

DISCOVERER I—Shown, above, is the business end of Discoverer I, first of Uncle Sam's satellites to be launched in a north-south orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. The entire unit, rather than an instrument payload alone, was designed to orbit the earth. It was backed up in launching by a modified version of the Thor intermediate-range ballistic missile. Interim radio reports from Discoverer I gave the Air Force this tentative information on its position in space: Orbit: once around the earth every 96 minutes. Closest approach to earth: about 150 miles. Farthest distance from earth: about 550 miles. Estimated life in space: about one month.

Muscle Shoals Shrine Club To Conduct Drive

Money Will Be Used To Establish School For Retarded Children

Enlisting the aid of the Naval Reserve, the Muscogee, and Explorer Scouts, the Muscle Shoals Shrine Club on Palm Sunday, March 22, will conduct one of the biggest selling campaigns to date in the four Shoals area towns.

Receiving the benefit of this fund drive will be the retarded children of the area in the establishment of Hope Haven, a locally financed school for the retarded. Raising the money will be accomplished by selling a special edition of the Florence Times and Tri-Cities Daily in which will appear the full story of Hope Haven. Advance issues of the paper will be available on Saturday, March 21, for those who wish them. On Sunday the Shriners and their volunteer helpers will endeavor to call at every home which did not purchase an advance edition.

The state places retarded children in two categories, one group having IQs of 50 to 75 and the other less than 50. The first group is called educable, the latter trainable, the state making no provision for the latter group.

Most of these children, it is pointed out can be helped and Hope Haven is designed to provide the answer. Some of the children can even learn to read, write and count just as an educable child with an IQ better than 50 sometimes graduates to regular classroom work.

Through such a school as Hope Haven it is felt that many children can become normal citizens or can at least be trained for special jobs where they will no longer be a burden on their families or the state.

The public is asked to be generous in its response to this worthy cause.

American Legion Commemorates Its 40th Birthday

Annual Observance To Be Held At Legion Home Saturday Night At 6:30

Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion, joins with the other posts in Alabama, as well as those throughout the world, in the observance of the 40th anniversary of the Legion's founding in Paris, France on March 15-17, 1919.

Harley Smith, recently retired regional manager of the Veterans Administration will deliver an address before the membership of the local post at the Legion Home Saturday night at 6:30 o'clock. Col. James E. Shotts, a past commander of the local post, will also address the meeting.

Post No. 11 was organized in the summer of 1919 one day prior to the organization of the Department of Alabama and since has been active in every activity sponsored by the national organization. For a number of years it has been the largest Legion post in Alabama and has given to the state three Department commanders: J. Fred Johnson, Jr., W. A. Abramson and James S. Saliba. In addition, one National Historian, Monte C. Sandlin, was a member of Post 11 and served as a post commander. Many other members have been prominent in both state and national circles since the post's earliest days.

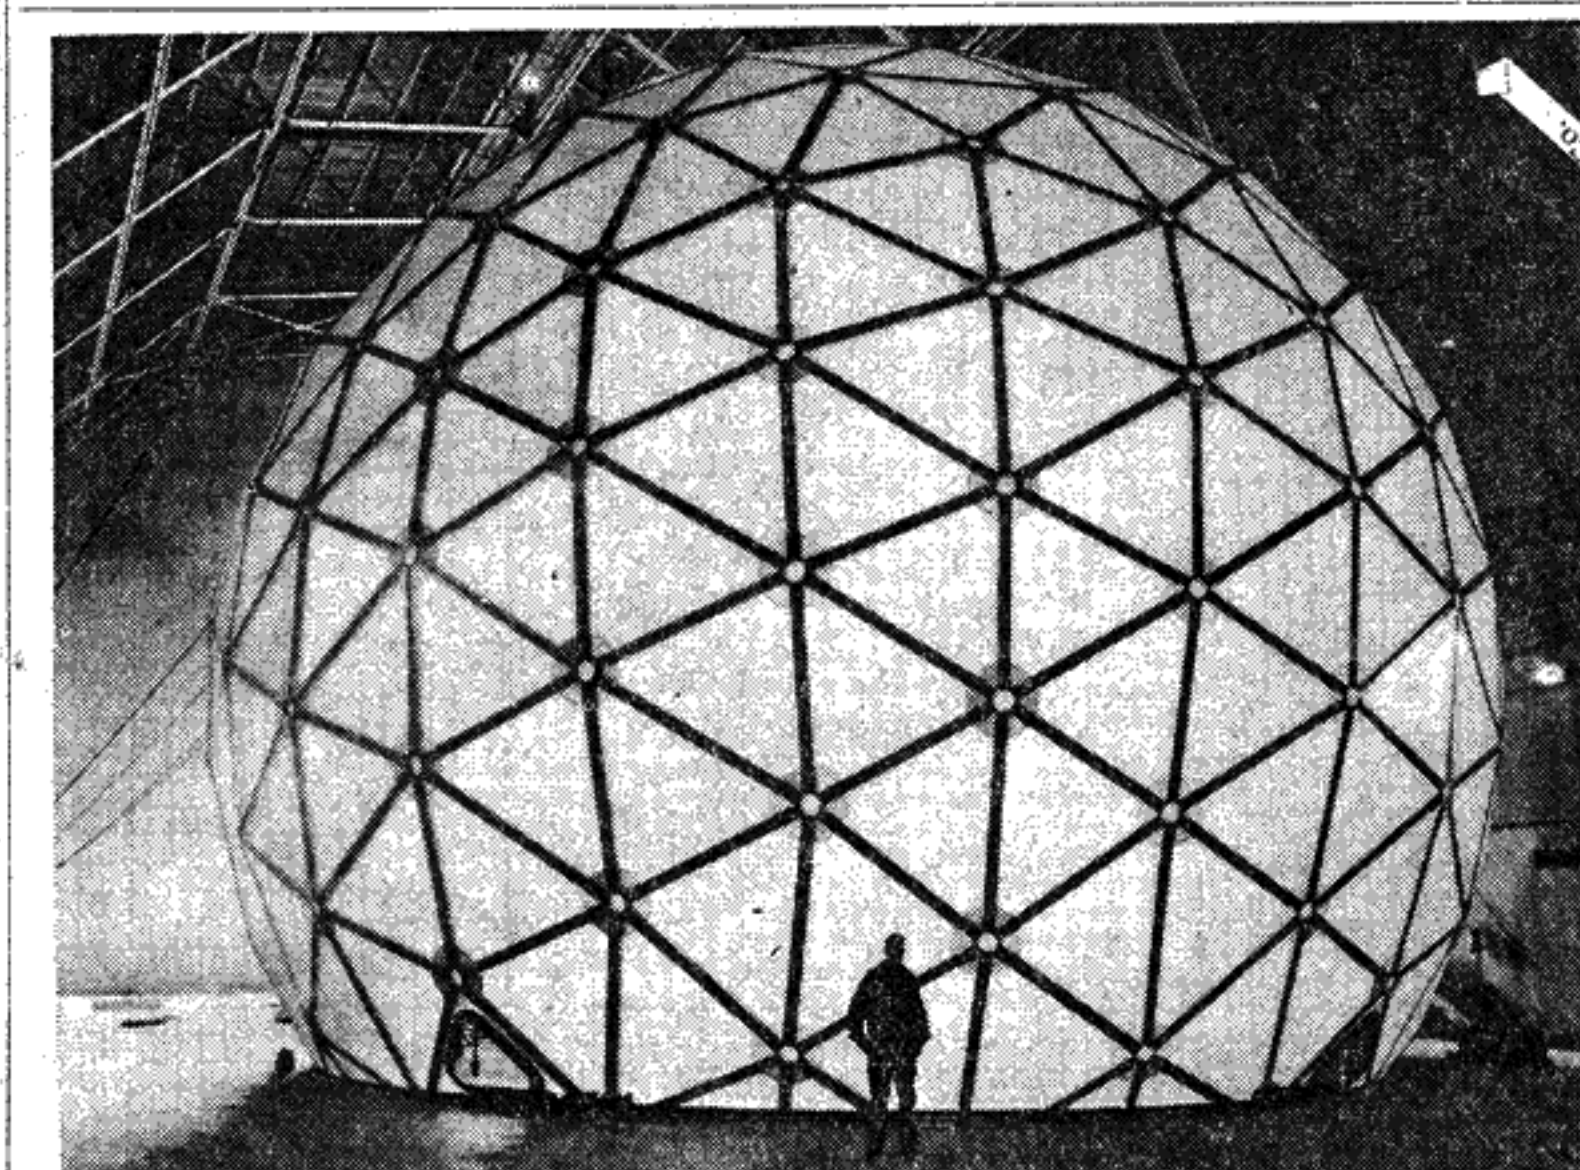

Post Commander Clifton Greer calls the attention of the members and other interested in the history of the Legion that the Legion's new motion picture, "We Who Serve," will be telecast by 100 key stations during the coming week. National Commander Preston J. Moore will appear in an American Legion Birthday salute on an NBC-TV color spectacular with Frances Langford on March 15. The program will be aired from 10 to 11 p. m., EST, on that date.

LEAVE ROOM FOR TWO—Crocheting a 49-star flag is a real do-it project for Mrs. C. F. Vosseler, of Leavenworth, Kan. If Hawaiian statehood moves through Congress as rapidly as planned, she'll have to rip out some stitches to make room for a 50th star. Note the parakeet on Mrs. Vosseler's shoulder.

Trouble Flares In Middle East As Iraq In Throes Of Revolt

GIANT'S "EYE" GLASSES—Man, lower center, is dwarfed to insignificance by the world's largest glass fiber radome. The huge shelter for a radar antenna is 68 feet in diameter and more than seven stories tall. Laminated plastic panels bolted together in a few basic panel groups can be erected or disassembled in about 80 hours by a six-man crew. The unit, shown in a hanger in Akron, Ohio, weighs some 30,000 pounds, all told. It takes up shipping space the equivalent of eight boxcars, but units are so light that they can be airlifted. The forerunner of radomes well over 100 feet in diameter, it was built for the Air Force.

UAR Diplomats Flee Bagdad As Tension Mounts

Despite reports that it had ordered the revolt of Army leaders, the Iraqi government Wednesday admitted that it was still waging war in the northern part of the country where anti-communist forces are entrenched. Government planes are reported to have strafed rebel positions.

The leftist government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassam in Bagdad said the two-day revolt had centered around the northern city of Mosul and that rebel leader Col. Abdel Wahab Shafaw had been killed. This was not confirmed, however, since the only sources of information were state radio stations in Iraq. The rebel radio has been silent since Monday, reports stated.

A demonstration was staged against the UAR in Bagdad as leftist demonstrators chanted for the head of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, and demanded arms to defend the eternal democratic republic of Iraq. Since this report passed, censorship it was felt there was little disorder in the capital admittedly heavily patrolled by police and troops.

The revolt by Iraq Army leaders is said to have brought relations between Iraq and the United Arab Republic to the verge of rupture, eleven UAR diplomats being expelled from the country Tuesday. On their arrival at Cairo eight of them said there had been demonstrations against them at the Bagdad airport. Those engaged in the street demonstrations called the revolt a plot to bring Iraq into the UAR under Nasser. Nasser gained his position as top man in the UAR when he seized power from King Faisal last July. Since then pro-Nasser leaders in Iraq have been silenced.

The Iraqi air force is said to be largely pro-communist. However it was reported that Kassam, a professional soldier, leans more to the left as a result of anti-communist rebellion led by Col. Shafaw.

Cotton Allotment Deadline March 16

Farm Operators Still Have An Opportunity To Choose Program

Through Feb. 20, a total of 17,067 farm operators had elected the Choice (B) upland cotton program for their farms for 1959, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

This is a preliminary report representing only a small percentage of total number of farms for which elections are expected to be made by March 16.

Under the Choice (B) program, the farm upland cotton allotment is 40 percent larger than the regular Choice (A) allotment program. Cotton produced in compliance with the (B) program in 1959 is eligible for price support at 65 percent of parity.

Prices for 1959-crop upland cotton produced in compliance with the regular farm allotment under the Choice (A) program will be supported at 80 percent of parity.

Notices of the March 16 deadline, as well as of the price-support levels applicable under both farm - allotment choices and the amounts of the (A) and (B) allotments for their farms, were mailed to upland cotton farm operators by county Agricultural (Continued on Page 2)

Highway Association Is Organized At Waterloo

C. T. Wilson Named Group President As Pledges Of Assistance Are Given

Termed as possibly the most important and far-reaching meeting ever held in the Waterloo community, approximately 200 representative citizens of Lauderdale County and Hardin County, Tenn., met at the Waterloo High School Thursday night to perfect the organization of the Alabama-Tennessee Scenic Highway Association. A. D. Ray, Jr., chairman of the Waterloo Lions Club highway committee acted as chairman and, in addition to stating the purpose of the meeting, presented the officers and committee members who are behind the project.

C. T. Wilson, of Waterloo, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year; Paul M. Donaldson, of Florence and Grady George, of Savannah, were named vice presidents; Earl Harrison, Waterloo, secretary-treasurer, and the following members of the board of directors: A. D. Ray, Jr., chairman; Judge Estes R. Flynt, D. C. Jones, Horace Earl Pyburn, Dale Roby, D. W. Tier, E. L. Culver, George McBurney, Jarvis Williams, Sheab Franks and Homer Snodgrass. State Senator E. B. Haltom, Jr., was named legal adviser and Harold S. May, reporter.

The finance committee is headed by Earl Harrison and includes C. H. Jackson and Con T. Welch. Addressing the enthusiastic meeting were Mr. Wilson, as the representative of Waterloo; Jarvis Williams, of Savannah, Tenn., representing County Judge Boyce Phillips, who was detained in Memphis on county business; Probate Judge Estes R. Flynt, Senator E. B. Haltom, Jr., Rep. Robert H. Broadford, Rep. Charles G. Long, Highway Commissioner Jones Barker of Hardin County; D. O. Dugger, manager, TVA properties and C. H. Jackson, secretary-manager, Florence Chamber of Commerce. The speakers, who, at Mr. Ray's request were presented by the highway association, reviewed the value of the proposed highway as an economic investment and as a tourist attraction and pledged full cooperation in the endeavor.

Mr. Williams and Mr. Barker stated that approval of the Hardin County link as a secondary road had been given by the district highway office and the matter now would be before the Nashville office for final approval. It was pointed out by the Hardin County speakers that highway building in their county was on a different procedure than in Lauderdale County and assured the Alabamians present that their link of the highway would be ready when the Lauderdale link was completed.

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

● This gem was passed on to us by Emerson Lucas, one of our more appreciated readers. It seems that a father was having some shattering experiences with his young daughter. Each week the youngster would bring home from Sunday School an illustrated card that dramatized each of the Ten Commandments. The first week showed people worshipping at church. Another week, to illustrate "Thou shalt not steal," the picture showed a boy stealing an apple from a cart. "I waited with considerable alarm for the seventh week," the father said, "but fortunately tact and delicacy prevailed." The picture for the seventh week arrived and under "adultery" was a picture of a dairyman, leering villainously, pouring a huge pail of water into a can of milk.

● C. H. Browne, a top advertising executive, is worried about women. "Consider what is on her mind," he asks. "Already she is worried about her tired blood and laxative habit, denture breath and lower-back pains, while clogged sinuses and rough red hands cause her much concern. Her hair is dull, her pores are large, her skin is itchy. Her stomach valves keep letting out more A's than B's and her stomach acid keeps burning holes in her handkerchief. She's never felt really clean before, and even now she only feels half safe. Worse of all, it turns out that her bra isn't a living bra; for some reason it just lies there."

● You are young only once, it is a certainty—but you can remain immature indefinitely.

● Jones Giles, the Alabama Press Association secretary - manager, calls our attention to the fact that FDR proved that in this country a man can be president forever; that Harry Truman proved that in this country anybody can be President and Eisenhower has proved that this country can get along without a President.

● We can imagine that many of the honored dead of the War Between the States lying buried on the hills around Vicksburg will rest uncomfortably Friday when Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, III, grandson and namesake of the general who laid siege to this Mississippi city back in 1863, arrives in town to address the John H. Forney Historical Society and the Confederate fashion show. We are certain that the current General Grant will receive a more cordial reception than did his grand-sire.

● Possibly the smartest man around is he who has the ability to close his mouth before someone closes it for him.

● The father of a young lad reports that the other night, as he was enjoying a TV thriller, his son called downstairs for him to come up and read to him. In addition, the exact book was specified. The father, unable to find the designated book, brought another one. As the youngster saw the book his father substituted, he yelled: "Aw whaddya bring that old thing I don't wanna be read to out of it for?" Who was it said that we should never end a sentence with a preposition? But, then, no teacher ever said that it was wrong to end a sentence with five prepositions!

● You may plan most carefully for the years ahead and wonder how things will turn out but one of the things that seldom turns out as it should—is the car just ahead.

● Cheer up—no man is completely worthless. He can always serve as a bad example.

● As time marched on in the days of the caveman, one gabby fellow remarked: "Say what you will, we never had such crazy weather until they started using those bows and arrows." And what was it the atom bomb did to the weather?

Forty Years Of Service

Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion, long outstanding in the Department of Alabama, joins today with the other 17,000 posts of The Legion and their 14,000 Auxiliary units in the observance of 40 years of service to their communities, their state and the nation.

The American Legion, largest veterans organization in all history, celebrates March 15-17 the 40th anniversary of its birth in Paris, France when delegates of the AEF gathered on these dates in 1919 to "preserve the memories and incidents in their association in the Great War." It is today a three-war organization but it has not changed in its patriotic character, in its ideals, in its objectives and in its integrity. Keeping America always American is still its continuing goal.

On its 1959 anniversary, the local American Legion post and the posts throughout the world rate a 40-gun salute!

After Ten Years

Ten years ago the United States broke a tradition as old as the foundation of the republic. It organized and joined a peace-time military alliance, (NATO) the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Organized April 4, 1949, NATO was designed to form a free world bloc to deter aggression by communist nations or any other nation or group of nations seeking to enslave mankind.

NATO had plenty of critics who today are strangely silent. Some even think NATO does not go far enough in its realizations and its aims. The so-called free nations of Europe were militarily weak and economically unorganized when NATO was established. NATO has brought at least a semblance of order out of chaos and, what is more important, hope to the peoples of the free world. It has no connection with the United Nations but it has been the means of settling many differences between NATO members peaceably and by negotiation. The partnership between the NATO nations has not only consisted of a pledge for united military resistance to aggression but a pledge under which they might work together for political, social, educational, scientific and economic betterment. NATO is a community of nations organized and united for common security and common good.

Unlike most alliances of the past, NATO is purely defensive in nature. NATO does not contemplate an attack upon anyone anywhere at any time, but on the other hand is fully determined to repulse an attack upon any of its members. NATO has repeatedly declared itself in favor of disarmament—at a meeting of the NATO of government in 1957, the following resolution was made: "We continue firmly to stand for comprehensive and controlled disarmament, which we believe can be reached by stages. In spite of disappointments we remain ready to discuss any reasonable proposal to reach this goal and to lay a solid foundation for a durable peace. This is the only way to dispel the anxieties arising from the armaments race."

A Worthy Cause

This is about the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults. It is too bad that space and time do not permit the printing of the full story of this great organization and its accomplishments because its record is both outstanding and heart-warming.

In the Society's annual report for 1958, a letter by Dr. E. B. Norton, president, says in part:

"... the Alabama Society continues to place great emphasis on hospitalization and treatment of the handicapped, its program has been greatly broadened during recent years. This is keeping with the national trend toward provision of sheltered workshops, rehabilitation facilities, and specialized education for the handicapped. The permanent clinics and other types of established facilities for which the Society is responsible are scattered throughout Alabama. Their number increases each year and the scope of their programs of service broadens with each passing month.

"These program of service represent the steps of progress we are making in helping handicapped people to achieve maximum citizenship and productive capacity. They also mean greater initiative and responsibility of local chapters in designing and implementing programs of service at local and area levels."

The annual nation-wide Easter Seal drive is one of the Society's most important sources of revenue. Contributions to Crippled Children in the 1958 campaign amounted to $274,499.87, an increase of 8 per cent over the previous year. This year the goal for the state has been set at $402,000. This total includes $60,606 for hospitalization, treatment, appliances and therapy; $153,928 for programs carried on by county chapters, and $71,120 for the support of area programs of service.

Expanding services by the Society now include many phases of physical and mental rehabilitation. For instance screening clinics show that 30,000 school children in Alabama have speech or hearing problems so severe as to require therapeutic treatment. The Society helps support clinics at Florence State College, The Medical College at Birmingham, the University of Alabama and at Alabama College. Local chapters are located in a number of other points.

With more adequate approaches to rehabilitation during the past year, the report states, the Alabama Society provided services to 13,398 crippled and handicapped persons. Cost of services totaled $185,191.

Clinics and Rehabilitation Centers and Workshops involved a major portion of the money and served the greatest number of persons. New Rehabilitation Workshops have been opened for service at Selma, Dothan and Anniston and plans are underway for workshops at Jasper, Florence, Decatur and Huntsville.

There is no way to estimate the value of the services provided by the Society. Certainly its demands are modest in the light of the great good accomplished and it deserves the full cooperation of the public.

Locally there is no Easter Seal solicitation since the Society is a participating agency under the United Fund. However there are many people who might like to make an additional donation to this cause at Eastertime and this can be accomplished by simply mailing such donation to the Easter Seal Society, care local postoffice.

Twenty-One Boys Die In Fire

Twenty-one Negro boys died in a pre-dawn fire Thursday, March 5, that destroyed the main dormitory of the Arkansas Training School for Negroes at Wrightsville. Survivors had to kick their way through double screens in order to make their way out of the building. Gov. Orval Faubus angrily declared that it was inexcusable that the doors were locked and no supervisor was on hand. The governor ordered an immediate investigation into the tragedy.

Twenty-Five Counterfeiters Jailed

Recovery of more than a million dollars in bogus money and the arrest of 25 members of a counterfeiting gang, was announced Thursday by Secret Service agents. Counterfeit bills were discovered in 22 states. Two of those arrested in Chicago were said to be the ring leaders.

Marines Killed In Plane Crash

Eight marines died early Friday when a "flying boxcar," an R4Q military transport plane, crashed near Cherry Point, N. C. The one survivor was listed in a critical condition. The plane was returning from a routine flight to Norfolk, Va., when the crash occurred.

U. S. To Launch Camera-Carrying Satellites

The Air Force plans to launch nine huge camera-carrying satellites into orbit starting next fall, authentic sources stated this week. The satellites will weigh about a ton and will be launched by two-stage versions of the Atlas IRBM.

Van Cliburn Recovering

Pianist Van Cliburn says it will be at least three months before he can resume his concert schedule. Cliburn, recovering from an operation on an abscessed finger, told a press conference last Thursday in New York: "Every concert is only postponed. I don't believe in cancellation." The 24-year-old Texan said he believed the infection in his middle right finger resulted from trimming the nail.

Bank Robbers Caught

A plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavern operator, admitted to police Tuesday they held up a Massapequa, N. Y., bank on Monday. Surprising bank employees and customers alike, the would-be bandits took $72,000 in their daring daylight hold-up. They were taken with their loot at the home of Anatole Rylsky, the tavern keeper.

Escaped Bandit Slain

Kilby prison escapee, William Smothers, after kidnapping four persons, whom he held for 14 hours as hostages, was buried in Henegar, Alabama on Monday after being shot to death by a policeman. At his last arrest he owed society 160 years for his many crimes that began with the theft of 30 cents when he was a teenager.

Bullseye At 5000 Miles

A 69-foot Snark was fired Monday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., on a "round trip" test flight. The Snark has had more than 60 flights. It is recoverable and can be equipped with skids to facilitate landing on its return. The Snark has scored numerous bullseyes at the 5,000 mile mark, it was disclosed. Its sustained flight is as long as ten hours.

Editor: My great-grandfather walked from New Orleans to Kentucky nine times. It occurs to me that I might be able to do it once. I have memos of conversations with my grandmother 30 years ago, when she was over 90 years of age and still had a lively memory of discussions she had overheard as a small girl—when her father and other men would tell of their experiences on produce-selling trips to New Orleans—downstream by flatboat and return overland by foot.

Most of my memos are of people and places along the way. One of the most interesting is of Chief Colbert, his family and village, where the travelers would spend a night and get ferried across the Tennessee River. According to more recent accounts I have read, Chief James Colbert left many worthy descendants. It occurs to me that I might arrange to meet a present-day Colbert at my crossing of the Tennessee.

Other features are suggested by other memos, and by other accounts of the experiences of travelers of a past day along this route. Right now, it seems that I might go sissy on my ancestors and not make the full journey, but only walk from New Orleans to Nashville. At Nashville I would wind up Natchez Trace (under construction) after picking it up at Cypress Inn. Also, should I visit The Hermitage and Grand Ole Opry, and continuation of the trip would seem like an anti-climax.

Tentatively, I would plan to leave New Orleans on a Wednesday (or early Thursday) and spend each week about as follows:

1. Short week New Orleans, Mandeville, Bogalusa, to Buxtonville, Miss., Sunday night.
2. Gaffneyville, Laurel, Meridian, York, Ala.—to North of Gainesville—Sunday night. (Note: Insert Hattiesburg as an important stop).
3. To Aliceville, Reform, Fayette, Boston, Phil Campbell, Colbert Hgts., Tri-Cities.
4. Get on Natchez Trace near Cypress Inn and proceed to Nashville for Sat. night.

A am sending copies of this letter to newspapers, radio stations and state information agencies in La., Miss., Ala and Tenn.—with the idea that some of these will give me suggestions as to interesting people and places in their own area.

One problem might be that of bad road shoulders for walking on main routes—this is marked contrast to roads in Ontario, where it seems usual to have good road shoulders for hiking and bicycling. It might be well to avoid main roads where possible—say across northwest Alabama, from York to Russellville, though adding to the mileage.

Specifically, I would appreciate advice from each area as to chan-

Union Carbide Is Industry Supplier

Robert E. Deweese Tells Of Operation Of Local Plant And Its Products

Robert E. Deweese, assistant to the superintendent, Union Carbide Metals, formerly Electro-Met, addressed the Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon on the operation and production of Union Carbide, the nation's fourteenth largest industry. Ralph Young had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Mr. Deweese said that the local plant was one of 300 operated by the company throughout the world; that it produced 1400 different products and was the eighth largest tax payer in the county.

Telling of the beginning of the process from which the company grew, Mr. Deweese told the story of James Moorehead and his discovery in 1901, by accident, of calcium carbide in a small plant in North Carolina. He traced the growth to 1906 when Electro-Met was organized.

The local plant is principally concerned with the manufacture of ferroalloys and manganese-alloys which are sold directly to industry and none to be distributed at retail. Prestone and Eveready batteries are the only products of the company that reach the retail trade in their originally manufactured form although few items of steel and other metals are made without some Union Carbide product.

The Sheffield plant is now operating at 80% of capacity with 350 employees. At capacity, 500 are employed, Mr. Deweese said. The payroll today totals approximately $2,000,000. "The outlook for Union Carbide is most promising," Mr. Deweese said.

Ira Stagers, immediate past president of the Columbus, Miss., Exchange Club and who recently moved to Florence, was welcomed to club membership. Guests included Bill Monsarrat, Bob Reeder and Bob Minor.

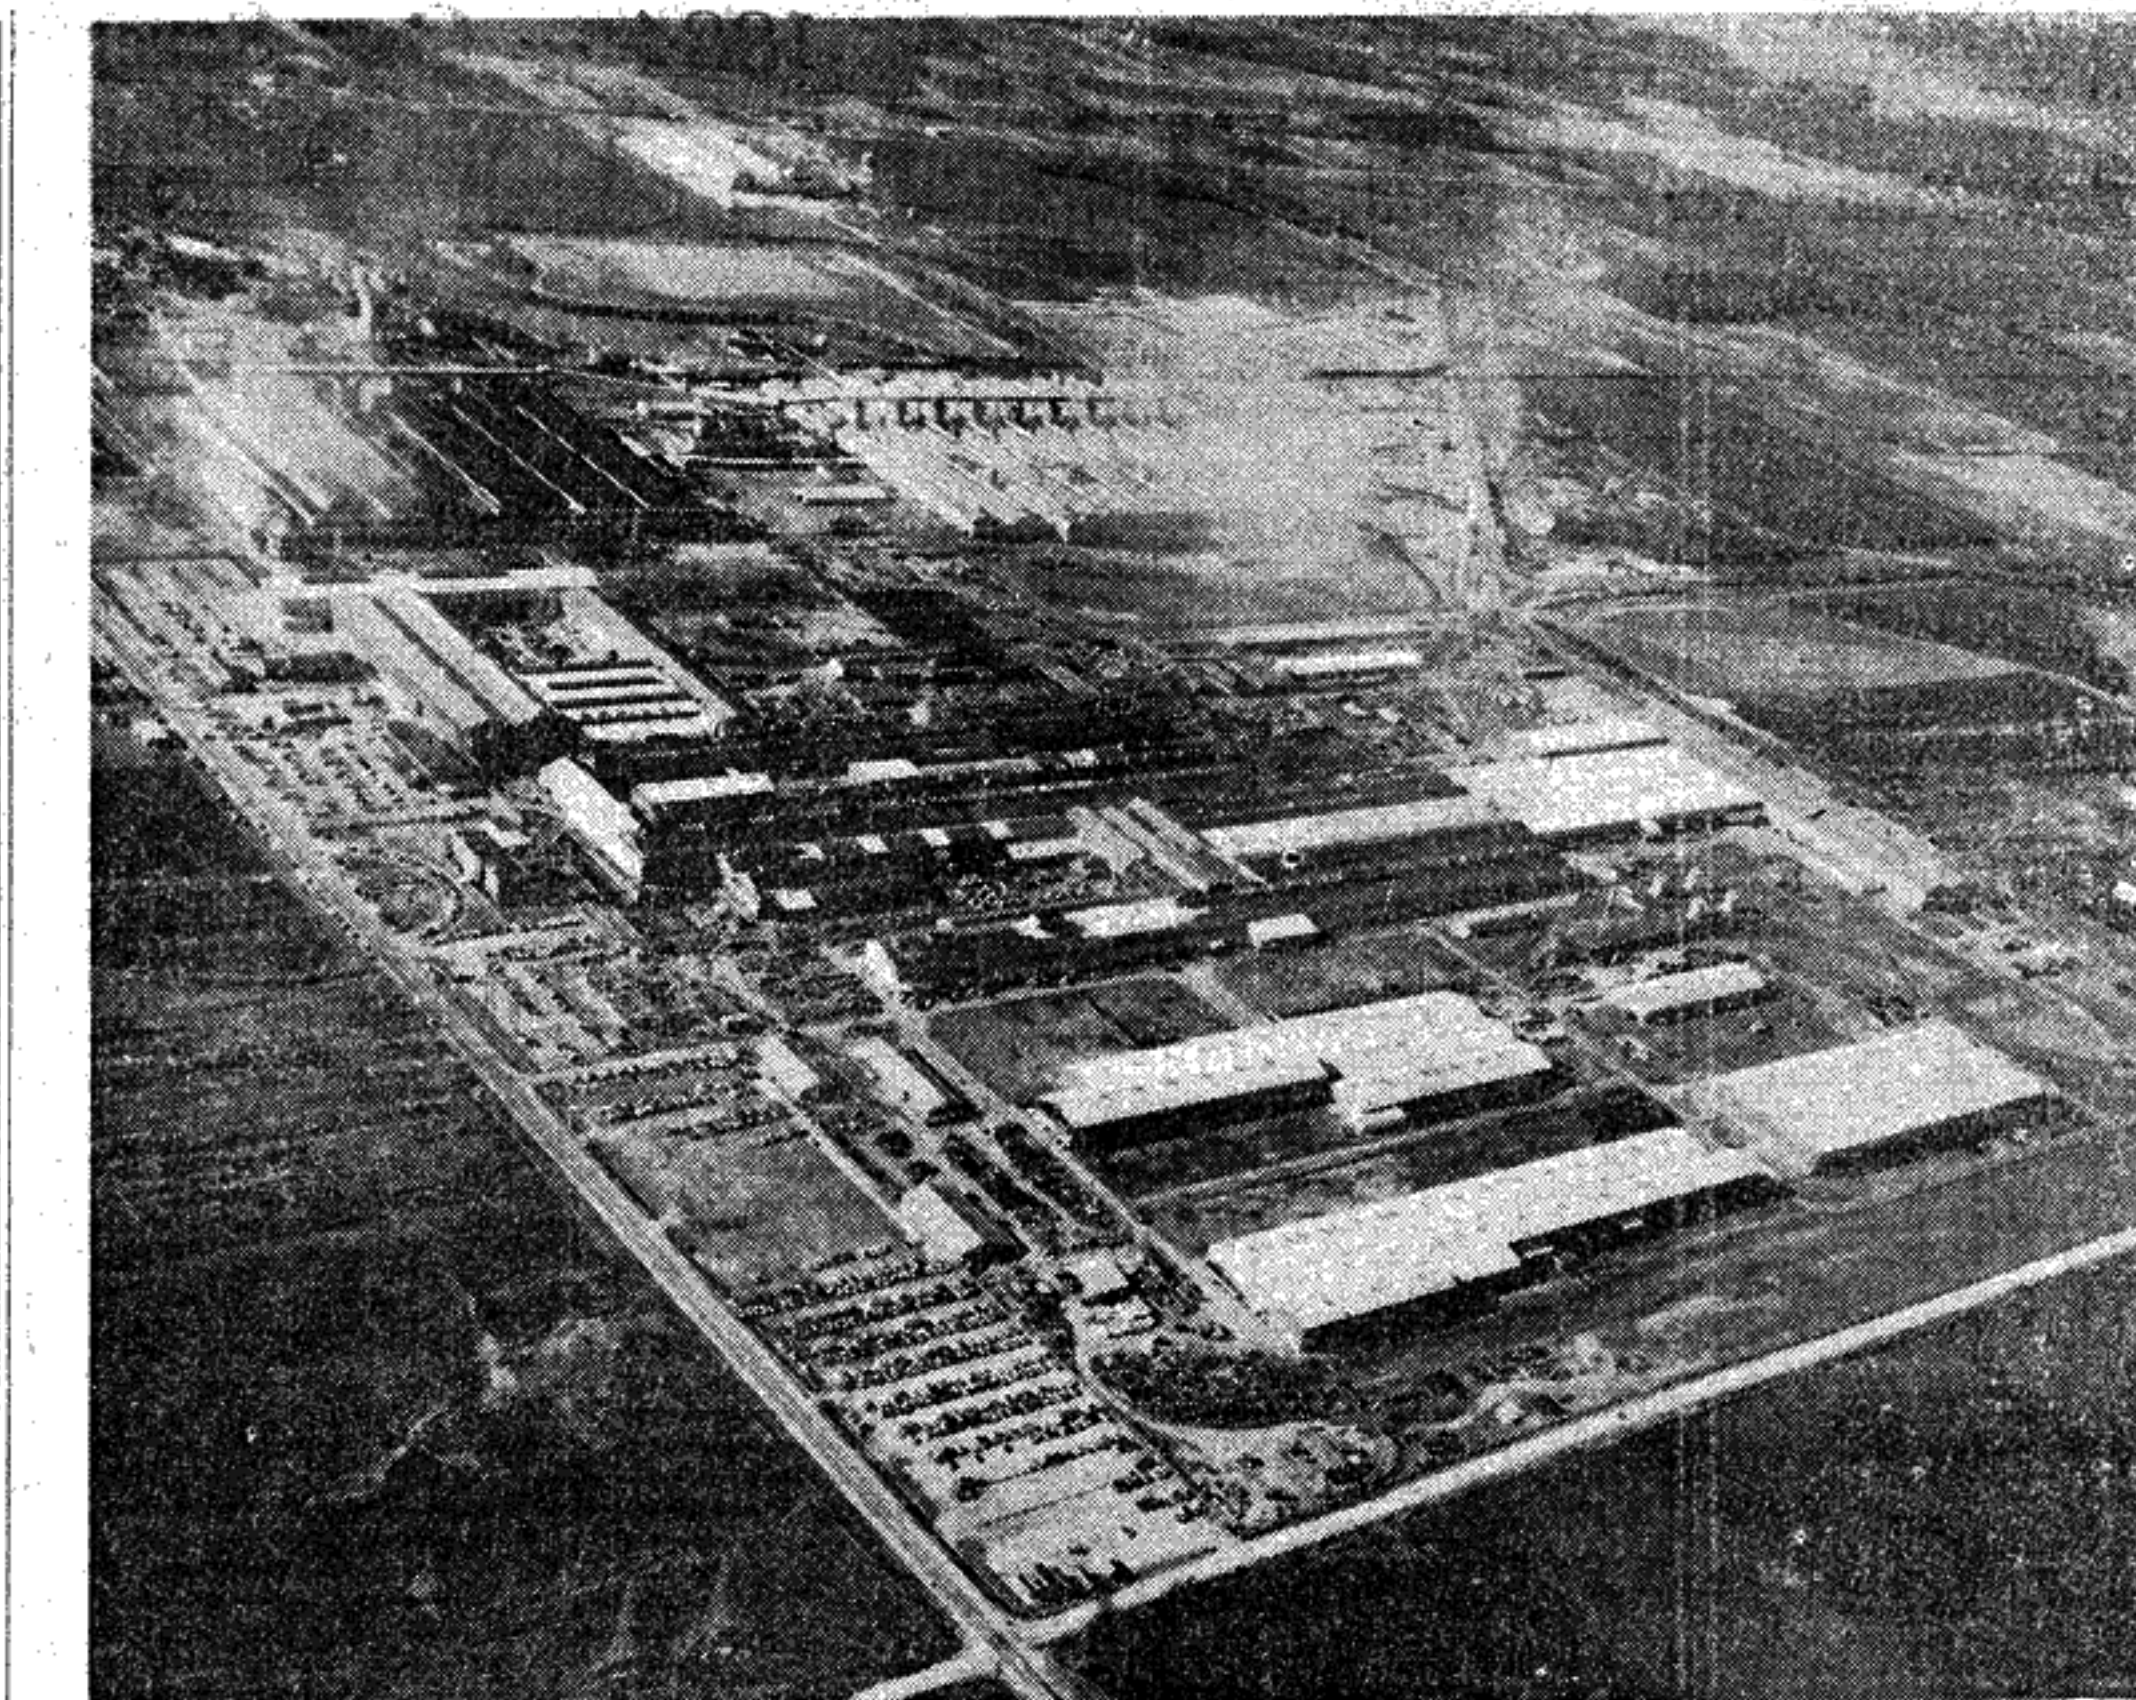

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How reliance on God's inexhaustible goodness brings abundance will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

For sending spare clothing, etc. ahead by bus or other means—so I might pick it up the next day (or two or three days later if necessary). I hope to come northward with the springtime and will lay plans immediately on receiving information.

Hiking about 30 miles per day (except on Saturdays and Sundays) might be an interesting experiment for a fellow who has only been walking for 60 years—but I'm looking forward to it and hope to see "you all."

Sincerely,
Howard Hardaway

Deaths

Mrs. Julia Ann Whitehead

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Ann Whitehead, 77, of 1701 Virginia Street, Florence, who died at 11:30 a. m. Saturday at ECM Hospital, were held Sunday at 3 p. m. from the Rogersville Church of Christ. Lamar Plunkett, minister of the Pine Street Church of Christ officiated, assisted by J. W. Faulkner of Decatur. Burial followed in Rogersville Cemetery.

Mrs. Whitehead was the wife of the late William H. Whitehead, a native of Limestone County, and a resident of Rogersville for the past 61 years. She was a member of the Rogersville Church of Christ.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. E. C. Barker, Decatur, Mrs. Robert McKinney, Florence; a half brother, Alvia Durham, Pulaski, Tenn.; a half sister, Mrs. Frenchie King, Key West, Fla.; three grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

J. W. Brooks

Funeral services for J. W. Brooks, a retired Methodist minister who had served five churches in the Northwest Alabama area, will be held today at 2:30 p. m. in Vernon, Ala. He died at 12:45 a. m. Tuesday at Lamar Hospital in Vernon.

Brooks had served as Minister of the North Alabama Methodist Conference and had served churches at Waterloo, Wright, Brick, Town Creek and Phil Campbell.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Kate Peterson Brooks of Vernon; three daughters, Mrs. Haskell League, Carlsbad, N. M., Miss Frances Brooks of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Glenn Hannah of Florence; two sons, Charles G. Brooks of Huntsville and Eugene W. Brooks of Carlsbad, N. M.; two sisters, Mrs. Lavernia Jetton and Mrs. Cooper Anderson, both of Jackson, Tenn.

Barbara Charlene Adams

Funeral services for Barbara Charlene Adams, age 3, 501 Sweetwater Avenue, Florence, were held yesterday at 2 p. m. from the Pentecostal Tabernacle in Florence with Rev. J. W. Henson and Rev. L. D. Overton officiating. Burial followed in Tri-Cities Memorial Gardens. She died suddenly at 10:15 Monday night at the residence.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Florence; three brothers, Dwight, Randy and Jackie, all of the residence; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Adams, Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. Acie Coker, Florence.

Irish Honor St. Patrick March 17

Chances are the blarney will be as thick as the shamrocks when the Irish honor St. Patrick on March 17.

But the original "blarney" was an Irish chieftain who proved that you can still win even if you lose. When the castle of Blarney was besieged by the English, the lord of the manor concluded an armistice with the English commander. He promised to surrender the old homestead to an English garrison in Cork on a certain date.

The Englishman waited politely for the terms of the armistice to be fulfilled... and waited... and waited.

The Lord of Blarney held him off with promises and flattery, until the commander became the laughingstock of the court of England.

And the name "Blarney" ironically took its place in the "English" language, as a synonym for sweet talk.

Methodists Plan Church Expansion

Education Building Proposed Recently Meeting Of Board

An action program to expand facilities at Florence First Methodist Church was set in motion recently in a called meeting of The Official Board, Finance and Education Commissions and other leaders held at the church. Without a dissenting vote, the group accepted a recommendation of the Finance Commission to take the necessary steps to increase the annual budget, the increase to be used for the construction of an education building.

The recommendation, presented by Finance Chairman B. F. O'Steen, asks in part: "That the First Methodist Church of Florence, Alabama, conduct an every-member canvass, the period of operation to be sometime in September; That faith commitments be made over a period of one hundred fifty weeks; That the annual budget be increased by a minimum of thirty thousand dollars, said increase to be used toward the construction of an education building; and further, that the services of Dr. Thomas L. Williams be employed to assist in the every-member canvass."

Dr. Williams of Maryville, Tennessee, is a Methodist minister and was formerly Superintendent of the Maryville District in the Holston Conference. He was present at Thursday night's meeting and discussed possible plans for the canvass. He will be on leave from his conference to assist Chairman Mims Rogers and other members of the canvass group.

The building will contain three floors and a basement. In the project now being planned, two floors and the basement, containing 17,750 square feet, will be completed. The third floor will be walled in and will be completed in a later project. It will contain one third additional space, or approximately 6,000 square feet.

To be completely air-conditioned and fireproofed, the building will be located on the plot north of the church, formerly the Milner property, and will be connected to the main building by a breezeway. The cost is estimated at $250,000.

Other speakers on the program were Dr. R. Lambuth Archibald, pastor, Jimmy Koonce, Church School Superintendent, and Mims Rogers.

New Tractors At Vaughn, Murphy

The new Ford tractors for '59 are now on display at Vaughn & Murphy Tractor Company, Inc., 224 E. College Street in Florence and all tractor and farm machinery users are invited to come by and see the new Ford with "Select-O-Speed" with hydraulic power for easy shifting. A light touch is all that is needed to shift any gear in the 10 forward speed transmission. It also has two speeds in reverse for extra power when it is needed.

The great advantage of Select-O-Speed, Vaughn and Murphy explain, is that you can match pulling power and speed to any job or load or to changing field conditions. Select-O-Speed is optional on the new Ford tractor for '59.

Vaughn and Murphy invite all farmers interested in a new tractor to test drive the new Ford and see at first hand what it can do.

DISTRICT SCOUTS TO MEET TONIGHT

The March meeting of the district committee, Muscle Shoals District Boy Scouts, will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the Naval Reserve Center in Sheffield.

H. G. McMurtry, district chairman, urged 100 per cent attendance since March, April and May have heavy schedules of activities.

Elks Pay Honor To Horace R. Wisely

Grand Exalted Ruler Is Guest Of Florence Lodge Mon.; Addresses Banquet

A gala occasion in the history of Florence Lodge No. 820, B.P.-O.E. Elks was observed Monday when Grand Exalted Ruler Horace R. Wisely and Mrs. Wisely, of Salinas, Calif., were the honored guests with an afternoon party. During the afternoon, many Elks and their ladies from over the valley joined with members of the local lodge and their wives to meet the Californians who soon learned the true meaning of Southern hospitality.

Grand Exalted Ruler Wisely was the featured speaker at a banquet at Hotel Reeder Monday night at 7:30 o'clock where he was introduced to the 200 in attendance by his good friend, Post Grand Exalted Ruler John McCallan of Atlanta. Exalted Ruler Perry English of the Florence Lodge had welcomed the Elks and their guests and presented William F. Baker, who served as master of ceremonies and introduced a number of distinguished Elks and the guests present. A prelude of organ music was rendered by Mrs. Jenkins.

Mr. Wisely reviewed the work of the lodge in the field of charity and benevolence throughout the nation and complimented the Elks on their splendid program. He stressed the importance of the various type of work done for the maimed and less privileged throughout the 49 states and urged that "stray" Elks be returned to the fold.

As an accountant and businessman, Mr. Wisely said that his training and experience caused him to inaugurate a program of business-like administration when he assumed the office of Grand Exalted Ruler last July. He said that this great fraternal order need not continue on the record of the past but must continue to add new horizons to its splendid work.

With an address interspersed with humorous stories, the Grand Exalted Ruler delighted his audience and brought a message of importance to the members of all the lodges represented.

At the conclusion of the banquet, Adin Batson, who had charge of the arrangements for Mr. and Mrs. Wisely's visit and who has long been a leader in the work of the order, in which he has been repeatedly honored, presented to the Grand Exalted Ruler and his lady a beautiful silver ice bucket as a memento of their visit to Florence. Mrs. Wisely had been presented by Mr. Baker.

Early in 1958, at joint pot-tapping and groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Listerhill Reduction Plant and expansion at the adjoining Alloys Plant here, J. Louis Reynolds, executive vice president of Reynolds Metals Company, said:

"Alabama and the aluminum industry are on the threshold of a new era. Alabama because it continues to provide a healthy industrial climate for companies such as ours, and the industry because it is rapidly moving toward maturity.

"We are rapidly swinging from a job-order business to a mass production industry... The trend is toward greater benefits to those communities in which our plant facilities are located."

The new units were part of a $40 million expansion of the Listerhill operations, making this group of plants in the Tri-Cities area the company's largest.

The Reynolds operations in the Sheffield area actually consist of three plants, one of which is the Reynolds Missile Plant, across Sheffield from the Listerhill plants. At this important plant, ballistic shells for the Redstone missile are produced under a sub-contract with the Chrysler Corporation.

Spin launchers and ballistic shells for the Army Jupiter-C rockets and other rocket and missile equipment is also produced here.

Adjoining the two big reduction plants at Listerhill is the aggregation of mills which are the Alloys Plant. Here in this growing group of mills, aluminum is fabricated into sheet, rod, bar, structural shapes, the well-known Reynolds Wrap aluminum foil, wire, cable, tubing, nails, and stampings of blanks and circles.

A part of the expansion now nearing completion at the Alloys Plant is the world's largest aluminum hot rolling mill. This block-long giant is headed by a 170-inch-wide breakdown mill.

Expansion underway at the Alloys Plant will make it the largest of the Reynolds Metals Company's fabricating plants with 2,500,000 feet under roof and an annual capacity will be 300,000 tons.

A big new reduction plant is also part of the expansion program at Listerhill, and the original plant has been completely overhauled and modernized.

Water is an essential at these Alabama aluminum plants and the big reservoir behind Wilson Dam on the Tennessee was an important factor in selecting the Listerhill location as the ideal site for this important development in industrial Alabama.

Because the Reynolds plant was located here, it was logical for Ford Motors to build its new foundry and an adjoining site, and now the molten metal is carried in big crucibles to the Ford plant for casting into a great number of Ford parts. Reynolds has contracted to supply the Ford foundry with 640 million pounds of aluminum over a ten-year period.

A substantial part of the Alloys Plant production of Reynolds is for the automobile industry. The aluminum sheet which is rolled here is pressed to make grills, headlight and tail-light bezels and items for exterior and interior trim. Numerous other finished or semi-finished stampings are also made in the Alloys Plant.

Reynolds plants in this area employ about 4,000 people and have an annual payroll of about $25,000,000. It is thus an important factor in the economy of Alabama.

Graben-Parrish Vows Said In Church Setting

Marked by an afternoon ceremony in East Florence Church of Christ, Betty Jeanine Graben became the bride of James Wheeler Parrish on Saturday, March seventh.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Milford Graben and Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Parrish, all of Florence.

Charles A. Holt, minister of the church, read the vows before an altar decorated with basket arrangements of white gladioli and pink pompons against a background of Boston ferns and huckleberry foliage. Choral selections by Oliver Brazelle, Charles Daniel, Bob Howard and Linville Hanback preceded the ceremony.

Wearing a gown of brocaded bridal satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Long sleeves that pointed over the hands and a yoke of imported lace distinguished the moulded bodice and the bouffant waltz-length skirt was complemented by a wide bustle-bow at the back. Her only ornament, a single pearl worn on a golden chain, was a gift of the bridegroom and a tiara of seed pearls held her veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of pink roses and white hyacinth florets showered with lover's knots of blush-pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Eugene Prosser Hibbett of Henderson, Tennessee, was honor attendant for her sister and bridesmaids were Miss Rita Graben, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Judson Carlton, Jr., sister of the bridegroom, both of Florence. Their frocks of pink crystaletta over taffeta were designed with V-shaped necklines and balloon skirts with wide sashes marking the waistlines. Half hats of matching material were worn with face veils and their bouquets were of American beauty roses.

Mr. Parrish chose his father as best man and ushers included Eugene Prosser Hibbett, Paul Judson Carlton, Jr., Fred Allen Hewitt and James Louis Whitten.

Following the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom received the well-wishes of wedding guests as they greeted them in the church vestibule.

Before leaving for a Florida honeymoon, Mrs. Parrish changed to a dress of coffee brown linen worn with brown accessories and a white coat. Her corsage was fashioned of pink roses from her bouquet.

They will return on March sixteenth to be at home on Tombigbee Street.

Wisdom-Delano Vows Are Said

The marriage of Miss Mary Ann Wisdom and Hollis Delano, Jr., has been announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wisdom of Sharp's Mill Road, Florence.

Pledges were heard by Estes Flynt, probate judge of Lauderdale County, at the county courthouse on Friday, March sixth.

Mr. and Mrs. Delano are now at home at 1423 Martin Avenue, Florence.

MRS. WILLIAM R. LINDSEY

Valentine's Day Setting Marks Price-Lindsey Vows

Wearing a gown of imported white lace over white satin, Rosalyn Virginia Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lynn Price of Edgemont Drive, Florence, became the bride of William Richard Lindsey before an altar in Central Baptist Church on the evening of February fourteenth.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leon Blackburn of Hansel Court, Florence, and of Claude Lindsey of the United States Air Force.

The tableau formed beneath an ivy-entwined arch against a background of greenery which was interspersed with arrangements of red and white gladioli and lighted by wedding tapers.

The Reverend Markie L. Butler, pastor of the church, read the vows following nuptial music by Mrs. James Butler, vocalist, and J. B. Webb, organist.

Mr. Price gave his daughter in marriage. A Sabrina neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands marked the fitted bodice of her wedding gown and period hoops accented the fullness of the skirt. A tiara of sequins and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and with her white Bible she carried a white orchid garlanded with white carnations.

Miss Elizabeth Boshell served the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Holt and Miss Joan Young. Their red taffeta frocks were designed with moulded bodices and bouffant skirts and their nosegays of white blossoms were carried against a lace-frilled Valentine heart.

Flower girls were Vicky Janette Price, sister of the bride, and Glenda Faye Lewey, niece of the bridegroom, and a candlelighter was the bride's brother, Stephen Victor Price, and the bridegroom's nephew, Kenneth Ray Lewey.

Attending Mr. Lindsey as best man was Fred Stagg and ushers were Willie Stagg and Lowell Guthrie.

Before leaving for a honeymoon in Tennessee, the bride changed to a beige suit with which she wore a hat and gloves of topaz. Her other accessories were a deeper shade of brown and her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey are now at home in Charleston, South Carolina, where he is stationed with the United States Navy.

Earl Judson Calvert Will Wed In Florida

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Tudor of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Margaret, to Earl Judson Calvert, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Calvert of Spruce Pine, formerly of Rogersville.

The wedding will take place in DeLand, Florida, home of the bride's parents.

Miss Tudor attended Stetson University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega social sorority. She is now affiliated with Baptist Home Mission Board in Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. Calvert, an alumnus of Howard College in Birmingham, is now a ministerial student at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

A May nuptial date will be announced.

Edgar Donald Poe Takes Texas Bride

Solemnized in Ford Memorial Chapel of First Baptist Church, Lubbock, Texas, the marriage of Suantra Juanece Bowen and Edgar Donald Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen Poe of 135 Beulah Avenue, Florence, was an event of Tuesday, February twenty-fourth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bowen of Route Six, Lubbock.

The Reverend G. E. Howell officiated in the half past seven o'clock ceremony before a candlelighted altar decorated with baskets of red and white carnations against a background of palms.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of champagne lace over taffeta was detailed with a sweetheart neckline outlined in pearls, and a bouffant skirt. A tiara of pearls held her veil of net and lace and her bride's Bible was marked by a white orchid nestling in white carnations.

Attending the bride were Miss Sue Tiplins, maid of honor, and Miss Barbara White, Miss Phyllis Bowen, and Miss Judy Bowen, bridesmaids, all of Lubbock. The honor attendant wore a frock of red taffeta and the bridesmaids were attired in white lace; their bouquets were fashioned of red carnations and they wore matching headresses.

Rodger Bruce Poe, brother of the bridegroom, of Florence served as best man and ushers were John R. Springer, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, also of Florence, Dick Bowen, brother of the bride, and James White. Maxie Slove was candlelighter.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were reception hosts in the parlors of the church.

Upon leaving for their honeymoon Mrs. Poe was wearing a charcoal grey suit with red accessories and, at her shoulder, the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple is now at home at 2018½ Main Street, Lubbock.

Home Ceremony Marks Wilson-Tate Nuptials

Arrangements of white gladioli against a tracery of English ivy fashioned the altar background in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Wilson where their daughter, Glenda Gail, exchanged vows with Charles Albert Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tate, all of Florence.

The Reverend D. A. Lindsey, pastor of Freewill Baptist Church, heard their pledges in a half past seven o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, February twenty-first.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a frock of light blue wool of Empire design, accented by satin trim of a darker shade and white accessories. A white orchid corsage complemented her attire.

James H. Riedout was best man for the bridegroom.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wilson honored their daughter and son-in-law with a reception. White lace veiled the bride's table where a three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Kathryn Mitchell and Mrs. Donald Wilson, sister and sister-in-law of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate are at home on Henson Drive, Florence.

Miss Pauline Newton's Engagement Is Announced

April sixteenth has been chosen as the nuptial date of Pauline Newton, daughter of Mrs. George Newton of Lexington and the late Mr. Newton, and William Roberts. Mr. Roberts' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Midas Roberts of Grant.

Plans will be announced at a later date.

Barkley-Wallace Vows Announced

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barkley, Cloverdale, of the marriage of their daughter, Iva Dean, to Bobby William Wallace. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William S. Wallace of Florence.

Nuptial vows were exchanged in the home of Joe Johnson, minister of Salem Church of Christ and officiating clergyman. The ceremony took place at six o'clock in the evening of Friday, February twentieth.

Prenuptial Honors Miss Marilyn Wiley

An evening tea was the courtesy with which Miss Nell Jackson honored bride-elect Marilyn Wiley when she entertained at her home on Monday, March second.

Early Spring blossoms were used throughout the party rooms and the teatable, spread with a cloth of white lace over yellow satin, was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white flowers.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ophia Jackson, her sister, Mr. Ronnie Mitchell, and Miss Dot Gabel.

Guests numbered twenty-five.

Juvenile Music Club Has March Meeting

Carol Tedder, president of Juvenile Music Club, presided during the business period of the March meeting which took place at the Parish House on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Jackson, sponsor, discussed the Annual Musical Festival which is scheduled for March twenty-first in Wesleyan Hall and the program, given by seventeen members of the group was an advanced presentation which will be repeated at this time.

On the program were Lynn Middleton, Julia Ann Fleming, Tom Dasher, Steve Rice, Mary Graham, Candy Flat, Ann Barber, Barbara Zeff, Hayden Megar, Deborah Haynes, Linda Young, Judy Sealy, William Shanks, Janet Jackson, Mary Hatfield, Sarah Barber and George Beasley.

Others participating were Charles Doss, Carol Rice, Jan Simons and Jo Puteet. Group singing was accompanied by Sarah Barber.

The attendance prize was presented to Tom Dasher.

Guests were Elizabeth Barnwell, Marian Haley, Joyce Simons, Connie Smith and Mary Shanks and hostesses included Judy Sealy, Hayden Megar, Sarah Barber, Linda Young and Ann Smith.

Thursday Study Club Hears Guest Speaker

Mrs. James Koonce greeted Thursday Study Club members at her home, 414 North Walnut, on the afternoon of March fifth and Miss Orpha Ann Culmer, whose retelling of Margaret Case Harrison's "And The Price Is Right" has delighted Florence audiences, was introduced by Mrs. Hugh Porter, program leader for the afternoon.

Mrs. Lambuth Archibald, also a guest, and Mrs. Merwin Koonce assisted the hostess with teatime courtesies.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hutchinson and children came from Montgomery to spend the long weekend with his brother, John H. Hutchinson, Mrs. Hutchinson, and their family on Arnold Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones announce the birth on February thirteenth of a son, Thomas Mark at Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital.

museum at Florence State College," Mrs. Dabry said. "Wood-land," once owned by the Foster family and "Alba Wood," the old Rowell home, were among the early plantation homes described.

Mrs. A. A. Jackson was hostess on Tuesday afternoon, March third, at The Town Club. Guests, in addition to members, were Mrs. Henry Campbell, Mrs. Paul Wilson, Mrs. Dulcy Teel, Mrs. James Flagg, Mrs. Alma Wood McNeely, Mrs. H. O. Hilton, Mrs. Theodore Hubbuch and Mrs. Kathleen Newton.

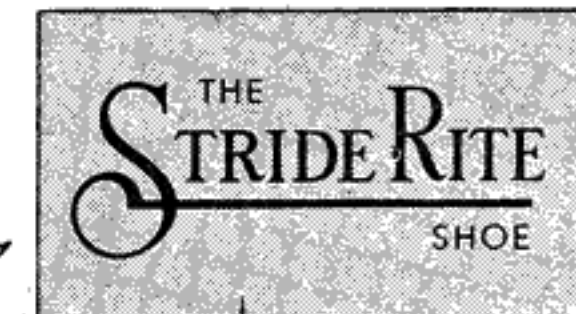

In Tuscaloosa since Tuesday to represent Alameda Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are Mrs. J. Will Young, regent, and Mrs. S. Baxter Wilson who are returning to Florence today. Mrs. Paul Wilson, also a delegate from Alameda Chapter, will visit for a fortnight with her daughter, Mrs. C. Donald Everson, Mr. Everson, and children, in Baton Rouge, La., before returning home.

In Charleston, S. C., for a recent visit to Mr. and Mrs. William Richard Lindsey were their mothers, Mrs. Leon Blackburn and Mrs. J. L. Price and children, Vicky and Steve, all of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Gilbert are in Corpus Christi, Tex., for a two-weeks' visit with his daughter, Mrs. John Matthews, Mr. Matthews, and their children.

VEGETABLE STEAKS?

Much to the surprise of "Fido" and real meat eaters, "vegetable steaks" may vie with T-bone in the future.

By special processes, the protein found in vegetables may be made into "steaks." Thus "vegetable steaks" would be as rich in protein as animal-source meat ... just as tasty, too!

Many changes will occur in "Foods of the Future," but BEER and ALE will continue to be "old stand-bys" in countless homes. These wholesome beverages have a way of going well when the going's well with any type of menu!

LEO'S LOVELIEST—Shopping for that Easter bonnet is a pretty important order of business for many girls this time of the year, and pretty Barbara Romans is not an exception. Chevy stops quickest ... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you. There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

Did you know that a symphony orchestra is a large orchestra of a kind that plays symphonies, and that a philharmonic is a society formed to further musical interests?

That's been bothering me for a long time. Finally, provoked by the Minneapolis Symphony concert last Thursday, I looked it up; isn't it amazing how many words can mean almost the same thing? Incidentally, the orchestra gave a fine performance.

You know, it might be interesting to sit in on a faculty meeting—I wonder if they dissect students? Surely all that time isn't spent in discussing business. But, that's heresy, isn't it? Food for thought, though.

The new officers of the WSGA were presented last Saturday at the Co-Ed Ball. The new president, Annette Gibbs, Hanceville junior, with Billy Joe Camp, introduced the leadout.

Other officers elected last Tuesday were Carolyn Crawford, Decatur, vice president; Barbara Thigpen, Florence, town representative; Ann Hollingsworth, Hubbertville, social chairman. Donna Worlund, New Market, secretary; and Jane Elkins of Mt. Hope, who was elected treasurer.

in a run-off Wednesday. It's a good thing I'm under no illusions as to my poetic prowess because this is the kind of weather that inspires poetic expression. By the end of the month the dog woods should be in full bloom—trees are already beginning to look lacy—and the campus will be truly beautiful.

If you've never stopped to really look at Florence State in the spring, you should. It's worth going out of your way to see.

Military people are all over Florence State all of a sudden. Last week it was the Army; this week it's the Marines. Several colonels were here to inspect the ROTC battalion what ever it is, and the Marine people are here trying to interest students in officer training.

If my references to the army and the marines sound slightly nebulous and insulting, it isn't because I mean them to be. I'm not very familiar with military terms, consequently, I'm afraid to call a spade a spade because it might turn out to be a diamond. Then where would I be?

English proficiency tests are required of everyone, no matter, there's no escaping it. So pick a subject and do the best you can to turn out a credible essay. Then on the other hand, it may not transfer to your next school, so you may as well have a good time and write four pages of gibberish that no one can decipher and cause a terrific uproar in the English Department.

Oh, my, won't I be in a mess if I find out that it does transfer after all?

Town Club Setting For Hypatian Meet

Gathering at The Town Club on Thursday afternoon, March fifth, Hypatian Club members were welcomed by their hostess, Mrs. William Frost. Also present was one additional guest, Miss Connie Ladd of Garden City, New York, here for a visit in the home of her fiancée's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh.

In choosing a program for the day, Mrs. Leonard Johnson shared one of many interests with her friends as she reviewed "The March of Archaeology," by C. W. Ceram, a history of the modern discovery of ancient civilization. Mrs. Johnson illustrated her remarks with pictures of statuary, now restored from mutilation of the centuries by sculptors.

Mrs. Henry Cromwell and Mrs. Julian Nance presided at the tea-table during the refreshment hour.

FSC Faculty Women's Club Have Spring Tea

Yesterday afternoon at Rogers Hall the Spring bonnets of Florence State College Faculty Women's Club members vied with the gay little chapeaux-inventions by which they had been bid to the traditional March program tea.

Mrs. Hugh Porter introduced Mrs. Carolyn Lunati in a group of piano selections, the FSC Male Quartet and the Small Ensemble in seasonal vocal numbers. Robert Beck accompanied the quartet, Mary Virginia Roan the ensemble.

Garden bouquets throughout the rooms were of daffodils and Dutch iris, flowering quince and forsythia, while the Spring bonnet motif was again echoed in the inverted hat filled with blossoms on the candlelighted tea-table.

Mrs. George Maness and Mrs. Tom Perkins, women co-chairmen for the party, and assisting them were Mrs. E. B. Norton and Mrs. John Finley, Jr., who presided at the table; Mrs. M. M. Adams, Mrs. R. L. Burdge, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Miss Orpha Ann Culmer, Miss Ruth Dacus, Mrs. W. L. Davis, Mrs. Mabel Dent, Mrs. E. H. Evans, Miss Martha Griffin, Miss Mildred Harding, Mrs. Nell Ingram, Mrs. A. D. Jones, Mrs. W. B. Jones, Miss Vaughn Ledbetter, Mrs. Henry Harvey, Mrs. Earl McGee, Mrs. Phillip Merrill, Mrs. Charles Rasch, Mrs. Edith Rodman, Miss Gladys Shepard and Mrs. H. W. Elder.

Miss Virta Jones, Mrs. G. G. Glover and Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Bender are spending the AEA holidays in New Orleans and Mobile.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rutland Cunningham and children, Pat, John, Sally and Ben, left yesterday for a few days' stay in Knoxville with Mrs. Cunningham's father, Dr. J. H. Thackston, and Mrs. Thackston.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rice and sons, Jim and Sam, of Oakland are spending this week with family members in Fairmont, W. Va. They will also spend a few days in Washington before returning.

In Birmingham to attend the Senior Girl Scout's Conference, Miss Cookie Murphy and Miss Polly Jones were joined there on Sunday by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Jones, 1807 Hickory, for a week's vacation trip to Charlotte, N. C., where they are guests of Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Eula Brewer.

Dr. George Erwin Roulhac and daughter, Debbie, are expected to arrive from St. Louis on Saturday for a visit to his mother, Mrs. G. E. Roulhac, 468 North Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Mims Rogers were among the Florentines who at-

SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,

We have just recently bought a home which is quite old. We are painting and cleaning in general, and can hardly wait to build a fire in the two fireplaces. But, when we unstopped the chimneys, we found them packed with newspapers dated 1943. So, we know they haven't been used during the last sixteen years and we want to have them looked at by an authority. Don't you think we'd be taking a chance if we don't take this precaution?

The reason I'm writing to you is that we don't know who to get to make the inspection. We're spending a lot (for us) anyway, and so we think a long time about service calls.

If there is any one place that you think we'd get the best service, would you please advise us. And, if it's possible, we'd like to get this attended to in time to have at least one fire before warm weather arrives.

Many thanks for any help. Enthusiastic.

Dear "Enthusiastic," If your newly acquired property is inside the city limits, I suggest that you have a chat with Fire Department Chief Bob Lovelace. I have been told that this department offers a service such as you need, but I imagine it is to residents of the city.

And even if you're in a rural area, I think you'd get your best advice from this same source. I hope this bit will prove helpful. I know how you look forward to that first blaze on your own hearth.

Dear Sara Saze, We have two teenage sons who have itching feet to get away from home and find Summer jobs during the vacation months.

Where can we get information about jobs around resorts? They want a new experience and probably wouldn't be too particular about the type of job they land. Bell hop, for instance, or table waiter.

We would like an immediate answer. Their Mom.

Dear T. M., Write to state employment services near the largest resort areas. Colorado is a good bet, and they'd certainly be in entirely different surroundings. Also, get a copy of "Travel America," published by Ahrens Publishing Co., Inc., 71 Vanderbilt Ave., New York 17, N. Y. It is $1. You'll find it a reliable guide to hotels and motels in all sections.

tended the basketball tournament in Tuscaloosa during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Smith, Miss Susan Smith and Tommy were among the Florentines in Tuscaloosa last week to witness the state basketball tournament.

Mrs. Alma Wood McNeely, here from her home in Texas for a stay of several months, left yesterday to spend a week with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. DeVane K. Jones.

Guests of Mrs. James Acker at her home in Aberdeen, Miss., are her grandson, Acker Rogers, and Robert Redd. They will remain during the AEA holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bower and children, Misses Hollis and Eve Bower, and Byron, Jr., were in Tuscaloosa for the recent basketball tournament.

Enroute home after a two-weeks' visit to family members in Oklahoma and Texas, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rivers Wiggins were recalled to Dallas by the death of her brother, Paul Crump.

Here for the week from her home in Newbern, Mrs. Sadler Darnall (Erin Sadler) is the guest of Mrs. Frank M. Perry 223 North Pine.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirsch and son, Walter Jason, spent the past weekend in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Powell are leaving today to spend the long week-end with their daughter, Mrs. John Slaughter, Dr. Slaughter, and their family in Birmingham. They will be accompanied on their return to Florence by Celia and John Slaughter who will remain for a visit with their grandparents.

Arriving Monday for a visit to her cousin, Mrs. James S. Robinson, 424 West Tennessee St., will be Mrs. Robert B. Dickinson

(Dorothy Ewin) of New Canaan, Conn. She will be joined during the week by her sister, Mrs. Robert Ingram (Adair Ewin) of Bolivar, Tenn.

Burn a piece of newspaper in the corner of the fireplace while removing ashes. This forces the dust up the chimney and keeps it from blowing into the room.

Worship in the church of your choice on Sunday morning and evening. There are always worship services in each of the churches in the community, and visitors are welcome at all times.

Circle two of the WSCS met in the home of Mrs. Glen Murphy this week.

Both the Intermediate and Senior MYF meets regularly each Sunday evening at the Methodist Church.

The Senior group under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Buchanan, and Mrs. James Riu, counselors, is making a study of the East.

A meeting of the local board of stewards of the Methodist Church was held recently, preceded by a fellowship supper.

Bible Study—Church of Christ each Wednesday evening. Choir rehearsal—Every Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Methodist Church.

Beginning this week, Bible study and prayer meeting will be conducted at the Methodist Church each Tuesday evening under the leadership of our pastor, Bro. J. E. Beasley.

Everyone desiring to become a better Bible student and worker in the church is invited and urged to attend. As Christians, we all need to know more about God and what he expects from us, and the Bible is our greatest source of information.

School

The P.-T. A. held its regular meeting on March 3 with Bro. Beasley bringing to us a very fine devotional. The guest speaker on the program was Mr. A. B. Lightfoot, Alabama Highway Patrolman. He gave an excellent discussion on "School Bus Safety," which concerned all parents, pupils and teachers. We need to do a better job of teaching safety, and as he pointed out, this training should begin in the home.

The next P.-T. A. meeting will be held on April 7. Cecil Brook will be in charge of devotion, and after routine business, Mrs. Maude Mullins will direct a recreational program.

Those who attended the late meeting of our P.-T. A. last year, will recall how efficiently she directed the games, at that time and the enjoyable time had by everyone.

NEW FORD SELECT-O-SPEED

Hydraulic power does the actual shifting, but it's controlled by this handy lever under the steering wheel. A light touch is all you need to shift to any gear—10 speeds forward, 2 reverse—at any time.

Now—finger-tip, clutchless shifting with hydraulic power doing all the work! For the first time, you can shift on-the-go to any speed you want, any power you need, by a simple touch of your finger. Now you can match pull-power and speed exactly, instantly, to changing field conditions. And what's more, independent PTO engages or disengages on-the-go, too, to save time and speed PTO work. With clutchless power shifting and independent PTO, you'll do more work and cover more acres. Come in and test drive a Ford Select-O-Speed tractor soon—see what it can do for you!

BACK TO WORK! Every year in the U. S. nearly a million telephone spring cords lose their stretch after heavy use. But we don't throw them away. We send most of them to a Western Electric center, where they go through washing, rewinding, and heat treatments. They come back to us good as new—ready to return to service. We figure it's good sense—and sound economy—to make equipment work as hard as possible for you!

IT OFTEN COSTS LESS THAN A LETTER to make a long distance call. Seems incredible, yet this was actually proved in a study made by American Business Magazine. The study showed that, by the time you figure stenographic costs, mailing, filing and materials, the average business letter costs $1.70. If you'll check our Long Distance rates, you'll see how many distant places you can call for even less than that. What's more—a Long Distance call is usually better than a letter, because it's faster, more personal and gets quicker action.

I'm the type that goes for solid comfort! Pipe and slippers... newspaper... phone right at my elbow. That's what I call real living! Happily, most anyone can enjoy those little comforts, because extension phones cost only a few cents a day. And, man; they're worth it! No mad dashes through the house... no disappointment of getting there seconds too late. Why not treat yourself to extension phones where you need them. The cost is small. Just give us a ring, and we'll put 'em in!

Reynolds Launches New 'House Of Ease' Program

Reynolds Metals Company has launched a $2.5 million advertising and promotional campaign to expand its aluminum "House of Ease" program in 1959, David F. Beard, general director of advertising, reported today.

At the same time, Mr. Beard announced the introduction of a "House of Ease" seal which "will give home builders, fabricators and dealers of aluminum building products an unprecedented opportunity for promotional tie-ins."

He described the program as "One of the biggest ever undertaken by a single manufacturer in the home building field."

Highlights of the advertising schedule include:

Local consumer advertising designed to help participating builders sell the "House of Ease" in their areas.

An intensive schedule of network television commercials on the Reynolds co-sponsored "Walt Disney Presents" and "All-Star Golf" shows. These commercials will create a total of 13 billion consumer impressions. (Reynolds also will allow participating builders local television cut-ins on these shows.)

Unique "House of Ease" advertisements, printed in color on glittering aluminum foil as "print media spectaculars" will be inserted in each of the five major home planning publications of the year—Better Homes & Gardens Home Building Ideas, House Beautiful's Building Manual, House & Garden Book of Building, New Homes Guide and Today's Home.

A series of mail pieces showing builders, fabricators and dealer applicators how they can best benefit from the program.

Complete displays for use by builders in model homes, together with promotional literature, directional signs, mobiles and other merchandising helps.

The new seal, which says "Reynolds Aluminum as featured in the 'House of Ease,'" will enable fabricators, dealers and builders to achieve maximum identification with Reynolds national and local advertising of the "House of Ease" in all media, Mr. Beard said.

"The seal is similar to those which our company has used with great success for a number of years in promoting aluminum foil packaging and industrial products," he explained.

Under the "House of Ease" program, participating builders offer home buyers a complete package of 20 to 30 aluminum building products such as roof shingles, siding and windows, which save the home buyer up to $6,000 over a thirty-year period, cut heating and air conditioning costs, and give him more time for leisure.

The company successfully test-marketed "House of Ease" programs in six cities in 1958—Detroit, St. Louis, Boston, Wilmington, Chicago and Phoenix.

In the test-market areas, builders report that 7 out of 10 homebuyers, given a choice between the conventional home and the aluminum house at a nominal extra cost, are choosing the aluminum "House of Ease."

Reynolds is now embarked on a nationwide program to introduce "House of Ease" projects in the 160 key cities which account for 80 per cent of new home construction.

Church

One hundred forty nine attended Sunday school at the Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday morning, and well over two hundred persons attended morning worship at the 11 o'clock hour. The pulpit was filled by young Tommy Camp, who preached his first sermon. He will fill the Rev. McDougal's pulpit on April 5th also, and will enter Howard College in the near future. There was one addition to the church at the morning service, that of Frances Pedigo.

In the evening fifty six attended Training Union and evening worship. The Rev. McDougal filled his usual pulpit at the evening service.

Dinner guests in the Dillard McConnell home Sunday were the Almond McConnells, Mrs. Mauvne McConnell and boys, and the Louis McConnells.

Mrs. Ross Burgess celebrated her sixty fifth birthday on Sunday, with a birthday dinner at her home and all of her family home with her; including her son and his wife, the Eldwin Burgesses of Florence, and her daughter and family the Walter Cockrells.

Mrs. Leeta White visited in the home of the Emmet Camps over the week-end. Dinner guests in the Camp home on Sunday also included the Eardis Ridgeway family.

The Powell Community Club met at the school on Monday night, for its regular monthly meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Hubert Goode. Devotional was given by the Rev. McDougal and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Porter McConnell. In the absence of Mr. Wagnon, who was to have been in charge of the program on gardening, the group spent the evening discussing projects to be taken up—that of road signs and mail boxes. A refreshment committee, composed of Mrs. Alton Bailey, Mrs. Osborn Echols and Mrs. M. C. Cockrell was appointed. It was also agreed that 25 cents per family per month would be collected for the purpose of establishing a community sub fund. The club was adjourned to meet in April and at this meeting a basket supper will be carried by each family, and eaten in the lunch room. Everyone is invited to bring a basket supper and come out and enjoy the evening with us.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

OF HOPE AND GLADNESS

How eagerly voices proclaim the glad truth—voices young and old; all join the wonderful refrain. Even nature swells the chorus. Flowers burst into bloom, everything speaks of new life and hope.

Practically everyone goes to church Easter Sunday. Almost everyone joins in the singing. Even the hardest heart feels a thrill of hope and gladness. The spirit of joy is contagious. If it could only last!

It can last if you make the Church a part of your life, and yourself a part of the Church. Prayer and Bible study will help you realize that the joy of the resurrection can be yours, not only at Easter, but through every day of every year. The Church needs you, and you need the Church. Accept the Easter message. Make it a vital part of your life. Prove to yourself and others that Jesus Christ has truly risen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Prepare Land For Spring Planting

It's almost time to prepare your land for spring planting.

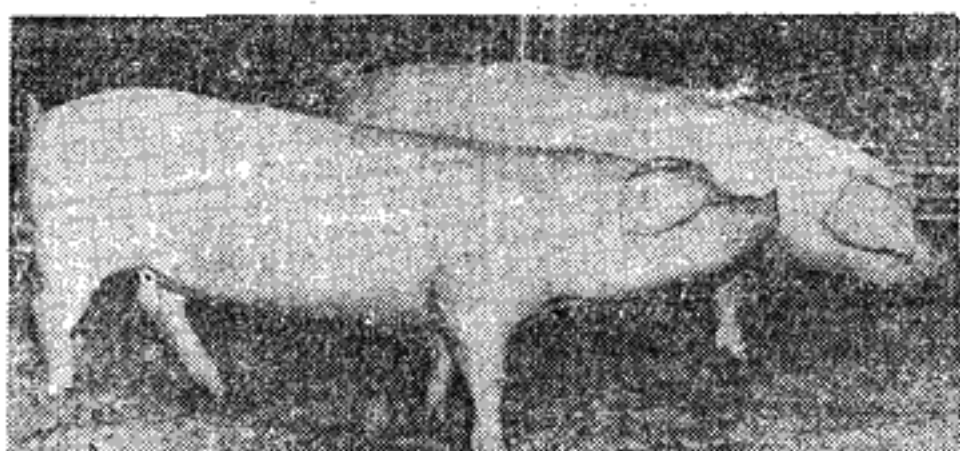

"And the first step," says API Extension Agricultural Engineer Tom Gaillard, "is to cut the stalks and litter from last year's crops. This is necessary to prevent the crop residue from interfering with the machines that are used to plant, cultivate, and harvest this year's crop," warned the specialist.

The best way to cut the stalks and litter, according to Gaillard, is to shred them with a tractor-powered rotary stalk cutter. Not only does the cutter shred the stalks and other residue, but it spreads the cut-up material over the land.

Gaillard pointed out several advantages in cutting and shredding the residue. "For example," he said, "a better job of turning the land can be obtained, and the shredded material can be completely covered. It's a good aid to insect control, too, since the insects' hiding places are destroyed. The cut material will all come in contact with the ground and will rot faster than when it is left standing. Short pieces of material left near the surface of the seedbed will not interfere with planting and cultivating equipment as much as long stalks would."

"Since the mechanical rotary cutters will cut green as well as dry materials, the stalks and other crop residue should be cut and shredded as soon as possible after a crop is harvested. This allows more time for the shredded stalks to rot."

The first aerial mine-laying mission in the South Pacific was carried out on March 20, 1943, when 42 Marine Corps "Avengers" mined the waters off southern Bougainville in a dangerous night mission.

SHAPE of things to come is seen in these streamlined porkers—"sausages not yet"—at London stock show. These prize winners are Welsh gilts, about six months old.

Agricultural Reminders
By SAM EICH
Asst. County Agent

Now is the time for Lauderdale County farmers to make decisions concerning their 1959 corn crop.

The 1958 Lauderdale County farmers made a good average yield. However while the average yield has increased, it can still be improved and there are many farmers who find themselves doing 100 per cent better than the average.

If some Lauderdale County farmers can make 95 bushels of corn per acre on their entire crop, why should anyone settle for 20 or 30? You can't make money with yields that low. And besides, it costs just as much to plow, disc, harrow, plant and cultivate a crop that produces only 30 bushels as one that yields 60. Usually the only added cost for the higher yield is the price of a little more fertilizer and hybrid seed.

On a typical farm, production cost (labor, seed and fertilizer cost, pro-rated expense of tractor and machine use, plus land charge) average about $30 per acre of corn. If each acre yields 60 bushels, planting costs will average only 50 cents per bushel, but if the yield is only 30 bushels, production costs will rise to $1.00 per bushel.

What makes the difference in yield? Many things, primarily better fertilization, closer spacing, and better seed. The following are detailed descriptions of the production practices that will result in higher yields.

LAND PREPARATION — (1) Select the right corn land. Corn should be planted on productive, well drained soil that is high in organic matter. Best yields are made on moist bottom lands and a good upland where a winter legume has been in rotation for several years, or where animal manures have been applied regularly. (2) Prepare a firm seed bed. A well prepared seed bed helps control grass and weeds. It insures better stands and makes planting, cultivating and harvesting easier and cheaper. Break the land six to eight inches deep thoroughly turning under stalks, weeds, litter, etc. Disc and harrow to pulverize and smooth the soil. If there is any winter cover crop on the land, turn the soil two to three weeks before planting. (3) Plant a good Hybrid. There are thousands of hybrids—some good, some poor. To learn which hybrids are best adapted, the API Experiment station tests 75 varieties annually at 14 locations over the state.

Using adapted hybrids will increase your yield 15 to 20 per cent above what you can get from the best open-pollinated varieties. Never plant "crib corn" saved from hybrid corn, because your yield will be reduced to average. In addition, the stalks and ears will not be uniform in size or in other characteristics.

The following is a list of corn hybrids recommended for Lauderdale County: Early Season—Funks G-95A (Yellow), Funks G-134 (Yellow), Funks G-704 (Yellow), Pfister (P.A.G.) 403 (Yellow), Pfister (P.A.G.) 631 (White), Pfister (P.A.G.) 636 (White), Pioneer 302 (Yellow), Pioneer 309 A (Yellow), U. S. 13 (White), Full Season—Coker 911 (White), Dixie 22 (Yellow), Dixie 29 (White), Dixie 55 (White) and North Carolina 42 (Yellow).

4. Choose the right grade size. The 1958 official grade sizes for Alabama certified hybrid seed corn are: extra large flats, large flats, medium flats, regular flats, small flats, large rounds, medium rounds, and regular rounds.

Which is for you?—the size and shape kernel that's right for the planter plates you use. The final yield will be the same, provided your seed is properly planted with the right plate. But rounds cost less than flats and it takes fewer pounds of the smaller grade sizes of rounds than flats to plant an acre. Your seed or implement dealer can help you determine the correct grade size for the planter plate you will use. Whatever you use, check your planter, first on a smooth surface before going to the field, and again in the field. Be sure it drops and spaces right.

5. Buy enough seed. By all means purchase the amount of seed necessary to plant your acreage properly. To make high yields you must have a regular, properly spaced stand of corn. One eared varieties should be spaced 12 to 18 inches apart in the row. Two eared varieties should be spaced 18 to 24 inches apart in the row.

6. Get good seed. The best quality seeds are the best buy for your money. Buy seed that is (1) Certified or produced by a reliable Co. or grower. (2) High in germination (90 per cent or better). (3) Graded uniformly. (4) Treated with a fungicide. (5) Free of weed seed. (6) Properly tagged with analysis tag, seed treatment tag, and, if certifications. Most Lauderdale County soils need between 60 and 90 pounds of (Nitrogen) and 30 pounds of P2O5 (phosphorous) and 30 pounds of K2O (potash) per acre. These amounts may be supplied by using 250 pounds of 4-12-12 or 125 pounds of 8-24-24 before planting. Approximately 30 days after planting—at the second cultivation—side - dress with 40 to 75 pounds of Nitrogen.

3. Following winter legumes. A good crop of winter legumes usually will supply all the nitrogen needed for corn under normal weather conditions. A "good" crop of winter legumes is one yielding 25 or more pounds of green weight per 100 square feet of field growth. The needed phosphate and potash can be supplied by 0-16-8 or 0-14-14 or 0-20-20, added either before planting the legumes or before planting the corn.

Soil test—Don't guess.

Spring Recess Begins At FSC

Spring recess for Florence State College, including Kilby Elementary School, began Wednesday afternoon at the close of class hours.

Faculty members are attending the annual meeting of Alabama Educational Association in Birmingham Thursday and Friday. One highlight of this convention is the traditional Florence Breakfast, scheduled for Friday morning at 7:45 in the ballroom at Hotel Tutwiler. Miss Pearl Sparks, longtime alumni secretary, is in charge of arrangements and is being assisted by Mrs. Delores Cole, secretary to the Department of Extension.

Miss Ruth Berry of Leighton, president of the Alumni Association, will preside and Walter McKee, former Florentine and also an alumnus, will be speaker for the occasion. Mr. McKee is superintendent of Montgomery City Schools.

Classes at Florence State will again convene Monday, March 16, at 8 o'clock.

Emergency Protection Personal Accident Policy

designed especially for

The Florence Herald

Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the insured is or becomes age 70 and over). It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Be Insured With This Helpful Protection!

Visit our newspaper office where a staff member will gladly assist you, or you may use the convenient application form printed elsewhere in this issue. Additional applications will be furnished upon request.

FSC Hosts Eastman String Quartet

The Florence State College Danforth Convocations Committee and the Music Department presented the Eastman String Quartet in two programs in Kilby Auditorium Tuesday, March 10.

At ten o'clock an informal "master classroom" was featured in which the artists combined discussion with musical illustration.

At eight o'clock that night, they played a formal concert of selections from Schubert, Debussy, and Prokofiev.

The Eastman String Quartet is regarded as one of the finest ensembles of its kind in the world. It is composed of Joseph Knitzer and John Celentano, violinists, Francis Bunda, violist, and Georges Miquelle, cellist, each of whom has gained international recognition as an outstanding musician. Their visit to the campus was made possible by the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation and the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges.

year olds), taught by W. J. McLeod, B.S.U. Secretary.

The following will direct the activities with children:
Primaries—Mrs. Douglas Lambert, First Baptist, Florence; Beginners—Mrs. J. C. Swallows, and Mrs. Grady Reed, Central Baptist Church, Florence; Nursery—Elmer Johnson, Central Baptist Church, Florence.

Classes will be held each night Monday through Friday from 7 until 9, with an inspirational period each evening under the direction of Gerald Blackburn, Montgomery.

Everyone is invited.

News Of ANDERSON By Myrtle McGraw

Three choirs from the First Baptist Church of Anderson participated in the Church Music Festival which was held at the Highland Baptist Church of Florence, Monday night, March 2. The director, Mrs. T. A. Duke was very happy with the rating received by all three choirs. The choirs were rated on the following: intonation, tone, accuracy, suitability of selections, interpretation, diction and appearance. Choirs were rated by the following letters, S (superior), E (excellent), G (good) and F (fair). The Anderson Junior choir received an S plus, the youth choir received an S- and the adult choir received E plus. Two of the members of the adult choir were unable to attend because of their work shift. Most of the members were present. We are very proud of our choirs and especially of our director. She has done a wonderful work in the four months she has been with us. A good number of the church people attended the Festival, twenty three car loads attended.

In Birmingham this week attending the Beta Club Convention from Anderson are: Doris McGraw, Jerry Roney, Edith Ann Trousdale, Martha Howell and Jackie Barnett.

The Anderson 4-H Club met Thursday, March 5, for their regular monthly meeting. The Elementary girls club was called to order by their president, Cathy Cagle. Dianne Williams, song leader, led the group in singing. The devotion was given by Gail Romine. Miss Ann Phillips, County 4-H leader then took charge of the meeting. All the girls who had made skirts, modeled them for the group and also the ones who had made aprons. The following girls made skirts: Doty Ridgeway, Doris Chambers, Joyce Ann Alexander, Dianne Williams, Sharlene Burgess, Jean Robinson, June Joiner, Jane Roney, Gail Romine, and Linda Lemay. The following made aprons: Genevieve Stutts, Barbara Noles and Shirley Word. Jean Robinson won first prize on her skirt and Linda Lemay won second. On the aprons Shirley Word won first prize and Genevieve Stutts second. Velaree Newton won first prize on her corn bread muffins and Judy Newton won second prize. Mrs. Inez Sinyard, Mrs. Jackie Williams and Mrs. Myrtle McGraw served as judges. Mrs. Valeria Ridgeway who is second vice-president was of the Anderson Home Demonstration Club was responsible for securing the judges and doing other things pertaining to the program. The Elementary 4-H Club decided to let the Cagle sisters, Cathy, Carolyn, and Marilyn represent them in the talent show to be held March 31 at the Recreation Center in Florence.

Joan Newbern won first prize on her skirt in the Junior High contest. This group decided to let five girls represent them in the talent show as follows: Sandra Trousdale as pianist, Donna Smith, Linda McGill, Pamela Goodman, and Elaine Butler, singing. Miss Phillips talked to the Junior High girls on "Self Improvement."

Mr. and Mrs. Nolen Morrison and family have moved back to their home in the Goodsprings community from Cleveland, Ohio. The Rev. T. A. Duke filled his pulpit at the First Baptist Church of Anderson Sunday at the usual time. For Sunday school there was an attendance of one hundred fifty eight and others came in for the preaching service. For training union there was an attendance of one hundred six. We were happy to have the Olen Robbins family visit with us Sunday night.

Mrs. Ben Garner has closed the cafe here in Anderson.

Mrs. L. A. McConnell was confined to her bed part of last week but is much improved at this writing.

Wallace Tucker has been dismissed from the hospital and is now at his home recuperating.

Miss Peggy McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McConnell will undergo surgery Wednesday at Dr. Jackson's Clinic.

LESLIE S. WRIGHT TO HEAD HOWARD COLLEGE

Leslie S. Wright will be inaugurated as sixteenth president of Howard College April 21 in ceremonies at the growing new campus along Lakeshore Drive in Birmingham.

Denn John A. Fincher, chairman of the Inauguration Committee, has announced that all major plans are complete for the occasion which will bring hundreds of official delegates and thousands of alumni and friends of the college to the campus.

Mr. Wright assumed the presidency Sept. 1, 1958, when the retiring president, Major Harwell G. Davis, became chancellor.

Improper care of farm machinery costs Alabama farmers thousands of dollars each year.
