotments to any other owner of a farm in the same county provided the terms and conditions of such a transfer are agreed to by both parties concerned.

"Literally thousands of farmers," Sparkman said, "are not in position to cultivate the small cotton acreage allocated to them. Neither will they be able to draw income on their acreage under the soil bank program."

"The acreage transfer bill which I am introducing would provide income for farmers from such land and would serve to protect the allocation of cotton acres made to Alabama as a whole," he said.

Sparkman's explanation of the bill follows: The bill, as proposed, provides that a farmer may lease any commodity acreage allotment established for his farm to another farmer in the same county and the acreage so leased shall be transferred to the farm of the lessee for one year. The terms and conditions of the lease shall be those agreed to by the farmers concerned.

This legislation will be helpful to a farmer who does not desire to grow the crop for which an allotment is made for his farm since he will be able to realize some income by leasing the allotment to other farmers. This is a significant consideration in view of the fact that such a farmer will most likely not be able to supplement his income in 1959 through the acreage reserve provisions of the Soil Bank. It will be helpful also to a farmer who needs an increase in acreage allotment in order to be able to devote an entire field to an allotment crop. For example, a farmer with a 10 acre cotton allotment may have one field containing 12 acres. If he could lease two acres from a neighbor and transfer such acreage to his farm, he would then be in position to plant the entire field to the crop. There are also other advantages.

The bill provides that the ASC county committees would maintain control of the lease and transfer of allotments. No lease would be effective until a copy thereof is filed with and approved by the county committee. The county committee would also maintain control with respect to the problem of transferring acreage allotments from low producing farms to farms with a higher productivity index.

The lease and transfer of allotment acreage under provisions of this bill would preserve and protect State, county or farm allotments since the acreage leased would be considered as devoted to the crop on the farm of the lessor.

Dr. Perry B. James, president of Athens College for the past 10 years, turned in his resignation unexpectedly to the school's board, headed by N. H. Waters, Sr., Tuesday afternoon. Waters said the resignation surprised the trustees, and that Dr. James told them he "needed a vacation." Dr. James said he had no immediate plans for the future, but that "it seemed that if I was ever going to make a change, this is the time." He is 60 years old.

Although Rebel Chieftain Fidel Castro Tuesday defended the mass executions of Batista supporters convicted of war crimes he suspended executions and promised public trials for the estimated 3,000 persons jailed on charges of war crimes. Roberto Agramonte, the new foreign minister, asserted that the death sentences were required to prevent vengeful Cubans from taking the law into their own hands. Both leaders had been stung by criticism in U. S. newspapers of the mass executions.

Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday blasted Russia's proposals for Germany as brutal, stupid and probably unworkable. Coupling this harsh criticism with an implied promise of flexibility, Dulles added that this country is willing to meet with Russia, Britain and France to discuss the German problem.

Earl H. (Red) Blaik, college football's most successful tutor, resigned Tuesday night as head coach and director of athletics at the United States Military Academy. Although Blaik gave no explanation for his sudden decision, aside from admitting "that this is the proper time for me to withdraw from college sports," he had been reportedly dissatisfied with Army's long-time ban on participation in bowl games.

French President Charles de Gaulle Tuesday night granted reprieves to all Algerian rebels condemned to death and reduced the sentences of thousands of others in a dramatic gesture toward making good his promise to restore the hope of peace to revolt-torn Algeria.

Bank Of Lexington Stockholders Meet

Gayle Gupion Addresses Banquet-Session; Large Number In Attendance

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Lexington last Saturday was followed by a dinner held in the cafeteria of Lexington High School at which the officers, directors, stockholders and a number of guests enjoyed an address by Gayle Gupion, assistant vice president, Third National Bank, Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Gupion, a celebrated humorist and amateur magician, delighted the large number in attendance with a talk entitled "I am a Gangster." With the use of a toy gun and a parking meter as props, Mr. Gupion punctuated his remarks with humorous stories that drew home a message of vital interest to everyone.

Lonnie Gentry, state superintendent of banks, also was a guest and spoke briefly. A number of other bankers from the area were presented as were other officials.

Chas. P. McMeans, president of the Bank of Lexington, presided and introduced the various guests. Harold S. May presented the speaker.

Poellnitz, Smith Added To Board At Tuesday's Stockholders Meeting

Charles A. Poellnitz and Thomas N. Smith, well-known Florence attorney and businessman, respectively, were elected to the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Florence at the annual stockholders meeting Tuesday afternoon. The two vacancies on the board were created by the recent death of Board Chairman Chas. L. Haley, Jr., and the resignation of Tom B. Harrell.

Mr. Poellnitz, the senior member of the law firm of Mitchell, Poellnitz and Cox, has long been identified with the bank as a member of the firm serving that institution as its legal advisers. Mr. Smith, owner of the Tom Smith Tire Co., is one of the more successful young business executives of the city.

Other business claiming the attention of the stockholders was the report of President W. H. Mitchell as to the year's activities of the bank and a detailed discussion of the annual statement.

Following the stockholders meeting, the board of directors went into session, with Fred Long, board chairman, presiding.

The officers of the bank are: Fred Long, chairman of the board and trust officer; Wm. H. Mitchell, president; Chas. L. Peery, vice president and cashier; L. C. Moore, vice president and manager North (Continued on Page 2)

Wallace Defiant Despite Orders From U. S. Court

BULLETIN

The U. S. Civil Rights Commission Wednesday refused to look at voter registration records of Bullock County although the Grand Jury of that county had previously offered to allow the commission's agents to see them. Circuit Judge Seymour Trammell said they objected to the wording of a Grand Jury Report which opened the records for inspection. The part the Grand Jury took exception to was a sentence in the report that praised Circuit Judge George M. Wallace for his defiance of the commission's order. Wallace's hearing was postponed until 9:30 a. m. today.

Weeks of wrangling ended Tuesday when two Alabama grand juries opened voter registration records to civil rights investigators. The action coming on the eve of a Federal Court hearing in Montgomery by a judge who set a 4 p. m. deadline for Alabama officials to cooperate.

Circuit Court Judge George M. Wallace of Clayton, who was under direct orders to cooperate and make the records available to the members of the Civil Rights Commission, however remained defiant and instead turned the records over to the grand juries of Barbour and Bullock counties.

The grand juries of the two counties decided then to turn the records over to the Civil Rights agents for inspection of the records in the presence of the grand jury foreman and another county official. Commenting, the Bullock Grand Jury said it was demonstrating the "good intention" and "good faith" of "all officials of the circuit and county concerned."

The Bullock jurors commended Wallace's stand but in a partial report said the commission agents' "respectful request for use of the records rather than making an arrogant demands, tends to show their new-found recognition of state authority." They said they were told by A. H. Rosenfeld, commission complaints director, that they would be notified when the Bullock County records would be inspected. The Bullock jury said that the files would not be taken from the jury's custody.

Wallace had recessed the Barbour County Grand Jury until today but its foreman called it back into session on Tuesday when it decided to let civil rights agents inspect the records while its foreman, Winn E. Martin and another county official looked on. Solicitor Sam LeMaistre said the agents had full access to the records and that the jury had been recalled because agents gave newswomen they were denied full access to the records.

Judge Wallace defended his action in saying that he based it "on a matter of principle of a state judge to perform his judicial functions without any interference." He told Grand Jurors that he "was willing to accept the consequences" if his action brought a contempt of Federal Court citation.

The Civil Rights Commission has been trying for weeks to inspect voter registration records in several Alabama counties in which there have been complaints that Negroes have been denied voting privileges.

Hail Governor Patterson

As John Patterson assumes office this month as the youngest governor in Alabama history, he is backed up by a great display of confidence on the part of the people he will serve.

No matter the circumstances that drew him into public life, he had a great record as attorney general to show for when he offered for the highest honor his fellow Alabamians could bestow.

He made good in that position of responsibility, and the people displayed by their votes that they believed he deserved the bigger job.

However, there's a vast difference in the two positions, and the youthful chief executive faces crucial times. He will face all the problems that have beset other administrations, plus others of critical import that have no precedent. His opportunities for wise service are unlimited.

Farmers take at face value Mr. Patterson's declaration that they will "have a friend in the governor's office." He has a hardy rural background, although he chose another vocation, and he has displayed a sincere interest in farm problems.

So, John Patterson takes over as not only the chosen leader of his people but their dedicated servant—and may he never forget that, as some have in the past—let us all wish him well.—Alabama Farm Bureau News.

Drop A Pebble In The Water

Fortunately in this world of tensions and strife there are those who by their exuberant natures bring us the smiles and the sunshine we so sorely need. Such a man is Clarence Nash, an individual who is not well known for what he is but for what he does.

Clarence Nash is the brash, sassy voice of Donald Duck, a favorite of millions of kids as well as adults in this and many lands. For almost a quarter of a century Nash has been bringing cheer to people through this ridiculous medium, invading the igloos of eskimos, tents in the Sahara, cabins in the Andes, and the homes of rich and poor alike throughout the nooks and crannies of the world.

Nash never had much of the world's goods until he was discovered by Walt Disney in 1933 who was in need of an animal and bird imitator. Nash filled the bill and he has been with Disney's enterprises ever since.

We can't all be bird imitators like Clarence Nash nor do we have to resort to the ridiculous to bring good cheer to our friends and neighbors. We can do one thing, though... keep our sense of humor and try to find in each individual we contact something good instead of being too ready to criticize his mistakes. We can do this by simply remembering that we, too, are not infallible.

The immortal Will Rogers once observed that he never saw a man that didn't have some good in him. And Will lived by that homespun philosophy, spending his life poking fun at people in such a way those same people laughed with him.

No, we can't be humorists either... but we can greatly increase our own joy in living among our fellowmen by trying a little bit harder to be cheerful. The power of a smile or a kind word is symbolized quite vividly in a little verse some of us may have seen (author unknown):

Drop a pebble in the water,
Just a splash and it is gone
But there's half-a-hundred ripples
Circling on and on and on.

Man Invades The Universe

A congressional spokesman for the special House Space committee uttered some very important words this week, words that we should all do well to heed because upon our heeding these words may well rest the destiny of the human race.

He said: "Outer space is fast becoming the heart and soul of advanced military science. It constitutes at once the threat and the defense of man's existence on earth."

That the military potential of space ships and space research is greater by far than any public discussion has revealed goes without saying. Writers of the special report compiled by the committee spoke out against what they called penny-pinching on the space program "which involves the very survival of the nation."

President Eisenhower has told Congress that $7 billion will be spent on the nation's missile program this year. Whether it is enough is a matter of conjecture. Some caution against wasteful rush programs and start-and-stop methods that have already been indulged in far too much, while others point to the fact that the people can expect astronomical expenditures in the future if we are to catch up with the Russians in the five-year period some experts say it will take.

The special committee headed by Rep. John McCormack (D-Mass.) Majority House Leader, in issuing the final report of the committee, said the space race is a life-or-death struggle for the free world. The committee is being replaced by a standing committee on science and astronautics.

The world has trembled from the terrible force of the hydrogen bomb. Not content man must now conquer the universe.

Who knows where he will go from there... that is if he still exists.

Housing Costs Continue To Rise

Costs of building, buying, and maintaining a house are likely to continue upward during 1959.

Prices of new houses are made up roughly of 50 percent cost of building materials, 30 percent labor, and 20 percent cost of builder's profit and overhead, according to Bill Cox, API Extension farm buildings specialists. "The total cost of building materials and wages in building construction increased about 11 percent from December 1952 to mid-1958," he said. "Though the actual price change of new houses doesn't necessarily follow the cost changes closely, rising costs have a direct effect on prices in the long run. There is reason to think prices for housing will continue to rise," the specialist continued.

A trend toward larger homes partly explains the higher prices. The average living area of new homes sold under the Federal Housing Administration program increased by one-third between 1950 and 1957. The average home built within the last two years is one full room larger,

In The Week's News

The kidnapped Chionchio baby was found Sunday night alive and well in a Brooklyn apartment house. The infant girl was snatched from her hospital crib only 2½ hours after birth nine days ago and had been the object of an intense search. Held for the kidnapping is Mrs. Jean Ivarone, 43-year-old divorcee. The FBI made a positive identification of the infant despite Mrs. Ivarone's claim that it was hers.

Former Docks head Knox McRae was accepted as Morgan County's sheriff Saturday but a legal battle looms over whether he has the right to serve a four-year term. The Morgan County Board of Revenue approved bonds for the former state docks director to serve as sheriff for the term of the late Sheriff J. A. Collier expiring Jan. 19, and for a four-year term to which Collier had been elected. McRae was appointed sheriff by outgoing Gov. James E. Folsom who said he appointed McRae to the unexpired term as well as the full term. Atty. Gray Long, of Hartselle, a strong Patterson supporter, said he has a "definite commitment" that Gov.-Elect Patterson will oppose McRae's serving the four-year term.

A $200,000 fire swept the Redemer Air Device, Inc., plant at Guntersville Saturday. About 40 machines and some 30,000 pounds of metal were reported destroyed. Some of the machinery damaged by smoke and water can be salvaged according to firemen. Origin of the fire was said to have been a gas heater explosion.

A special space committee headed by House Majority Leader John McCormack (D-Mass.) said this country was more than 1½ years behind Russia in the space race. The committee estimates it will take at least five years to catch up. The congressman said: "Outer space is fast becoming the heart and soul of advanced military science. It constitutes at once the threat and defense of man's existence on earth."

Fidel Castro is said to have won a battle for peace with rival rebel forces when these units agreed to yield their arms and pledged support of Cuba's new provisional government under President Manuel Urrutia. At a news conference Castro said he was sympathetic to the people of the United States but said this government "has armed dictators."

Earl E. T. Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Cuba during the Batista regime, tendered his resignation to President Eisenhower Saturday. He was lauded by the President for doing a good job at his post especially during the "unfolding developments in Cuba." Smith's office had been under some criticism by American tourists during the revolution, it was revealed by White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

A Birmingham woman told of seeing a box full of fingernails which were said to have been pulled from the fingers of torture victims by Batista's henchmen. Mrs. Sadie Morgado described these and other horrors during a visit to Cuba to visit the family of her husband, Nelson Morgado. She said the saddest thing was the look on the faces of political prisoners let out of jail by Castro's rebels. "Some were blind, some had a foot or arm cut off, and you could see the torture marks on their bodies," she said.

General Charles de Gaulle last week officially became president of France's Fifth Republic and France's most powerful chief since Napoleon III. A 21-gun salute boomed across the Seine River as Gen. Georges Catroux placed the gold necklace of office about the towering de Gaulle's neck.

TVA Reports Use Of Electricity Up

Twelve-Month Average 25 Per Cent Above The Same Period Last Year

The homes supplied with TVA electricity used an average of 7,762 kilowatt-hours in the 12 months ending in October, 25 percent more than for the same period a year ago, TVA said today. For this amount of electricity, the residential consumer paid $80.66, or a little over one cent for each kilowatt-hour.

This is a record use figure for any 12 consecutive months, TVA said.

The average annual use figure of 7,762 kwh, TVA said, permits a householder to use in addition to lighting, a refrigerator, range, water heater, clothes washer, clothes dryer, dishwasher, radio, and television set. Cost of electricity to operate these appliances for a year thus comes to a little more than 20 cents a day.

Average residential use for the 152 local electric systems that distribute TVA power ranged from a minimum of 2,743 kilowatt-hours for a rural electric cooperative in Mississippi to a maximum of 13,211 kilowatt-hours for a municipality in Alabama. Twenty of the 99 municipal distributors had an average residential use for the 12 months in excess of 10,000 kilowatt-hours; there was only one in this category a year ago.

Residential use of electricity in the area now supplied with TVA power averaged 600 kwh in 1933, the year TVA was created. Thus, the homes in the area use on the average 13 times as much electricity as they did 25 years ago. Industry forecasts predict that the average annual use of electricity of 7,762 kwh already achieved in the Valley region will be reached in the nation as a whole in about 1970.

Number of residential consumers has grown substantially—from 225,000 to 1,200,000. The combination of having five times as many homes using electricity, each using an average of 13 times as much electricity as a consumer used in 1933, results in a 70-fold increase of total electricity consumed by the homes of the region.

Charles Van Bibber celebrated a quarter century of service with the Union Carbide Corporation on Friday. Exchange Told Of New Coliseum

The Exchange Club, at its meeting at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon, was given a detailed report of the plans and arrangements of the fine new $175,000 Agriculture Coliseum that will be constructed on the Memorial Park site jointly by Lauderdale County and the City of Florence.

Charles Stewart, James Spain and Robert Lewis, members of the operating committee which also includes W. A. Barnett, chairman, and Howard Jones, told of the plans of operation as well as gave information as to the construction of the building. They reported that the contract had been awarded the James M. Massey Construction Company of Florence and that work will begin next week.

REYNOLDS PLANS ISSUE OF PREFERRED STOCK

The board of directors of Reynolds Metals Company has recommended to the company's common shareholders that they amend the company's certificate of incorporation to authorize creation of 1,000,000 shares of second preferred stock, par value $100 a share, and issuance of an additional 1,000,000 shares of common stock.

A special meeting of stockholders to vote on the proposal will be held at the company's headquarters in Richmond on Monday, February 2, at 11 a. m.

Funds were released last Friday by the Department of the Army for the $200,000 Army Reserve facility to be constructed adjacent to the entrance to the Tennessee Valley Authority just South of the TVA intersection. Mayor C. L. Beard of Sheffield, released the information of the location late last Friday and stated he felt the facility would be a definite asset to the community. Mayor Beard has been working on the project for some three and one-half years.

The building which will include an Army unit Reserve Center and two bay maintenance shops will be on the west side of the four-lane highway between the highway and the railroad tracks.

The announcement of the release of the funds was made Friday from Washington by Senators Lister Hill, John Sparkman and Congressman Bob Jones. They also expressed their delight that the Army is releasing the funds for construction of these facilities to strengthen the reserve program in the Florence-Sheffield area from the appropriation Congress made last year.

Construction bids will be advertised on or about January 20 with the bid-opening following in about two weeks.

Capt. William M. James, Unit Advisor at the local Army Reserve said that four units would have headquarters at the new Reserve Center. They will be the Headquarters 3649th Infantry Division commanded by Colonel Ernest Smith; the 883rd Quartermaster Company, commanded by Capt. Louis Levi; the 491st Military Police Company, Capt. L. L. Whitten, commanding and the 336th Army Medical Unit, commanded by Lt. W. J. Conley.

Capt. James said that there would be a total of 200 men served by the Army Reserve facilities.

E. B. Norton, President of Florence State College is serving as Chairman of the Tri-Cities Armed Forces Advisory Committee, a group which has been assigned the task of recommending a name for the new Reserve Training Center. Norton said Wednesday that the committee had been working on the project and should forward recommendations to Military authorities at third Army Headquarters within the next few days.

Liberty National Buys Local Bonds

Liberty National Life Insurance Company has just invested over $100,000 of its policy-owners' funds in Sheffield Electric Revenue Bonds, Russell A. Lewis announced. Proceeds from this bond issue will enable the City of Sheffield to improve and maintain the electric distribution system thus offering improved service to the residences served by the system.

Liberty National's investment in Sheffield bonds is an example of the company's policy of reinvesting Alabama insurance dollars in Alabama investments whenever possible. This also indicates that southern financial institutions are growing in size and importance to the extent that they can play an important part in the financing of the development of the southern region.

In the past, the South has been greatly dependent upon funds from eastern financial centers. It is a healthy sign to see southern people finance themselves through institutions located in the South.

Estimated Tax Returns Due For Farmers Tonight

Farmers have until tonight at midnight to file their estimated Federal income tax return for the year 1958, unless they plan to file their final return on or before February 15, Chester Lawrence, Internal Revenue Agent, said.

He pointed out that farmers who file an estimated return today and pay the tax due have until April 15 to file final return and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, he said, the law requires they file their final return and pay the full amount of the tax due by February 15.

Mr. Lawrence said this option is available to farmers only. The tax law defines a farmer as one who derives two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming.

He advised farmers that if they filed a Federal income tax return last year, the necessary forms for 1958 will be mailed to them. For those who did not file, or for some other reason do not receive forms in the mail, blank forms may be obtained from the nearest Internal Revenue Service office or from local post offices.

Mr. Lawrence said farmers who have any question about their Federal income tax returns may get a copy of the official publication, "Farmers Tax Guide," by writing to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Birmingham. "If farmers need any help with their returns, they can telephone the local Internal Revenue office at AT 2-5681," Mr. Lawrence advised.

Birmingham Nuptials Of Local Interest

St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Birmingham, was the setting for the late afternoon exchange of vows when Elizabeth Barr, daughter of Mrs. Howard Roper Barr and the late Mr. Barr, became the bride of James Allen Wagstaff on Saturday, January tenth.

Mr. Wagstaff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen Wagstaff (the former Lucy Harper Gilbert) of Sheffield and the nephew of Mrs. Mose Ingram and James B. Gilbert, both of Florence.

The Reverend David Cady Wright, rector of the church, was assisted in the half past four o'clock ceremony by the Reverend Robert Ray Cook, now of Tuscaloosa and formerly of Grace Episcopal Church, Sheffield.

Wearing a gown of candlelight satin, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, William Anderson Porter, Jr. Alencon lace appliques delineated the portrait neckline and a hemline lace panel complemented the very full skirt which extended into a court train. Her fingertip veil of Brussels lace was chosen during a recent European trip and her bouquet was a nosegay of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. William Anderson Porter, Jr., and bridesmaids included Mrs. Wilson W. Borden, Mrs. William Marsh Acker, Jr., Mrs. Jerome N. Kitzis and Mrs. Eastwood Register. Their ballarina-length frocks of coquette-blue taffeta were fashioned with flared back effect and with panels extending from the scooped necklines. McFall-Bryant Vows Late December Event

First Methodist Church, Florence, was the setting for the December twenty-sixth nuptial event when Mary Nell McFall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker D. McFall of Old Savannah Road, exchanged vows with James Robert Bryant, son of Mrs. R. D. Bryant, 460 North Wood Avenue, and the late Mr. Bryant.

Organ selections by Mrs. Jarman Stanley preceded the pledges which were heard by the Reverend Arthur Finch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for the occasion a gown of Chantilly lace and bridal satin fashioned along lines. A sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands complemented the floor-length skirt which extended into a full train.

A bandeau of self-material held her fingertip veil of illusion and her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations centered with a purple orchid. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Vera Frances McFall, wearing smoke blue satin and carrying a cascade of pink carnations, was her sister's only attendant. Candelights were Miss Jean Caroline Seaton and Miss Sara Elizabeth Barber, nieces of the bride, and Robert Lee Smith served Mr. Bryant as best man.

Upon leaving for their honeymoon, Mrs. Bryant wore a black wool sheath, smoky white feathered hat and black accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

They are now at home in Monterey, California, where the bridegroom is serving with the United States Army.

Miss Mary Anna Guseman Affianced to Thomas Fulton

The engagement of Mary Anna Guseman to Thomas Fulton has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Guseman of Cloverdale Road, Florence. The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Robert Lovelace and of Everett Fulton, both of Florence.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Whitt of Ardmore and Mr. and Mrs. Haley Phillips of 437 North Locust Street, Florence.

Nuptial selections by Mrs. Lonnie Reynolds, pianist, and Miss Betty Whitt, vocalist, preceded the reading of vows by the Reverend M. O. Blackwelder, pastor of the church.

A tracery of Southern smilax marked the choir rail and baskets of white gladioli decorated the candlelighted altar. Smaller tapers nestled in greenery against the church windows.

The bride, the former Jo Ann Whitt, was given in marriage by her father. She chose for the occasion a gown of Chantilly lace and white net detailed with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands. The cloud-full skirt was floor-length and fashioned of tiny net ruffles with lace over skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a halfhat of peau de sole embroidered with pearls and sequins, and with her white prayer book she carried a white orchid. Her only ornament was a diamond-studded four-leaf-clover, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wayne Wales of Decatur served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Angela Whitt and Miss Ann Carol Wade of Hamilton. Their paneled frocks of peacock blue chiffon over taffeta were worn with matching hats complemented by tiny pearl-bordered veils and they carried nosegays of blue carnations.

Candelights were Faye Alexander, Florence, and Jimmy Perkins of Alabama City. Charlotte Bishline and Johnny Davis, Jr., both of Florence, were flower girls and ring bearer.

Gene Sanders, Huntsville, served Mr. Phillips as best man and included William Smith and Tessa Jones, also of Florence.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in their home. The bride's table, veiled in white lace over pink satin and lighted by pink tapers in crystal candelabra, was centered with a tiered wedding cake encircled by pink rosebuds.

Upon leaving for the West Coast where Mr. Phillips is serving with the United States Army, the bride was wearing a dress of black wool with mink trim, small hat of matching fur and black accessories. The orchid from her bouquet was her corsage.

Florence State doesn't usually provide much in the way of news during holiday seasons, but this time FSC got a Christmas gift that ought to rate big black headlines. A few days after Christmas, a news release from Senator Lister Hill's office announced that the federal government had approved the $1,250,000 loan which will enable the college to start work on two new dormitories and a student union building very soon.

One of the dorms, almost an unconnected extension to Powers Hall will house a little over 60 girls. The other, built into the hill opposite the speech and hearing center, and housing between 100 and 200 men, will be six stories high in the front and three stories in the back.

The Student union will, naturally, house dining facilities; the "Little Drug," and the Lion's Den will take up residence there, along with the SGA and possibly one or two other organizations.

Some children, it seems, don't ever grow up. Last week FSC was the conjunction point for fire trucks from all over town. A rather expensive and potentially dangerous prank.

Weldon Cole, Addison sophomore, new business manager of the "Flor-Ala" has assumed his duties and is, I think, finding his a big job.

Dr. Walter Cook, educational authority from the University of Minnesota, spoke here last week at several assemblies. I was glad to find that someone who knows feels the same way I do about this thing called "ability grouping"—I think it's odious.

The first presentation of the year for the Film League was shown yesterday. "The Man Who Came to Dinner" is a comedy that is truly comedy. It contains no great message for the world, and it is not light and delicate but it is hilariously funny.

Florence State's "F" Club is conducting initiation this week. Being initiated into this group means, of course, going through all sorts of humiliations. Wearing old clothes, leading an animal around the campus, bowing to all active members, and not speaking "to females at any time," among others.

The basketball team started the season with an even 5-5 record, and expect to end it, I hope, in better condition. During the holidays they traveled to Auburn for an encounter with the nation's ninth ranked team. Auburn won, 104-78, but the Lions scored more points in that game than in any to that date.

As sort of a post script—a note of thanks to the city commission or the traffic commission or whoever is responsible for the new traffic signal at the corner of Morrison Avenue in front of Bibb Graves. I assure you it is appreciated.

PANEL DISCUSSION AT UNDERWOOD SCHOOL

A panel discussion featured the meeting of the Underwood School P.T. A. in the school cafeteria Tuesday night.

Miss Louise Comer, supervisor of instruction, Lauderdale County school system, served as moderator and directed her questions to the panel composed of Superintendent Allen Thornton, Alvin Parker, principal, Wilson School; W. B. Hagood, vocational agriculture teacher, Waterloo, and Harold S. May, board chairman.

The subject of discussion was the new report card and reporting system inaugurated by the county board of education this year and a detailed explanation of the study that went into the reporting system as well as the goals sought were given. A question and answer period followed.

LET THE HERALD PRINT IT.

THE SPILLWAY

LAST SUMMER WHEN we worked each week
Our flower beds to weed . . .
We promised one and all . . . come Spring
We wouldn't plant a seed . . .

BUT CATALOGS ARRIVED today . . . And suddenly we're feeling gay . . . Hen Campbell's garden pops to mind . . . Our pen and paper we must find . . . No reason . . . really . . . to resist . . . Excuse us . . . please . . . We'll make our list . . .

AND SO IT GOES year after year . . . Spring after Spring . . . We get into a fever of excitement when the Seed Catalogs begin to protrude from our mail box and . . . as of this moment . . . we cheerfully expect to have the usual aching back . . . burnt-to-a-crisp shoulders . . . and a handful of posies for each of you ere the magic month of June is far advanced . . .

ORCHIDS TO LUTIE and Marcy Darnall . . . who will mark their sixtieth wedding anniversary on the twenty-third of the current month . . . At home and quietly . . . 's what we've heard . . . but in our own little corner we expect to proclaim our admiration from the rooftops . . . They're member of our town's most THE MOST group . . .

SOME MAY CALL this a DEER story . . . Others may spell the word Dear . . . Madam claims it deals with both . . . And here 'tis . . . Two deer heads and antlers will presently deck the den in the home of Martha Sue (Koonce) and Johnny Devon Landers . . . and their adorable little Lisa will prance about on the two-skin rug which will . . . upon completion . . . be presented to her . . . Devon hied himself away to Grove Hill, Alabama, on the 5th . . . to engage in his first deer hunt . . . His kills were an eight-point and a four-point buck . . . and we claim we NEVER want this straight-shootin' young gent to level his sights in our direction . . . The junior Landerses have returned to their present home in Auburn after a Christmas visit to their mamas and papas . . . Wilma and Harold Koonce of Central Heights and Birdia and John Landers of Sheffield . . .

WE THINK WE'D have done "The Tarantula Dance" . . . and we wonder if Baron Blackburn did the same . . . Now this is the way we "heard" it . . . As Baron cut bananas from the stalk at his North Florence Grocery on last Saturday morning . . . he was suddenly confronted with a formidable . . . dark brown "stowaway" . . . recently arrived from South America and presently identified as a tarantula spider . . . The specimen . . . confined in a glass container . . . has since been viewed by a number of spectators and will (we're told) be presented to the Science Department at Florence State . . .

MADAM TIMIDLY TIPS to our town's most youthful fourth estate . . . Dottie McRae . . . whose delightful article entitled "A Long, Honored History is Florence's" was published in the B'Ham News Magazine section of last Sunday . . . Interestingly factual and charmingly phrased . . . we enjoyed it every word . . .

ALSO . . . A SWEEPIN' curtsy to New Yorker Phil Curran . . . son of Florentines Ann . . . and Mike Curran of 112 West Lelia Street . . . has recently been appointed to a directorship of United Press International . . . Our own cabage-patchy efforts notwithstanding . . . we're ever-so-proud to have even a finger's tip in the same professional pie . . .

SO IMPRESSED WERE we with the delightful and delightfully unusual Program given in a recent literary club meeting by genial Bob Fuller of Florence State staff that we've been button-holing our friends to give a resume . . . 'Twas from one such that we learned of the distinctive holiday decorations which adorned the Fuller home at Christmas time (and which we'd completely missed) . . . Called luminarias . . . of ferolitas . . . they're used by people of Spanish descent in New Mexico and were seen and admired by many localities . . . Sure as Santa comes again we'll have an eye peeled for 602 Morrison Avenue . . . in the hope that Eva and Bob will again use their decor with a foreign flavor . . .

WE THINK HE'LL go places . . . and you're sure to think the same . . . Those startlingly lovely notes of youthful and extremely handsome Joe Brazil's singing voice are a rare treat to hear . . . You won't want to miss your first opportunity to feast your ears . . . It's wonderful . . .

NOW YOU'LL KNOW the whyfore of the smiles worn by every single body you run across . . . Mary Bailes is home . . . "I'm a great grandmother" is the big news we're told she brings with her . . . Matthew Thomas Maxwell, IV, arrived in Honolulu on January sixth . . . to be welcomed by parents Betty Ann and (L.A.) Tommy Maxwell and by doting grandparents Evelyn (Bailes) and (Col.) Tom Maxwell . . .

NOTEWORTHY . . . TOO . . . is the recent titular advancement of Izzy and Poppa Williams to GREAT AUNT and GREAT UNCLE . . . Announcement that IT'S A BOY for "little Douglass" and George Henry in their North Carolina home is welcomed in Florence where Douglass and her mother . . . delightful Elizabeth Robertson . . . have often visited . . .

AND NOW . . . CHEERIO and goodbye . . . until more news comes through The Spillway . . .

George C. Scott Surprises Four Masked Bandits

George C. Scott, former manager of the J. C. Penney's store in Florence, surprised four masked hold-up men Sunday noon in Nashville when on routine check-up of the J. C. Penney Company store in the Inglewood-Madison shopping center, where he is manager.

The burglars, one of them armed with a pistol and all of them wearing masks, were surprised before they could reach thousands of dollars in the back of the safe. They succeeded in burning a hole in the safe door through which they fished several dollars with a bent clothes hanger.

Scott and his two children, George Richard, 9, and his daughter Carol, 13, were tied with neckties but were not harmed. Scott said one of the men ordered them to do as they were told and they would not be harmed. He said he and his children were seated fac-

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SKILLED FINGERS

As the skillful fingers of the surgeon work, prayers are on the lips of loved ones. Although there is faith in the knowledge and skill of the surgeon, all realize God's help is needed.

Eventually most men realize that skill and science are not enough. Even those of us who haven't been to church services for a long, long time find ourselves instinctively saying, "Please, God," when we face a crisis.

Why wait until then? God's providential help is needed by everyone—in time of crisis and in making the constant decisions of everyday life.

The doors of the Church are wide open. Won't you come in?

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Slow in coming and even now barely scratching the surface, research is paying off for cotton in finding new uses and improving cotton's qualities in present markets. . . by the time you read this a new cotton fiber will be on the market. . . a special chemical treatment changes the molecular structure of the fiber and the change is permanent. . . it causes the treated fibers to "iron themselves" . . . we've seen the fabric and compared it to the resin treated drip dry cloth. . . to us it looked like a 100% improvement. . . the new fabric may be washed and dried in any manner and still looks as if it has been ironed. . . scheduled to go on the market this month, it will first be offered in the form of sheets, dresses, diapers, etc. . . a new-type cotton suit for men is also slated for spring sales. . . suit is made from fabric treated with resin. . . it's not wash and wear but designed to compete with mid-priced wool suits. . . we've also seen this suit and if we're any judge, it's going to take a sizeable bite out of a traditionally wool market. . . has all the advantages of cotton and the resin treatment gives it a wrinkle resistance that cotton hasn't had before. . . maybe cotton isn't dead after all!

More Competition?

It may not be long before corn will be competing with cotton in the clothing field. . . a new variety of corn has a chemical similar to cellulose. . . it can be made into a fiber like rayon. . . but doesn't have sufficient fiber strength and may not dye satisfactorily. . . however, if research links the technical problems the cotton farmers will have one more competitor.

Tax Guide

The government publishes a Farmer's Tax Guide which might prove helpful to you in figuring your income tax. . . cost is 35 cents (coin or check). . . write to Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. . . ask for publication number 225.

Maid Of Cotton

This year's Maid of Cotton is an Oklahoma lass. . . Malinda Diggs Berry of Stillwater. . . she's 20 years old and you never saw a better representative for cotton. . . under the sponsorship of the National Cotton Council she'll make a round-the-world tour promoting the finest fiber.

Agricultural Reminders

By L. T. WAGNON
County Agent

Agronomy will be the subject covered for this week and for the following two weeks, since the subject is quite long if covered in its entirety. I shall break the subject down into three parts. Soils and land-use, cash crops, and pastures and feed crops, beginning first with soils and land-use.

Much of the land in Lauderdale County is hilly, rocky, idle, or in worthless brush and scrub trees. This land should be cleared, conditioned, and planted in grazing, hay and soil improvement crops.

The major problems in this area are poor soils, farmers not making the best use of all land, and failure to use the proper kind and amounts of fertilizers.

We can overcome these problems by planning individual programs to improve the soil, adapt a program of crops and livestock to fit the land and the size of each farm, thus increasing income and improving the standard of living. These programs should consist partly of having soil tested and following fertilizer recommendations. Farmers can also increase acreage of soil improvement crops, such as sorghum and alfalfa and seed a recommended acreage of permanent pasture.

We at the county agent's office are making arrangements for a county-wide meeting with seed, fertilizer, farm equipment dealers, ginners and others on soil testing, lime, fertilizer, and vegetative cover and tours to observe vegetative cover and other good soil management programs.

A meeting of interest to most farmers, on agronomy will be held next Wednesday, Jan. 21, at the courthouse in Florence at 9:30 a.m., sponsored by the county agent's office.

Four agronomy specialists from Auburn, J. C. Lowery, O. N. Andrews, Jasper Jernigan and Melvin Moore, will be at the meeting to lead the discussions within their field.

One of these specialists will explain the "A" and "B" phases of the cotton program in 1959 and the reasons why cotton acreage has moved from the southwest.

All who are interested in getting the latest research information on cash crops, feed crops, soil improvement crops, soil testing, chemical weed control, and seed certification, are urged to attend.

Cattlemen To Hold Meeting In Montgomery

Alabama Cattlemen Association members, a thousand strong, are expected in Montgomery, Jan. 29 and 30, for the 16th Annual Meeting. J. L. Adams, Dothan, president, has predicted.

An innovation at the year's session will be the Annual Banquet scheduled for the night of Jan. 29, Adams said.

Featured speaker at the Coliseum event will be Edmund H. Harding, Washington, North Carolina, the "Tar Heel Humorist" who comes highly recommended as one of America's outstanding after-

Farm Workers Covered By Law

Must Report All Who Receive $150 Or More In Wages During Year

Some farm and ranch employers are not aware that their employees are covered by the Federal social security law, according to Mrs. Mary King Temple district social security manager of Sheffield. Investigations by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service are showing that some employers are failing to file the necessary yearly returns with the Director of Internal Revenue, while others are omitting employees who should have been reported. This situation is particularly prevalent among employers of seasonal and temporary workers, Mrs. Temple said.

As a reminder to agricultural employers, the district manager pointed out that extensive social security coverage of farm and ranch workers first began in 1935. Beginning at that time the law required reporting of all employees paid cash wages of $100 or more during a calendar year. Starting with January 1, 1957, the rule was changed so that it is now necessary for an agricultural employer to report all employees to whom he pays $150 or more in cash wages in a year and all time-basis employees rendering services on 20 or more days during a year, regardless of wages paid. Work paid by the hour, day, or week, or month are considered time-basis employees under this provision.

Where the above coverage requirements are met, the employer is expected to deduct the employee's share (2 1/4%) of the social security tax from his cash wages, record the worker's name and social security number, and file a return with the director of Internal Revenue on Form 943 at the end of the year. This report for 1956 will be due January 31, 1957.

Complete instructions on coverage and reporting of agricultural workers may be obtained from the Social Security Administration, Sheffield, or the Director of Internal Revenue, Florence. Circular A should be requested.

Hog Jowl Abscesses Costly To Farmers

A close check of your hogs might reveal a number of animals with abscesses of the jowl, says G. B. Phillips, API Extension specialist. "This is really a veterinary problem, and I'm no veterinarian," says Phillips, "but I've discussed jowl abscesses with staff members of the school of veterinary medicine at Auburn and would like to pass along the following suggestions."

Sometimes known as "feeder boils" or "strangles of hogs," this condition is a chronic infectious disease which may effect 20 to 80 percent of a pig crop, if it gets a good start. The disease frequently shows up during early summer.

The swollen area, which may be the size of a golf ball or an orange, is located under the skin near the pig's jowl. "However," points out Phillips, "some abscesses may go undetected until the animal reaches the market and is slaughtered."

If signs of jowl swellings are noticed in your herd, Phillips suggests having a veterinarian examine your animals, in order that hygienic measures, surgery, and proper treatment may block spreading of the disease to other animals. Jowl swellings also occur in several other swine diseases, so this may be a confusing factor.

Be sure you don't buy diseased animals or apparently healthy animals from a diseased herd for introduction into your own herd, urges Phillips. Pigs that show signs of jowl swellings should be segregated to avoid exposing healthy animals to the infection.

Remember that jowl abscesses are highly contagious, so if the condition breaks out in your herd, don't neglect it.

dinner attractions.

Registration for the 16th Annual Meeting will begin at 9:00 a. m. Jan. 29, in the lobby of Montgomery's Whitley Hotel and the opening session at 1:00 p. m. is planned for the hotel's Blue-Gray Room. Montgomery Mayor W. A. Gayle and Alabama State Chamber of Commerce President Jack W. Warner, Tuscaloosa, will welcome Association members.

Governor-Elect John Patterson is also scheduled on the opening afternoon program as are Homer R. Davison, president of the American Meat Institute, Chicago, Ill., and G. R. "Jack" Milburn, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, Grass-Range, Montana. In addition President Adams will make his annual report at the opening meeting.

After the Annual Banquet at the Coliseum, the Jan. 30 sessions are all scheduled for the Whitley Hotel. Tickets for the Coliseum Banquet are priced at $2.50, Adams said.

Soil Bank Affects Land Rentals

Operation of the Soil Bank, particularly the acreage reserve program, seriously disrupted rental arrangements on many farms in 1958.

"The practice of renting cotton land was nearly made obsolete last year," said API Agricultural Economist Foy Helms. "But, now that the Acreage Reserve won't be in effect this year, some further adjustments are necessary."

This year, the tenant who works a cotton crop for the land owner, will probably be working under different rental arrangements. The tenant may have to supply all power and equipment. This arrangement involves important consideration in the division of proceeds from the crops or products. It will also complicate arrangements, making a clear understanding for both parties more important than ever.

Rental agreements that were written before the Soil Bank went into effect and that are still in force probably will present no difficulty. But in most cases farm rentals are on an annual basis, with new agreements being made early each year.

The Conservation Reserve this year will further disrupt many existing arrangements. It is most important that owners' and renters' obligations be clearly understood, if injustices and dissatisfactions on the part of both are to be avoided. Both land owners and tenants should be familiar with the regulations governing these transactions.

Army Specialist Second Class James B. Stutts, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stutts, Route 1, Rogersville, recently participated in the 317th Engineer Battalion's "organization day" activities in Hocht, Germany.

Stutts is a 1952 graduate of Lauderdale County High School. His wife, Betty, is with him in Germany.

Telephone Talk

by
FORREST W. BRICE
Your Telephone Manager

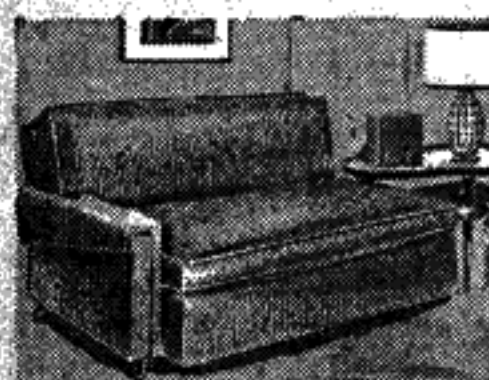

"THANKS FOR CALLING!" To let you know how much we appreciate having you as a customer, we're celebrating "Thanks for Calling" month. That's our way of saying thanks not only for the calls you make, but also for the opportunity of serving you. And that goes for all of us—operators, installers, service representatives, linemen. When you see our "Thanks for Calling" badges, or hear that phrase, please take it, too, as a small expression of the satisfaction we get out of bringing people together and supplying communications services so important to you. Again, "Thanks for Calling!"

AFTER-HOLIDAYS LET-DOWN? Friends and relatives who gathered for the holidays are scattered again... children are back at college... all the happy hustle and bustle is over. But don't let it get you down! Out-of-town folks are always as near as your phone. And Long Distance costs so little, especially when you call station-to-station after 6 P.M. or any time Sundays. By the way, why not arrange a regular time for your college son or daughter to call home? It's a happy event you'll both look forward to, whether once a week or once a month.

IT'S ODD, in a way, how many farms around the country have all kinds of work-saving machinery—but just one telephone. For example you'll see electric milking machines, power tools, conveyors, grain mixers. Yet when the phone rings, someone has to run from one of the farm buildings into the house... or through several rooms... to answer it (and that's usually the farmer's wife). With extension phones costing only pennies a day each, the modern farm should have them wherever needed. Just call us for more information.
