

By HAROLD S. MAY

• The way is now open for the development of Waterloo and all west Lauderdale County with the announcement by State Highway Director Sam Englehardt that the Alabama-Tennessee Scenic Highway will be started within the year and then pushed to completion during the present administration. It is with pardonable pride that we call to your attention the fact that the first public plea for the construction of this highway appeared in this column and The Herald has consistently pushed this project, pointing out its full worth to the people of this area.

• Our compliments to the Lions Club of Waterloo who sponsored the Alabama-Tennessee Scenic Highway project and to the people of Waterloo whose enthusiasm for this highway has been a great factor in the program reaching its present stage. There must be no let-up in support of this scenic route until it is placed at the service of all the people.

• The Herald again scores as one of Alabama's better weekly newspapers. Our congratulations go to our fellow columnist for the Spillway being selected by Texas newsmen as one of the three best original columns published in Alabama.

• Our friend Herschel Cribb, Montgomery Advertiser staff, made reference Sunday to "two bright young men" and one of these was no less than our own Bert Halton. The other was Ryan deGraffenreid of Tuscaloosa. Among a number of complimentary things printed under Cribb's byline was one thing in particular we think was so very fitting. We quote: "It is a pleasure to see two politicians—and they are politically astute—who will continue to speak up for what sounds remarkably like that old, much abused animal, the public good . . . both have brains and to use an old-fashioned term, character." (Character in this connection being a pattern of reliable behavior.)

• It just doesn't make sense when you realize that America has more experts on marriage than any other country—and more divorces.

• The city council instituted a drive to round up all unlicensed dogs. The drive was going well when a policeman whistled an automobile to the curb. Seated by the pompous lady driver was a large shaggy dog. "Lady," the officer asked, "does your dog have a license?" The driver looked clearly that she was amazed at the question. "Heavens, no," she replied, "Why should he, I do all the driving."

• We are told of a discussion between a merchant and an editor regarding the value of billboard advertising. The merchant contended that more people read the billboard than the newspaper. The next week the merchant came tearing into the newspaper office demanding to know why the obituary of his wife's mother was not in the paper. "Well," said the editor, "I knew you wanted the obituary read by the people so I nailed it up on your billboard."

• Grown men make some of their toughest decisions in the bathroom: when to discard a toothpaste tube, a worn toothbrush, a dull razor blade or a silver of soap.

• A good memory test: What did you worry about a year ago?

• It was Sunday afternoon and the suburban minister was greatly shocked when he unexpectedly came upon his wife with her hands in the collar gathered during the morning collection. "Martha," he exclaimed, "what are you doing?" What do you think I am doing," she retorted, "I'm looking for a button to sew on your coat."

• One nice thing about being a man is that you don't have to kiss someone who hasn't shaved for two days.

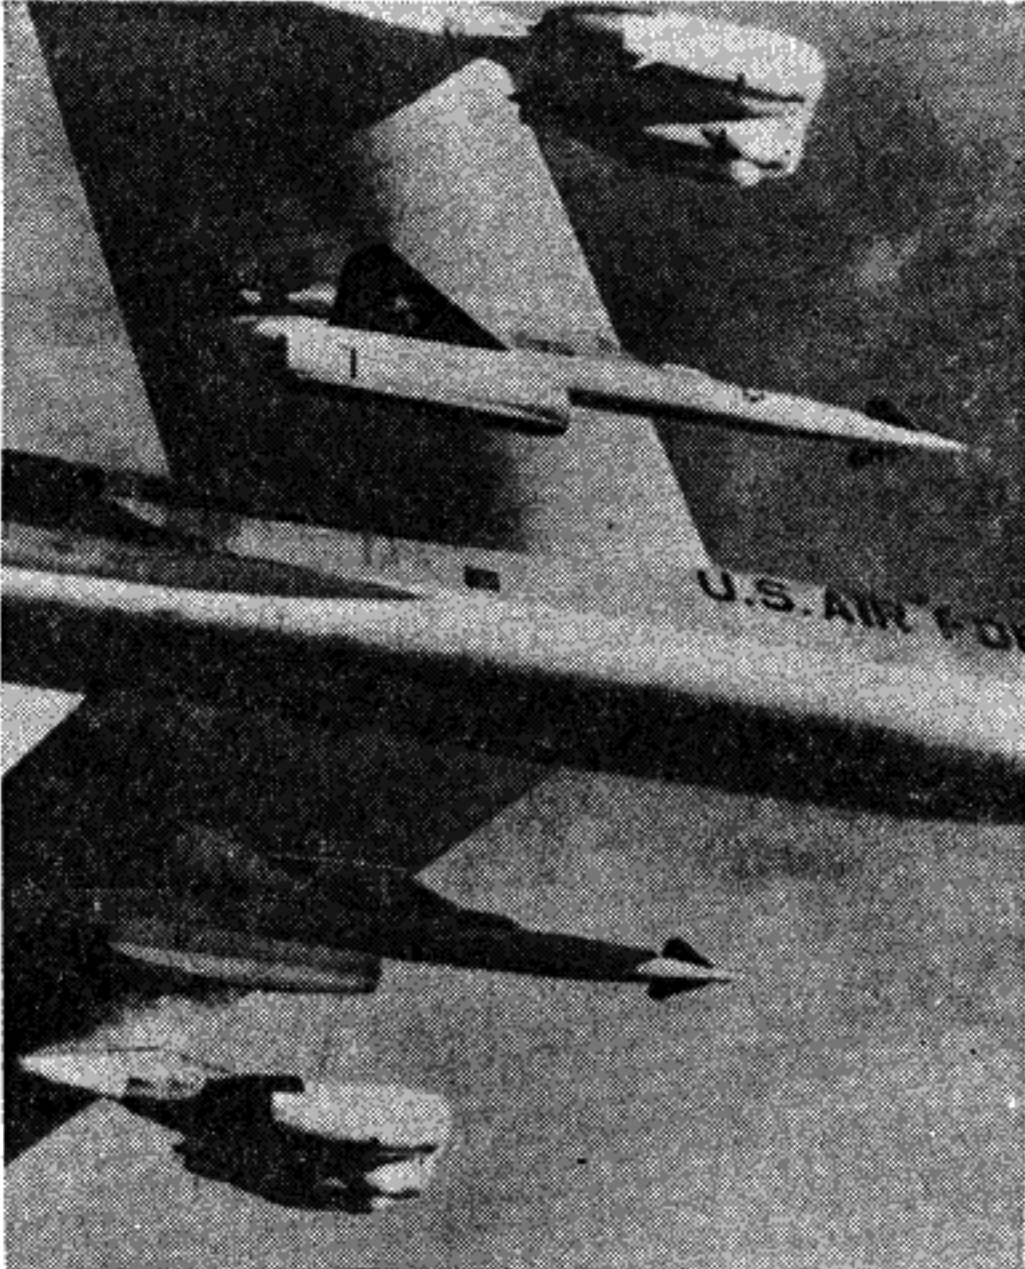

• Contentment is the goal of most people over the age of 50 years. But contentment comes the hard way . . . or should we say merely that one with a poor memory and no imagination can find contentment wherever he may be.

• Sweater girl: One who pulls your eyes over the wool.

• According to John Brooks in Harper's, the Wall Street Journal is becoming the favorite newspaper of eggheads. How long then will it be until the Journal begins printing crossword puzzles, the imperative ingredient of every publication favored by eggheads?

• The biggest mystery to a married man is what a bachelor does with his money.

• We are advised by a person who has made an exhaustive study of the situation that the modern girl gets along much better with her mother-in-law than in any time in history. Where else can you get a baby-sitter for so little.

Money Bill Blocked By Filibustering In Senate

Factional Lines Crack As Measure To Strip State's Tax Power Debated

The general appropriation bill has again been blocked by a filibuster in the State Senate against Governor John Patterson's tax policies.

A public hearing before the Finance Committee has been scheduled for today on the bitterly contested tax equalization program which would take away the state revenue commissioner's power to set local property assessments and fix the value according to his own formula.

Should the committee approve the bill it will open the way for a Senate vote on the $74 million House-approved appropriation measure on the next day. Until then Sen. Roland Cooper of Wilcox County has been keeping the Senate bogged down in unlimited debate.

Governor Patterson is anxious to get the appropriation bill passed so that he can call a special session to consider special school legislation.

The filibuster saw factional lines cracked somewhat as Black Belter were divided, Cooper directing the slowdown and Sen. Lawrence K. Andrews of Bullock County trying to work out a compromise.

Some North Alabama Senators were also lined up with Cooper in an attempt to force action on the anti-property tax measure. There were indications the Governor might accept a compromise to equalize property assessments at 30 per cent of market value Cooper and his colleagues continued to hold out for depriving the state of its authority to fix the assessments.

That would remove the legal weapon Patterson is using to nullify local county assessments and fix them at 30 per cent despite findings of local tax boards.

The immediate objective of the filibuster therefore is to block the Rules Committee from reporting the money bill out for a vote.

Governor Patterson said he hoped grass roots opinion would smash the filibuster.

FSC Registration Yields 923 For Summer Session

Registration deadline at Florence State College yielded 923 as the enrollment for the eight-weeks summer session according to an announcement by Dr. E. B. Norton, president. Of this number 75 are graduate students, furthering their degrees in the field of Education. "Summer enrollment is always smaller and, except for the entering freshmen, inclined to be predominately feminine," Dr. Norton said. "There are two reasons for this: one, many of the men students are away at ROTC summer camps, and, two, this year we feel that the better employment situation in the area is influencing many of the undergraduates to work during the summer months."

Commenting on the undergraduate enrollment, he spoke of the number of in-service public school teachers who are working toward their Bachelor's Degrees. "Even with the ever increasing number of students who are completing their four year courses before beginning their careers," he said, "we expect the enrollment in the graduate school to increase proportionately."

Survey Will Be Made For Scenic H'wy

Approval has been given by the State Highway Department for a preliminary survey and cost estimate to be run on the proposed Waterloo Scenic Highway that will connect West Lauderdale County with the Pickwick Dam and Counce, Tenn., areas where a multi-million dollar paper mill is being constructed, it was announced this week by Sam Englehardt, director.

Ground-breaking ceremonies on the new mill were held at Counce on May 28 for the Tennessee River Pulp and Paper Company's mill. The new highway when built will cross over Pickwick Landing Dam on a new 4½ million dollar bridge, already authorized, it was stated.

Mr. Englehardt recently discussed the Scenic Highway project at his offices in Montgomery with C. T. Wilson, W. L. Almon, Probate Judge Estes Flynt, Berl Harrison, Paul Donaldson, and County Commissioner Dave Ticer and A. D. Ray, Jr.

Also of importance to Florence is the announcement by Mr. Englehardt that a firm of consulting engineers will be employed to come to Florence to make the necessary surveys and cost estimate for a thoroughfare to connect downtown Florence with the heavily populated North Florence areas. The director explained this was necessary due to the fact the highway department is so rushed with other projects.

He said this survey would begin shortly and asked the people to cooperate with the engineers in working out the most economical route between the two sections of the city. The matter was discussed recently with Mr. Englehardt and a group of Florence citizens composed of Mayor E. F. Martin, Harold S. May, Jesse A. Keller and Louis A. Eckl.

Late News

• One of the crew members of the Navy patrol plane fired on by Red jet fighters is Lt. (jg) Eli Owen Farley, son of Owen Eli Farley, of 209 Crown St., Florence. The plane was attacked over the Sea of Japan Monday. The tail gunner was badly wounded and although riddled, the U. S. craft escaped.

• Three striking Hayes Aircraft workers were fined a total of $425 and sentenced to two years in jail Tuesday as an outgrowth of strike violence in Birmingham. Two of the strikers were charged with abusing a working employee by cursing and threatening him with a steel rod, breaking a window glass, and chasing him through a service station in their cars as the victim tried to escape. The third striker was charged with disorderly conduct and reckless driving.

• Former Teamster Union President Dave Beck was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of accepting $200,000 from presidents of two trucking firms. There was no immediate explanation as to the purpose of the alleged action. The two company presidents, Roy F. Haul, of Birmingham, Mich., president of the Fruehauf Trailers Co., of Detroit, and Burge Seymour, 55, of Littlefield County, Conn., of the Associated Transport, Inc., of New York, also were indicted in the charges made Wednesday. The executives were alleged to have passed the money to Beck on June 21, 1954.

• President Eisenhower Wednesday rejected proposals that he call representatives of the steel companies and their employees to a White House conference with the aim of avoiding a possible strike. As he has in the past, Eisenhower made it clear he believes there should be no government intervention in the collective bargaining process now under way between the steel workers union and the companies.

• The officers and men of the local National Guard under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Vernon S. Brown are winding up their two weeks of extensive training at Fort Stewart, Ga. All of the training received at summer camp is supplying as much practical experience as possible for making the local guard units more effective as reserve units for the regular Army.

• Mrs. Earl K. Long was reported preparing Tuesday to take her husband, the governor of Louisiana, out of a Texas mental hospital and put him in a hospital in New Orleans.

• The Federal Communications Commission, rejecting a suggestion from President Eisenhower, refused Tuesday to exempt newscasts from its equal-time-for-candidates requirements. Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, told newsmen the President still feels this is "a ridiculous situation."

Authority Granted Additional Funds For Aeronautics

Local Money Made Available For Spending On Airport Expansion

An additional $75,000 plus of local money has been given to the Muscle Shoals Aeronautics Authority for spending in its airport expansion.

The funds will offset an anticipated $84,000 appropriation from the federal government which went out the window with the president's veto of the aviation bill.

Sam J. Israel, chairman of the Aeronautics Authority said Sunday that the presiding officials of Colbert and Lauderdale Counties and the municipal boards of Florence, Sheffield and Tuscumbia, have notified the authority, that its request, for additional local funds will be granted.

At the same time a number of minor changes in construction plans are being made which will total an overall saving, Mr. Israel stated.

In addition to the root problem the authority ran into another handicap on construction costs, the chairman stated. When bids on the initial phase of construction were opened June 2 the low bid figure, $172,000 entered by Thomas V. Lloyd Construction Company of Sheffield, indicated that construction would be considerably higher than had been anticipated.

A meeting between the Aeronautics Authority and city and county officials followed a few days after the bidding, at which time the authority outlined its proposals. By Friday Mr. Israel had received an OK from each county and city government involved.

The plans have been submitted to the FFA regional director and the contract will be awarded to the low bidder as soon as the necessary technicalities are over.

Spillway Winner In Best Original Column Category

Herald Again Receives Award In Annual Contest Among State's Weeklies

Of the thirty-two Alabama weekly newspapers that received awards for excellence in a number of phases of journalism at the Alabama Press Association's annual awards banquet Saturday at Dauphin Island, The Florence Herald's "Spillway" was selected as one of three best original columns.

Sponsored by the Alabama Press Assn., the contest was judged by Texas newspapermen who selected winners in the nine categories of the competition.

Alabama publishers submitted more than 200 entries as they competed for awards for general excellence, best editorial, best original column, best use of illustrative material, community service, best typography and makeup, best sport or news photo, best news story, and best service to education.

Newspapers were divided into two divisions according to population. Division A was open to newspapers in municipalities with a population of under 3,500 and Division B to weeklies in municipalities with a population of more than 3,500. Daily newspapers were not eligible.

Announcement of the winners—kept secret until awards night—highlighted the three-day summer convention of Alabama newspaper publishers and persons associated with the industry. The convention ended Sunday.

Many publishers of winning papers were on hand to receive their awards in person. Handsome bronze plaques sponsored by daily newspapers and associate members of APA went to all first place winners.

Urban To Present Piano Recital

According to an announcement made by Dr. Wayne Christeson, chairman of the Department of Music at Florence State College, Walter E. Urban will be presented in a faculty piano recital on the evening of Tuesday, June 30 in Wesleyan Auditorium. Earlier that same day, at 10 in the morning, Mr. Urban will present a recital for student convocation. To both performances the public is cordially invited.

Mr. Urban who has come to Florence State from Longwood, Virginia as assistant professor of music, is attending the Biennial Conference of the Alabama Music Teachers Association at the University of Alabama this week.

Restrictions On Agency's Service Area Included

A Senate subcommittee was set to make another effort today to agree on a compromise TVA self-financing bill. The measure under study by the Senate Public Works Subcommittee would permit the Tennessee Valley Authority to sell up to 750 million dollars worth of bonds with which to build new power generating facilities to cope with the shortage anticipated within a few years.

Chairman Robert Kerr (D-Okla.) said the principal stumbling block at the moment was the failure to agree on terms and conditions of bonds to be issued. Another was the degree of executive control. Kerr said the parties had previously agreed in principle but could not get together on the language.

The TVA Self-financing bill passed the House with the Republicans criticizing it because it lacked provisions for controls by the Budget Bureau and Congress. The Kerr bill is somewhat similar to the House bill.

It was stated that the committee had agreed on an amendment limiting the area of TVA's operations, confining the Authority to its present boundaries. Private power companies have strongly endorsed the limiting of the agency's service area.

Pending bills would require TVA to, before issuing bonds, to advise the secretary of the Treasury of the amounts and the proposed date of sale. The secretary would be empowered to delay sale of bonds for as long as 90 days.

An administration spokesman attending the debate a week ago suggested an amendment under which the TVA would be required to divest its bond plans to the Treasury. If the Treasury did not give the TVA the green light to sell the bonds then the Treasury would buy the bonds up to a total of 150 million dollars in one year. TVA would then be required to pay back the Treasury at the end of the year for the bonds purchased during the year.

TVA supporters took this proposal as a hindrance to the Authority's program.

Gallion Opinion Favors Farmers

Thousands Of Citizens On Farms In State May Claim Gas Tax

Attorney General MacDonald Gallion ruled this week that farmers are entitled to gasoline tax refunds for tractor fuel even though ad valorem assessments on such farm equipment may not have been made last fall.

In answer to a question posed by Tax Assessor R. R. Coleman, of Clarke County, Gallion ruled that so long as claims for refunds are made in accordance with statutes before September 30, of the year in which the refund is claimed, the farmer is entitled to such refund.

The only other requirement is that tractors in which the gasoline is used must be assessed for ad valorem taxes prior to the refund actually being made.

The effect of this ruling, Gallion said, is to allow thousands of farm citizens to claim their lawful gasoline tax refund, even though they might not have assessed their equipment prior to making the claim for tax refund.

Gallion ruled that the purpose of the act allowing the 6-cent-per-gallon refund was:

... to promote agriculture in Alabama, and to encourage the progress of the farmers of this state, by providing for a refund of a portion of the state tax paid on gasoline which is used in propelling or operating tractors used exclusively for agricultural purposes, or which are used in

How Competition Aids Health

There's an old saying in economics that competition is the life of trade.

In the case of the wonder drugs which have revolutionized the practice of medicine, competition is the life of the patient—your life and mine.

More than 140 American pharmaceutical manufacturers are engaged in a ceaseless rivalry. The Health News Institute points out, in their search for new and better weapons against disease. The result is that no one company or research group can possibly dominate the field.

By comparison, six companies in steel share two-thirds of industry sales. In both automobiles and aluminum, the comparative number is two.

Yet, in pharmaceutical manufacturing, we are told, a total of sixteen companies share two-thirds of the business, with scores of other alert competitors close on their heels. In fact, it is said, the largest single firm in the ethical drug business accounts for less than ten percent of the American market for prescriptions.

The real beneficiaries of this kind of competition, the HNI reminds us, are the millions of American men, women and children who with each passing decade are living longer, healthier, fuller lives.

Sensationalism Is Not Journalism

Reporting has stooped to a new low in sensationalism in playing up the current Liberator controversy. In fact this writer holds his nose while making reference to the matter even briefly. The whole thing is in bad taste and a needless waste of type.

It appears that the colorful pianist was accused, by certain of the press, by implication or innuendo, of being a homosexual. As is his right he is suing the author of the statement for libel.

What is bad about the whole thing is not the right of the press to report the trial but the two, three and four-column headlines of the mess on the front pages and the minute details of the testimony which do nothing whatever for the public's concept of journalism.

How many years has it been since the family could sit quietly in the living room and read the newspaper and not be insulted in every other column by the lurid details of some rape case or such a story as the current Liberator case?

You count the years, friend. Small wonder our morals are deteriorating.

Not Enough Rich People

Congressman Mills of Arkansas, who is chairman of the all-important House Ways and Means Committee through which all tax legislation must pass, has announced an exhaustive study of the present tax structure with the objective of reducing taxes without sacrificing revenues. First step will be an intensive inquiry into the Federal income tax. Possibilities of broadening the base enough to permit real reductions in individual and corporate income taxes will be ready for the consideration of the second session of this Congress.

There is plenty of room for honest differences of opinion over specific, detailed provisions of the tax laws. But it's hard to see how anyone can logically argue against a thorough overhaul of tax policy. In the upper individual and corporate tax brackets the rates reach an extortionate level. They thus prevent investment and industrial development—the kind of investment and development that is urgently needed if good jobs for our soaring work force are to be provided.

Moreover, the hard facts are proven that we can't support the government by the old expedient of "soaking the rich." The biggest part, by far, of federal revenues comes from the basic income tax rate of 20%. Only a small part comes from the progressive rates, even though they reach a staggering 91%. There just aren't enough rich people.

Watch That Camel

"If some folks have their way, in a few years the pill that could change America will be doled out to you," says a booklet just issued by the American Medical Association. "It will be a pill paid for by the government (out of your taxes) and prescribed by a doctor who works not for you—his patient—but for the government. This sugar-coated pill which some people are trying to cram down the nation's throat is called 'socialized medicine,' or more euphemistically, 'compulsory health insurance.'"

A good many of us probably believe that the socialized medicine drive is dormant if not dead—after all, an all-out campaign to force it on the country was attempted some years ago and got nowhere, for the simple reason that the public at large was overwhelmingly opposed to the scheme. But its advocates have not given up the fight. They have merely changed their tactics. They are trying to bring it about on a step-by-step basis. Each year bills are introduced which would provide so-called "free" medical service to certain special groups. A current example is the proposed measure which would provide it to the people drawing Social Security checks. Obviously, if such efforts as these are successful, it will only be a matter of time until we have socialized medicine in practice if not in name. The parable of the camel who got his nose in the tent applies perfectly here. Ultimately, he fills the whole tent.

The AMA's booklet goes into considerable detail in showing what socialized medicine has produced in various countries—Britain, Austria, Germany and so on. The record, generally speaking, has been a sorry one. The standards of medical care have deteriorated, and the tax bills have zoomed. And that could happen here.

COTTON SOFTNESS

Cotton's softness comes from the fineness of the fiber (less than 1/2000 of an inch in diameter) and from the fiber's unique shape. Doctors often recommend a switch to cotton from harsh, irritating fibers to relieve rash or allergies. Cotton will not scratch even a baby's tender skin.

COTTON IS STATIC FREE

Some textiles build up charges of static electricity, making dresses and lingerie bunch up or cling to the skin. Cotton is practically static free. Most hospitals, in fact, specify cotton nurses' uniforms as a safeguard against sparks and explosions in operating rooms.

In The Week's News

Cable Laying Boat Burns

Ninety-eight men, 10 Americans among them, were picked up from lifeboats 500 miles off the Irish coast Monday after a fast-spreading fire made a torch of the British cable-laying ship Ocean Layer. The blaze started in the engine room as the 4534-ton vessel headed slowly for France straining behind it a transatlantic cable which will give America its first direct telephone service with the European continent.

Chinese Rebel Against IOC

A Chinese Embassy spokesman Monday accused the International Olympic Committee of a "contemptuous brushoff" of his nation's attempts to settle its differences with the IOC. The IOC expelled the Chinese Nationalists May 28 on the ground that they no longer control sports on the mainland.

Navy Plane Attacked

A Navy patrol plane was attacked by MIG jet fighters over international waters of the Sea of Japan Monday and one of the crew was seriously wounded, the Defense Department reported Tuesday. The incident, in which two MIG fighters were believed to have made the attack, occurred about 85 miles east of Wonsan, North Korea.

White Youths Convicted For Rape

Tallahassee's six-week ordeal of racial tension was over Sunday for the time being. Four white youths were whisked away to the state penitentiary before dawn after their conviction for raping a Negro co-ed. The four, William Collinsworth, Patrick Scarborough, David E. Beagles and Ollie Stoutamire, escaped the death penalty. But the white, all-male jury's verdict means they may be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Steelworkers To Fight

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, said Sunday the steelworkers would fight for a "reasonable" wage increase this year because they were "free men and not galley slaves or serfs." He said the steel industry refused to grant its employees a wage increase despite record profits in the first half of this year. He warned the industry it would bear the responsibility if a steel strike occurs on the midnight June 30 deadline.

Bomb Injures Thirty-Eight

A bomb which police said was planted in a locker at a Boston, Mass., Rapid Transit elevated station exploded with war-time force last Thursday. At least 38 persons were injured, some seriously, and an area within 100 yards of the station resembled ruins of a war-shattered community. No one was killed but 11 were reported seriously injured.

Governor Long Back In Clinic

Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana, ordered back to his mental clinic for another week, drove away from Galveston courthouse Monday night yelling "still in jail, still in jail." District Judge L. D. Godard ordered the week delay in order to study evidence through which the governor hopes to free himself and through which the Long family hopes to force hospital treatment on the fiery 63-year-old governor.

HALTOM HITS LOCAL EQUALIZATION BOARD

Honorable John Batts, Chairman Limestone County Board of Equalization

Dear Mr. Batts: Having just read in the June 11th edition of The Alabama Courier of the flat refusal of the Limestone County Board of Equalization to surrender to the outrageous and unrealistic property tax demands of the State Revenue Department, I wish to congratulate you and your associate members for your courageous home rule position.

Unfortunately for the people of Lauderdale County, our present tax equalization board members have apparently succumbed to the unremitting pressure exerted by Commissioner Haden and his field representatives, and are passive sitting by and allowing state tax agents to dictate and dominate their every action and decision. The result to date of this unjust abandonment of local sovereignty totals over 1600 increased assessments in the City of Florence alone.

While our Lauderdale tax board members have evidently forgotten the age old adage that "the power to tax is the power to destroy," I am extremely pleased as your state senator that you and your fellow members have exhibited the wisdom and courage reflected in your announced stand not to be ordered around by the State Revenue Department.

With kind personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
E. B. Haltom, Jr.

'HOMES FOR THE AGING' URGED FOR ALL CHURCHES

Editor: Several weeks ago, I read "articles" in the paper, about the Methodist and Episcopal churches building "homes for the aging" in Birmingham.

I think this is not only a fine thing for the Methodist and Episcopal churches to do, but a fine thing for all of our churches to do.

And, too, there are other places, where these homes are needed besides Birmingham. So, I want to ask the members of all of our churches to investigate (for themselves), this matter, and get busy and do something about it, now, (not tomorrow).

It looks like more interest would be taken in these homes (for the aging), by our churches

Bond Buyers To Benefit By Hike

Interest Rate On Series E and H To Be Increased From Present 3 1/4 to 3 3/4

Thad Holt, of Birmingham, Alabama, State volunteer Savings Bonds chairman, today reminded the public that under the terms of the Treasury's proposal to Congress, improvements in rates on Series E and H Savings Bonds would be effective June 1.

"There's no reason for anyone to hold up on buying their Savings Bonds," Mr. Holt said, "in order to await Congressional action. The Treasury has announced that, if Congress approves the request, interest rates on Savings Bonds will be increased retroactive to June 1."

President Eisenhower sent a message to Congress on June 8 recommending improvements in the terms of Savings Bonds, in connection with other public debt matters. His message was accompanied by statements from Treasury Secretary Robert E. Anderson proposing an increase in the interest rate on Series E and H Savings Bonds from the present 3 1/4 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent, when held to maturity. The proposal also provides for a rate increase of approximately one-half per cent on all outstanding bonds purchased prior to June 1, 1959.

"It's a good idea to hang onto your present Savings Bonds, too," the Bonds Chairman pointed out. "If Congress accedes to the Treasury's request, the old bonds you now have will begin immediately to draw a higher interest rate, without any action on your part."

Fertilizer Meet Is Well Attended

Three hundred and fifty representatives of the fertilizer industry attended the recent demonstration of new fertilizer technology of TVA's Fertilizer-Munitions Development Center at Muscle Shoals. They came from 35 states, Puerto Rico, Belgium, England, Italy, Canada, and Cuba.

Purpose of the three-day conference was to familiarize the private fertilizer industry with some of the new developments TVA has made in fertilizer technology. Processes for making granular solid fertilizers, and liquid mixed fertilizers were demonstrated.

Patents obtained by TVA on new processes or equipment are made available to industry royalty-free. More than 180 licenses have been issued for use of these patents.

and there would be (really) if the churches were interested, in "suffering humanity," like they claim they are.

Sincerely,
Henry W. Geise

Quarter-Million Trucks Produced

Ford Production First Eight Months Exceeds Entire 1958 Output

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company last week produced its quarter-millionth truck in the year 1959 model year. The truck, a four-wheel drive, a 100-horsepower, a gross vehicle weight of more than 25 tons, moved off the quality control line at Ford's heavy truck plant in Louisville, Ky., on the morning of June 10.

Ford truck production during the first eight months of the 1959 model year exceeded the number of trucks produced during the entire 1958 model year and almost equals the total for the 1957 model year, when 265,000 Ford trucks were assembled.

J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said Ford truck production has been on the increase since the start of the model year. June truck production has been scheduled at 35,000 units, an increase of 10 per cent over May. He said truck sales in May were 38 per cent greater than a year ago.

Florentine Wins Reporting Award

Christopher E. Eckl, 25, reporter for The Huntsville Times, is the winner of a $100 scholarship to the Southern Writers Workshop on the campus of the University of Georgia.

The name of the winner of the scholarship, sponsored by the Chemstrand Corporation of Decatur, was revealed June 12 during the awards banquet of the Alabama Press Association. The Press Assn. directed a contest to choose the scholarship winner.

Eckl is a 1956 graduate of the University of Notre Dame where he was a journalism major. A former writer for The Anniston Star and a veteran, he has been on the staff of The Times since January of this year.

Scheduled for Aug. 2-7, the week-long workshop will feature writing sessions in fiction and non-fiction under the direction of leading authors, publishers and journalism personalities.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Eckl of Florence. His father is executive editor of The Florence Times and Tri-Cities Daily.

MILTON SMITH RECEIVES B. A. DEGREE WITH HONORS

Among the graduates was Milton Curtis Smith of Florence, who received a Bachelor of Arts degree with honors.

National Guard To Be Increased

One Thousand Men Will Be Added During Two Weeks' Recruiting

The National Guard Bureau has allotted the Alabama Army National Guard 1000 additional spaces to be filled by July 1.

Maj. Gen. Henry V. Graham, Alabama Adjutant General, was advised of the surprise increase yesterday in Washington. All units in the state have been informed of the special two-week recruiting bonanza.

Unit commanders were told that authorized strength ceilings have been "thrown out the window" through June 30, enabling units to enlist as many men as they wish. There are waiting lists in many units now.

General Graham said the 1000 man bonus will place Alabama's Army Guard strength at 15,366 officers and men, one of the highest figures in the entire National Guard. He attributed the grant of additional spaces to the recent pentomic reorganization of Alabama's Army National Guard and the state's outstanding record of recruiting and maintaining top flight units. Alabama ranks sixth in the nation in Guard membership although only twentieth in total population.

"This is probably the last time a young man will have the opportunity to pick his outfit in the Army National Guard," General Graham said.

"When this quota is filled it may be months before any more men can be accepted," he added.

Other details of the plan allow enlistees to attend camp this summer or be excused if they are unable to get off their civilian jobs on such short notice. Volunteers may enter the compulsory six-month active duty training program in July or August, but high school seniors may be deferred until graduation next year.

Age limits for non-veterans are 17 through 25 years. National Guard recruiters are available in every armory in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Joe Kennedy Returned From Wedding Trip

An afternoon ceremony in St. Joseph Methodist Church united in marriage Joyce Ann Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clyde Roberson, and Jimmy Joe Kennedy, son of Robert Earl Kennedy and the late Mrs. Katherine Behel Kennedy, on Saturday, June sixth.

The Reverend W. Glenn Bonner officiated in the double ring service following nuptial selections by Miss Martha Etheredge, organist, and Miss Carolyn McCarley, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in white lace and tulle over taffeta designed with waist-length jacket and sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. Tiers of lace over tulle fashioned the bouffant, tea-length skirt.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion cascaded from a tiara of pearls and with her white Bible she carried a white orchid showered with flours d'amour and white satin streamers.

Miss Ann Tidwell was the bride's only attendant. She wore white lace over pink taffeta styled with fitted bodice and very full skirt, scallops outlining the neck and hemlines. Her headdress was a white bandeau with jeweled nose veil and her flowers were a bouquet of pink daisies.

James F. Willis served as best man for Mr. Kennedy and ushers were Richard Clyde Roberson, Jr., brother of the bride, and Kenneth DeWayne Kennedy, brother of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Roberson were reception hosts at the family home, entertaining members of the wedding party, family members and out-of-town guests.

Before leaving for their Florida honeymoon, the bride changed to a jacket-dress of rose print with which she wore white accessories.

Now returned, they are at home at 802 Simpson Street, Florence.

Tuscanian Bride Of Robert Mochel Hauerwas

A double ring ceremony in Tuscanian's First Baptist Church marked the nuptial vows of Marion Elaine Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Thompson of Tuscanian, and Robert Mochel Hauerwas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mochel Lee Hauerwas of 1055 Dixie Avenue, Florence, on Friday afternoon, June twelfth.

The Reverend Wendell Klein, minister of the church, and the Reverend George Ledbetter of the Pickens, Mississippi, Methodist Church, read the four o'clock vows following musical selections by Robert Beck, organist, and Mrs. Norman Hay, soloist.

Baskets of white gladioli, stock and chrysanthemums against a background of greenery fashioned the decorations, and wrought iron candelabra of wedding tapers flanked the ivy-entwined arch which spanned the altar.

Wearing Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin, with fitted bodice and voluminous skirt, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Distinguishing features of her gown included the rounded neckline detailed with scallops re-embroidered with seed pearls, and the long, tapering sleeves which buttoned from the elbows to the wrists and came to points over the hands. The hooped skirt extended into a chapel train and a halo of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion.

A gold locket, worn by the bride's mother on her own wedding day, was her only ornament, and with her white Bible she carried a white orchid.

Miss Angela Hauerwas of Florence, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Betty Chapman, Miss Rebecca Moomaw, Miss Emma Jean Sizemore and Mrs. Roy Isbell, all of Tuscanian.

They wore frocks of pink crystal, styled along Empire lines with bustle skirt effects, and pink straw hair bands with tiny veils. Their French bouquets were of white chrysanthemums and pink roses.

Lighting candles of the bridegroom, Miss Theresa Cobb wore a gown identical to the 'maids with a wristlet of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Hauerwas served his son as best man and groomsmen included John Cobb, Don Smith and Carl Jordan, all of Florence, and Roy Isbell of Tuscanian.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were reception hosts in Fellowship Hall of the church, using white gladioli in basket arrangements and greenery throughout the rooms.

Covered in pink satin over organdie, the bride's table held the tiered and decorated wedding cake which was garlanded by pink flowers and sprigs of ivy.

Assisting were Mrs. Landon McCaig, Miss Harriet Whitaker, Miss Linda Cobb, Miss Patricia Wells, Miss Donna Thompson, Miss Met-hyl Thigpen and Miss Joy Clark.

Before leaving for their honeymoon, the bride changed to a red and white sheath dress with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

After a short time they will be at home in El Paso, Texas, where Mr. Hauerwas is stationed with the United States Army.

Home Ceremony Marks Briggs-Richardson Vows

Wearing pale blue eyelet embroidered organdie fashioned with tiered, tea-length skirt, Miss Patricia Jean Briggs became the bride of Kenneth W. Richardson at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis H. Briggs, of Route Two, Lexington, in an early evening ceremony on Friday, May twenty-ninth.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. W. Richardson of Tuscanian.

The Reverend Paul Lang read the seven o'clock vows before an improvised livingroom altar fashioned against a background etched with greenery and flanked by arrangements of white gladioli.

Mr. Briggs gave his daughter in marriage. Her veil of pale blue net was caught to a matching tiara and she carried a white Bible marked with a white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Frances Briggs of Lexington who wore a frock of blue cotton and a white carnation corsage. Candelighters were Ann and Robbie Briggs of Florence whose dresses were fashioned of blue organdie.

Marvin Richardson of Tuscanian served the bridegroom as best man.

reception followed the ceremony. Assisting the hosts were Mrs. Allen G. Biggs, Mrs. Benard Rea, Mrs. Leroy Plastid, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Glenn Mobley.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Richardson are now at home at 215 West Tombigbee Street, Florence.

Miss Betsy Young

To Wed In Early Fall

Of interest in Florence is the forthcoming wedding of Miss Betsy Young and Donald J. Conlon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Conlon of Detroit, Michigan.

Parents of the bride-elect are Mrs. Dorra R. Young of Detroit, who has made the announcement, and Dr. Brewer H. Young of Florence.

Miss Young is a graduate of University of Detroit, School of Dental Hygiene, and her fiancé was graduated from Michigan State University.

The wedding will be an event of September twelfth, in St. Anthony's Chapel, Duns Scotus College.

Charles Adren Daniel

To Wed Miss Jonel Isom

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. James Clifford Isom of Spruce Pine, Alabama, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jonel, to Charles Adren Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Grady Daniel of 1055 Jackson Road, Florence.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Russellville High School and attended Florence State College and Mr. Daniel, a graduate of Abilene Christian College in Abilene, Texas, was a member of Central High School faculty during the past year.

An early August wedding date will be announced.

Kibbles-Hanbeck Vows Solemnized In Nashville

Of interest in Florence, home of the bridegroom's parents, is the wedding which took place in Nashville, Tennessee, when Laura Jane Kibbles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kibbles of Parkersburg, West Virginia, exchanged vows with Dr. Frederick Hanbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hanbeck of 1544 Houston Street.

Dr. Jennings Davis heard their pledges before an improvised setting in the Home Management House on the campus of David Lipscomb College at one o'clock in the afternoon, Monday, June first.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over candlelight satin was distinguished by a portrait neckline edged in scallops and brief sleeves which were complemented by long mitts of matching lace. The snugly fitted bodice accented the full, floor-length skirt and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a jewel-encrusted crown. A cluster of gardenias marked her white Bible.

Miss Kathryn Ann Evely and Miss Susan Lynn Evely, nieces of the bride of Cincinnati, Ohio, served as maid of honor and junior bridesmaid. Their dresses, one of yellow cotton satin and one of pink, were fashioned with over-skirts of white and their French bouquets were of carnations in matching combinations.

Charles A. Daniel of Florence was best man for Mr. Hanbeck.

For travel, the bride wore a navy sheath with matching jacket and white accessories. Her small hat was of navy straw with red and white trim and gardenias from her bouquet were pinned at her shoulder.

After a honeymoon in Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Hanbeck will be at home in Florence where they will join the Mars Hill Bible School faculty in the Fall.

Florence Hostesses Cursey To Flanice Of Leland Howard

Stately Rogers Hall was never lovelier than on Saturday afternoon, June thirteenth, when Miss Miriam Cursey of Birmingham, bride-elect of Leland Palmer Howard, Jr., of Florence, was introduced to Tri-Citians and family friends from throughout the district at a tea-time courtesy.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. J. G. Gresham and Mrs. J. D. Moomaw, aunts of the bridegroom-to-be, Mrs. E. B. Master-son, his cousin, and Mrs. E. H. Evans.

Pyramid arrangements of pink roses decorated the console in the spacious hall where guests were welcomed by Mrs. George Fogleman, Mrs. B. F. O'Steen, Sr., and Mrs. Walter Kirsch, and a low bowl of similar blossoms graced the desk where Miss Jeanette Peery and Miss Patty Farr presided at the register.

Standing before a mantel mirror in the front-parlor, the honoree and hostesses were joined in greeting guests by Mrs. V. B. Cursey of Birmingham and the other of the bride-to-be and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Palmer Howard. Miss Cursey's afternoon frock of pink lace was complemented by a corsage of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

Veiled in a cloth of white organdie over pink taffeta with full, floor-length flounce, the table was lighted by tall pink tapers in a five-branched silver candelabrum which was clustered with Fugli mums and carnations in shades of delicate pink. Silvered bells with carnation clappers were caught with a pink satin bow near the opposite end of the table where Mrs. L. M. Jester, Mrs. Clyde Anderson and Mrs. R. C. Underwood, Jr., served punch from a silver bowl.

Others who assisted between the hours of three and five were Mrs. J. E. Wilks, Mrs. George Barnett, Mrs. L. E. Bayles, Mrs. Harry Christain, Mrs. J. C. Knight, Mrs. Harry Phillips, Mrs. J. H. Gresham, Mrs. Emmett Allen, Mrs. Ray Kephart, Mrs. Robert Simmons, Miss Rebecca Moomaw, Miss Betty Chapman, Miss Ann Evans, Miss Harriet Whitaker, Miss Pearl Sparks and Mrs. Belton Jones, Jr., of Atlanta.

Guests numbered two hundred and fifty.

Pre-Nuptial Fetes Frances Louise Cox

A distinctive centerpiece marked the tea-table in the L. E. Fowler home at 798 N. Royal Ave., when Mrs. Fowler and her daughter, Miss Brenda Fowler, entertained on Tuesday evening, June ninth, as a courtesy to bride-elect Frances Louise Cox.

Pink was the party color, noted in the flowering background and in the tapers used to light the scene. A tiny doll in bridal attire stood guard over two wedding rings which rested on a heart-shaped satin pillow to decorate the refreshment table, and a satin streamer extended to a central arrangement of tapers in silver stands. On the buffet a bridesmaid doll kept watchful. Selected by The Collegiate were featured.

Receiving with the honoree and the hostesses were the bride's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Cox, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. J. F. Hall. The invited list included about thirty.

A wedding of local interest took place recently in Sanford, Florida, when Miss Marjorie Sue Berryhill, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Berryhill and the late Mr. Berryhill of Brunswick, Ga., became the bride of Bernard W. Wilke of Sanford. Mrs. Wilke was born in Rogersville and attended schools there, the Berryhills being long time residents of Rogersville and Anderson.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Horace E. Berryhill of Sanford and her attendant was her sister, Mrs. Joe Jarrell. The bridegroom's father served as his son's best man.

Vows were exchanged in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, June 6, at three o'clock in the afternoon at the Congregational Church, immediate families and close friends attending.

The couple have a new home in Sanford's Ravenna Park.

Mrs. Maddox Feted During Recent Visit

Numerous delightful and informal courtesies marked last week's visit "back home" of Dr. Samuel E. Maddox, guests in the LeRoy Doster home on North Wood.

Mrs. H. H. Floyd and Mrs. T. T. Hackworth were hostesses at a seated coffee on Friday morning, inviting a close-knit group of Mrs. Maddox's friends to the home of the former on Spanish Oaks Court where bowls of asters decorated the living room and an arrangement of magnolia blossoms centered the coffee table.

Twenty-three guests were included in the hospitality.

At noontime of the same day, Mrs. John O. Dabney was luncheon hostess at her inviting home on North Pine Street, including three additional guests with Mrs. Maddox and Mrs. Doster.

Places were laid around a table on the tree-shaded veranda where garden flowers in mixed arrangements lent a summertime charm. The Maddoxes made many strong ties in the district during Dr. Maddox' pastorate at Florence First Baptist Church and a host of friends treasure these infrequent visits. They were en route from Ridgecrest, N. C., where they are in attendance at the Baptist Summer Assembly.

FSC Freshmen Welcomed By Pres. and Mrs. Norton

One of the highlights of the opening week of the Summer semester at Florence State is the open house to which President and Mrs. Norton are hosts, honoring incoming Freshmen.

Customarily planned for the patio, this year's party was an indoor affair because of the inclement weather. Roses, dahlias, daisies and gladioli from the Norton's garden lent a festive air, and group singing followed. Selections by The Collegiate were featured.

Mrs. Robert Hudson and Mrs. Abel DeWitt presided at the punch tables, and other faculty members assisting with the courtesies were Dean and Mrs. Turner W. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. McElheny, Miss Pauline Gravlee, Mrs. Melville Burns, Mrs. Mabel Dent, and Mr. DeWitt.

Mrs. Robert Sandlin and children, Cheri Marsh, Bobby and Russell, will leave this week-end for Black Creek, Wis., where they will spend the Summer months with Mrs. Sandlin's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Swendsen.

Leaving yesterday, Mrs. Turner Rice, Sr., of Jackson, Miss., has been a guest of Mrs. Frank Irvine at "Oakridge" on Jackson Road. She was accompanied to Florence by Miss Margaret Rice who was en route to Nashville to attend meetings of the Southern Branch of the Public Health Association.

Wills Hollingsworth of New York City is a guest of his father, Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth, and of his sister, Mrs. John Hatfield, Dr. Hatfield, and their family on Sorrento Road.

Miss Mary Rogers left last Thursday to join Miss Evelyn Peeler in Asheville, N. C., for a two-weeks' vacation stay in the mountains and on the beach. They are now at Beaufort, N. C.

Acker Rogers is in Richmond, Va., where he is a guest of Ray Kytie, Jr., and Mims Rogers, Jr., is attending Summer school at Davidson College, Davidson, N. C. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mims Rogers of 6 Hawthorne St., were accompanied to their destinations by their father.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Willard on Wildwood Park Road, and other Florence friends, is Mrs. Carl Lavendar, formerly of Florence and now of Astabula, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Bibber and son, Carl Van Bibber, have returned to their home at 625 Crest Street after a visit with relatives in Kokoma, Ind.

Mrs. William Calhoun (Annie Harlan) and sons, Tyler, of Arlington, Va., and Cadet William Calhoun, Jr., of the U. S. Military Academy in West Point, N. Y., are at their Lauderdale Beach cottage for a brief Summer stay.

Mrs. L. E. Wilcoxson has returned to her home on Jackson Highway after a visit with her son, Louis S. Wilcoxson, and his family, in Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. Frances Flautt is in Tallahassee, Fla., where she is attending Summer School at Florida State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gonce and children, Mary Katherine and Robert, 2407 Chisholm Road, are in Dallas, Tex., where Mr. Gonce, president of Florence Kiwanis Club, is a representative at the National Convention. Later, they will travel in New Mexico and visit Mrs. Gonce's uncle, the Rev. Frank Suddath of Ford Worth, before returning.

Cloyd Beasley, Jr., left early this week for Camp Mountain Lake, Tracy City, Tenn., where he will be a member of the Summer staff.

Mrs. Robert C. Baker will spend the Summer months in Winchester and Chattanooga, Tenn., as a guest of family members.

Miss Ruth Terry and Miss Martha Finney left Sunday for Hot Springs, Ark., where they are spending a vacation stay.

Gerald Menefee has moved from N. Wood Ave., to an apartment on East Tuscaloosa Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cromwell accompanied their daughter, Miss Ann Cromwell, to Auburn where she has entered Summer school, and returned to Florence last week-end via Albertville, where they visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Breece Barley (Joyce Cromwell) and their family.

A family reunion during the past week-end in the Alfred McCroskey home, 646 Howell, included his brother, Lane McCroskey, Mrs. McCroskey, and their son, Lane, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and his sister, Mrs. D. D. Marshall, Mr. Marshall, and daughters, Ann and Lee, of Ft. Payne.

Lt. and Mrs. Ted Dupes, Jr., and small Virginia have returned to Little Rock A.F. Base after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hudson of Courtland, and to her grandmother, Mrs. J. V. Durbin of Florence.

Leaving last week by plane for Montgomery, Mrs. Charles Jackson joined her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Armon and their daughter, Mrs. Ronald Keller, for a week in Panama City, Fla.

Mrs. W. R. Cadenhead returned on Tuesday from Tuscaloosa where she attended the Alabama Music Teachers' Conference.

Miss Julia Neal and Miss Orpha Ann Culver have returned from a vacation in the Smokies.

Relatives called by the death of Miss Frances Price were her sisters, Mrs. Staten Alden and Mrs.

T. B. Larimore, and a nephew, Tobe Larimore, Jr., who have returned to their homes in Silver Springs, Md. An uncle, Lance Savage of Birmingham, is remaining for a few days' stay.

FIFTY THOUSAND FORD THUNDERBIRDS PRODUCED

Ford Division reached another production milestone today when the 50,000th Thunderbird of the 1959 model year cleared the final assembly line at Ford Motor Company's Wixom (Mich.) assembly plant—eight months after the new models were introduced.

Thunderbird production during the entire 1958 model year—the first year in which the Thunderbird appeared in a four-passenger version—totaled 37,892. During the three years that Ford built the two-passenger version of the popular personal car, about 53,000 Thunderbirds were assembled.

Let's Talk
Over
By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,
I have a first cousin living nearby and she's great on visiting. She either comes or phones three or four times a week, and we try to treat her nice but it gets hard . . .

One thing that gets on my husband's nerves is the way she talks all the time about her mother (my aunt) who passed away nearly fourteen years ago. She somehow or other brings Auntie into every conversation, no matter what. Like if we talk about setting out tomato plants, she'll say right quick what kind her mama liked best and then tell a lot of reasons why mama said she liked them . . .

Well, that seems strange to us but maybe we wouldn't think too much about it if she didn't get such a sweet tone in her voice every time she starts telling what "mama said." You'd think she had loved her dearly and been a model daughter. But you see, Sara, we know the score. She treated her mother like a slave, with never a kind word, and we've thought all along that it was actually her meanness that killed Auntie. A broken heart, is what I mean. I guess that sometimes happens . . .

Now, the problem is to keep my husband from boiling over. He threatens all the time to "blow up," and I don't think it would help things in the least . . .

I wonder what you recommend in a case like this. In The Middle.

Dear "Middle,"
I never recommend "blowing up," as such. But I think your husband could mention calmly to Sweet Cousin that it would've been a different story if her devotion to Mother had shown up sooner. Just remember that I said CALMLY . . .

Now, I doubt that this procedure will contribute to family unity. It may even mean a temporary cessation of visits. But, should this happen, I take it that you would not grieve . . .

Other than this, your only alternative is to "take it" with whatever degree of patience you can summon. You might also try to summon a little sympathy for a (probably) very unhappy person . . .

I think Cousin is trying, more than anything else, to appease the guilt which she surely feels . . .

The Birmingham Barons took a 5-4 decision from Chattanooga Sunday while the Nashville Vols were losing 4-2 at Atlanta and thus closed out the first half of the Southern Association standing in first place. The second half of the season started this week with these two teams again expected to be battling it out for first place.

Roy Face, Pittsburgh Pirates' unbeaten relief pitcher, won his 10th straight of the season Sunday in the opener as Pittsburgh swept a pair from Los Angeles 6-3 and 5-2. He's won 15 straight since May 30, 1958. Alex Olmedo, the U. S. Davis Cup star from Peru, Saturday beat Kurt Nielsen of Denmark for the Kent Tennis Championship in Beckenham, England. The scores were 6-6, 3-6, 6-4. The women's title went to favored Darlene Hard of Montebello, who conquered Sally Moore of Bakersfield, in the all-California final, 6-1, 7-5.

Carlos Ortiz and Kenny Lane were just settling down to a hard night's work when a cut over Lane's right eye gave the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker the newly revived junior welterweight title. The controversy over the sudden ending probably will continue until Friday night's Madison Square Garden principals meet again in an Aug. 21 or Aug. 28 rematch. The fight was stopped between second and third rounds.

Sword Dancer outslugged Bagdad in a bitter stretch duel and captured the $145,500 Belmont Stakes Saturday by three-quarters of a length as two horses fell on the final turn, throwing pockies Eddie Arcaro and Walter Blum into the mud. Royal Orbit was third by 12 lengths.

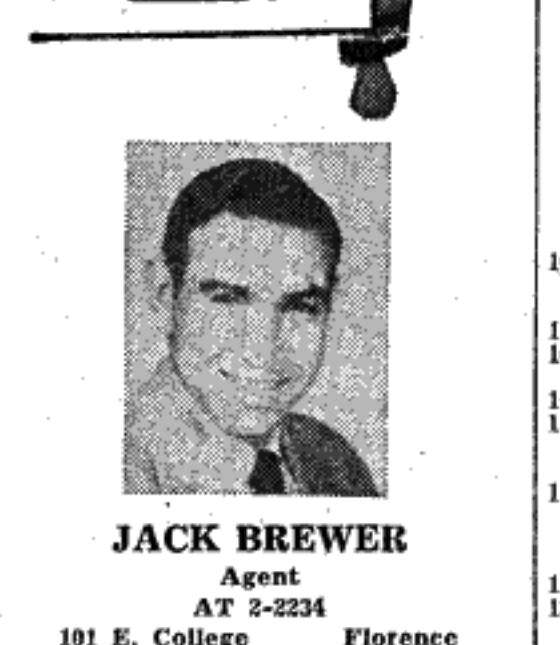

Billy Casper, 27-year-old who has been a professional only about five years and who isn't regarded as an outstanding player from tee to green, took the lead at the third round of the 1959 U. S. Open Golf tournament and held on while scores soared through the last round to take the championship Sunday at Mamaroneck, N. Y. Casper won it with his first three rounds and a putter that stayed red hot through the fourth Sunday. His 72-hole score was 282.

TV games this week-end have Cleveland at N. Y. Saturday on Channels 6 and 15, and Chicago at Boston on 13. Sunday has Cleveland at N. Y. on Channel 15.

Eclipse, an English thoroughbred foaled in 1764, is the ancestor of almost all modern race horses. The custom of mounting a horse from the left side probably started in the days when men wore long swords that hung down the left leg. It was easier to throw the right leg over the horse's back.

Three miles or three thousand, there's always a State Farm agent nearby.

electric air conditioning

COOL . . . that's what you'll be, even on sizzling hot days, with electric air conditioning in your home.

Electric air conditioning cools, cleans, takes moisture from steamy hot air and gives you a refreshingly cool atmosphere for working, relaxing, or sleeping. It's the one way to keep your home free of heat and excessive humidity — to be really comfortable all summer long.

See your dealer for electric air conditioning today — take the sizzle out of summer and enjoy true comfort.

FOUR OF FIVE CASES
POLIO ARE PARALYTIC

Two cases of polio reported during the week ending June 6 brought this year's total to five. The State Health Department said that five cases had occurred during the same period last year. Four of the 1959 cases are paralytic. None of the victims, the non-paralytic case included, had received Salk vaccine. Ages of the victims were listed as five months, 19 months, four years and 25 years, two being four years old.

Two of the 1959 cases have occurred in Walker County, two in Mobile and one in Calhoun.

Cotton
BY BOB COLLINS

What's cotton's future??? ... from where we sit, cotton has the brightest future one can imagine ... there have been great increases in yield recently ... it doesn't take nearly as many man-hours to grow a bale as it did just 10 years ago ... but best of all, there have been significant breakthroughs in the new types of clothing ... wash and wear, for instance ... all of this, coupled with the increasing population of the world and the rising living standards indicate markets for cotton greater than anybody dreamed of a few years ago ... of course, things are not all rosy ... synthetic fibers and fiber substitutes are competing with cotton price-wise, but apparently nothing can really compete with cotton for comfort and utility ... yes, cotton has a bright future if it isn't strangled by restrictions ... and this nearly happened last year with the severe acreage reductions that would have gone into effect except for last hour legislation ... we can assure cotton's future by recognizing supply and demand as a law that cannot be repealed nor can it be circumvented for long, even by Uncle Sam.

How Big?

Got any idea how many people make their living from U. S. cotton? ... about 12 million folks receive their principal source of income from the fiber ... and there are well over three-quarters of a million cotton farms in the U. S. ... and more than 6,000 gins.

Where Does It Go?

No doubt about it, American men and boys are cotton's best customers ... trousers and shirts account for 1.3 million bales every year ... sheets use about half a million.

No Flies Here

A red cotton string is helping meat packers, farmers and dairymen get rid of flies ... seems that flies are attracted by the color red ... now researchers take a red cotton string, dip it in a contact poison (parathion) and hang it up ... the flies land on their favorite color and drop dead.

Eggs Now Being Distributed Here

By SARA F. CONNER
Home Demonstration Agent

Dried eggs now join the list of surplus foods currently being distributed at Food Distribution Centers in Lauderdale County. This good source of protein will be valuable to the families receiving these surplus foods.

The dried eggs will taste good, too—though there are a few restrictions on their use. The eggs are dried by a new process developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the flavor is that of a fresh egg.

The dried eggs must be thoroughly cooked before serving and should be used only in thoroughly cooked dishes like casseroles, breads, and baked desserts. They should not be used in egg-milk drinks, uncooked salad dressings or egg dishes cooked on top of the stove.

To reconstitute dried eggs, the sifted egg is mixed with an equal amount of water. Two and one-half level tablespoons of sifted eggs plus two and one-half table spoons of water equal one egg. For six eggs, use one cup of sifted egg with one cup of water.

Foods of the Future

PUSH BUTTON MEALS?

By dropping coins in a slot and pushing various buttons, you soon may be serving yourself complete meals—with hot and cold selections on one plate—from "automatic chef" vending machines.

And other buttons will offer selections of hot and cold drinks!

Vending machines that will quickly thaw and heat precooked foods, and dish them out to you, are now in the testing stage by leading manufacturers.

Many new and interesting ways of serving foods will be evident in the near future, but changing styles won't change America's preference for the two "old favorites"—BEER and ALE.

Garden Club

Mrs. Walter Dison and Mrs. Elizabeth Hurn were hosts to the Rogersville Garden Club when it met in the Dison home on Thursday evening.

Presiding was Mrs. J. R. Waddell who also had charge of the program. She made an apology to the club for failing to beautify her grounds. This in turn was responded to by an apology from each member for what she failed to do that she might have done to beautify the grounds at her home.

Mrs. Preston McCormick, Mrs. Odie Harvey and Mrs. Bob Waddell were named to decide on a new project. New shrubbery was placed around the high school and at the cafeteria for this year's project.

A refreshment was served the group by the hostesses.

Bridal Shower

The ladies of the Goodsprings Cumberland Presbyterian Church entertained on Thursday evening in the social hall of the church with a bridal shower for Miss Merle Greer whose marriage to Donald Newton is an event of June 20.

For the occasion the hall was decorated with red specimen dahlias and arrangements of white gladioli.

Miss Greer wore a blue organdy frock with white flowers in corsage.

Her guests register was kept by Miss Betsy McLemore.

Games and clever contests were featured before the gifts were presented to the honoree. Mrs. Beaul Whitsett and Mrs. W. L. Eastep assisted with the games and Miss Jane Hollingsworth and Cherie Wilson with the gifts.

From a table overlaid with lace over pink, centered with a bowl of white glads, cake and punch were served by Misses Nancy Elkins and Connie White.

Personals

Church

One hundred six attended Sunday School at the Bethel Church on Sunday morning and sixty seven were present for the evening Training Union. Rev. McDougal filled his pulpit both morning and evening and we were happy to have visitors worship with us at both services.

The Bethel Church and the Union Hill Church jointly purchased a hospital bed for our communities. It is in use presently at the John Burgess home, where Mr. Burgess is confined to bed.

Wedding

Marriage vows were exchanged on last Friday evening at 8 p.m. in a candlelight ceremony at the Bethel Church between Carol Sue Weigart and James A. Stanford. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Weigart and Mr. and Mrs. Ashford Stanford.

The bride, lovely in her full length gown of white with flowing train, was given in marriage by the father. With her white Bible she carried white orchids.

Against a background of green foliage, interwoven with large white mums, flanked on either side by baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra where tapers burned the Rev. McDougal read the marriage vows.

The brides attendants were Miss June Stanford, sister of the groom, serving as the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Brenda Gullet, Gayla Cockrell and Mrs.

Neill Bullard. The attendants wore dresses of identical green organ-dy. The maid of honor carried pink carnations and the bridesmaids carried white carnations.

Patricia Smith, the brides niece served her aunt as flower girl and Mark Whit ring bearer. Regina Smith and Mary Ellen Lemar lit the candles.

James Allen Weigart served the groom as best man.

Directly following the ceremony the reception was held in the church dining area. The brides table was overlaid with lace, and centered with white gladioli and pink carnations. Assisting were Mrs. Grady Weigart, serving at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Florence Long, Mrs. Lorene Lemar and Mrs. Azell Smith who served the brides cake.

The John Luffmans, Mrs. Dorothy McConnell, Mrs. L. C. McConnell, Mrs. J. E. Berryhill and Mrs. Jim Bullard drove to Waverly and Dixon, Tenn., last Wednesday where they visited relatives of Mrs. Luffman.

Mrs. Jenney Weigart was a surgical patient at Jackson's Hospital last week.

Mrs. Letha Davis, of Goodsprings, visited Mrs. W. M. Camp last week. Mrs. Lily Bailey was also a visitor in Mrs. Camps home on Tuesday.

Officers Surprise Negroes In Holdup

Three Negroes attempting the robbery of an all night service station on South Montgomery Avenue in Sheffield, at 12:15 Tuesday morning were surprised by two Sheffield policemen cruising in a patrol car after they had beaten the elderly attendant and rifled the cash drawer.

Two of the Negroes, Sammy Louis Freeman, 20, and Richard Clarence Reels, 21, were arrested on the spot. Allen Qualls, 16, ran from the scene but was taken in to custody later in the morning.

S. J. Malone, 62, the station attendant, was hospitalized from head and face lacerations received in the beating but his condition was reported as "not serious."

Work Continues On Leighton Dial

All Telephone Numbers To Be Changed June 21 Bell Company States

All telephone numbers in Leighton will be changed at 1:01 A.M., Sunday, June 21.

This is a part of the change-over to toll-free service between Leighton and the Tri-Cities according to W. L. Ferguson, telephone manager in Sheffield.

The installation of the new dial equipment in Leighton is almost complete, Ferguson said. All telephone numbers in Leighton will begin with Gilbert 6 to conform with the nation-wide numbering plan. The new equipment being installed will also call for a change in the complete number.

"Starting Sunday, Tri-Cities telephone users can call Leighton users by dialing the new numbers," Ferguson pointed out. "There will be no long distance charge for Tri-Cities - Leighton calls. Just be sure to dial the two letters and five numbers of the new telephone number."

A new Leighton directory has been mailed to all the Leighton telephone users showing the new numbers. Tri-Citians can get the new Leighton numbers by calling Information, Dial 113.
