

HURRAH FOR KENNEDY—These youngsters in Suncook, N.H., decided to hold their own election a day before their elders went to the polls in the state's primaries. The result: Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) won over Vice President Nixon, 13 to 12, and the Democratic "voters" are whooping it up.

Florence State Alumni Breakfast Friday Morning

Interesting Program To Be Presented During AEA; Norton To Speak

Charles W. Barr, Alumni president, and Florence State President E. B. Norton, mailed letters to all college alumni several weeks ago saying, "We hope you will make the Florence Breakfast Friday morning the social highlight of your AEA stay in Birmingham."

A record crowd is expected. This annual breakfast is for all Florence State alumni, whether teachers or not, and tickets may be bought at the Tutwiler cigar counter or at the College headquarters on the Tutwiler mezzanine.

One of the features of the program will be short talk by Dr. Norton. Mrs. H. J. English will offer the invocation, and music for the event is under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Porter. Walter E. Urban will play a piano solo.

Officers of the Association with Mr. Barr are Miss Bernice Hester, vice-president; Mrs. English, secretary-treasurer; Miss Pearl Sparks, Florence State College; is longtime executive secretary.

Assisting with the breakfast are the following: Otis L. Peacock, chairman; Mrs. M. M. Adams; Mrs. Delores Cole, W. L. Davis, John Finley, H. H. Floyd, Miss Katherine Forney, R. C. Fuller, J. Noel Glascock and Miss Ellen Moore.

Alexander, of Havelock, North Carolina; one brother, John C. Massenburg, of Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Alton J. Dupuy of Athens, and Mrs. Marion Oden of Brentwood, Tenn.; three grandchildren.

Insurance Firm Merger Approved

Muscle Shoals Life To Merge With Kentucky Central Company

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Muscle Shoals Life Insurance Company Thursday, the stockholders voted unanimously in favor of a proposed merger with the Kentucky Central Life and Accident Insurance Company, Anchorage, Alaska.

Out of the authorized 180,231 shares 76.7 per cent were voted either in proxy or in person. The merger is to be effective immediately. The basis for the merger is: One unit consisting of one share voting and nine shares common non-voting Kentucky Central stock for 85 shares of Muscle Shoals stock.

Paul T. Carr, Vice-President of Kentucky Central told the meeting of Kentucky Central's plans for development in the State of Alabama. Operations in Alabama will be continued from the Company's office at 1550 Florence Blvd., Florence, which will be known as the Muscle Shoals District and will under the direction of Edmond M. Smith, who is moving to Florence to take up his new duties.

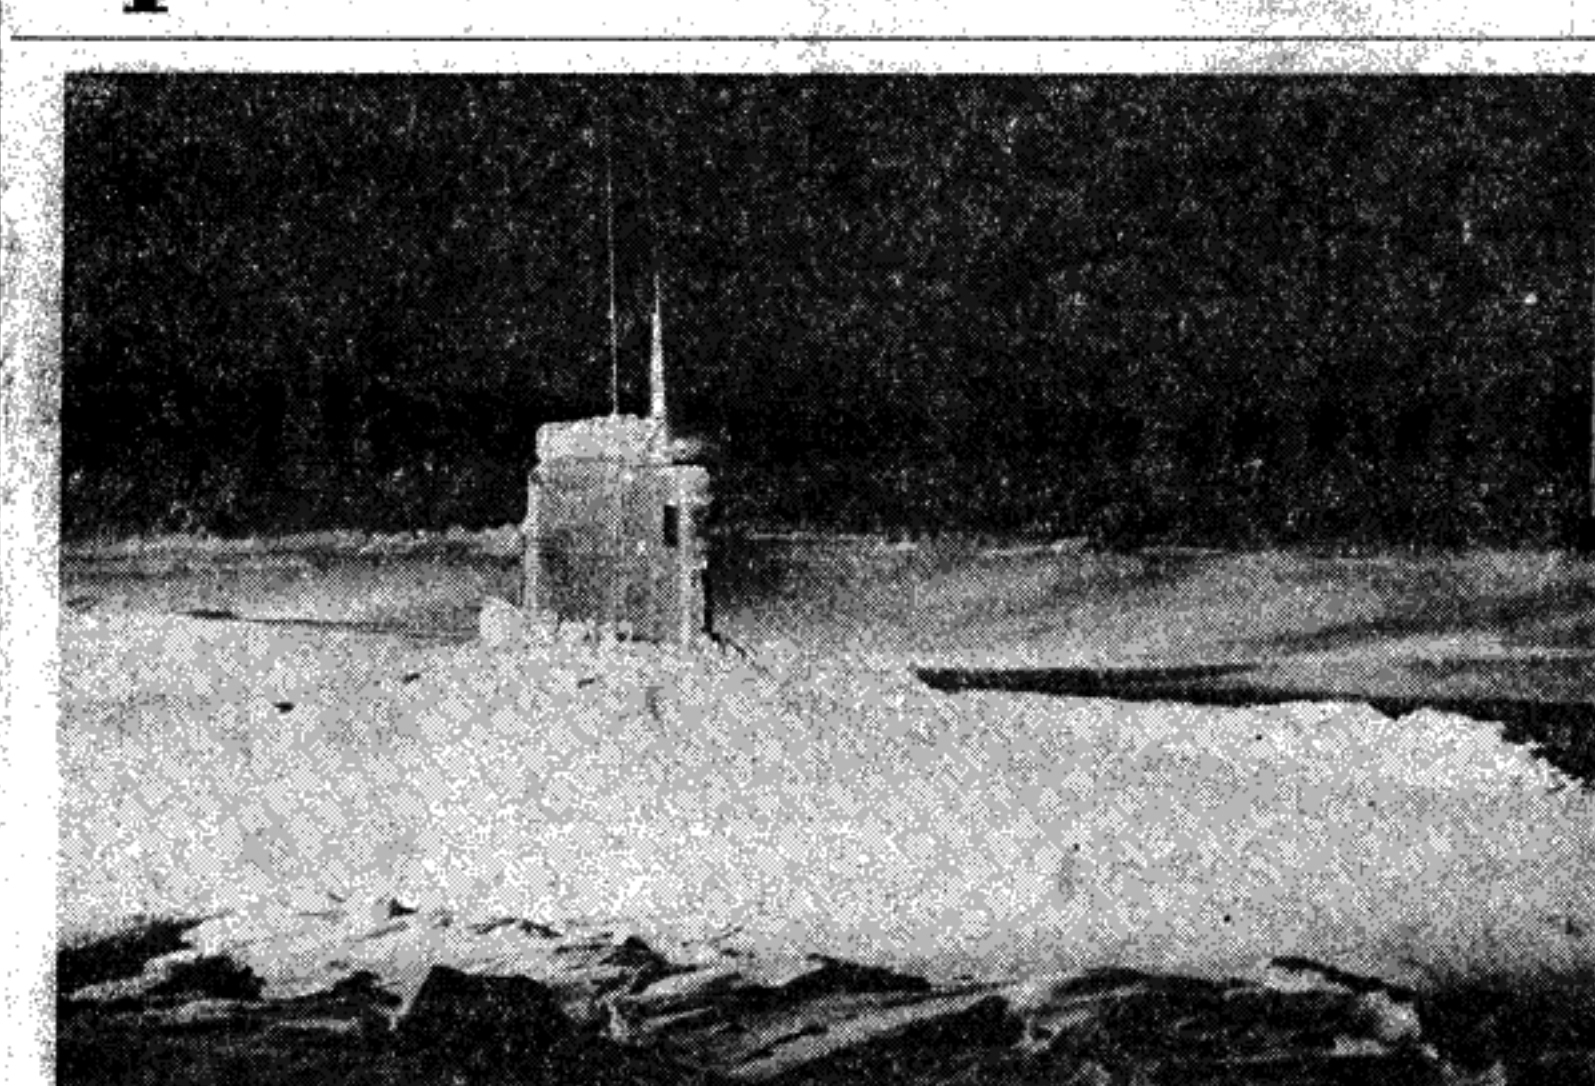

H. G. Williams is to remain with the Company after the merger as Special Representative and will assist in the development and expansion program.

Founded in 1902, Kentucky Central is the oldest Life Insurance Company in Kentucky, has assets in excess of $25,000,000, $170,000,000 Life Insurance in force and Capital and Surplus of $4,800,000.

Delegates to the 75th Alabama Education Association convention in Birmingham today and Friday will confront one of the most crucial problems in the history of Alabama schools. An estimated 10,000 teachers and other school officials are attending the sessions which will continue through Friday night.

White AEA officials state that no official action is expected relative to the school fund problem, the threat to teacher salaries will be the primary topic in the informal discussions.

Anti-American feeling among Cuban revolutionaries soared to new heights Tuesday as "Death to Eisenhower" slogans blared out in Havana's Central Park, located in the heart of the city. The historic park was the center for some of the strongest propaganda attacks against the U.S. yet unleashed. Such phrases as "Death to Eisenhower" and "Let the Yankees come, we will show them how to fight," were blasted over loud speakers while signs bearing the words "Our country or death" were nailed to trees.

The bodies of 12 of the 18 miners entombed for more than a week in a fire-ravaged mine near Logan, W. Va., were found Tuesday, ending seven desperate days of rescue efforts. West Virginia Mines Director Crawford L. Wilson said, with reference to the six miners still missing, "All the men are presumed dead. Although they haven't found the others yet. The victims were found huddled in an abandoned section about three miles from the pithead."

President Eisenhower Wednesday publicly endorsed Vice President Nixon as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination, as he made it plain in a news conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point, has no opposition for the nomination.

The Soviet Union Tuesday proposed that the United States, the U.S.S.R. and Red China cut their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each within an 18 month period. Making the proposal was Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin to the 10-nation disarmament conference at a closed session during which the five Western allies formally submitted their three-stage plan to halt the arms race. The Western plan, made public Tuesday, was received coolly by the Soviets.

More than 500 Negroes were arrested Tuesday in a protest against Southern segregation practices. Seventy-seven Negro students were arrested in Atlanta when they made a concerted effort to integrate 10 Atlanta cafeterias and lunch counters, including one at the Georgia Capitol. About 400 Negroes were arrested at Orangeburg, S. C., when they staged an anti-segregation demonstration and another group of about 100 was dispersed by a fire hose. The Atlanta incidents were the first large-scale sit-down attempts in Georgia and were met with firm action by police.

MISS WALKER ELECTED STATE BETA CLUB SPONSOR

Miss Katherine Walker, biology teacher at Rogers High School, was elected state sponsor of the Beta Clubs of Alabama at the recent Beta Club convention in Birmingham. The state sponsor is elected by the sponsors of the 200 Beta Clubs in the state.

Miss Walker, who has been Beta Club sponsor at Rogers for the past eight years, will act as official hostess at the 1961 convention and will serve as the liaison officer between the sponsors of the Beta Clubs and the Beta Club Council, the governing body.

FSC Faculty Unit Endorses Stand Of AEA Delegates

Resolution Calls Upon Responsible Officials To Settle School Problem

The Florence State College Faculty Unit of the Alabama Education Association unanimously endorsed the stand taken by the Assembly of Delegates of the AEA on February 20, 1960, in opposition to any stretch-out school or college terms at the expense of teachers and/or other employed school personnel through reductions in salaries.

The resolution stated in part "that we subscribe to and call upon all state, county, and city authorities having official responsibility for the financial support and the legal operation of our system of public education to adhere to the moral principle that commitments made and accepted in good faith should be faithfully kept."

It also said "we publicly express our deep concern not only for the relatively low level of teachers' salaries in Alabama schools and colleges in comparison with teachers' salaries in the remainder of the nation, but more especially for the apparent lack of sufficient stability to guarantee full payment of such salary schedules as have been duly established in compliance with law."

The Florence State resolution further stated "we commend the actions being taken generally throughout Alabama by local teacher associations in making known their unalterable opposition to a stretch-out of school terms by salary reductions that would cause teachers to absorb a financial deficit which is the responsibility of all the people."

"That while we commend the efforts of school and college administrators and boards of education to protect teacher salaries in so far as they can by drastic economies in other aspects of their respective budgets, we deplore any necessity to further weaken the instructional program or to impair the work of teachers or to lower the quality of education by failure to provide all the services and supplies that are essential to a well-balanced school program."

Included was a request that the Governor convene a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of enacting some appropriate emergency temporary tax measure to make possible the payment in full of state appropriations for public education already enacted into law.

The resolution concluded with an invitation to Alumni and friends of Florence State College to join in urging the Governor and Legislature to take immediate action to meet the school financial crisis.

The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote by the faculty of Florence State College and was signed by William L. Crocker, president; Roy S. Stevens, vice-president; J. N. Winn, sec. and treas., and Dallas Lancaster, of the Legislative Committee.

As a result of this honor, Linda is entitled to an expense paid trip to compete in the National Science Fair to be held in Indianapolis, Ind., in May.

Senator Haltom Proposes 90-Day Emergency Tax

The Lauderdale County Board of Education last Saturday morning passed a resolution setting April 25 as a closing date for county schools in the event no additional funds are available for teachers' salaries. The resolution passed following a review of Governor Patterson's decree, prorating 10 per cent of school moieties.

Resolution

WHEREAS, the Legislature in its 1959 special session granted a 15% increase in salaries, and

WHEREAS, the Lauderdale County Board of Education in good faith consummated contracts with its teachers and other employees at the designated salary increases for a 180 day school term; and

WHEREAS, the Lauderdale County Board of Education is distressed with the prorating ordered since it deprives our county system of approximately $111,000, which would be necessary to fulfill its contracts with its employees, and

WHEREAS, the policy and standards of the State Board of Education and Southern Association provide that no promotion can be made unless a school is in session 180 days and further that the state and regional accreditations would be lost, and

WHEREAS, the Lauderdale County Board of Education finds that it can only pay full salary contracts for 160 days, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED That the Lauderdale County Board of Education after finding, that unless the Governor and Legislature act immediately to provide funds to operate a full nine months term, it will become necessary that the Lauderdale County Schools be vacated on April 25, 1960, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED That the Lauderdale County Board of Education will exert every effort to find ways and means to prevent the closing of our schools and urge the full cooperation of every citizen in Lauderdale County to join in the fight to prevent the closing of the schools.

IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Minutes of the Lauderdale County Board of Education and that copies be sent to the Governor of Alabama, Local Members of Legislature, Lauderdale County Teachers, Local P.T.A. Presidents, Local Superintendents in the State of Alabama, the press, local radio and television stations.

Both Senator E. B. Haltom, Jr., and Rep. Robert Broadfoot, expressed a willingness to attend a special session of the Legislature if one is called.

In a letter to Governor Patterson, Senator Haltom voiced the sentiment of the people of the First Senatorial District with respect to the seriousness of the school situation suggested "that you give serious consideration to the issuing of invitations to the members of the Legislature of Alabama to meet with you, officials of the State Revenue Department, members of the State Board of Education and selected education, industrial and labor leaders in informal session and at each person's own expense at the State Capitol on Tuesday, March 22, 1960 for whatever number of days are necessary for the purpose of formulating an emergency educational program to be then presented to the State Legislature in extra ordinary session."

Senator Haltom also indicated that he would like to see an additional sales tax for 90 days to cope with the school emergency. He was against the additional one per cent sales tax proposed at the last session of the Legislature, but said, "I believe we should now consider the possibility and feasibility of enacting a 90-day school emergency 1 per cent sales tax straight across the board with no exemptions." He made it clear such tax should become null and void after the expiration date. He added that he did not think the Legislature would pass any measure other than an emergency one at this time.

Senator Haltom said, "In closing, allow me to state that I have concluded."

Passage Of House Bill Expected To End Debate

Stripped Down Proposal Would Include Referee Voting Plan

A final House vote on a civil rights bill may come today and thus put an end to the long marathon filibuster that has held up civil rights legislation for the past several weeks. Advocates of civil rights legislation admitting defeat of the administration's proposal in the Senate turned to the approval of a House measure that would provide approval of a voting referee plan to prevent racial discrimination at the polls.

While die-hard Southerners still vigorously opposed the measure, members of Congress outside the South were generally supporting the stripped down bill. GOP House Leaders Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, said the Senate might well agree to such a bill and end the month-old filibuster by the anti-civil rights bloc.

The Senate continued debate over various civil rights proposals but it was generally conceded that it would accept what the House passes. A number of northern Democrats predicted openly that the House would approve the referee plan.

In its final form the House proposal retains the basic plan of allowing court-appointed officials to step in when state officials fail to prevent discrimination against Negroes at the polls. The revised version also provides that the referees be local people and voters in the judicial districts involved. It also provides that the referees could be sent in to oversee the counting of votes in extreme cases.

The House Monday swiftly discarded two administration-sponsored civil rights proposals that would have caused prolonged debate. Both were ruled out on the grounds they did not adhere closely enough to the main civil rights bill.

They would have provided a commission to safeguard Negro and other minority employment rights on government contracts; and financial aid to school districts changing from segregated school systems.

Williams Seeking Constable 10 Post

Lifelong Resident Of Florence Is Widely Known Throughout Area

W. T. (Chick) Williams, 117 W. Tombigbee St., Florence, is a candidate for Constable, Beat 10 and seeks the support of the voters subject to the action of the Democratic Primary May 3.

Mr. Williams is widely known in this area. A native and lifelong resident of the city, he was formerly connected with the J. T. Flagg Knitting Co. but for the past 12 years has been an employee of the Florence Yellow Cab. Co., with whom he is now connected.

A number of years ago Mr. Williams was active in semi-pro baseball and made a splendid record as catcher. He has been interested in sports all his life and has contributed a lot to the sport of baseball.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Williams is an active member of Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion.

Never having sought public office, Mr. Williams said that if honored with election he pledges that he will conduct the affairs of the office to the best of his ability, energy and efforts. He said he would try to see all the voters and ask their vote and support in the coming primary.

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

● A school teacher is one who takes a lot of live wires and sees that they are well grounded.

● We have been trying to figure out what has been the most discussed item of late—the weather or the 10 per cent prorating of the state's educational fund. It seems that the weather situation has answered itself but we await with much anxiety the answer to the problem faced by the teachers, the school boards and the school superintendents. Maybe something of value will come out of the meeting of the Alabama Education Association, which got under way this morning, and a full nine-months term assuring regular promotions will result. It could be that some good will come from this terrific jolt we have received, at least for that we hope. It is a shame that the State of Alabama must suffer from so much adverse publicity.

● To entertain some people, all you have to do—is listen.

● What would you think of a relative who had an income of $7,000 a year, but had run up a debt of $29,000 of which $5,000 was payable on demand and $7,500 more within a year? Well, don't disown him just soon. Add seven zeroes onto those figures and you've got your Uncle Sam.

● Eternal riddle: Why is it so hard to lead a 10-year-old boy to the bathtub; and so difficult to get him out?

● Two oldtimers were standing on a downtown corner the other afternoon discussing the affairs of the day when they noticed an old crony coming down the block toward them. "I don't know what's happened to John lately," said one of them admiringly. "He's getting quite a spring in his stagger!"

● It has been pointed out that cosmetics are a woman's way of keeping a man from reading between the lines.

● The Minute Man of the Revolutionary War period had nothing on the minute man of today who has learned, by constant practice, how to rush to the refrigerator, make a sandwich and return to his TV during a one minute commercial.

● For the man who has everything: A calendar to remind him when his numerous payments are due.

● Every local post office gets a lot of complaints but possibly the one a certain postmaster got recently was beyond his aid. A young wife, we are told, called the postmaster: "I wish to complain about your service. My husband is in Atlanta on business and the letter I received this morning is erroneously postmarked Miami Beach. Can't you people ever get things straight?"

● Of course a modern husband expects his wife to jump when he hollers—right down his throat or so reports one who is an authority.

● With the coming of the electric razor, the razor stop joined the antiquities with the widespread use of electricity and natural gas, the woodshed became a thing of the past; and with the creation of various types of sprays and hair dressing, the hair brush became useless—and thus with the passing of the razor stop, the woodshed and the hair brush, the three most effective adjuncts to the control of juvenile delinquency have passed from the ready reach of the parent. Who was it that asked: What has contributed the most to juvenile delinquency? Here we report our answer to the question.

Spare The Horses Ike

When President Eisenhower goes to Russia in June—and he will be thence on around the world—he will be heading into another strenuous trip. Long airplane rides, crowds, official functions, all are wearying jobs.

"It's mighty tiring," the President confessed after his parade in Buenos Aires, "to stand on your feet and wave at people for an hour in this heat."

The 15,560-mile tour of South America has been described as the most gruelling of the President's journeys to date. Reporters who went along said he appeared exhausted at several stages.

Mr. Eisenhower's stamina—his ability to snap back from fatigue—is remarkable. Those who went along on the 11-nation trip to Europe, Asia and Africa in December said he outlasted most of his traveling companions.

But he is nearing 70. And despite all the comforts and conveniences and protection a President can command above other mortals who go on such trips, it is he who still must bear the brunt of the punishment. He is the star performer, with all the penalties which go with that role — loss of privacy, people to be met tactfully, the push and shove of crowds.

Much of this is unavoidable—either you pay the price or skip the tour. But the breathless, pell-mell character of these trips is foolish. The South American trip should be a warning. When Ike goes to Russia, his arrangers should set up a more leisurely schedule, with more rest breaks—that is, put some space between the hubbub. The man has other work to do, too, you know—(Birmingham Post-Herald)

The Two R's

High school students, graduates and especially those who intend entering college, are being urged to tune in the special TV educational series "The Two R's," broadcast four times weekly over the state Educational Network. The telecasts are especially designed for those who are handicapped by English language or composition deficiency.

There are at present 504 registered participants of whom 497 are high school students. The others are four teachers and three housewives.

About half of the high school students enrolled in "The Two R's" after taking the American College Tests last November. A report of those students and their scores was sent to colleges and universities which they had listed as one of their three preferences.

Upon receipt of its report, Auburn University checked the home addresses of the 1,000 students with the lowest English scores. This revealed that 675 live within the Educational TV viewing area.

Form letters were sent to these students and their principals, suggesting that the pupils might have difficulty with English when they enter college unless they take steps to improve their proficiency in this subject. They were told, "Students who successfully pass the final examination and later enroll at Auburn University will be eligible for the regular English course. If you attend another institution, your chances of placement in a regular English course and of passing it will likely be increased."

Students who responded to this letter represent 213 high schools in the 55-county range of Educational TV.

A prominent educator says that success of the pre-college English program should have far-reaching effects upon educational institutions and taxpayers in the state . . . however, the program's greatest service will be to the students enrolled. By having their weaknesses pinpointed and corrected before they enter college, the students will save time and money they would otherwise devote to remedial instruction. Even more important is the effect on student morale.

It was also pointed out that the great value of the course lies in the capabilities of raising the level of thinking and possibly the ultimate success of those who follow it. Mathematics and the sciences, for instance, spend most of their time with definitions . . . many are actually specialized English courses.

In all areas exactness leads to understanding and accuracy of thinking. A student who is deficient in English cannot always understand properly nor express himself with the proper degree of clarity.

The number of high school graduates who are deficient in English is appalling. Fortunately, greater emphasis is being placed on grammar and composition but there is still much to be desired. The large number participating in "The Two R's" program is encouraging.

More should take part.

Motorists Must Obey Stop Signs

Police Estimate More Than $36,000 Damage To Vehicles Since Jan. 1

More than $36,000 in damage to vehicles involved in wrecks in the city of Florence since January 1 was reported this week by Florence Chief of Police Noah Danley.

In a specific breakdown of the above figure Mr. Danley said 65 wrecks in January in the city resulted in vehicle damage estimated at $12,359. February's traffic mishaps which numbered 60 had damage estimated at $14,225 and 37 wrecks through March 13 resulted in $9,470 damage.

As a result of so many wrecks, which have resulted mostly from running stop signs and stop lights according to police, City Recorder Laverne Tate has announced that instead of the usual small fine for such offense, a fine of $10 and costs, or a total of $14, will be levied against violators in the future.

F-Day Game Postponed Due To Bad Weather

The Florence State Lions annual F-Day football game has been postponed from Wednesday, March 23 to Wednesday afternoon, March 30, it was announced this week by ticket sales chairman, Nick Nichols of the Florence Kiwanis club, sponsor of the event.

The Lions coaching staff explained that spring practice sessions had been almost completely curtailed due to the extremely inclement weather during the past several weeks and that this factor plus a wet field, would make playing next Wednesday impossible.

Meanwhile Lion fans are urged to buy their tickets for the game which is always a thriller and at the same time help the Kiwanis free dental clinic for underprivileged children which is operated throughout the year on the proceeds from this annual game. Tickets are on sale by all Kiwanians.

Hung Jury In Finch-Tregoff Case

A re-trial is upcoming in the Finch-Tregoff case after Saturday's anticlimactic announcement of a hung jury in the murder-conspiracy trial of the two, although, as the prosecutor conceded, a conviction, or even a verdict, usually is harder to get on a second trial. It was disclosed by jurors Louis Wernef and Mrs. Genevieve Lang that the seven women and five men on the jury split in this way: ten to two to convict Dr. Finch, 8-4 to acquit Miss Tregoff. A new trial date will be set.

Flu Bug Hits Khrushchev

It was announced Sunday that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is suffering from influenza and "will need seven to 10 days to recover," forcing him to postpone his trip to France Tuesday. The brief announcement gave no details as to his condition and was unusual in that the private lives of public officials are rarely mentioned in Russia. But observers say that they are sure the premier has the flu and not inventing a "diplomatic" illness to enable him to get out of going to France.

Heart of Problem Said "Voting"

Sen. Thomas C. Henning, Jr., (D., Mo.) Sunday called on civil rights-advocates to concentrate on passing a voting rights bill and to stop wasting their strength on "fringe benefits." Hennings said that he favors all or most of the other provisions in the Administration's civil rights program but that the heart of the problem is a bill "that will really permit Negroes who meet state qualifications to register and vote."

Chessman's Hopes Shattered

A 12½ hour meeting ended last Thursday with narrow defeat in the California Legislature for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to repeal the death penalty for Caryl Chessman. The 8-7 vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee may have shattered Chessman's last hope in his 11½ year fight to escape the gas chamber.

U. S. Space Probe Success

The U. S. Friday successfully launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus. The beachball-size sphere was lofted at 8 a.m. EST from the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and was propelled by the 165,000 pound thrust of a three-stage Thor-Able rocket. The probe, called the Pioneer V, is designed to explore space between Venus and the earth and to test the feasibility of communication with future manned and unmanned space vehicles at distances up to 500 million miles.

Racial Tension Easing

Racial tension in Montgomery appeared to be easing Saturday following the conviction of 31 Negro college students and an ex-student for their part in a demonstration held Tuesday, March 8. Meanwhile, law enforcement officers remained on alert for a possible white demonstration which was announced Saturday by an unidentified spokesman. The Negro students were fined $200 and costs for their part in the protest at Alabama State College. They were released under $400 appeal bonds.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY CENTRAL HIGH TEACHERS

WHEREAS, the teachers of the Central Schools have been teaching with the understanding that they would be paid the full amount guaranteed in contracts; and

WHEREAS, the amount of deduction at 10% would be the equivalent to 30% of one month's salary for the remaining three months; and

WHEREAS, the present rate of teachers salaries is not considered to be in line with those of other professions; and

WHEREAS, we feel that the general public cannot justifiably ask the teachers of the State of Alabama to take a sizable reduction in pay; therefore be it

Resolved That the members of the Central Schools faculties go on record as being opposed to any reduction in salary and income at this time, and in the event that funds are not available to maintain our current salaries.

REV. EDWARD G. MULLEN

"He is one of the most beloved men in Florence," is the statement made by a group of men and women who were discussing an address just made by the Rev. Edward G. Mullen. "His love of people and love of life and all the good things life holds is reflected in his every word and act," was the consensus of this group as they reminded each other of the many contributions for the betterment of our community this man of the cloth has made during his residence in Florence.

The Reverend Mr. Mullen has identified himself with every worthwhile undertaking that has been advanced in this area since he became rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church. His sage counsel has been sought by both members of his congregation and others and his quiet and effective leadership in any group of which he is a part has continually stimulated the trend of thought and the ultimate outcome of each and every undertaking in which it may have been concerned.

The Rev. Edward G. Mullen was born in Fitchburg, Mass., the son of Robert G. and Mary Gordon Mullen. He attended the public schools in Fitchburg.

The family moved to Texas in 1920, where he attended Texas A. & M., being graduated in 1926. He then attended Berkeley Divinity School, a college of Yale, in New Haven, Conn., where he was graduated with the class of 1929.

Immediately after the completion of his formal education, Mr. Mullen became rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Waco, Texas. Here he met and married Alice West in October, 1929. A few years later, Mr. and Mrs. Mullen went to Amoy, China for language study after which they moved to the Philippines where he was Administrator of St. Luke's Hospital in Manila, remaining until 1941.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mullen have two sons, Robert, of Sheffield, and Edward, a student at the University of Mississippi. Both were born in the Philippines.

In the latter part of 1941, Mr. Mullen, with his family, came back

Improvements Listed By Co-op

Number Lines Added As Well As Better Facilities For Loading

A number of changes have taken place in the operational program of the Lauderdale County Cooperative during the past few months which will enable local farmers to get more efficient service, according to James H. Brown, manager of the Co-op.

The Lauderdale County Cooperative located at 605 South Seminary Street, is a farmer-owned and farmer-operated purchasing and supply organization. Its sole purpose is to serve farmers of the surrounding territory with quality supplies at reasonable prices to meet practically all farm needs.

A visit to the Co-op will reveal a new, modern store arrangement with the merchandising department located on the street-level floor with a truck-bed-level loading dock across the front of the building for convenient loading. Trucks may still drive into the basement floor for convenient all-weather loading of heavy supplies such as fertilizers, fencing and seeds.

Farmers are reminded that this is their business and that all savings effected in the operation of the Co-op belongs to the patrons. Farmers do business with themselves when they trade at the Co-op.

Additional small production supplies have been added to the stock. The annual membership meeting of the Co-op was held on Saturday, February 20th. A good attendance was had at this meeting which indicates a definite interest in the Co-op.

Mr. Brown in extending an invitation to all farmers to come by and check prices and supplies, said, "We will make every effort to serve you in an efficient manner. Only you as patrons can assure the success of the organization. We are your servants; so give us the opportunity to serve you."

Stockholders Land Bank Set Meeting

Interesting Program
Planned At Franklin
Courthouse March 24

L. N. Thompson, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Florence, announced this week that the annual stockholders' meeting will be held at the Franklin County Courthouse on Thursday, March 24.

Mr. Thompson said it will be the first such meeting of the association since changing its name from National Farm Loan Association and the first to be held in Russellville. An interesting program has been planned with James Dailey, regional manager of the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans, the featured speaker. Mr. Dailey is well known in this area, having been assistant State FFA advisor, Vocational Agriculture Division of the State Department of Education, Auburn University. He will discuss the latest credit services to farmers and livestock men to be offered by the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans in this area.

Mr. Thompson further stated that this will be a good opportunity for Federal Land Bank Association members to hear the financial affairs of their association, elect directors, and other interesting Farm Credit information for people of this area.

Valuable door prizes are to be awarded at this meeting and free hot coffee, cold drinks, and snacks are to be offered to all attending. Free parking has been arranged through the courtesy of the city of Russellville to stockholding members.

Shearing time is an excellent opportunity to drop the breeding flock and older lambs. This should be one of the scheduled third or fourth annual drenchings.

Miss Barbara Jean Shelton Bride of Billy Montgomery

Against a background of greenery, the candlelight altar of Salem Methodist Church in Cloverdale was detailed with basket-ball arrangements of white gladioli and ferns on Saturday, March twelfth, when Miss Barbara Jean Shelton became the bride of Billy McCoy Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Montgomery of Cloverdale, Route One.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. T. Edward Shelton of Florence and the late Mr. Shelton.

The Reverend E. L. Hunt, minister of the church, read the vows at four o'clock in the afternoon following nuptial selections presented by Jose P. Bove, pianist, and Miss Sue Lovelace and Jack L. Marks, vocalists.

Miss Jane Shelton and Miss Janice Shipman served as candlelighters.

Hollis J. Marks gave his niece in marriage. Her gown of white lace over bridal satin was distinguished by a fitted bodice with scalloped neckline and long, tapering sleeves, and a voluminous, floor-length skirt which was scalloped at the hemline. A pearl studded tiara of the bride caught her finger tip veil of silk illusion and with her white Bible she carried a single white orchid encircled by white rosebuds.

Mrs. Dwayne Posey was the bride's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Miss Linda Belue and Miss Donna Fetsko. Their Copenhagen blue frocks were designed with street-length skirts and matching chiffon cummerbunds and they wore small, veiled hats, also of blue. Their white gladioli bouquets were encircled by puffs of blue net.

Larry Montgomery served as best man and ushers were Philip Shelton and Larry Marks.

Mrs. Shelton chose for the occasion an orchid sheath and Mrs. Montgomery, mother of the bridegroom, was in a pastel blue suit. White accessories and white gladioli corsages enhanced their attire.

Before leaving for their wedding trip to Mobile, the bride changed to a sheath of Winter white wool with which she wore rust accessories and, at her shoulder, the orchid from her bouquet.

Expected to return on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery will be at home at 2130 Old Cloverdale Road, Florence.

Double Ring Ceremony Marks Revod-Fisher Vows

A late afternoon nuptial event in Stony Point Church of Christ March fifth, united in marriage Miss Norma Jean Revod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newbern W. Revod, and Leslev Carroll Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Fisher, all of Florence.

Mrs. Claude Lewis and Donald Harriman presented appropriate vocal selections preceding the half past five o'clock reading of vows by E. W. Stovall, minister of the church.

An ivy-entwined arch was flanked by basket arrangements of white gladioli and branched candelabra of white tapers to mark the altar setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Edward T. Jaynes. For her wedding occasion, she chose a waltz-length gown of bridal satin and lace fashioned with molded bodice. A mandarin neckline and long sleeves that came to points over the hands were distinguishing features and the bouffant skirt was designed of tiers of lace and tulle.

A tiara of lace re-embroidered with sequins and seed pearls held her veil of silk illusion and white carnations showered with lilies of the valley marked her white Bible.

Mrs. J. E. Keeton was her sister's honor attendant. She wore a model of white cotton embroidered in pink with matching, veiled headband and her bouquet was a cascade of pink carnations.

Serving as bridesmaids, Miss Janet Comer and Miss Donna Comer wore pale blue frocks and carried matching blue nosegays and Deborah Cordle, niece of the bride, was in white taffeta with pink sash and headband.

Joe Boyd was best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Larry Jaynes and Bruce Hall.

Mrs. Revod, mother of the bride was gowned in blue printed silk and Mrs. Fisher, mother of the bridegroom, was in blue faille. Black accessories and white carnation corsages completed their attire.

Following their honeymoon, the bride and groom are making their home at 522 East Tombigbee St.

Mrs. Horsfield Hostess To Firenze Meeting

The Thursday, March tenth, meeting of Firenze Club took place at The Town Club with Mrs. Basil Horsfield, Sr., serving as hostess to the mid-afternoon gathering.

In presenting a comprehensive program on art, Mrs. Otto Speake delighted her listeners with a review of the works of the most outstanding Old Masters including representatives of Spain and Italy, England and France, the Dutch (Rembrandt) and America, illustrating her remarks by showing copies of the artists' works.

Guests of the club were Mrs. W. H. Blake, Mrs. E. L. Stickney and Miss Martha Bishop, all of Sheffield, and Mrs. C. E. Hendry. Mrs. Turner Allen and Mrs. John North presided at the refreshment table.

Mrs. James Massey spent the past week end in Florence and returning with her to Chattanooga for a visit was her grandson, Chip Massey. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, former Florentines.

Mary Mavaline Young, Lloyd Clemmons Say Vows

Solemnized in Mount Zion church of Christ on Friday, March fourth, was the marriage of Miss Mary Mavaline Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Young of Savannah Highway, and Lloyd Young Clemmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clemmons of Chisholm Road, Florence.

Evening vows were read at half past seven o'clock by Claude Lewis, minister of the church, following vocal numbers by a quartet composed of Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Harriman and Howard Killen.

A white arch decorated with palm leaves and flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli formed the background for the wedding tableau. White tapers in branched candelabra were lighted by Misses Madelyn and Wanda Clemmons.

Mr. Young gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin was designed with a molded bodice, small collar and long, fitted sleeves. The waltz-length, bouffant skirt was detailed with a center panel of tiny tulle ruffles.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion cascaded from a pearl-studded headress and a cluster of white carnations marked her white Bible.

Miss Nell Young was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Clemmons and Miss Stephanie Clemmons, sister and niece of the bridegroom, respectively.

Carolyn Grider, cousin of the bride, Linda Warren and Kathy and Teddy Butler, nieces of the bridegroom, served as flower girls. Their blue taffeta frocks were fashioned with tea-length skirts, the maid of honor carrying a cascade bouquet of red carnations and the maids carrying pink.

Thomas Clemmons was best man for his brother and ushers were Jerry Warren and Lenis Patterson. Young and Mrs. Clemmons, mothers of the bride and groom, were both in navy attire, each complemented by an orchid corsage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Butler was the scene of the reception which followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Robert McClure and Mrs. Thomas Clemmons.

The bride and groom are now at home at 305 Sherrod Court, Florence.

Springer-Applegarth Nuptials Announced

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Springer of the marriage of their daughter, Bonnie Sue, to John Applegarth, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Applegarth, all of Lexington.

Vows were said at half past seven o'clock on Wednesday evening, March ninth, in the home of the Reverend Onus Killen, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Nazarene church, who officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Applegarth will make their home in this district where Mr. Applegarth is employed.

Florence Garden Club Will Have Flower Show

The Anthony J. Smith home at 710 Prospect St., was the setting for the Wednesday, March ninth, meeting of Florence Garden Club and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. I. S. Davidson and Mrs. H. C. McColo were in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Van Bibber, president, presided during the business period and welcomed Mrs. R. H. Old as a new member.

Plans were made for the flower show to be held in First Methodist church on April 1 between 1:30 and 5:30 p.m. "A Host of Daffodils" is the theme of the event and Mrs. Roy Taylor, general chairman, issues a cordial invitation to the public to participate. Entries for the show should be made between 8 and 11:30 a.m.

It was announced that the club has honored Mrs. Earl Stamps, prominent in garden club work throughout the state, with a donation given in her name to the National Garden Club Foundation Headquarters in St. Louis. "It is through her efforts that the Florence Garden Club will qualify as a Green Star Club, an honor given only to clubs which meet specific requirements," said Mrs. Van Bibber.

A lecture and demonstration in flower arranging, sponsored by the club, will be held at 2 p.m. on May 19 in the Recreation Center.

Mrs. Davidson reminded those present of the approaching litterbug campaign and made helpful suggestions about keeping the town clean.

Mrs. Stamps discussed the wild flower festival trip to be made on April 9 and the Link Gardeners' (sponsored by the club) flower show which will be held May 14. A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Stamps, chairman, Mrs. A. O. Bragg and Mrs. Taylor was appointed.

Mrs. Delony Speaks At Hypatian Meeting

"The most beautiful slides imaginable," is the comment made by members of the Hypatian Club following last Thursday's meeting when Mrs. Fritz Delony showed the views she snapped while traveling last summer in eight European countries with her daughters, Misses Toby and Angelo Delony. Vivid word-pictures were an accompaniment to the photographs which marked the entertaining program.

Mrs. Theodore Hubbuch was the afternoon's hostess at her home, 865 Riverview Drive, and Mrs. Fred Ashe presided in the continued absence of Mrs. Robert Martin, president.

The hostess was assisted with tea time courtesies by Mrs. Julian Nance.

Discussion Club Has Interesting Meeting

Mrs. Rivers Wiggins and Mrs. Richard Smith were hostesses to the Thursday, March tenth, meeting of the Discussion Club, welcoming their guests at The Town Club at half after three o'clock.

Mrs. Morris Shipper, guest speaker, furnished pleasant entertainment for the group as she told of her journey to Israel during the past Summer in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal. While showing numerous pictures of interest, Mrs. Shipper spoke of the great courage of the people and of the remarkable progress made during the last ten years. An informal question and answer period was a concluding feature.

Late afternoon refreshments were served from a prettily appointed table in the Williamsburg Room.

It was announced that the April meeting will be dispensed with, the club to meet again on May twelfth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hannah (Fay Palmer), of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Florence, have announced the birth of a daughter born March 14 in St. Petersburg. Foods of the Future

"NEW LOOK" IN PORK CHOPS

Advice from grocers helps packers and livestock producers in Alabama and other states produce pork with more of the cuts housewives prefer. When the trend away from lard-type hogs began, feeding and new breeds were backed as ways to "the new lean hog."

Now packers' clinics show stockmen new research results — that careful selection of breeding stock is another sure way to produce better pork. Heredity among the Hamshires may help us all "eat higher on the hog" — with more choice cuts produced at less feed cost!

New farming methods may mean more of many better foods for your table, to be enjoyed with those "old stand-bys" BEER and ALE. These wholesome beverages will be welcomed with "Foods of the Future" just as they are with foods of today.

3 3/4% INTEREST ON NEW U.S. SAVINGS BONDS NOW IN EFFECT

Congress makes the Bonds you buy and Bonds you already own better than ever!

Now U.S. Savings Bonds are a better buy than ever in three important ways:

- All Series E and H Bonds bought since June 1, 1959 now earn 3 3/4% interest when held to maturity.
- Older Bonds will also pay more—an extra 1/2%, from June 1 on, if you hold them to maturity.
- All Series E Bonds, old or new, now carry an automatic extension privilege; they'll keep paying liberal interest for 10 years beyond maturity.

Three big new dollar benefits that make it smart to buy new Bonds—and hang on to the ones you have!

40 million Americans now own Bonds

But a good return isn't the only reason so many people buy Bonds. They've discovered that there's no easier, safer, more American way to save.

You can buy Bonds automatically, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work; you can buy them where you bank; your youngsters can even buy them at school, through the School Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Stamps.

The U.S. Government guarantees that the cash value of your Bonds cannot drop; it can only grow. And if your Bonds should be lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them free.

Finally, every Bond you buy does a big job for America. Because today peace costs money—money for military strength and for science; and money saved by individuals to keep our economy sound.

Your Bonds help provide this money—help America keep the peace. So, to build a brighter future for yourself and your family—and to protect it—save with U.S. Savings Bonds. They're better than ever.

YOUR MONEY GROWS 3 3/4% IN JUST 7 YEARS
AND 9 MONTHS WITH NEW SERIES E BONDS!

HELP STRENGTHEN AMERICA'S PEACE POWER

THE SPILLWAY

WE CHANCED UPON a story book
And when we took a second look
We recognized the faces . . .

THE "STORY BOOK" OF our attempt-at-verse is actually a newspaper. A May 22, 1921 edition of The Florence Daily News . . . But not even on that Sunday morning high onto thirty-nine years ago could Florentines have scanned its pages more avidly than upon the occasion of its recent reappearance . . .

BROUGHT ALONG by thoughty Alice Nolan (she'd been rummaging . . . she said) to Margaret Brown's morning gala for the latter's charming sis) Helen Brice of Spartanburg, South Carolina . . . the now-yellowed pages were quickly a sensation . . .

A FULL HALF-PAGE of "Young Florentines Who Will Help Build A Bigger and Better City" was a front-page feature . . . and 'mongst the young fry pictured are to be seen (the former) Amelia O'Neal and Julia Brock and Annie Harlan . . . Lily Mitchell Barnett and Martha Roberts and Mary Narcissa Milliken . . . and (representing the VERY YOUNG Men's Club were) Billy Ben Callaway and Elting Jackson and Thomas Smith, Jr. . . .

ALSO DELIGHTFUL is the paper's coverage of Florence clubs . . . including their origins and charter members . . . et cet . . .

Finstance . . . the Study Club was organized in 1902 by the late Mary Coffee Campbell for "girls who wanted to be posted on the Drama and Opera" . . . and its brief history was signed by Olivia Roulhac . . . The Duplicate Auction Club was a popular card club and the Thursday Sewing Club was a pleasant weekly event . . .

OFF-MENTIONED on the social pages then (as now) were Edna Arnold and Mamie Conner and Alberta Rogers . . . Ruth Ingram and Florrie Walker and Ann King . . .

Willie McFarland and Minna Scruggs and Sarah Ingram . . . Mae Irvine and Mary Shepard and many-MANY others . . .

OTHER FAVORITES of that day and this . . . now scattered here and there . . . include Lady Ruth Self and Mamie Ezell and the (then) social editor of this delightful (then current) newspaper . . .

Adelle Blackwell . . .

MADAM'S JAUNTY trip punctuates a moment of plain-old envy. JOURNEYING SWIFTLY WE return to present-day Florence and the AEA holiday . . . with its accompanying travel . . .

LEAVING ON THE heels of Sunday morning church . . . Virta Jones and Johnnie Glover . . . Mary Douglas and Bertie Bender took off for Memphis where they saw a Monday presentation of "Holiday on Ice" before continuing their jaunt to Hopkinsville, Ky., where they're being guested by (longtime Florentine and now greatly missed) Norma Douglass . . .

ALSO KENTUCKY bound . . . with Bowling Green as their destination . . . are Elizabeth Price and children . . . Carol (who arrived from Auburn U.) and Janet and Linda and Buddy (It's a hometown visit for Elizabeth) . . .

AND DOING us proud (we unhesitatingly use our measuring rod from previous AEA trippings) is that captivating group of Coffee Hi seniors who're at this very minute spreading Southern charm in our capital city of Washington, D.C., and New York State's Big Town . . .

RETURNING FROM A travel spree . . . Edith and Otto Speake tell of varied and delightful experiences . . . With Los Angeles as their destination (Otto was convention bound) they spent three glorious weeks in the going-and-coming process . . . side-tripping to old Albuquerque and driving thru the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forests . . . watching skiers ready themselves for the Squaw Valley competition . . . But you should hear it firsthand and we give our word . . . It's pleasant listenin' . . .

BEGINNER'S LUCK . . . That's what Louise Delony calls the breathtaking collection of slides which she brought with her on her return from Europe last Summer . . . With a completely new camera (bought for the trip) strapped to her shoulder . . . and no previous picture-taking experience . . . she tells us that she just "snapped here and there . . . whatever struck my fancy" . . . And now this delightful locale is delighting audiences with the amazing result . . .

HERE FROM HIS present home in Washington for a visit with (his mom and dad) Nonnie and Julian Bailey . . . Richard Bailey is enjoying all the pleasantness of a return to the native hearth . . . including favorite home-cooked meals which are daily fare at 301 Edgewood Drive . . . His host of friends extend a warm welcome . . .

CHANGING ADDRESSES . . . Edith and Joe Redd will henceforth be at home in their lovely and recently-purchased domicile at 750 North Wood (the former Uhlend Redd, Sr. home) . . . and the Girl Scout Headquarters will now have quarters at the former Joe Redd home on O'Neal Avenue . . .

MARY and (Doctor) Wilford Does will be moving soon to the Bailey Springs section of the lake (their house is presently being completed) . . . AND WE report with regret that Virginia Kernahan is in the process of returning to her girlhood home in Guntersville to reside . . .

AND NOW . . . CHEERIO and goodby . . . until more news comes through The Spillway . . .

Deaths

Joseph Rutledge

Services for Joseph P. Rutledge, 70, 712 West Alabama Street, Florence, who died Friday at ECM Hospital following a three-months illness, were conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at Morrison-Elkins Chapel with Dr. Lambuth Archibald officiating. Burial followed in Greenview Memorial Park.

Shrine Club To Hold Dedication Of Hope Haven

On Saturday, March 26, the Shrine Club will hold dedication services for the R. C. Burns Hope Haven School for the retarded, located in the old Valdosta school building in Colbert County, which has been completely renovated with funds obtained from the Palm Sunday paper sales last year.

Dedication services will begin with a parade at 10 a.m., to end at the school at noon, at which time refreshments will be served by the local chapters of the Eastern Star and the mothers of Hope Haven pupils. A program will follow.

The R. C. Burns Hope Haven school was named in honor of the late R. C. Burns, a loyal shriner. A special guest of honor at the ceremony will be Mrs. Burns, who, having formerly nursed in Huntsville, has returned to Sheffield.

Special invitations have also gone out to all members of the Tri-Cities Central Labor Union, who contributed much of their time to the Hope Haven project.

Waterloo First In Land Judging

District winners in seven statewide FFA contests that were decided at Phil Campbell Saturday are announced by H. F. Gibson, Northwest district supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Winfield's string band took first place and Waterloo was second among the 10 bands competing in this event.

First and second place winners in all contests except public speaking and quartet will vie for the state championship during the Alabama FFA Convention at Auburn June 8-10. Only first places winners in public speaking and quartet will compete with other district winners in the state contest.

Future Farmers competing in the contests were from 56 chapters in 13 northwest Alabama counties. Gibson estimates that almost 500 boys, teachers, and official judges were present.

Waterloo was first in land judging and second place went to Hattom. The Waterloo team is composed of Thomas Ray, Herbert Lewis, and Ronnie Murphy. W. B. Hagood is the advisor of the winning team.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Did you ever notice that small children talk about God with a faith so simple, so beautiful that you cannot question its sincerity? Ask them why they like the rain, for instance, and they may answer, "Because God made it, so the flowers will grow."

Unlike grown-ups, children accept God's order without a doubt. They believe in his love for them as naturally as they get up with the daylight and go to bed with the dark.

In God's eyes, we are all children... His children. And what we adults have lost in the way of vision, in the way of faith, must be renewed and replenished with each day and advancing year. We, too, can find God again—and, often, ourselves as well—by going to church, by praying, and by accepting the love He stands so ready to give us.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Allow 60 Days Before Breeding

By HERMAN H. MARKS
Assistant County Agent

Most dairymen are getting more than 75 per cent of their cows bred on first service. This may seem like good luck but likely good management accounts for a lot of their success.

If you would like to improve the breeding efficiency of your herd, why not give these practices a try?

1. Keep accurate records including heat dates, service, and calving dates.
2. Wait at least 60 days after calving before breeding.

3. Check the cow to see if she has recovered from any calving difficulties. She may need more than 60 days. Also, know the past breeding history and try giving problem cows heat periods of sexual rest.

4. Have your cows checked for pregnancy between 60 and 90 days after breeding. This can save three to six months for some cows.

5. Have a veterinarian examine and treat animals with abnormal discharge.
6. Have your cows bred during the interval of six hours after heat begins and four hours after the end of heat.

7. Have a veterinarian examine cows which have not settled in three services.
8. Feed your heifers sufficiently to keep them growing normally and coming into heat regularly.

Crop Of Alfalfa Pleases Grower

Soil Test Showing What Fertilizer Needed Proves Profitable

After following excellent production practices, Larry Specker of Florence, R. 6 is well pleased with his first crop of alfalfa.

According to Assistant County Agent S. M. Eich, Jr., Specker sent a soil sample to the Auburn laboratory for fertilizer recommendations. He received an answer in August recommending three tons of lime, 750 pounds of 0-9-27 (with borax) for establishment, and an annual application of 700 pounds of 0-9-27 in the spring after the first year.

Specker broke the land in July and disked it twice, reports Eich. After liming the field, he ran a heavy duty spring tooth plow over the area. When the soil was dry enough after a good rain, the Lauderdale County farmer again ran the plow over the land to kill Johnson grass and other weeds. Following this, he sub-soiled the field and then ran a spring tooth plow with sweeps over the area. Specker applied 700 pounds of 0-9-27 per acre and disked the field.

The land was planted with 30 pounds of Oklahoma common certified seed per acre on September 1, reports Eich. He adds that this alfalfa field is an excellent sample of the results any farmer can expect when he begins preparation early enough and carries it out on schedule.

In addition to alfalfa, the St. Florian community farmer produces eight acres of cotton, 39 acres of corn, 12 acres of grain sorghum, 15 acres of wheat, 20 acres of oats, 21 acres of barley, 25 acres of vetch, hogs and eggs.

Plant Right Seed For Better Crops

By HERMAN H. MARKS
Assistant County Agent

A great many farmers in Lauderdale County have had their soil tested to determine the kind and amounts of fertilizer to use and to see if they need lime. This is a mighty good thing to do. The fact that farmers are doing this is an indication that they want to increase their yields in 1960. There is one thing that is overlooked by many farmers though, and that is the kind of seed planted to produce the expected yields from properly fertilized and limed fields. For example, did you know you could limit your corn yield by as much as 30% by planting second generation hybrid seed corn. Research by our Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn and research in many other states has proven conclusively, that on an average, first generation hybrid corn from the crib. An increase in yield of about one bushel per acre will pay the difference in cost of first generation top quality hybrid seed corn of a recommended variety over second generation hybrid seed from the crib.

Ten Word INTELLIGRAM

South America has been, and continues to be, of great importance to its northern neighbors. How many Latin nations can you identify from these clues?

- 1-Famous for its fertile Gran Chaco.
- 2-Ships load at Iquitos for the 2,300-mile trip to the ocean.
- 3-Chief source of balsa wood.
- 4-Its capital city is 8,660 feet high.
- 5-Legal capital is Sucre.
- 6-Ousted dictator Jimenez in 1953.
- 7-Smallest in South America.
- 8-The largest in area and population.
- 9-Its independence was gained by Bernardo O'Higgins.
- 10-One of two inland countries. Capital, Asuncion.

Count 10 for each correct choice. A score of 0-20 is poor; 30-40, fair; 50-60, good; above 60, excellent.

"ORTHO" SOIL TREATER X GAVE ME A STRONG, UNIFORM STAND

A. E. Yelvington of Clarendon, Ark. says, "Even with low germination seed, I got a strong uniform stand using ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X. I left 8 rows untreated and you could really see the difference. In the early stages these 8 rows had more skips and dying cotton. In spite of the fact that we planted 3 or 4 days later than the year before, the cotton was a good 3 weeks earlier."

ORTHO" Soil Treater X creates a protected zone in the furrow—allows tender seedlings to develop normally despite cold, wet, infected soil.
