The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Those who failed to attend the Shrine Circus in the new Coliseum Monday and Tuesday missed some of the finest entertainment that has come our way in many a moon. The fine new building should have been packed to the rafters at every performance but instead audiences of from 850 to 2500 greeted the four programs. The worthy cause - aid to our crippled children - for which the Shrine Club sponsored this splendid circus, should have been sufficient to attract capacity crowds - but the hard-working Shriners were let down in their efforts to provide top entertainment and at the same time earn a few pennies to support their commendable efforts. A small sum will be realized for the charitable work being done—but the sum is only a fraction of what it should have been.

Year by year we marvel at the fact that it takes less and less time to fly across the ocean and more and more time to drive to work.

It's not in the dictionary and where it got its start we do not know, but one thing is certain the person who coined the words "dirt cheap" never tried to buy top soil on today's market.

The ideal occupation, it seems, is one that doesn't keep you occupied.

Even a federal judge can make a mistake. Appearing before a federal judge in Gainesville, Ga., recently was one Harry Cotton who was charged with the manufacturing of moonshine liquor. But it turned out that the prisoner before the bar was not Harry Cotton but Harry Lauderdale, a treasury agent investigating moonshining. The case was promptly dismissed. (Natch)

A volunteer fire department didn't have much success selling tickets to its benefit dances until its members began handing out cards reading: "You come to our dance and we'll come to your fire."

The confederacy will rise again! And the British railway system will be glad to hear of it. An official of the system reported Monday that its treasury is short $50 plus the value of one rail ticket. It seems a glib young American to-turist paid for his ticket at a Scotch depot with a $50 bill and received change. "But," the official of the British railways continued, "the bill was out of date. It was issued by the Confederate States of America in 1864."

Behind every successful man you'll find a woman who, when invited to a social function cried: "I can't go—I have nothing to wear."

We'll all agree that children are truly on the ball and little passes in the home unnoticed. We are told that recently a six-year-old youngster, who had observed the manner in which his parents welcomed newcomers to the neighborhood, rushed in from play the other afternoon and announced: "Two new kids have just moved into the vacant house down the street. May I have them over for cocktails?" The great American pastime does have its drawbacks.

Steve Lux, of Waldron, Ind., will be more careful with his remarks in the future. The other day Lux, a wrestling fan, glanced out of his car window at a stop light and saw a familiar face staring at him in the next car. He turned to his wife seated by him and remarked: "There's the meathead who was wrestling last night." The wrestler overheard, got out of his car, kicked a dent in Lux's auto, smashed a window, then got back in his car and drove off.

Cable Company Changing Over To New Facility

Marked Improvement Promised TV Viewers Of Area By End Of Week

It was announced this week by Bill Mays, manager of the Muscle Shoals TV Corporation, that two new microwave towers for channels 6 and 13 are being constructed for a pick-up point on Newburg Mountain, south-east of Russellville.

Channels 6 and 13 will be microwaved to the new 250-foot tower in Weeden Heights, in Florence. Channels 8 and 15 will also be picked up at this new tower.

Previous to this change, there was only one microwave station, channel 13, Mr. Mays explained. There will now be two by the first of the year, when channel 10, an educational TV network from Birmingham, will be added.

This expansion and modernization of the TV cable system represents an expenditure of approximately $200,000, and Mr. Mays stated, "It will result in a marked improvement over all channels."

This change-over is actually taking place now. At the present signals are being fed from the Florence tower.

"The entire change should be completed by the end of this week," Mr. Mays declared. He expressed appreciation to subscribers of the TV Cable Corporation for their patience and understanding of the cable's difficulties and added that he believed everyone on the cable will be pleased with the change.

Patterson-Backed School Law Causes Filibuster, Both Houses

ANYONE FOR TENNIS?—Huge 100-foot diameter space balloon is inflated at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley Research Center, Va. Made of thin plastic coated with aluminum, the ball may be used as earth satellite or for flight to the moon. Its highly reflective surface could be seen easily from earth. Note size of worker nearby.

Late News

● The Patterson Administration said this week it was in hopes of rewriting the small loan bill in the same form in which it originally passed the House. The bill went to a six-member conference committee which was dominated by four legislators who supported the Gilchrist bill, endorsed by Patterson. The other two legislators voted for a substitute measure which came out in place of the Gilchrist bill. The conference committee will begin its work at 10 a. m. today.

● Maj. Gen. August Schomburg was named this week to succeed Maj. Gen. John E. Medaris as head of the Army's Missile Command at Redstone Arsenal. Medaris is retiring Jan. 31. Schomburg, 51, is now deputy chief of ordinance for the Army and previously chief of research and development.

● Voicing shock and amazement Tuesday, the State Department of the United States indignantly denounced as "utterly unfounded" Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's charge that it had counteracted the "bombing" of Havana by planes flying from U.S. airfields. The department also called upon Castro to review his policies before further damage is done to Cuban-American relations, and said it was seriously concerned by what appeared to be "deliberate and concerted efforts in Cuba" to build up distrust and hostility between Cubans and Americans.

● President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that he and the other Western leaders are ready and willing to hold a pre-summit conference about mid-December, but that no site has been picked, and no specific time set. As he said, these matters will be handled through diplomatic channels. Such a Western summit meeting would bring together Eisenhower, French Premier Charles de Gaulle, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

PRIVILEGE LICENSE DEADLINE OCT. 31

Injunction To Go Into Effect Unless Appealed

Steel Union Given Until Noon Today To Avoid Court Action

The United States Supreme Court was asked Wednesday by the Justice Department to let an injunction against the striking United Steelworkers go into effect unless the Union files an appeal by noon today.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Jr., filed the government's appeal before 10 a.m. Wednesday in hopes of getting quick action putting the Taft-Hartley law back into effect.

His request, technically, was to request that the high court vacate a stay ordered by the Court of Appeals in Philadelphia unless the Union acts promptly.

In the government's petition it was stated that there is a pressing need for determination by the Supreme Court of the appeal the union purposes to file.

The union indicated previously it had not intended to file before Monday for a review of the Philadelphia Court's decision. That court had upheld the injunction but had given the union six days to file an appeal.

Originally the injunction had been granted by a federal district judge in Pittsburgh. Rogers called the delay wholly unnecessary. He said if a union request for review is called by noon today the government will file a brief in opposition to it also today.

The attorney General also asked that the high court consider the union's petition Friday of this week in the light of the emergency circumstances. He asked if the court decides to hear oral arguments on the petition that a hearing be set for Monday, Nov. 2. Under such procedure he suggested the court would be in a position to give a final decision on the merits of the case within the six-day stay previously granted.

Meanwhile the Detroit Steel Corp., which had not struck, this week signed a contract with the union similar to the strike-ending pact signed by Kaiser Steel Corporation announced on Monday.

STATE VISIT—Princess Grace of Monaco chats with French Premier De Gaulle in Paris. She and her husband, Prince Rainier made an official visit to the city.

Legislature Is Scene Of Bitter Fight Over Bills

Because of Gov. John Patterson's insistence on a new school closing law, the House was plunged into a filibuster Tuesday, and that issue and another caused a filibuster in the Senate as well.

Identical bills to give the governor power to close any school threatened with integration were called upon for immediate consideration in both Houses.

One of the measures would empower the governor to close public schools; the other would give him the same authority over trade schools and colleges under the State School Board.

This would include state colleges at Florence, Jacksonville, Livingston, Troy, Huntsville and Montgomery, but would not include the University of Alabama and Alabama Polytechnic Institute which operate under their own boards of trustees, it was pointed out.

Due to another filibuster earlier over small loan legislation, bills coming from the House that had piled up for two weeks came up for reading Tuesday and Sen. E. O. Eddins of Marengo, had them read word for word. It is estimated that it will take the rest of this week and maybe more to read them.

There was evidence that Eddins was apparently trying to block a newly arrived House bill which would exempt trading stamp companies from having more than one state license and would restrict the power of cities to license them.

Rep. Robert Broadfoot of Lauderdale County brought the House to a standstill after trying in vain to keep the school closing bill from being brought up. He reintroduced the 387-page insurance measure that had been used at the onset of the 1959 session by Black Belt legislators who were determined to show they meant business in opposing legislative reapportionment, and had it read word-for-word.

Broadfoot also aimed his filibuster to top off other controversial issues, a proposed raise for State Finance Director Charles M. Meriwether and a series of bills sponsored by the trucking industry.

ANNUAL TVA DRAWDOWN ON

The annual drawdown of TVA's multiple-purpose lakes to assure their being at flood control elevations on January 1 is now in progress. This gradual lowering in advance of the flood season makes it possible to utilize the stored water through the turbines to generate electricity and thus avoid later wasting of the water.

What About The Quiz Shows?

The current quiz show scandal definitely has a sad note, not so much from the shows themselves being removed from the airways but because the public had developed a genuine affection for some of the genial personalities involved, both emcees and contestants. The innocent, in this case, must suffer along with the guilty.

It seems that the real fault lay, not so much with the contestants receiving some help along the line, but with the huge amounts offered by the big companies sponsoring the shows. The idea of $64,000 hanging on a single answer was in itself ridiculous and unreasonable. There would hardly have been fewer viewers had the amount been $6400.

But then the die was cast. The big networks needing big sponsors put on still bigger shows, shows with bigger jackpots to attract, presumably, still bigger audiences. Teddy Nadler of St. Louis, after winning the $64,000 jackpot hiked his winnings up to over a quarter of a million dollars via the "64 Thousand Dollar Challenge." Human nature being what it is, it would be hard to blame the individual for going all out to win such a pot with or without help.

"Name That Tune," emceed by personable George DeWitt, was removed from the airways by the network though it was presumably not involved in any way with the "rigging" attributed to some of the others. This show has resulted in many young people with musical ability finding real careers in the world of music. There were other shows that performed a similar service.

If it is a question of morality, give us the quiz shows in place of some of the shows that make heroes of killers and heroines of dance hall girls.

A Good Decision

Most of the confusion with respect to Mr. Eisenhower's sudden decision to shift the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has been cleared by the announcement that German-born rocket expert Wernher Von Braun and his team of scientists would be retained and that work on the super rocket Saturn would continue under their supervision at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville.

The bickering and rivalry between the armed services agencies engaged in rocket and missile research had reached the point of a national fiasco. The people were not only confused but disgusted. Mr. Eisenhower finally stepped into the gap and his decision should mark the end of our floundering around in our space program.

It is known now that NASA made an appeal for the Redstone team a year ago but nothing was done in the face of the vociferous protests of the military. However recent successes of the Soviets forced a softening of these objections and allowed work to proceed on non-military space objectives, coinciding with Von Braun's greatest interest—getting man to the moon and into outer space. Von Braun has long protested this nation's lag behind the Russians and even now with large appropriations predicts it will take at least five years to catch up.

This nation is further behind in big vehicles capable of boosting really big loads into space and work on the super rocket Saturn has proceeded with this objective uppermost in the minds of our space scientists. The space shakeup therefore has a healthy note. If it ends our complacency it will have accomplished much.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RAILROAD ADVERTISEMENT COVERED ENTIRE COUNTRY

Editor: With the advertisement "Railroad featherbedding, $500,000,000 Loss" which appeared recently in your newspaper, the Association of American Railroads broke advertising precedent to include every daily and weekly newspaper of general circulation in the United States in a single, massive-coverage ad schedule.

Nearly 10,000 newspapers, ranging from the largest metropolitan dailies to the smallest home-town weeklies and blanketing every section of the nation, received this railroad advertisement simultaneously. In railroad advertising, this was an historic first. Consequently, we feel sure you will be interested in the story behind the ad.

In line, this was a relatively modest ad (we wish it could have been larger), but it had a king-size job to do. It carried a message of vital importance to all America—and we believe it deserves to be read by all the American people. That's the down-to-earth reason it was scheduled to run in all American newspapers.

There's another reason we believe this ad merits nation-wide, massive circulation. It was designed to present the basic principle on which American railroads will stand when labor-management negotiations open next month on the elimination of costly featherbedding and make-work practices among the operating crafts of the railroad industry.

The simple principle which the railroads are determined to re-establish in the operation of their industry is the traditional code of honorable employment in America—A Fair Day's Work for a Fair Day's Pay.

That principle, we believe, is so fundamental to our American way of life we are fully confident the vast majority of the people in this country will insist that it be respected and restored in the railroad industry—once they know that archaic make-work and featherbedding practices are rampant in railroad.

That's the story behind this ad, which we hope will reach every reader of every American newspaper.

Today, every citizen shares in paying a monumental featherbedding bill of $500,000,000 a year for work not needed or not performed in railroad operations. That staggering loss to the industry and to the nation's economy can be—and we believe must be—eliminated by common understanding between management and labor that a Fair Day's Work for a Fair Day's Pay will be the basis of every new work agreement.

We think you will approve of this principle. If you have any questions on the subject, I would welcome an opportunity to provide the answers.

Sincerely,
J. Handly Wright
Vice President

Border Disputes Unabated In India

Prime Minister Nehru of India declared Saturday that the situation in the disputed border areas, where 17 Indian policemen were reported slain by Chinese Reds last week, is causing grave danger. In his call for calm, Nehru scolded those who demand that force be met with force, and said, "The situation has caused and is continuing to cause grave anxiety, but I do not say there will be war with China on this issue."

Soviets May Pull Out of Hungary

Announcement is expected to be made soon of complete withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary by Hungarian Communist Chief Janos Kadar, it was reported by diplomatic sources Sunday. Kadar was reported planning to make the announcement at the seventh party congress scheduled to open in Budapest, Nov. 30. De Gaulle Favors Summit Delay

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, eager for a summit conference, will travel to Paris to see French President Charles de Gaulle who wants to delay the Big Four meeting, it was announced Friday. The time was not announced but presumably he would go to France in November, after the Oct. 28 Supreme Soviet (parliament) which sits for a week. De Gaulle is reported to want to put the meeting off until early spring, and that his opposition stemmed from his desire to meet Khrushchev on the same footing as the other two Western leaders.

Dead were Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Wheeler Bird of Sandy Spring, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Glover of Huntsville. The Glover's 3-year-old son was listed in critical condition at a hospital in Huntsville. Also admitted to the hospital were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wheeler Bird, Jr., of Huntsville. Highway Patrolman Frank Kelley said the Glover car failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection. Instead, the car pulled around a car stopped at the sign and went into the highway, colliding with the Bird's car.

Shooting Results In Death Of One At Gas Station

Jerry Jeffers Killed In Argument On Friday; Robert Martin Wounded

As a result of a shooting scrape early Friday, Oct. 23, Jerry Jeffers, 20, of 1635 Ridge Avenue, Florence was killed from five gunshot wounds in the stomach, and Robert Martin, 23, also of Florence, is in critical condition due to a 22 caliber bullet wound in the stomach.

The shootings occurred inside the Pure Oil Station of which Martin is a co-owner, between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Friday morning. Two unidentified witnesses who had been with both men earlier in the evening and who were at the station when the shooting began, told officers of hearing an argument and seeing Martin reach into a drawer and get a pistol. They also heard something about "crooked dice" just before the shootings.

The four had been riding around in Jeffers' car until midnight. They drove Martin back to the station, where he went to sleep in an old car parked at the station. Later, the three returned to the station, as Jeffers said he wanted to talk to Martin. He went over to the car in which Martin was sleeping and woke him up, and they both went into the station.

Captain James Thomason of the Police Department and Officers Jenkins and Fisher answered a call to the station at 4:48 a.m. The call came from a party who did not give his name.

It was reported that Martin, wounded once in the stomach, was able to drive himself to ECM Hospital before being confined. Martin fired at Jeffers with a foreign-made automatic pistol, hitting him five times.

Captain James Carter and Detective Earl Romine planned further questioning of the witnesses and indicated that charge would be held pending results of the questioning and the condition of the one surviving participant in the case.

Ex-Alcoholic To Address Meeting

Public Invited To Legion Home Sunday To Hear About AA Program

How does a person become an alcoholic in the first place, and how can an alcoholic learn to live a sober and useful life.

These questions will be answered in a public meeting Sunday at the home of Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion, 318 S. Court Street. The meeting, to which the public is invited (without charge) will start at 2 p.m. It will be an "area" meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous groups from Middle Tennessee, northwest Mississippi and north Alabama, with an estimated 100 alcoholics present, with members of their families.

The principal speaker will be a prominent Mississippi attorney—once a hopeless alcoholic who has remained entirely sober for seven years by following the AA program—who will frankly recount his personal experience with alcoholism and will explain in detail the program through which he found relief from the nearly fatal illness.

Following the meeting, a social hour will be enjoyed, with coffee and refreshments served by members of the Legion Auxiliary assisting members of the Tri-Cities Al-anon Group, relatives of alcoholics who are following the program of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Morning Ceremony Marks Krieger-Hammond Nuptials

St. Michael's Catholic Church in St. Florian was the setting on Saturday morning, October seven-teenth, of the wedding of Marie Krieger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krieger of St. Florian, and Donald Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hammond of Lawrenceburg, Tennessee.

The tableau formed against an altar background of Boston ferns and basket arrangements of white gladioli interspersed with branch- candelabra of burning white tapers. Father Sylvester Fangman, O.S.B., minister of the church, read the nine o'clock vows follow- ing a musical program presented by Sister Cornelia Beckman, O.S.B., organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and a nylon tulle over white taffeta. The molded bodice was distinguished by a scalloped V-neckline re-embroidered in sequins, and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands and the voluminous floor-length skirt was detailed with in- sets of matching lace. Her veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of pearl-encrusted lace and her bouquet was fashioned of white carnations and lilies of the valley showered with white satin streamers.

Attending her sister, Miss Angela Krieger was in blue net over taffeta designed with close-fitting bodice, scalloped neckline and full, patio-length skirt. Her flow- ers were pink carnations.

Denise Hammond, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl and wore a blue frock of identical design. Kenneth Mecke, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Andrew Krieger, also a cousin of the bride, was Mr. Hammond's best man and ushers included Cleo Hammond and John Krieger, Jr.

Mrs. Krieger chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of crepe with winter white acces- sories and Mrs. Hammond wore a grey suit with pink and black accessories. White carnation cor- sages enhanced the attire of each.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception- ists at the family home. Assis- ting with the courtesies were Mrs. Otto Hammond, Mrs. Cleo Ham- mond, Mrs. Joe Eck, Mrs. Alois Krieger and Mrs. Louis Zierer.

Before leaving for their honey- moon, the bride changed to a suit of Dior blue and black with which she wore black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Betty Frances England Weds Albert Cunningham Heaslett

Wearing white lace over bridal satin, Betty Frances England ex- changed nuptial vows with Albert Cunningham Heaslett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heaslett of Fayetteville, Tennessee, on Saturday, October twenty-fourth, in First Baptist Church of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer England, 630 North Wood Avenue, are par- ents of the bride.

The Reverend John DeFoore, minister of the church, heard the pledges at three o'clock in the afternoon following appropriate selections by Mrs. LeRoy Doster, organist, and Mrs. Richard Free- man, vocalist.

Tall white baskets of white blossoms and branch- candelabra of burning white tapers flanked a white trellis entwined with greenery to mark the altar setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Distinguishing fea- tures of her wedding gown were the close-fitting bodice with Sab- rina neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the hands. The full-length, hooped skirt, with tiers of lace at the front, extended into a chapel train. A cap of lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls, caught her fingertip veil of illusion and with her white Bible, a gift from her maids, she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and flowers of amour clus- tered about a single white orchid.

Mrs. Leonard Patterson of Mo- bile served as honor attendant and bridesmaids were Miss Helen Crowder, Miss Evelyn Vickery and Miss Nancy Heaslett of Fayetteville, the latter a sister of the bridegroom. They wore Nile green taffeta frocks with lace overskirts caught at the back with taffeta bows. Connie Fuller, cousin of the bride and flower girl, was in yellow net over taffeta, identi- cally styled. Velvet bows with tiny veils were their headresses and yellow and white mums fash- ioned their bouquets.

Peter Abt of Albany, Georgia, was Mr. Heaslett's best man and ushers included William King, Gerald Smith and Leonard Pat- terson, all of Mobile.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. England wore aqua lace over taffeta with matching feathered hat and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception- ists in Fellowship Hall of the church. Assisting were Miss Virginia Flynt, Mrs. Ben Moore, Mrs. Goodwin Young, Mrs. Edwin Gregory, Mrs. S. M. Eich, Miss Martha Fulmer, Mrs. Wesley Flynt, Mrs. Phil Anderson and Mrs. T. McLeod, all of Flo- rence. Mr. W. A. Lorister of Bir- mingham and Mrs. Frank Wyatt of Vincent.

For travel, Mrs. Heaslett chose a moss green suit of wool with pink trim, a small pink hat and brown accessories. At her shoulder she wore the orchid from her bou- quet.

Upon their return from a Caro- lina honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Heaslett will be at home on Fran- cis Avenue in Florence.

Perkins-Frost Engagement Told

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Elie Le Per- kins, 119 Baker Drive, Florence, of the engagement and approach- ing marriage of their daughter, Glenda Arline, to Robert Carmon Frost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmon A. Frost of Sheffield.

The bride-elect was graduated from Coffee High School and at- tended Florence State College and her fiancé, a graduate of Sheffield High School, is presently a student at Florence State.

Wedding plans will be announ- ced later.

Prenuptial Fete Miss Jeanette Bowlin

Among the courtesies extended in honor of Miss Jeanette Bowlin, bride-elect of Billy J. Hale, was the recent party hosted by Mrs. James D. Ingram and Mrs. Bobby Mitchell when guests included six of the honoree's school classmates.

The Ingram home at 218 North Patton was made festive for the occasion with arrangements of colorful fall flowers. Wearing a frock of peach-colored wool with bell-shaped skirt, Miss Bowlin received informally with her hostesses during the evening hours.

A gift tea, hosted by Mrs. James A. Kendall and Mrs. James G. Leigh, was another of the pre- nuptial affairs which are honoring the bride-to-be.

Using yellow as their party col- or, the Kendall home at 110 Elm- wood Drive, Sheffield, was gayed with a profusion of yellow blossoms throughout the party rooms and the refreshment table, veiled in a cloth of white lace, was cen- tered with crystal punch bowl garlanded with yellow florets and sprigs of greenery.

Games were featured during the evening and Mrs. Robert Lyons and Mrs. Robin Cooke were awarded prizes.

Guests numbered about twenty- five.

Albert Lee Wright, 33, a resident of 809 Terrace Street, Florence and a commercial fisherman, accidentally fell from his small fishing boat Wednesday, Oct. 21, and was drowned just below O'Neal Bridge.

"What's the word? - - - RAZE THE RAIDERS!"

The batcetry of the 1959 Florence State student body re-sounds around the campus as FSC prepares for the extra big Homecoming activities upcoming Saturday.

Getting things off to a flaming start will be the cheerleaders at the bon-fire pep rally Friday night at 8:30 in the area below Powers Hall.

Breaking "non-sleep" records will be the students working on the dorm decorations and float committees.

Work has already begun on some of the decorations. Campus decorations will be judged independently by a small group of judges and prizes will be awarded the winner.

The float on which the Queen and her Court will ride is being built by Kappa Mu Epsilon, winners of the 1958 competition.

The Homecoming Parade will begin at 11 a.m. on Saturday. Kick-off time for the FSC-Middle Tennessee State College ballgame will be 2 p.m. in Coffee Stadium.

Receiving special recognition during Homecoming are the classes of 1949 and 1950.

Following the game a barbecue supper will be served in the college cafeteria at 5 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $1.25.

The final event will be the semi-formal dance in the gym at 8 p.m. The Virginia Robbins sextet will furnish the sweet and hot tunes until midnight. Admission will be $2.00-tag or drag.

According to Paul Campbell, dance committee chairman, the gym will be transformed into "Club Bohemian" with a modern and realistic art decor. During intermission, a professional group will furnish the entertainment.

Breathless excitement filled the air as the 1959 Homecoming Queen and the Court were announced.

Wearing the royal crown Saturday will be Joan White, Fayette junior. Joan will be crowned Homecoming Queen during the halftime of the football game and the Queen and her Court will be presented in the lead-out at the dance.

The Royal Court consists of eight lovely coeds: Margaret Britton, Stevenson; Nell Wade, Phil Campbell; Jane Elkins, Mt. Hope; Madeline Hillman, Florence; Jane Blair, Florence; Nadine Jumper, Sulligent; Glenette Holaway, Arab; and Ida Meeker, Stevenson.

Ballots were cast—votes counted—Miss Charming elected!

Petite Sharon Fogg, freshman from Athens, was chosen as the most charming girl in the freshman class last week during Charm Week.

Miss Charming and the runners-up were presented at the Fashion Show Thursday night.

Runners-up included Bonnie Crowell, Sharon Dahlke, Jo Anne Norton, and Frances Henson.

One of the most active groups on campus, the Rehearsal Club, has selected the cast for their November 9, 10, 11 production, "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde.

Members of the cast are: Robert Scogin, Donald Harcheid, Julian Phillips, Don Jackson, Lane Bruce, Elizabeth Scott, Doris Cox, Janice Johnson, and Mary Tom Baker.

Director is Miss Gladys Shepard. Aiding her will be assistant director and stage manager, William Stephens.

Tobacco plants should be treated for insects just before setting in the field.

Work Progresses On Natchez Trace

It was announced recently that a contract has been awarded by the National Park Service to Ballew and Roberts Construction Company, Inc., of Sheffield, to resurface the surface on the 34 mile paved portion of the Natchez Trace Parkway between U.S. Highway 64 in Tennessee and Alabama Highway Route 20 in Alabama.

It is planned to do the work in three sections in order to inconvenience park visitors as little as possible. The first section will be a 15 mile stretch between U.S. Highway 64 and the parkway access road at Collinswood, Tenn. A four mile section from Collinswood south to the Tennessee Highway 13 access road will be constructed and last will be from Tenn. 13 to Alabama Highway 20. It will be necessary to close the parkway during construction, but will be open on Sundays and at night.

Other major contracts include bridges and grade operations.

Miss Gravlee To Head Dimes Drive

1960 Campaign To Be Launched In January On Nation-Wide Scale

Miss Pauline Gravlee, Florence, has been appointed Lauderdale County Director for the 1960 March of Dimes, it was announced by Dr. Frank Rose and Thomas Parker, State Campaign Co-chairmen. The drive will be held during the month of January.

"I am confident that the people of Lauderdale County, who helped make possible victory over polio through their contributions to the March of Dimes over the past 20 years, will give even greater support to the National Foundation's expanded program in the future," the county director said.

This year Alabama had eight times more polio cases by the end of September than the entire total for 1958. The state also ranked second in the nation in number of cases per population count.

Miss Gravlee stressed that while solution of the problem of arthritis and birth defects are the immediate new goals of the March of Dimes, the organization also will follow leads as they develop in the fields of virus research and studies of the central nervous system. Polio experience has demonstrated that basic research cannot effectively be limited to single disease categories, she explained.

"The National Foundation, already conducting the largest research, patient aid and professional education programs of any voluntary health agency, will now be an organized medical force with specific goals at first but flexible enough to meet new health problems as needed."

"Arthritis and birth defects were chosen as initial targets because they are regarded as major threats to the nation's health to which the experience and skills gained in the polio fight can be applied," she said.

Polack Brothers Pleases Crowds

While attendance at the Shrine-sponsored Polack Brothers Circus at the coliseum in Florence Monday and Tuesday was disappointing, those who missed the splendid show missed a rare treat.

Grownup and youngsters alike saw a real circus in action with nothing missing but the "big top." Polack Brothers aggregation of fine acts was brought to Florence under the auspices of the Muscle Shoals Shrine Club for the benefit of its crippled children's fund.

Record Is Broken By Blood Donors At Florence State

Three Hundred Seven Pints Given Thursday On Campus At FSC

On the whole there is nothing particularly remarkable about long lines at Florence State College — registration lines, chow lines, football lines —

But there WAS something remarkable about the blood donor line of students, faculty and staff Thursday—337 strong broke an all-time record in Lauderdale County. Three hundred seven pints of blood were given, the greatest total for this area.

From 8 a.m. when Red Cross Bloodmobile operations began until well after four o'clock, the only break was the noon hour.

Sponsored on the campus by the Cadet Officers Corps of which James Eady, Rogersville, is president, the groundwork had been carefully laid. "It was the result of planning by Otis L. Peacock who is Red Cross chairman in this county, and of the Blood Bank chairman Harold Hammond, together with the enthusiastic leadership of Col. Fallwell that helped us accomplish the job," Eady commented.

Mr. Hammond, in and out of Kilby Auditorium during the course of the day, expressed tremendous admiration and gratification.

"Last Spring's total was 79. The largest previous total was 244 in the Spring of '56. We are certainly proud of the work done by the Corps," he said.

Working with Cadet Captain Eady were: Cadet Captain Sam Williams, Company A; Cadet Captain Jerry White, Company B; Cadet Captain Don York, Company C; Cadet Captain George Clemmons, Company D; and Master Sergeant George Ingleright, Band Company.

Government Uses Aluminum Tags

New Reynolds-Made Licenses Cost Less And Last Much Longer

Alabama-made aluminum is "going on the road" in license plates for thousands of government cars and trucks.

Aluminum sheet produced by the big Reynolds Metals Co. aluminum making and fabricating plants at the Listerhill plant site, is being used to make the federal government's new long-lasting license tags.

The switch to aluminum license plates will save the government about 30 per cent, Reynolds officials said. "The aluminum plates initially cost four cents less than permanent tags of other metals, are easier to fabricate and less expensive to ship," explained John P. Neely, manager of the machinery and equipment market for Reynolds Metals Company.

Shipping costs are reduced 66 per cent because aluminum tags weigh just one third as much as the present government steel plates, Neely said.

Administration costs are also decreased since less record keeping will be necessary with aluminum plates lasting a vehicle's lifetime.

Fabrication costs are smaller because the Colorweld aluminum arrives at the plant in large sheets or coils with the background color already applied, eliminating individual painting of the plates. The numbers merely have to be stamped on and then roller-coated with a contrasting paint.

Fifteen states have adopted aluminum plates to obtain savings of longer life, lower mailing costs, and reduced manufacturing costs. The 15 states are Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Aluminum to make the new plates was produced by the Reynolds Listerhill Reduction Plant near Sheffield and was rolled into sheet by the adjoining Reynolds Alloys Plant where work is well along on a major expansion program highlighted by the world's largest rolling mill.

Some 4,000 Alabama residents are employed at Reynolds plants here with an annual payroll of about $25,000,000. It is the biggest aluminum operation in the state and the largest of the world-wide Reynolds plant operations.

Purchasing foods in quantity or in large packages is usually a saving, but only if there is proper storage to keep the food in good condition until it is used.

Dr. George McDonald was introduced to the club as a new member.

383 IN ALABAMA SLATED FOR NOVEMBER DRAFT CALL

State Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr. disclosed today that Alabama will call 383 men to the induction station to fill the state's November Selective Service quota.

The State Director said that the November national call is for 9,000, the same as for October. All are earmarked for army duty. Lauderdale County will supply eight men.

Thompson pointed out that, as usual, individual county calls are based on the available registrants in each county already examined and acceptable. The Alabama quota will include only volunteers, delinquents, and registrants in Class I-A and Class I-A-O, without children.

Cloverdale P.T.A. will meet at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 5 at the school cafeteria for their Thanksgiving fellowship supper. Each one is asked to bring a covered dish.

Nothing gives you more hot water... faster... than an electric water heater. And the electric water heater costs less to operate! The secret to this low-cost is our "stair-step" rate... the more electricity you use... the less you pay for each kilowatt hour.

In the average home, an electric water heater will use about 350 kilowatt hours a month. The exact amount that you pay for this much electricity will depend on how much electricity you now use. But in most cases, the electricity for water heating will be charged on our next to the last "step". On this "step", you pay only four-tenths of a cent for each kilowatt hour... Or, only four and two-thirds cents a day to heat water electrically!

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Make-Believe

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Philippians	1	15-19
Monday	Luke	13	22-30
Tuesday	Philippians	4	12-13
Wednesday	Job	11	15-19
Thursday	Columians	4	12-13
Friday	Matthew	19	12-15
Saturday	Romans	11	33-36

This is make-believe . . . tying a bundle to a stick and pretending to set forth upon a great journey. His lively little imagination glows as he thinks of all the things that will happen on his adventure. Maybe, right around that bend in the road, he'll run smack into a big brown bear . . .

And because that's a "scary" idea, he takes off his hat, puts down his bundle, and contents himself with playing blocks in the middle of the living room floor. Yes . . . it's fun to make-believe. But only when you can do it right in the safety of your own home!

Home, just now, is his place. In it, he feels a wonderful sense of security, basking in his parents' love, knowing by instinct that they are there to help and guide him. At night when he kneels to say his prayers, his mother tells him the beautiful story of Christ. She is preparing him for the day when he will go to Church School, when he will become part of the Church. She knows that, during his life, when he actually sets forth upon journeys, the Church will be his home, and that it will help protect and guide him when she cannot.

New Terms For Swine Producers

A whole new vocabulary is open to today's hog producer. To keep up with fellow breeders, the modern swine producer must understand such terms as production registry, or simply PR; certified meat-type breeding; certified sires; and super certified sires. A good way to stay up-to-date on purebred breed magazine or journal, says API Extension Hog Marketing Specialist Ray Cavender. "For example, if you report litter size and weights at a certain age to your national breed association, you are doing production registry work. Also, if you are doing on-the-farm testing, you are attempting to certify a meat-type litter. This is done by selecting two pigs to be slaughtered from the PR litter at the weights of 180 to 230 pounds. If these two pigs pass the rate of gain and carcass requirements, the litter is recognized as a certified meat-type litter."

If you produce five certified litters from different sows but the same boar, this boar becomes a certified meat sire, explains the specialist. Two terms that are often confused are certified brucellosis-free herd and certified meat-type breeding. According to Cavender, certified brucellosis-free means that all breeding animals in the herd have been checked by a qualified veterinarian and were found free of the disease. This type of herd has no relationship to certified meat-type breeding. However, purebred breeders should have certified brucellosis free herds and work for certified meat-type litters.

Winter Legumes Will Raise Profits

Winter legumes are not only important for winter grazing but also for improving the soil and controlling erosion.

And these are only a few of their good points, says API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery. Sixty years of research by the API Extension Station have shown that winter legumes are necessary in a good farming program.

Since legumes are planted in the fall, they don't interfere with the production of other crops, points out the agronomist. And they are turned in the spring when other farm work is usually not heavy.

Winter legumes add nitrogen to the soil and help prevent erosion and leaching. The plants can be grazed until late February or early March and still be turned in time to plant corn. In addition, legumes do not require cultivation. They can be planted by tractor or mule in row crop middles or after other crops are harvested.

Set your machine for a medium to long stitch, about 10 to 12 per inch, when sewing with wash-and-wear fabrics.

BY BOB COLLINS

As expected the USDA has announced that Choice "B" cotton producers in 1960 may overplant their 'regular' allotment by 40 per cent. Choice "A" cotton will be supported at not less than 75 per cent of parity and Choice "B" cotton will be supported at 15 per cent of parity less than the "A" support. All supports being subject to recent legislation setting limitations. . . and this gets pretty complicated. . . we'll talk about some of the angles of the limitations of supports in the near future.

Of course this allotment is subject to the cotton farmers approving marketing quotas and the referendum will be called on Dec. 15 for the balloting. . . if quotas are not approved, supports will be at the 50 per cent level. . . last year the quotas were approved by more than 92 per cent of the voters. . . not much doubt but what the quotas will be approved again this year. . . prior to the referendum, the farmer will receive notice of his allotment's size.

Meeting Planned

On October 31 there'll be in industry-wide meeting in New Orleans to consider ways (and recommend changes in current regulations) to enable the private cotton trade to return to a more effective function under free enterprise. . . of prime concern, and certain to receive priority consideration, are the future exchanges, which have been hit hard by the government interference in the cotton business. . . meeting called by New Orleans Cotton Exchange.

New Cleaner

A new cotton air cleaner has been developed by the USDA Southern Research Lab at New Orleans. The new cleaner operates at about 40 per cent efficiency. . . present cleaners operate at about 15 per cent. . . see what research can do!

Quality

While quality is the prime concern to the producer, many farmers are tossing up to $30 per bale out the window by a very foolish practice. . . tramping down their cotton in the trailers they haul to the gin.

Cotton Xmas

Not too early to start thinking about cotton Christmas gifts. . . if you do your shopping early you'll be certain of being able to get correct sizes, colors, etc. . . give a cotton gift for Christmas.

Protect Combine During Winter

An important piece of equipment such as the seed and grain combine can be badly damaged if left unprotected during the winter.

You're taking too great a risk when you don't properly store the combine, says API Extension Engineer J. T. Gaillard. Be sure that the cylinder, elevators, and straw racks are completely clean. Remove the canvas and belts and store them in a dry place that is protected from rats and other animals.

According to the engineer, the cutter bar should be removed, serviced, and repaired. Then replace it so it will be ready for next season's harvest. Before storing the combine, check for worn or broken parts, and lubricate all of the moving parts and grease fittings to prevent rust. Store the machine under a shed or in a building, and place it on blocks to remove the weight from the tires.

Gaillard advises keeping animals and chickens away from the combine—they could injure themselves or damage the equipment.

Noise And Misuse Affects Dairy Cows

The same gland that is affected by human emotions can affect the milk letdown in dairy cows.

When a cow becomes scared or excited, the level of adrenaline in the blood stream increases, explains API Extension Dairyman John Parrish. The adrenaline, in turn, counteracts another substance that causes milk letdown. Therefore, a cow that is mistreated or distracted by noises cannot be expected to properly let down milk.

Parrish points out that anything that interferes with normal milk letdown will reduce the amount of milk given.
