Phone Company Ready To Refund Seven Million

Further Litigation In Six-Year-Old Case Looms As PSC Appeals

Further litigation in the six-year-old dispute over telephone rates in Alabama loomed Wednesday despite a company decision to accept a refund order issued by a state court last week end.

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company Tuesday announced through its general manager, Frank Newton, that it was prepared to abide by the court order and proceed immediately with a $7,000,000 refund.

However, the Alabama Public Service Commission, which had previously ordered a $26 million rebate and a $3.3 million annual rate cut, appealed the Circuit Court order issued at Montgomery. The appeal would apparently block the Bell company's agreement to go ahead with the refund.

The APSC asked the State Supreme Court to determine the amount the company should return to its customers under the contested rate schedule.

In addition to ordering the $7 million rebate, Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones Saturday sent the case back to the APSC for further action. He held that the Public Service Commission order deprived the company of a fair return on its investment in Alabama.

The company's statement Tuesday quoted Newton as stating the company was prepared to abide by the court order and proceed immediately with the refund. It repeated his earlier statement that the amount was "excessive" but "it was in the interest of both telephone service and the public to bring its litigation to a close."

President-Elect Kennedy Talks To Nixon In Florida

No Announcement On Cabinet To Be Made Before Thanksgiving

Following an announcement during the past week end that he would retain the services of FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover and head of U. S. Central Intelligence Agency, Allen W. Dulles, President-elect John F. Kennedy, sojourning in Palm Beach, Fla., after his strenuous campaign for the nation's highest office, traveled to Miami Monday where he met with Vice President Richard Nixon, defeated Republican candidate.

The meeting was cordial and dealt with the possible appointment of some Republicans in key posts of the government. However, Nixon though not hostile to such a possibility, appeared to have reservations about his party members accepting important positions, particularly in the fields of foreign policy and national security.

It was reported that Nixon did not come out flatly against the idea but it was said he considered the differences brought out in the highly contested campaign and questioned the wisdom of republicans joining the Kennedy Administration.

After the conference Kennedy made it clear to newsmen that he did not offer the Vice President a post in the government. He said the meeting with Nixon was very beneficial and was both cordial and frank. He said he and the Vice President would meet again in the near future, possibly next month.

While the President-elect had announced previously that he would not name cabinet posts until after Thanksgiving, he did have lunch on Tuesday with Connecticut Governor Abraham Ribicoff, one of his key advisors during the campaign. Ribicoff is vacationing at Hollywood, Fla.

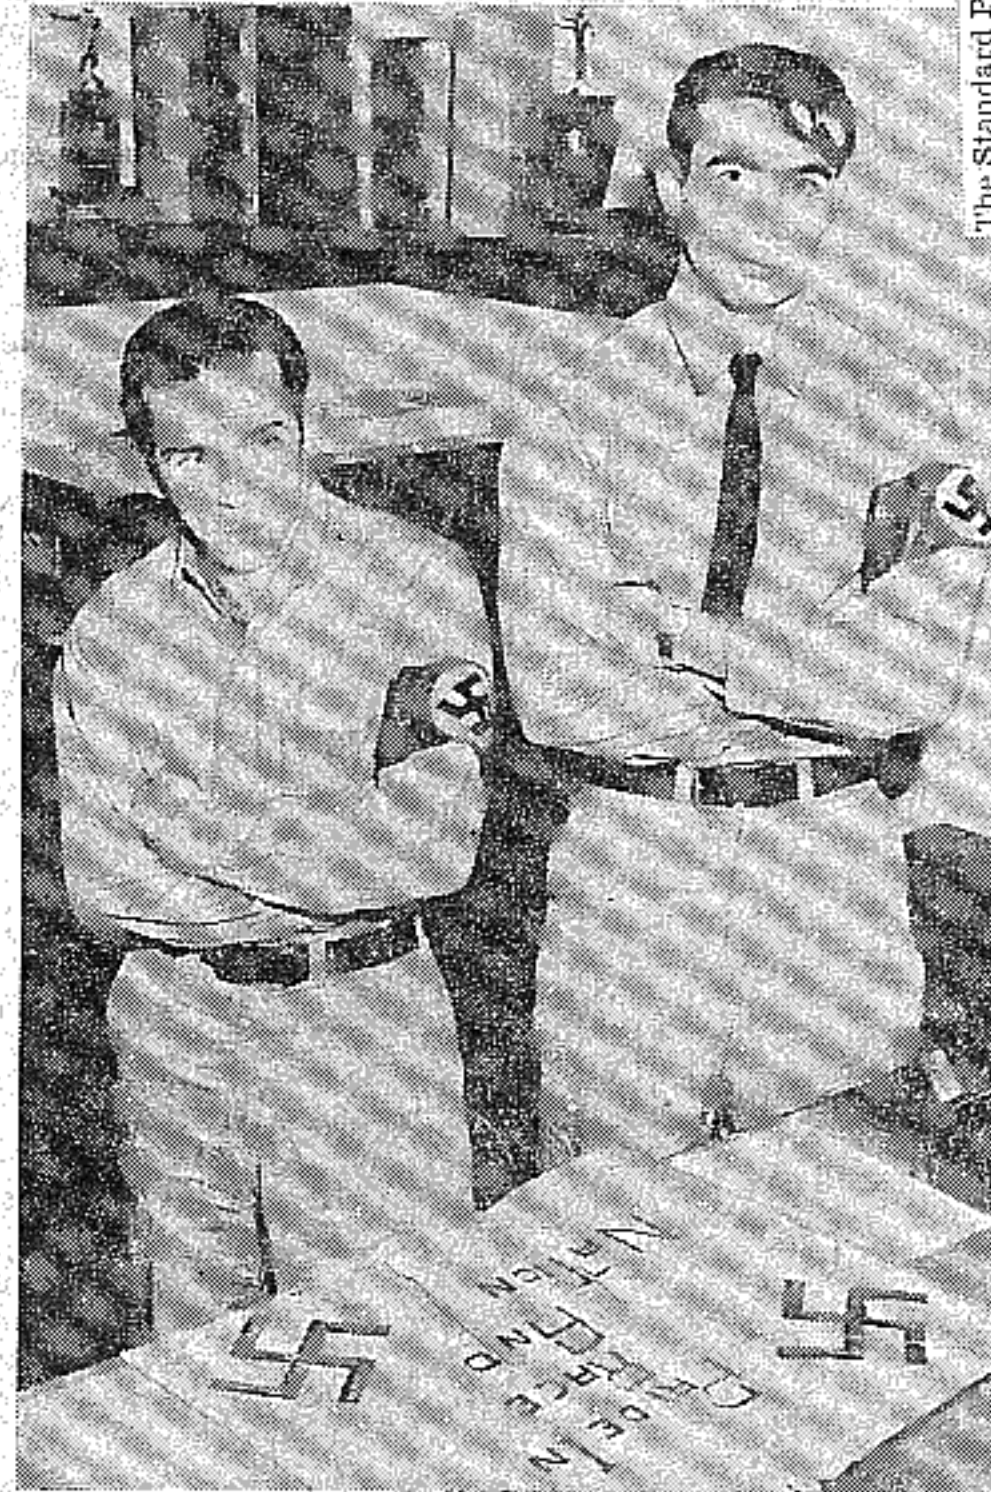

On Wednesday Mr. Kennedy flew to the Texas ranch of his running mate, the Vice President-elect Lyndon Johnson where he was to hold important conferences through today.

Christmas Parade Set Monday, 3:15

Second Annual Event Sponsored By WOWL Television And Radio

Again this year WOWL Radio-Television as a joint community service project will sponsor the second annual Christmas Parade which will welcome Santa Claus to the Tri-Cities.

The parade is scheduled for 3:15 p.m., Monday and will originate on South Court Street in Florence. This year's parade will consist of numerous marching groups, bands, floats, clowns, and of course, Santa himself who will be welcomed to the city and will make his regular nightly appearance on OWL Radio and Television.

Featured among the many to appear in the Christmas Parade will be OWL Radio and Television personalities, including Ole' Red, Captain Jack, Happy Jack, Mad Sam, Bud Mack, Madison Davis and many others. It is expected that Santa Claus will arrive by plane either at the Muscle Shoals Airport or at McFarland Bottom where he will be met and taken to the starting position of the parade.

Just a few of the organizations who will be seen in the parade will be at least four high school bands, the FSC band, ROTC Unit, Lionettes, Kadets of America, the Mayors, Police, and Fire Chiefs of each of the four cities, mounted units and many other interesting and entertaining units.

The Lauderdale County Board of Education met Friday afternoon at its offices in the Donaldson Building, East Tennessee Street, to discuss the financial problems now facing the county school system.

In order to pay the teachers their full salary for which the state has not provided funds but directs that payment be made, Superintendent Allen Thornton advised the board that he would reduce costs of operation and maintenance as far as possible and yet maintain some semblance of meeting the needs. This was ordered by the board and all teachers will be paid in full according to contracts.

During the past four years, pro rata has cost the county $217,545; however, the announced prorata of this year, 9.4 per cent, will cost the county an additional $106,115, if not more, Mr. Thornton said. Because of the rapid growth of city schools, the county's share of state funds again is cut. In 1959, the division was .608488 for the county schools with the city's share, .391512; for 1960-61, the county will receive .584302 and the city .415698 from state funds. The rural schools, which started this term $171,349 in debt, receive the three-mill ad valorem tax, a county-wide one-mill tax and a three-mill district tax, the only taxes available for the system.

After discussing these important matters, the board accepted the resignation of Charles Hamilton and elected Mrs. Olive Sue Morris to fill his post at Central Schools. The board also approved a 40-foot right-of-way for a road that runs by McGee School east from Brush Creek Road to Corbett Smith's store. Superintendent Thornton was authorized to close Sweetgum School because of small enrollment.

An estimated 10,000 students stayed away from New Orleans schools Tuesday, the second day of the effort to integrate the city's public schools. The situation was little changed Wednesday as a silent reception greeted the three Negro first graders when they arrived at school. Unlike the first two days of the integration dispute only a few spectators turned out at McDonogh School where only two white pupils were seen entering the school when the bell rang. The normal enrollment is 467.

Louisiana legislators meanwhile urged parents to keep their children away from the integrated schools while a rare closed meeting was held in an effort to find ways to halt federal intervention.

Impeachment of a federal judge who ordered the integration was under discussion as the lawmakers Wednesday ended a 12-day special session at Baton Rouge in the early hours of the morning. The new closed 30-day session to deal with the immediate problem was then called by Governor Jimmie H. Davis.

Both Houses approved a resolution urging a boycott of the integrated schools, the House voting for it 93-2 and the Senate 34-0.

Rowdy demonstrations among the 10,000 absentee white students were quelled for the most part by police who arrested 11 of the demonstrators and escorted others away from the anti-Negro gatherings. Some bore KKK banners and in one instance two white children carried an effigy of a little Negro girl through the crowd gathered at one school. This brought cheers from the crowd before police escorted the children a block away before the Negro pupils arrived.

Rowing police met a marching group of 200 teen-agers carrying banners and placards some ten blocks from one of the two integrated schools and turned the group toward downtown New Orleans.

Commenting on the incidents, Police Maj. Adolph Mayerhoffer said, "We will be here as long as necessary."

Nearly all schools reported light attendance Wednesday and the two integrated schools, McDonogh and William Franz, reported a total of about two dozen white students.

School Supt. James Redmond said the absentees would be treated as truants and both students and parents would be subject to Juvenile Court action.

Meeting Sponsored By Central PTA

Group Discusses School Situation; Hattom, Long, Broadfoot Are Present

The Central Parent-Teachers Association sponsored a meeting last Thursday night for the purpose of reviewing the financial situation that Lauderdale County schools are now facing. Many of the parents expressed themselves in favor of any move necessary to better the situation as State Sen. E. B. Hattom, Jr., Reps. Bob Broadfoot and Charles Long and members of the County Board of Education listened.

Since 1955, funds from a state level have been raised from $63,000,000 to $135,000,000, the latter for the fiscal year, 1959-60, Senator Hattom told the group.

Operation and transportation are having to be curtailed, and it was also pointed out that local money from sales tax is now pledged by law for construction of schools and cannot be used for either teacher salaries or operation. The only local taxes for rural schools are the three mill ad valorem tax, a county-wide one mill tax and a three mill district tax. The schools also get the poll tax receipts, but these amounted to just $7,000 last term.

It was explained by Supt. Allen Thornton that prorata had taken $217,545 from the rural system over the past four years, the most severe year being 1959-60 when (Continued on Page 2)

Civic Clubs Sponsor Event

Coliseum Will Be Scene Of Farm-City Banquet

The Florence-Lauderdale Coliseum will be the scene of the biggest Farm-City Week celebration Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock ever held in Florence.

Through the combined sponsorship of the Civic clubs of the city some four hundred are expected to attend the observance in the form of a banquet in honor of some twenty-seven farm leaders, FFA chapter members and vocational agriculture teachers of Lauderdale County. These 27 leaders and Voc-Ag chapters will be presented checks by the sponsoring groups, it was announced.

Clubs participating in the affair are the Kiwanis, Civitan, Rotary, Exchange, Lions clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's club, the Jaycees and the North Florence Business Men's Association.

The week of November 12-24 has been set aside throughout the county, state and nation to bring the farmer and his city neighbors in closer contact and to aid in establishing a "better" understanding of each other's problems.

The following proclamation was issued Tuesday by Florence Mayor R. F. Martin:

Proclamation
WHEREAS, the prosperity and well-being of this community are dependent upon cooperation between the two great elements of our society; farmers and city people, and

WHEREAS, the complexities of their individual problems, and the divergence of their activities have led to a widening gulf of misunderstanding, and

WHEREAS, this gulf of misunderstanding must be eliminated; and each group must understand the other if our American way of life is to endure and

WHEREAS, Farm-City Week provides an unparalleled opportunity for farm and city people to become re-acquainted,

I, THEREFORE, E. F. Martin, Mayor of the city of Florence, do hereby proclaim the period of November 16 through November 24, 1960, to be Farm-City Week; and I do further call upon all citizens of this community to participate to the limit of their capability in the joint visits, the seminars, the pageants, fairs, civic and social events attendant to a successful Farm-City Week in Florence.

Done at the City of Florence this Nov. 15, 1960.

Mrs. Lutie Darnall Dies Sunday After Extended Illness

Co-Publisher Of Herald Was In Active Newspaper Work For Over 55 Years

Funeral services for Mrs. Marcy B. Darnall, 82, co-publisher of The Florence Herald, who died at her

MRS. MARCY B. DARNALL home 838 Kendrick St., Florence, Sunday at 4:20 a.m. after an extended illness, were held at Trinity Episcopal Church, Monday at 3:00 p.m. with the Rev. Edward G. Mullen, rector, officiating, assisted by the Rev. William E. Kearley. Burial was in Greenview Memorial Gardens with Morrison-Elkins in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Darnall, the former Lutie Milliken, was married to the late Marcy B. Darnall, Sr., at St. Joseph, Mo., in 1899. Shortly after her marriage, she became connected with an Army newspaper at Fort Riley, Kansas where Mr. Darnall was stationed as bandmaster and for 55 years, except for time taken out to raise her family, she was actively engaged in newspaper work, retiring as a member of The Herald staff on March 1, 1955.

When Mr. Darnall was transferred to Key West, Fla., in 1904, he purchased an interest in the Key West Citizen whereupon Mrs. Darnall became circulation manager and then business manager of that newspaper. In 1922, when Mr. and Mrs. Darnall bought The Florence Herald, Mrs. Darnall continued (Continued on Page 2)

GOVERNOR POSSIBLY VICTIM OF JOKE

Governor John Patterson's trip to Washington to see President-elect John F. Kennedy last Friday may have been the result of a practical joke, it was revealed Tuesday.

The Governor's office, it seems received a telephone call on Thursday night presumably from Stephen E. Smith, brother-in-law of Mr. Kennedy, inviting him to Washington the next day for a conference with the President-elect. Mr. Patterson cancelled a scheduled Veterans Day appearance and flew to the capital but Kennedy did not get off his own plane as it stopped on its way to Florida.

Smith said Monday he had issued no such invitation to Patterson and Kennedy later confirmed there was no such meeting.

Two Thousand Dollars Stolen In Colbert County As Thieves Use Torch

Acetylene torches were used by burglars to cut through a large walk-in vault at the Colbert County Courthouse Tuesday night, when some $2,000 was stolen. It was evident the burglars knew what they were doing when they were punching open the three safes, however, they were slumped when they hit the Sheriff's vault, which a turn of the handle would have opened.

The hole in the steel vault-measured 38 inches in height and some 11½ inches wide. The hardest hit office was that of the tax collector where between $1,000 and $1,200 in cash was stolen.

Sheriff W. Raymond Wheeler, said Wednesday that he had contacted Maurice Chambers, state investigator out of Huntsville, to begin investigating.

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Today, we look back on a thirty-year period in our life and memories crowd one after another as we recall incident after incident that attach themselves to only one person. This era—that has spread through half of our lifetime—came to an end Sunday when Lutie Darnall answered the call of her maker.

Memories often play fantastic tricks on one's mind but in looking back over these long and fruitful years of close association with this most remarkable woman, every day stands out clear as crystal as we vision the struggles and heartaches of depression years and the happy and successful achievements we had together in later years. Funny little incidents that brought smiles or laughter, errors in judgment that brought concern; accomplishments that paved the way for brighter years—all these we shared together and all these brought appreciation, respect and admiration for "a woman who fought the business world like a man."

Under her skillful guidance in our early years in the newspaper game (and it has always been a game with us), we learned to lean heavily on her experience and know-how; in later years, we were happy to have her lean on us as we gained in knowledge by working side by side with her. Few men have profited by such experiences as have we and now that this era has ended, we can only pay our respects to Mrs. Marcy B. Darnall, a most unusual woman, a devoted friend, a business partner in every sense of the word and a person whose memory shall always be an inspiration to us.

• What the average man wants out of his car—is his teen-age son.

• Even without an alarm clock, any young American with ambition is able and willing to get up at six o'clock in the morning to earn money—to meet the installment payments on his car.

• Salesman, after getting his foot inside the door, "May I show you a little item that I heard your neighbor say was too good for your house?"

• We read with interest a discussion on the changing shape of the American man—because we don't seem to fit into the pattern. The fact is that men are growing taller, and bigger in the chest and shoulders, but smaller in the waist. The biggest seller in suits today is size 42, whereas a decade or so ago it was 40. But the larger size usually needs to be taken in; seldom does the customer need to have a suit let out. At the turn of the century and up to the twenties, weights around 225 and 250 pounds were fashionable. William Howard Taft and J. P. Morgan set the style. John D. Rockefeller was considered a bit queer because he was skinny. A boy window was a mark of affluence—and as we examine ourselves we learn for the first time that we meet a certain standard of affluence.

A Great Victory

President-elect John F. Kennedy did what vice president Richard Nixon did not do. He concentrated on the big key states and got himself elected. Perhaps it was a great moral victory for Mr. Nixon and the Republican party but the Republicans do not emphasize that Mr. Nixon had been groomed for the job for eight years while the Senator from Massachusetts was practically unknown until the famous "great debates" revealed to the people that here was a man with at least some of the answers they had been seeking and had not found in the Eisenhower Administration.

The moral as well as the actual victory is John Kennedy's. In addition to being unknown he overcame the handicap of religion because he spent his time telling the people what John Kennedy thought and what John Kennedy believed could be done for America. Not even the "experience" of the Vice President could overcome this appeal.

Briefly the Republicans had failed to come up with a workable farm plan, they had failed to stabilize employment and had allowed U.S. prestige to suffer throughout the world. In addition our very close neighbor, fell into the hands of a pro-communist dictator without this country taking a decisive stand to prevent it.

These were some of the decisive factors that brought about a change in the White House that even the famed Eisenhower popularity was not enough to stem.

Mr. Kennedy may not solve all of the problems facing the nation in the next four years but he has the determination and the patriotism to give the job of being president all of his energies. Having a Democratic Congress to work with him will help.

Religious Emphasis Week

Special weeks are set aside for many things but none perhaps has more significance than Religious Emphasis Week, a time in which we are reminded of our spiritual responsibilities, both to ourselves and to our fellow men.

One might say every week should be Religious Emphasis Week, that no one week should be of more importance than another as far as religion is concerned. That is true but unfortunately it is a human failing to forget and this week is set aside to remind us once again that religion is the most important thing in our daily lives.

America is a nation of many creeds, each seeking the same goal. Religious Emphasis Week points to this fact just as our Constitution points to the right to worship as one of the nation's great freedoms for which our ancestors fought and died. For Catholic, Protestant and Jew it is the spiritual solace found in each one's church that means most in keeping this nation safe and secure and in giving it the strength to carry the message of true freedom to the rest of the world.

People may achieve legal freedom without being entirely free for unless they are also spiritually free they have no real freedom. That is why we have Religious Emphasis Week.

• In the reapportionment of House seats due to the 18.4 per cent population increase shown by the 1960 census, 25 states either gained or lost representatives: Alabama lost one, Tennessee broke even with nine, California gained eight, Florida picked up four. States picking up one each are: Arizona, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, Hawaii, Ohio, and Texas. Losing seats were: Pennsylvania, three; New York, two; Massachusetts, two; Arkansas, two; Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, and West Virginia, one each. The changes will become effective in the 88th Congress, Nov. 1962.

The amount of labor used in farming in 1958 was about one-half the number employed in 1940.

Earl Anderson Is Exchange Speaker

Earl Anderson, a member of the Florence Exchange Club, was the speaker at Tuesday's meeting at Hotel Reeder. Bob Dabney had charge of the program and presented the speaker.

Mr. Anderson, a lay leader of the Edgemont Methodist church, took "Religion" as the subject of his address and delighted the members with the thought provoking presentation.

As a sub-title to his remarks, Mr. Anderson asked: "What makes us tick?" and answered his question with: "No man can elick without God." Pointing out that religion is not complicated but very simple, he said that the home is the draft board of God and that the blue prints of life are made therein.

Illustrating his theme with an incident that happened last winter when his little granddaughter was out in the snow with him, both well booted and warmly clothed, he walked ahead until the young lady remarked: "Granddaddy, I'm walking in your footsteps." As he looked back, truly she was walking in his footsteps. "It is a challenge to all of us," Mr. Anderson said, "because those that follow behind should have the right footsteps in which to walk." Pride keeps us from doing and saying things we should, the speaker stressed, and he asked that all of us subdue our pride to take God with us as we walk.

Rockefeller May Be Next

It appears certain that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will emerge as a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964, because he is in an ideal position to move into national leadership, and can keep himself before the public, to remind the GOP that he is ready, willing and, most likely, readily available. He has shown ability to cut across party lines and win support from Democrats and independents. In addition, New York Democrats do not appear to have a potential candidate to match Rockefeller's crowd appeal and grass-roots campaign techniques.

Mercury Space Craft Fails

The Mercury space craft, designed to take an astronaut safely into outer space and return him to earth, failed to separate from its Little Joe rocket booster 13 miles from Wallops Island, Va., where it was launched. The rocket and space craft landed in 70 feet of water after rising to an altitude of 53,000 feet. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration does not believe that the failure is due to a fault in capsule design. The NASA has scheduled a manned rocket launch for 1961.

Since she became a member nine years ago, Patsy has been active in 4-H competition. Choosing clothing and baking as her first projects, she decided right off to enter the baking contest. Then a fourth grader, Patsy had never made a biscuit—the required entry item. But she set out to learn and she won.

Patsy has continued and expanded her 4-H activities until she has entered almost every competition offered. She enters the safety contest regularly and has been county winner in this contest, as well as in canning, food preparation, and speaking. Twice she was district baking winner. She is also the recipient of a safe driving certificate.

The 4-H'er has held a number of club offices, including president of her local club and of the county council.

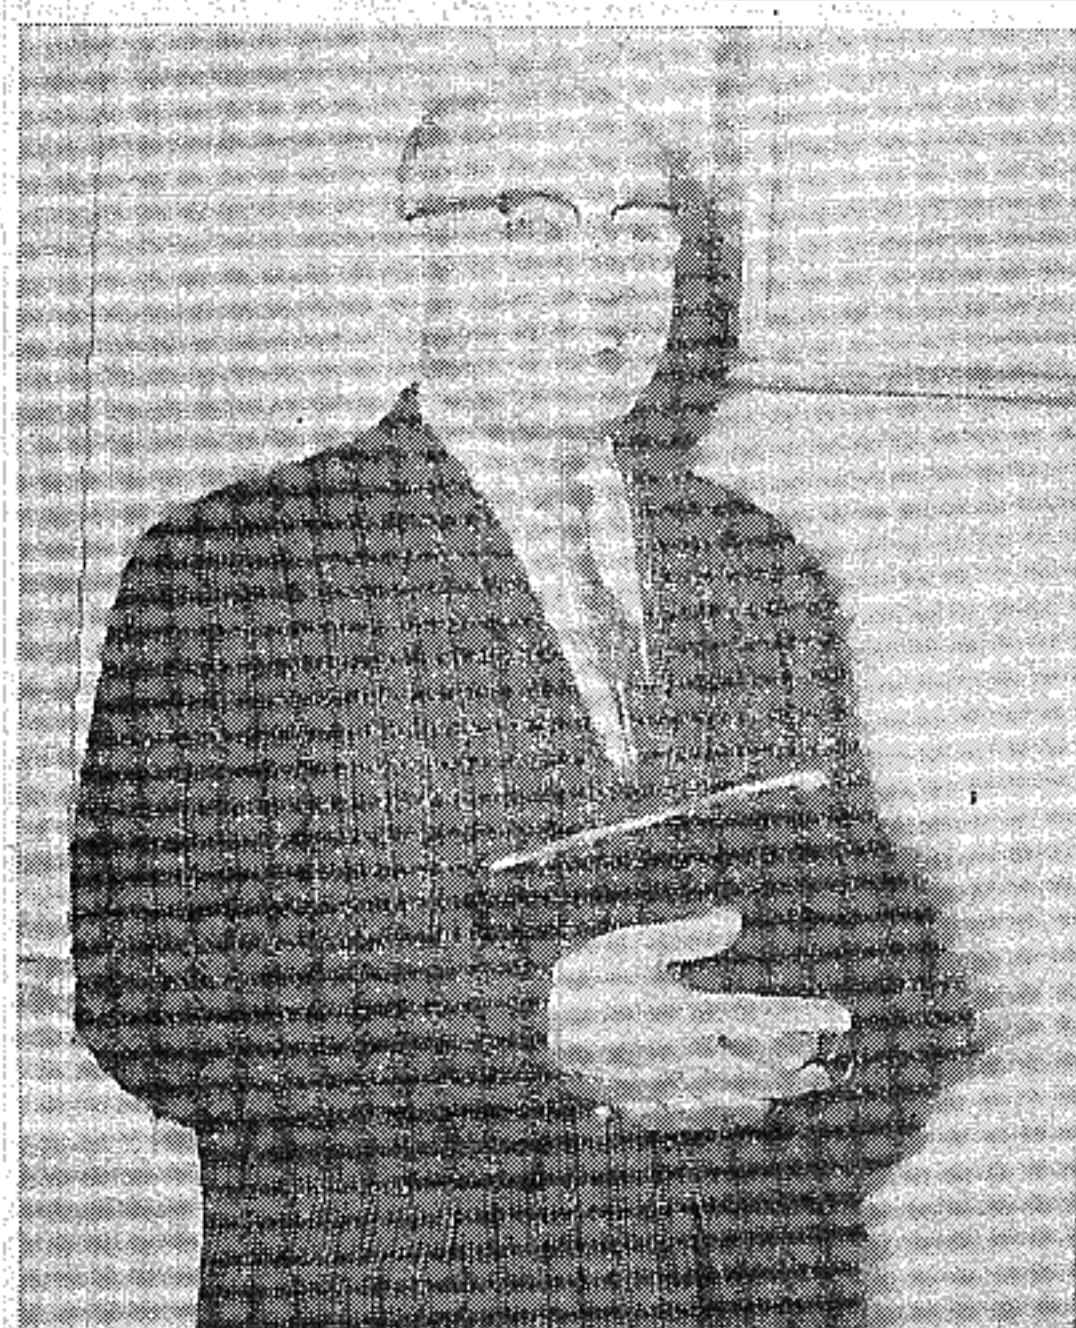

Patsy makes most of her own clothes. And she estimates that if she had been paid for her baby sitting, she would have earned about $3800. She has put in 12,259 hours caring for her younger brother and sister, enabling her parents to sell at the Florence Curb Market.

Now a home economics student at Florence State College, Patsy did not enter the local 4-H contests this year.

As state winner, however, Patsy will now receive an expense-paid trip to Chicago. She will attend the National 4-H Club Congress, meeting Nov. 27-Dec. 1, and will compete for one of eight $400 college scholarships.

DR. ROBERT LAMBUTH ARCHIBALD

"Some of my happiest moments come when I look out over my congregation and see children, grandchildren and great grandchildren of the parishoners of my father, who served the Oakland circuit of the Methodist Church from 1898 to 1902," Doctor Archibald said as he reviewed his interests in Florence and Lauderdale County over the years. "I feel that my roots are deeper in this county than in any other place and I am happy in my pastorate here because of the wonderful people we have here and the manner in which all faiths strive together for the better things of life," the affable minister continued.

In reply to a question as to his outlook on life, Dr. Archibald said: "Science has changed the world into a neighborhood and if we don't change this neighborhood into a brotherhood, we are sunk."

The Rev. Dr. Robert Lambuth Archibald, a native of Lauderdale County, was born August 3, 1902 in Oakland, the son of the Rev. Robert Murray and Loula Freiley Archibald. When a youngster, the family moved to Birmingham where he attended Hemphill Elementary School and received his high school training at Simpson School.

The Rev. Mr. Archibald attended Hiwassee College at Madisonville, Tennessee, being graduated in 1924. He received his A.B. degree from Emory and Henry College in 1926 and his masters degree from Emory University in 1927. He received his B. D. degree from Emory in 1932. In 1948, he was made a member-at-large by the Alpha Chapter of Pi Tau Chi, honorary fraternity of religious leaders.

Dr. Archibald was awarded his first D.D. degree by Athens College in 1940; in 1954, he received the D.D. degree from Birmingham Southern College.

Dr. Archibald was married to Alyce Hillman, of Herald, Virginia, October 24, 1928. They have two children, the Rev. Robert Lambuth Archibald, Jr., pastor of Alabaster Methodist Church at Alabaster, and Mrs. Donald (Mary Alyce) Mize of Tusculooosa. There are five grandchildren.

The Rev. Mr. Archibald was made a deacon of the North Alabama Conference in 1925 and an elder in 1930. He was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church in Birmingham in 1929, serving until 1933, when he was appointed pastor at Irondale Methodist Church, also in Birmingham. In 1935, Dr. Archibald was appointed pastor of Brookhaven Methodist Church at Birmingham where he served until 1938, when he was transferred to the Central Methodist Church in Decatur.

Dr. Archibald first came to Florence in 1942 as district superintendent, continuing in this position until 1946 when he was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church in Huntsville. He remained there until 1949. From this post, he went to the East Lake Methodist Church in Birmingham serving until 1953, when he was appointed district superintendent at Bessemer. In 1957, Dr. Archibald returned to Florence to assume pastoral duties at the First Methodist Church, the position he has held since.

While attending Emory and Henry College, he was a member of the college quartet; and at Emory University, was a member of the Glee Club.

While at Emory and Henry College, Dr. Archibald was a member of Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary national education fraternity. At Birmingham Southern College, he was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity.

Dr. Archibald is a member of the Florence Kiwanis Club and has served on the Board of Directors. In 1959, he served as a member of the speakers bureau for the United Fund, and has done extensive work with the local chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous. He is a member and past presi-

Search Fails To Produce Body Of Tennessee Man

James Elbert Arnold, 16, was released early Wednesday from the Florence city jail, after being held for two consecutive days for questioning in the disappearance case of Sherman Acie Phillips, 20, originally from Waynesboro, Tenn., and who had more recently been living with Arnold.

Arnold repeated the same story four or five times to the police, stating that Phillips may have fallen into the waters of the Tennessee River just below O'Neal Bridge sometime early Sunday morning. At the time Arnold was supposedly sitting in the car when he heard what sounded like a human groan and a splash. Sheets of fog and the darkness prevented him from seeing anything and he then went to the Boat Harbor where he contacted the police. Both youths had been drinking prior to the disappearance.

Arnold is on parole with a condition that he not leave Tennessee; he resides in Shelbyville. Phillips was scheduled for trial during December in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges of housebreaking and larceny which adds to the mystery of where is or "what happened to Phillips?"

BABY SHOW SUNDAY AT LEGION HOME

Mrs. John Braswell is still taking entries for the baby show to be held Sunday at the American Legion Home, Florence. She has a station in the lobby of the Reeder Hotel and will take applications from 9:30 to 5 each day.

Children must be registered this week to be eligible for the competition in the health and beauty show and will be judged in diapers or training pants. The winning boy and girl will each receive a gold cup; Silver cups will be awarded to Little Miss and Mister Tri-Cities, who will be chosen by popular vote.

Those privileged to know Dr. Archibald as well as those who come under his influence find in this loveable preacher of the gospel the warm fellowship that attracts one man to another. He truly lives the brotherhood he preaches and by his friendly, helping hand has guided hundreds down the path of service to God and his fellowman. The community has truly been made richer by his residence here.

'College Night' At Temple On Friday

Event Co-Sponsored By B'nai Israel Sisterhood
And Circle-K Club

"College Night" at Temple B'nai Israel has become a cherished tradition in the Tri-Cities. It was instituted three years ago when Dr. J. S. Gallinger assumed the pulpit of the Tri-Cities Jewish Congregation.

This year's worship and reception will be held tomorrow night, beginning at 8 p.m. with a worship service to be followed by a reception for the College community.

"College Night" is sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple B'nai Israel headed by Mrs. Gary Florman. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Evelyn Coleman, chairman, Mrs. Jack Muhlenford and Mrs. Stanley Schulman.

Campus co-sponsors this year will be the Circle K Club, headed by Bob Proctor, president, with vice president, John Connor in charge.

The 1960 program will include a lecture by Dr. J. S. Gallinger, Rabbi of Temple B'nai Israel, on "The Three F's of Religion." A welcome on behalf of the Jewish community will be extended by Morris Klibanoff to which Dr. E. B. Norlin, President of the college and Ed Gosa, student government association president will respond.

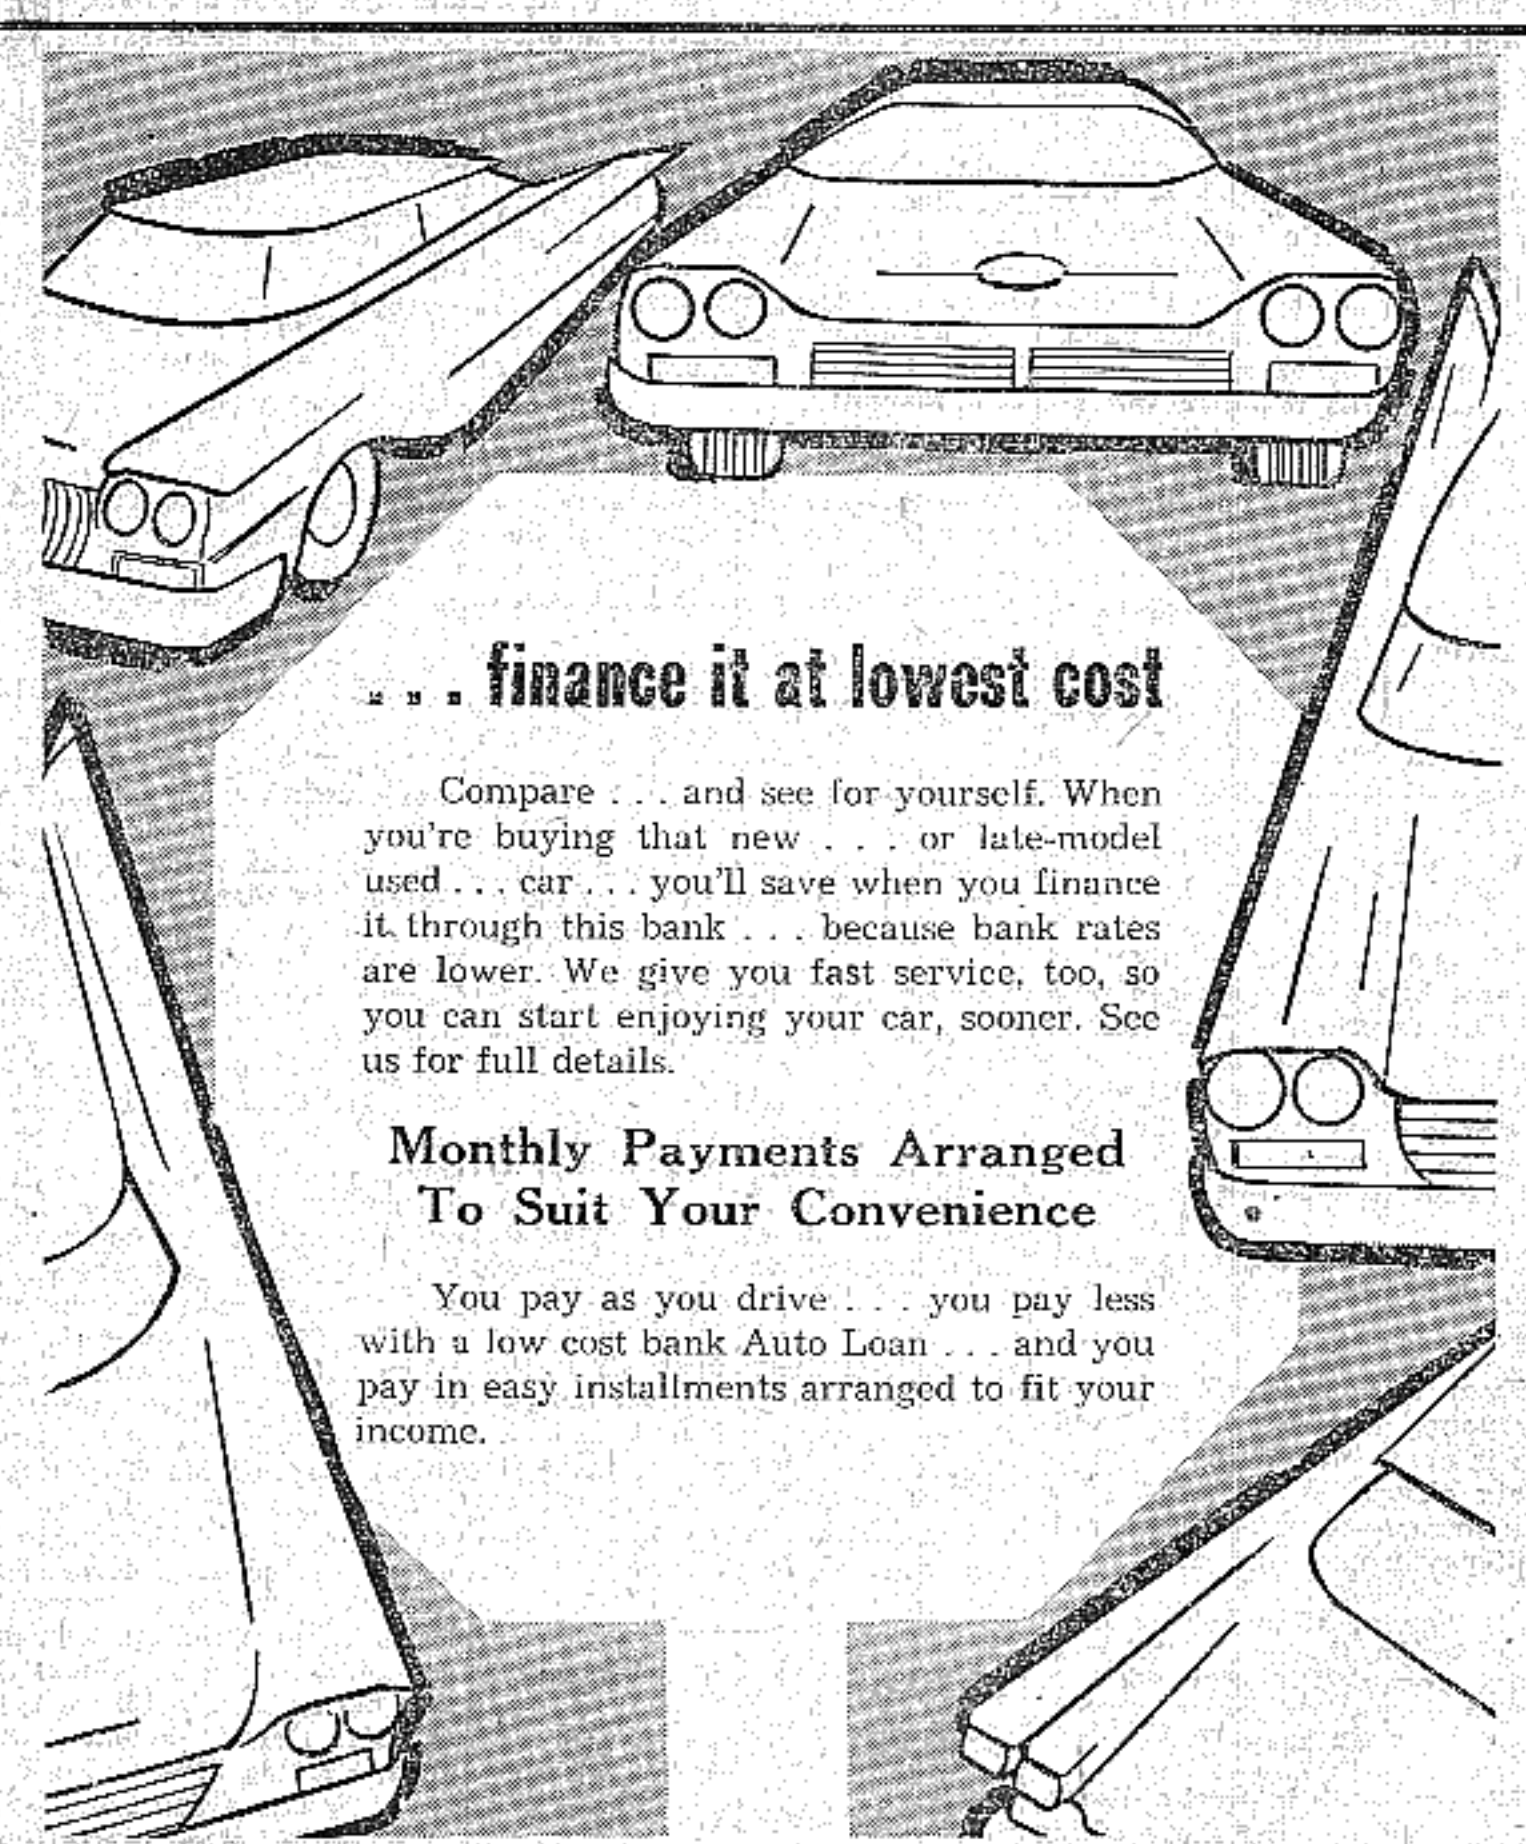

The faculty, staff and students of the college, their families and friends are cordially invited to attend, it was announced by Mrs. Florman on behalf of the Sisterhood, by Morris Klibanoff on behalf of the Congregation and by Bob Proctor on behalf of the Circle K Club.

FLORENCE CHAMBER TO ELECT DIRECTORS

Ballots for nomination of six new directors, which have been mailed to the members of the Florence Chamber of Commerce, must be voted and returned by 1 p.m. today to be eligible for tabulation by the ballot counting committee. The 12 members receiving the highest number of votes will be re-submitted by mail in a run off in which the six receiving the most votes will be declared the winners.

Those members ineligible to receive votes this time are: W. F. Baker, T. Ed. Campbell, Harold Hammond, W. H. Mitchell, Jr., Edward H. Smoot, Frank Crow, Byron B. Bower, E. B. Halton, Jr., J. A. Keller, Henry Lamar, T. M. Rogers and Leonard Johnson.

MRS. GERALD THOMAS EMMONS

ss Joan Jackson, wife of Thomas Emmons, was the bride at the wedding and reception of Saturday, November twelfth, when Joan and Jackson, younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Milton Jackson of Florence, exchanged nuptial vows with Gerald Thomas Emmons, son of Mrs. Marshall and Mr. Emmons of Sheffield, and late Mr. Emmons.

Only family members were present for the ceremony which took place at 2 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal Mission with the Reverend Dr. C. Mullen, rector of Trinity Church, officiating. Dr. Jackson gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of Chantilly lace over tulle was signed with a basque bodice and a full, floor-length skirt. Distinguishing details were the high laced neckline outlined with all pearls and dipping to a deep in the back, long sleeves which were to points over the hands, and a flat tulle bow at the back. Her veil of silk illusion from a crown of pearls and in her confirmation prayer book carried a crescent of lilies of valley and white orchids.

Mrs. Askew Marable was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were her cousin, Ann Blake Jackson of Sheffield, and Martha Terry. Bouquets of lavender and white lilies complemented their dresses, fashioned of peau de soie in shades of violet and detailed with wide notched necklines, sheer cummerbunds and swirls of unpressed pleats. Their dresses were bouffant bows matching peau de soie with rounded veils.

Mr. Emmons chose his brother, William Wesley Emmons of Sheffield, as his best man.

For the wedding and the reception to which she and Dr. Jackson were hosts in their home immediately after the ceremony, Mrs. Jackson wore a sheath of peacock green lace with small hat of flowers, matching accessories and a cymidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Emmons, mother of the bridegroom, was in crystal blue lace with half-hat of steel velvet and she, too, wore orchids as did Mrs. W. L. Holland, the bride's maternal grandmother, whose gown of black lace was complemented by a feather cloche.

At the reception, a tall white "anniversary candle" was lighted by the bride couple and will be re-lighted each year upon the occasion of their wedding anniversary.

For travel, the bride changed to a suit of brown and black tulle with which she wore black accessories.

When Mr. and Mrs. Emmons return from their Gulf Coast honeymoon, they will be at home at 823½ North Wood Avenue, the first home of the bride's parents and, a few years ago, of her sister and brother-in-law.

Jerry Wade Wright, Miss Boothe Say Vows

Candlelight and decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and greenery, Eastside Church of Christ, Sheffield, was the scene on Saturday, November twelfth, of the mid-afternoon nuptials of Miss Darris Mae Boothe and Jerry Wade

Wright. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myres Luther Boothe of Sheffield; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Wright of Savannah Road, Florence.

Lamar Plunkett, minister of the church, read the three o'clock vows following musical selections presented by the choir with Sherwin Kretzer and Jay Bulman, soloists.

Wearing white Chantilly lace over tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Hayden Boothe. Designed with a close-fitting bodice and full gathered skirt, her gown was detailed with a scooped neckline and overskirt of lace. A jeweled tiara held her veil of double illusion and she carried a bouquet of fringed carnations and tuberoses encircling a white orchid.

Mrs. Thomas Newton Boothe was the bride's honor attendant and bridesmaids and matron included Miss Cecelia Makin, Miss Mary Ellen Ingram and Mrs. Milas Conley. Mrs. Boothe's gown was of pink brocade tulle with puffed sleeves and full skirt and other attendants, including candlelighters Mary Sue Frederick, cousin of the bride, and Janice Ingram, were in identical frocks of blue. Head-dresses were tiny velvet bows with matching veils, maids and matrons carrying bouquets of asters and the candlelighters wearing wristlets of blue carnations.

Bob Thrasher was best man for the bridegroom and groomsmen were his brother, Timothy Wright, Richard Ingram and Wayne Brooks.

Mrs. Boothe chose for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of beige embroidered satin with orchid accessories and a corsage of orchids and white carnations. Mrs. Wright was in a sheath of blue brocade tulle with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Assisting at the reception to which the bride's parents were hosts in the church parlors following the ceremony were: Miss Laura Balentine, Miss Gloria Pendergrass of Marked Tree, Ark., Mrs. G. L. Vaughn, Miss Nelda Blankenship, Miss Sue Nell Moore, Mrs. H. R. Makin and Mrs. Carl Powell.

The bride's traveling costume of Copenhagen blue wool with black accessories was complemented by the orchid from her bouquet.

Now returned from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be at home in Sheffield until December when the bridegroom will leave for a tour of duty with the United States Air Force in French Morocco, to be joined there at an early date by his bride.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dowdy, Mrs. Virgie Dowdy and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanback, all of Huntsville, and Robert Boone of Bragg City, Mo.

Late-Afternoon Ceremony Marks McClure-Sharp Vows

On Saturday afternoon, November fifth, Miss Nancy Rebecca McClure and William David Sharp exchanged nuptial pledges in Stony Point Church of Christ, with Gilbert Kretzer, minister, reading the service at five o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster McClure of Chisholm Road, Florence, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sharp, also of Florence.

Nuptial selections were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Don Harriman. A white ivy-entwined arch spanned the altar and arrangements of white blossoms and tapers in branched candelabra decorated the foreground. Groupings of tapers with evergreen foliage marked the window recesses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace featured a basque bodice with V-neckline re-embroidered with sequins and long, tapering sleeves which pointed over the hands. Her only ornament was an heirloom locket, handed down from her great grandmother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Olive. Her veil of illusion was caught to a headpiece of sequins and her white Bible was marked with a white orchid and showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Marie Butler, wearing a frock of blue, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids, dressed in pink, were Miss Betty McClure, sister of the bride, Miss Linda Bevis and Miss Charlotte McMurtrey. Martha Pigg was flower girl. Head-dresses of satin matched their frocks and they carried bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Hubert Posey was the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were Bob Holley, Darrell Davis, J. R. Sharp and Charles McClure.

Both mothers chose orchid corsages to complement the blue of their gowns.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure honored their daughter and her husband with a reception at the family home immediately after the ceremony. Assisting were Miss Brenda Grimes, Miss Linda Sharp, Miss Johnnie McClure, Miss Luverne Hipps, Miss June Davis.

For their honeymoon to points in Tennessee, the bride wore a fur-trimmed beige suit, brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Now returned, they are at home on Franklin Street, Florence.

Twentieth Century Club Hears Miss Rogers Review

Insight born of Summer vacations along the Carolina coastal regions added delightful interest to Miss Mary Rogers' review of "Outer Banks of North Carolina" and spiced the program which she gave at last Thursday's meeting of Twentieth Century Club. David Slick is the book's author.

A tiny matchbox, decorated with shells gathered along The Banks last Summer, was presented as a "surprise favor" to each member by the speaker.

Mrs. Otis L. Peacock, hostess, welcomed her guests at Rogers Hall and served tea and accompaniments preceding the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barnett were hosts on Sunday, November sixth, when they entertained with a reception at their home in Lexington. The occasion was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of the hosts and taking part in the celebration were their twelve sons and daughters including Mrs. Onus Thigpen, Mrs. Welburn Simpson, Miss Elaine Barnett, James and Herbert Barnett, all of Lexington; Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, Arlon Barnett, Carlon Barnett, Mrs. John D. Thigpen, Odene Barnett, all of Florence; Mrs. Cecil Davis of Central; and Mrs. Daniel Lewey of Tusculum. Fourteen of their fifteen grandchildren and one of their two great grandchildren were also present, as were a large number of friends and well-wishers.

Mrs. Darby Tells State Capital History

Florence Club members gathered for their November meeting on Thursday afternoon, the 10th, at the home of Mrs. Basil Horsfield, 401 South Locust Street, and during the business meeting welcomed Mrs. Paul Barr as a new member. For the afternoon's program,

THE FLORENCE HERALD, Florence, Alabama

Thursday, November 17, 1960—Page 3

Mrs. A. J. Darby used William H. Brantley's "The Three Capitals" as background material for her talk on our state's seat of government and its widely scattered locations of the past. Beginning with the territorial capital at St. Stephens (near Mobile), Mrs. Darby traced its history to the temporary capital in Huntsville; to Cahaba where, after six years, high waters necessitated another move; to Tusculum for a period of twenty years; and in 1846 to its present site in Montgomery.

Mrs. John North and Mrs. Byron Bower assisted with teatime courtesies.

Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Williams Discussion Club Hostesses

Florence Discussion Club members and several additional guests were present on last Thursday afternoon when T. M. Rogers and Mrs. D. R. Williams were hostesses to the November meeting, entertaining at the home of the former on North Wood.

Introduced by Mrs. Marguerite Hackworth, chairman of the program committee, Walter E. Urban, assistant professor of music at Florence State College, presented the program, accompanying piano selections from Scarlatti, Brahms, Mendelssohn and Chopin with brief biographical sketches of the composers.

Guests were Mrs. C. O. Beasley, Miss Myrtle Herring, Mrs. Emerson Lucas, Mrs. Frank M. Perry, Mrs. Julian Nance and Miss Mary Boldrick of Louisville, Ky., here for an Autumn visit with her niece, Mrs. W. W. Slaton.

Mrs. W. M. Paxton presided at the teatable during the refreshment hour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gelsinger, Bob and Sue, Cypress Mill Road, visited during the week end with former Florentines, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Middleton and family in Gadsden.

Children's Book Week Observed By Local Libraries

With this as their theme libraries, schools and bookstores in the fifty states of the United States and armed forces posts all over the world are observing National Children's Book Week this week. Sponsored by Children's Book Council, Inc., Children's Book Week has been celebrated for forty-one years to promote love of books among children of all ages.

All units of the Muscle Shoals Regional Library—the libraries in Florence, Sheffield, Tusculumbia and Leighton and the bookmobile are joining in this gala celebration.

The Sheffield and Florence Libraries are featuring a display of the books of the late Miss Maud Lindsay, local writer of children's books, some of them co-authored with Emilie Poullson, well-known kindergarten teacher and friend of Miss Lindsay. Each of these displays are centered by a picture of Miss Lindsay.

In the Florence Library two window displays of the books of Margaret De Angeli and Dr. Seuss, a pseudonym of Theodor Seuss Geisel, both beloved everywhere by children who read, will greet visitors as they come up the steps of the library. In the children's section of the library a huge balloon bearing gay family groups aloft, ala "Around the World in Eighty Days," proclaims both Book Week and American Education Week.

All of these libraries and the bookmobile extend a cordial invitation to children, parents and others to visit them this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bergman (Joan Silverburg) have announced the arrival at University Hospital, Birmingham, on Monday, November 14, of a little daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Julius Silverburg of 920 Olive St., the baby's maternal grandparents, left Florence yesterday for a visit with the Bergman family.

THE SPILLWAY

"Christmas is a-comin'
And the geese are gettin' fat..."

AND our down-town section is scurryin' and bustlin' getting ready for it... the decorations promise to be up to their usual beauty this year, and we're sure that the stories "all over" will be too... COLUMN POUR LES HOMMES... seems that it's from our male readers that most of this week's news comes...

...HOPE YOU SAW (Judge) Bob Simpson at the polls last week... up from Montgomery just to vote and return immediately after accomplishing his mission... HENRY CROMWELL RIDING around in his BIG black automobile is a real eye-catcher... certainly looks like a V.I.P. ... but then Henry's always been that with us... JUST AS PROUD OF his mode of travel is Floyd McCoy, who looks about ready to throw away the crutches he's been using these last several weeks and make it on his own...

...SORRY TO HEAR that C. Smith Reeder has returned to his home in California after a visit here with his mother... enjoyed seeing him several times out rolling-the-stroller for his cute little nephews—the Meade Boys... BET THE CONVERSATIONS have been going strong and into the "wee sma' hours" AND strictly intellectual over at Dr. Hollingsworth's apartment... these nights, since his son Willis is here for his annual visit from New York City where he is with the New York Times...

...RUMOR HAS IT of an interesting professorship to be filled at the college by a well-known local business man... We predict there'll be lots of townspeople auditing his courses if this is true... BY THE WAY, if you haven't been seeing Glad Shepherd's drama-productions at the college, you've been cheating yourself. She has the real gift of direction, and last week's production of "The Little Foxes" was right at the top. Lined and the cast are to be commended for a good piece of work...

SPEAKING OF THE COLLEGE, wasn't that an impressive parade put on by their military units last Friday? We'd call it a REAL Armed Forces Day celebration with every member of the group, including the beautiful sponsors in white and red capes, verree snappy... AND WE MUST MENTION ONE THING at the parade that gave us pleasure... Hallic Foy and her little granddaughter marching right along with the soldiers, enjoying themselves to the fullest and looking every bit MILITARY!

SOUNDS LIKE EXCITING FLORIDA TRAVELS for Rollins and Ilma Sevier... combining business with pleasure... Rollins is representing Stylen at meetings in Boca Raton while Ilma enjoys the vacation attractions, which are many and fabulous... then they'll do more "pleasurin' and travelin'" before they return home...

CONGRATULATIONS TO Geneva Boston as a grade-A grandmother... know she's enjoying helping out with her two-year-old granddaughter while Sandra and (Dr. James) Dockery get the newest little girl home from the hospital in Tusculumbia. Just hope both little daughters are as pretty as their mama...

MORE NEWS of the Boston family concerns cousin Judy Christian, who we hear is making a name for herself at Brenau (Ga.) Junior College, as a Sophomore this year—with grades 'way up there. Her home town is proud of her...

HEARD MUCH TALK along "the main drag" on Saturday about Coffee High's game with Etowah County High in Attalla on Friday night. Coffee's championship team was up against a "real 'un" they say, and should be proud of the showing it made. There were many cars and busses full of Coffee's supporters on hand and two of the busses broke down on the way home... but the enthusiastic sportsters rolled into town about daylight, undaunted...

Thursday Study Club Meets With Mrs. Porter

Mrs. J. E. McDonald, Mrs. J. W. Scarbrough and Miss Orpha Ann Culmer were included with club members in Mrs. Hugh Porter's hospitality when Thursday Study Club convened at her Hermitage Drive home on November 10th.

Humorous and delightful was the review of James Street's "South" which was presented by Mrs. W. B. Sloan. Numerous historical anecdotes were intermingled with unusual bits of Southern lore.

Mrs. Porter was assisted at tea-time by Mrs. Scarbrough and Mrs. J. A. Kellar.

Miss Pamela Bull, a student at MSCW in Columbus, Miss., arrived last week end for a short stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bull on Olive St.

After a visit with her father, Homer Reeder, Poplar St., Mrs. William Baskerville returned on Friday to her home in Pensacola. Leona, Margaret and Jim Garth are guests this week of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Acton of Wilson Lake Cove, while their parents, Maj. and Mrs. Hunter Garth are vacationing in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Patton and daughter, Susan, were among the Florentines attending the Tenn.-Ole Miss football game in Knoxville on Saturday. They were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Reeves.

Town Club Brunch Autumn Highlight

Beginning a series of social courtesies which will be continued into the holiday season, Mrs. Fred W. Osborn, Mrs. Jewett Flagg and Mrs. Harry M. Simpson were co-hostesses on Wednesday, entertaining with a half past eleven o'clock brunch at The Town Club.

In the Old South Room, an oblong brass planter was filled with white, yellow and bronze chrysanthemums to center the buffet table and small arrangements of the same blossoms, with pastel cloths, appointed the six smaller tables where guests were seated.

Out-of-towners included on the invited list were Mrs. Will Wyker and Mrs. Joe Duncan of Decatur, and Mrs. Dave Martin of Courtland.

Guests numbered forty.

Dr. and Mrs. James Dockery (Sandra Boston) have announced the birth on November 7 at Druid City Hospital in Tusculumbia of their second daughter. Mrs. Dockery's mother, Mrs. Norwood Boston of Chisholm Road, Florence is spending the ensuing two-weeks with her daughter's family.

Mrs. Milcs Carter was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arelio in Atlanta while attending a meeting of the National Foundation in that city.

F. C. Martin, Jerome C. Martin and Ray Reed will return tomorrow from a week's pheasant hunt in Independence, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Locklear, Jr., were among the Florentines attending the Coffee-Etawah game on Friday evening. They continued their stay until Sunday as guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Owens in Gadsden and Mr. and Mrs. Locklear in Attalla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. DeWeese and little daughter, Mary Jo, Florentines for the past five years, left Saturday to make their home in Astabula, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kitchens of Montgomery, onetime neighbors of Dr. and Mrs. Wyatt Simpson on the lake, were recent visitors in the Simpson home.

Mrs. Duncan S. Gray was in Huntsville last week for a visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham Jones.

Mrs. E. M. Cobb of 635 N. Cherry St., left last week for Memphis where she is a hospital patient. Called previously by her illness was her daughter, Mrs. Billy Campbell, and Mr. Campbell from Anchorage, Alaska, where he is serving at the Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Wilson have returned from a recent visit with family members in Ward, Miss.

A guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Slaton at "Mapleton" is her aunt, Miss Mary Doldrick of Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Burgess Little is in Mobile for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Stuart, and Mr. Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Holland and sons of Montgomery were week end guests of B. L. Danley and Mrs. W. L. Holland, coming especially for the Saturday wedding of Mr. Holland's niece, Miss Joan Jackson, and Gerald Thomas Emmons.

Bel Air Sport Coupe. There's up to 2 inches more head room in this trim new hardtop; more leg room, too—front and rear.

NEW-SIZE YOU-SIZE SIXTY-ONE DERFUL CHEVY

This '61 is built on the principle that the place you want space is inside. We put it there, too. Actually trimmed the outer size to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering, and still worked wonders with inner space. Door openings are as much as 6" wider. Seats as much as 14% higher. We've thought of everything. Increased rear foot room by slenderizing the driveshaft tunnel. Worked in sensible new ideas all the way back through that huge bin of a baggage compartment. See how thoughtful this one is? Full of good new things. Full of good old things, too, like Chevrolet's well-known thrift and dependability. See it soon.

News Of Central Heights

Mrs. Andrew Thrasher

Church:

There will be a spaghetti supper at the Pleasant Hill Methodist Church Friday night beginning at 6:00 p.m. This will be sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Get your tickets now!

There was an Explorer Scout meeting held at the Pleasant Hill Church Monday night in which the church will sponsor this Explorer Post.

Remember its another community Thanksgiving Service at the Central High School on Wednesday night before Thanksgiving, Rev. Gordon Ware of the Central Heights Methodist Church will bring the message. Rev. Frank Martin of the Central Heights Baptist Church will participate and others of the community, won't you attend?

Another note of interest to the churches and community is that Marshall Murphree of Oneonta will be at the Central Heights Methodist Church on the 27th. They have spent thirty years in Southern Rhodesia and will show films and slides along with lectures of their experiences and relate facts of the conditions in these foreign countries. All churches are invited and this is a great opportunity for the youth of your church to promote missionary education. So please be present. There will be a service at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Personals:

News Of LEOMA

By Mrs. L. T. Roberts

Walter Mabry is still in the Loretto Hospital undergoing medical treatment.

Jack Lindsey is in the Lawrenceburg hospital for treatment.

Mrs. R. O. Barnett was carried back to the Maury County Hospital last Monday for a medical check-up. Her Leoma friends will be glad to hear that she is doing fine.

The Foggy Mountain Boys of WSM radio and TV, of Nashville, presented a nice show at the Leoma school last Thursday night with a large crowd present. Several nice prizes were given away. Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs and their band were special guests for supper of the school cafeteria while here. All proceeds from the show will go to the Leoma school.

Guests Are Entertained:
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Prosser were hosts to a luncheon at their home last Sunday given for their visiting guests, Mrs. Edna Bottoms, of Winter Haven, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Hughes and sons of Pulaski; Mr. and Mrs. Don Marston and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Prosser and Andy, of Summertown; Mrs. Neal James and sons of Lawrenceburg; and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Freeman, of Five Points.

Mrs. Dobby Stout and new baby daughter Debbie Lynn were moved to their home in Leoma last Saturday from the Lawrence County hospital.

Otto Hammonds spent part of last week at the local hospital undergoing medical treatment. We are glad to report that he is feeling better.

Mrs. Ethel Smith, is confined to her home where she fell last week when she suffered a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. Alice Johnson were guests of Mrs. Mary White at Pulaski last Sunday.

Mrs. Onus Norwood left last Monday for Norfolk, Virginia, where she will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fields for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Purcell and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Purcell and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Smith, at Columbia Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill Speakman left last Sunday for their home in New Madrid, Mo., after a visit with her sister Mrs. Johnnie Davidson and Mr. Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bivens and Mrs. Ornie Davis, were guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Day Davis, at Lewisburg, Tenn.

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Ferrell, of Tuscaloosa, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Willis.

night, December 9. Everyone is invited to attend.

Sports:
There will be basketball game at the Cloverdale School Thursday night beginning at 6:30 between Mars Hill and Cloverdale. We hope a good crowd will attend.

The public is urged to come to Cloverdale school Saturday, Nov. 19, where the Salem Methodist Church is serving a chicken plate dinner along with all the fixings, pie and drink. Serving will begin at 5 o'clock and continue until 7.

Following the dinner the annual harvest sale will be held. On sale will be farm products, hand made articles and canned goods also donated by the congregation. All proceeds will be used by the building fund of the church in a much needed addition for Sunday school rooms.

Coffee Loses To Etowah County

Florence State Victor Over Austin Peay; Lions Home This Week

Etowah County 20—Coffee 12
The Yellow Jackets tasted defeat last Friday night when the Etowah County Blue Devils defeated them 20-12. With the defeat Coffee's undefeated season of eight straight victories, their winning streak of 17 straight and hopes for the Alabama High School championship ended. 10,000 fans witnessed the contest as both teams had their half with the Blue Devils pushing home 20 points in the first 24 minutes and Coffee coming back in the second half to score thirteen.

Central 25—Rogers 13

The Central Wildcats defeated the T. M. Rogers Pirates last Friday night 25-13, the last game for the Pirates. The Pirates, who have just completed their second year of football at the North Alabama school won four games while losing six. Central now has a 5-4-1 record, and will play host to Lynn this Friday night, ending this year's schedule.

Hartselle 56—Rogersville 6

Rogersville ended their dismal football season last Friday night when they were defeated by the Morgan County Tigers 56-6. The triumph gave Hartselle an 8-2 record, its best in the past 15 years. Rogersville Quarterback Owen Meredith tossed a 20 yard pass to End Gene Williams for the only Lauderdale County touchdown.

FSC 35—Austin Peay 34

Florence State defeated Austin Peay last Saturday night 35-34 but had to depend on an extra point in the last 28 seconds of play when John Willis intercepted a pass for two-points by Governor

3:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Tusculumbia with James H. Patterson officiating. Burial will follow in Tusculumbia Oakland.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Oleta M. Beck, Tusculumbia; one daughter, Miss Joan Beck; one son, Walter M. Beck, all of Tusculumbia; two sisters, Mrs. Riley Meek, of Tusculumbia and Mrs. Carl Jackson of Sheffield; two brothers, Lawrence M. Beck and James T. Beck, both of Tusculumbia.

HARVEST FESTIVALS have been celebrated by many nations down through history. In America, the Pilgrims, after much hardship in a new land, set aside a special day of Thanksgiving. Today, this is probably our second most honored feast day . . . a day of family gatherings, cranberry sauce and usually too much turkey. To a closely-knit family, it's a day of fun and one, which true to our tradition, is observed by gathering the clan together and diving into that ever-present bird. All of us at Southern Bell hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving Day and — Happy Eating!

In planning your family gathering, remember to let your telephone work for you. Handle all those last minute details by phone—it's so much easier.

AND, if your youngsters can't come home for Thanksgiving, why not call them and say hello over the holidays. Long-distance rates are low with extra bargains after 6 PM and on Sundays. It's fun to keep in touch by telephone.

YOU'LL ENJOY "The Thread of Life," newest TV program in the Bell Telephone Hour Science Series, Friday night, December 9, over NBC-TV. If you're interested in the mysteries of heredity, how we inherit our personalities, the characteristics of our parents, our chances of having an exact double, how many new babies will be boys or girls, and lots of other fascinating facts about the science of genetics, put a big red circle around December 9 on your calendar and check your newspaper for time and channel.

News Of Rogersville

By Mrs. Oswald Waddell
Phone CH 4-3256

It was a very nice surprise when Hubert Greene told his wife, that since he wouldn't be at home on her birthday that he would just take her out for lunch on Sunday. But when they arrived at the designated place Mrs. Greene discovered that the Horace Wilkersons, neighbors of theirs, were actually the hosts and that a table had been reserved for the party which included the Greene children, Marie and Edward and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crumbley, Ricky and Susan.

Guest Honored:

A treat enjoyed by a number of the town's folk was a dinner on Sunday evening in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church at which Mrs. Naomi McMurtry of Greensboro, Ala., the guest of Mrs. Homer Williams (Vona Woodell) also of Greensboro who was spending a few days at her summer place near Rogersville.

Mrs. McMurtry was for a number of years Home Economics teacher in the local high school but moved to Greensboro some fifteen years ago. Guests included numerous friends and former students.

Personals:

Julian Weathers is a surgical patient in the Limestone County Hospital.

Mrs. Preston White is a surgical patient in the Decatur General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McMasters and family were the guests of Mrs. McMaster's mother, Mrs. Flora Fulk, near Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby James have moved into the Platt house on Lee Highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ray Sledge have moved into their new home in Rogersville. From Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. James Bullard have come to live in the Sledge house.

Also moving into their new home are the Jack Howards.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Greene and family were recent guest in Belmont, Miss., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. James Skipworth and Jimmie of Decatur were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Billy Page, Sr.

Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Harris left Monday for Birmingham where they will attend the association of the Southern Ministers of the Church of God Reformation Movement at the Pinehurst Church of God from November 14-17.

Mrs. Jack Goode of San Diego, Cal., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wilbanks and other relatives. She will be joined by her husband for the Christmas holidays before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waddell are being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Waddell on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20, between the hours of 2 and 4. The occasion is a 50th wedding anniversary.

Thanksgiving service under the direction of the Rogersville Pastor's Association will be at the Presbyterian U.S.A. Church on Thursday morning at 7:00. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at 8:30. You are urged to participate in this community service. Rev. W. W. Hill of the Methodist Church will speak.

Also visiting in the Lanier home Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Belew, M. R. Belew, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mabe, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Belew, Mrs. Ella Burgess, Miss Ada Belew, Mrs. M. R., Belew, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Truitt and Miss Mary Belew all of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cole of Florence.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Why Natural Gas Storage Goes Underground

How does the homeowner know he can get all the gas he will need when the thermometer tumbles?

Depleted gas fields near major population centers in the East store gas pipelined from hundreds of miles away for just such needs.

Texas Eastern and New York State Natural Gas Company jointly own the world's largest existing underground storage area, at Oakford in western Pennsylvania. On any one day, Oakford alone can supply enough gas to heat 650,000 homes.

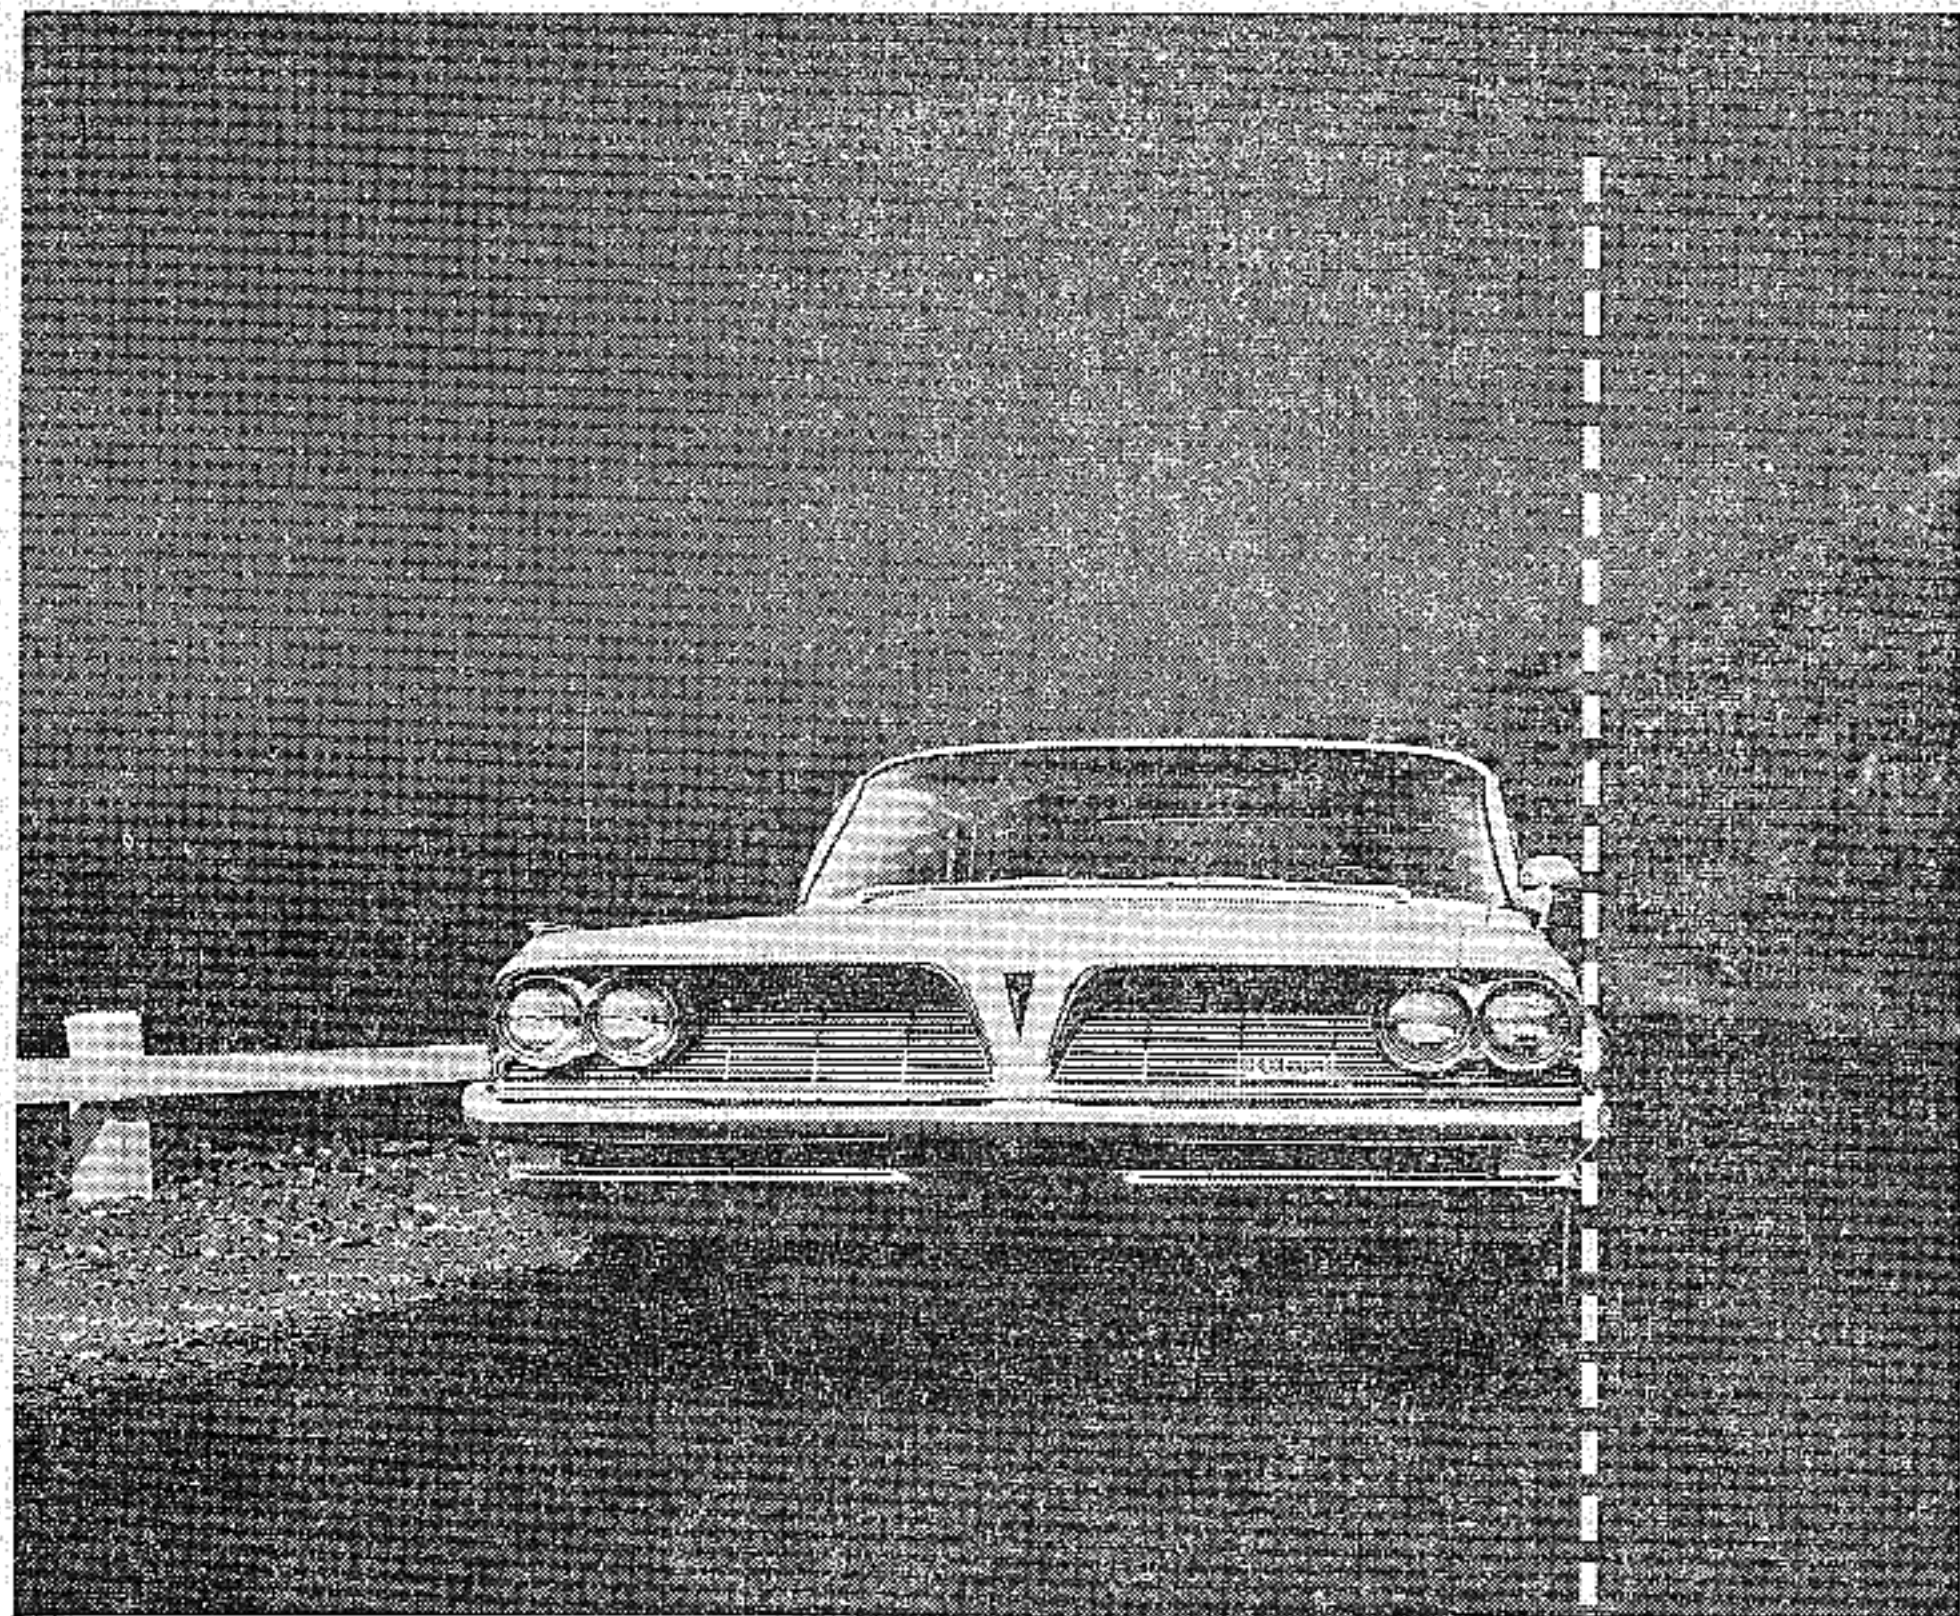

Remote-controlled compressor stations, activated during peak demand periods, supply the extra push to keep the gas flowing from storage at necessary rates.

Underground storage also solves the problem of keeping the transmission system operating at capacity the year 'round. During summer months, when demand is slack, gas is pipelined into storage, to be pulled out as needed during the winter.

This makes for economy of operation and provides reliable service to local gas distributors when it is needed most . . . as Texas Eastern fulfills its role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Danny and Tess took part in the Thanksgiving tableau at school last week, and they did a good job. As I looked at them, I thought of the real Pilgrim children and that first Thanksgiving.

Our forefathers weren't inoculated against childhood illnesses. They didn't have miracle drugs and warm clothes. They certainly didn't have more than they could eat. They faced incredible hardships, with no bright toys for special rewards, no candy bars. But they knelt down in the cold with their parents and gave thanks to God just for being alive.

Can we do less today? Can we possibly do less, this Thanksgiving, than go to Church and humbly give thanks to our Creator for His wonderful gift of life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

"ALL FOR THE CHURCH"
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Thousand Soil Samples Tested

In one year, from July 1959 to June 1960, the Auburn University Soil Testing Laboratory tested 24,993 soil samples for Alabama farmers. These figures mean only one thing—great progress has been made toward fertilizing Alabama crops according to the best research information available.

These tests are not only valuable to individual farmers, but they tend to point to general needs in Alabama soils. One of the most notable examples of this is the fact that over half the fields tested last year needed lime, says Dr. Walter Sowell, Auburn Extension soil management specialist.

Since lime can be applied during the slack season in fall and winter, Dr. Sowell suggests that farmers plan next year's crop now and send samples to the laboratory to determine the lime and fertilizer needs of their soil. Detailed information on shipping and obtaining samples are available at county agents' offices.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture supplied some 3.2 million needy persons with food in the year ending June 30, 1960.

Store Meat For Quality, Flavor

The old smokehouse, once a standard building on every farm, is gone. But not without leaving its mark on a lot of people who still remember how a country-cured ham tastes.

If you are harboring a desire for an old-fashioned cured ham, try storing meat at home, suggests Ray Cavender, Auburn Extension Service meat marketing specialist. People are doing it these days. In fact, after having an animal killed and processed, many people are finding that the freezer-locker plant doesn't have adequate facilities to store cured meat properly, Cavender points out. And home-storing becomes a necessity.

Cavender gives the following tips on storing meat: Excessive moisture on meat will produce molds that cause undesirable flavors and odor and may contribute to spoilage. But storing meat in a room that is cool, dark, dry, and well ventilated with a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees should take care of the problem. If molds occur under these conditions, they are harmless and can be brushed off easily.

A clean storage area and the application of recommended insecticides will take care of insects. But wrapping meat and making sure that windows and doors fit are also good precautions to take.

Most home-wrapping artists use a heavy paper and wrap each piece separately and securely making sure that there are no insects on the meat, according to Cavender. Placing the wrapped meat in a bag and stuffing paper around

Buy Quality In Sweet Potatoes

Knowing certain quality guides can be the difference in obtaining good products. And when selecting sweet potatoes, smart shoppers know that potatoes which are smooth, well-shaped, plump, fresh, and clean are usually high quality, says Dorothy Overbey, Auburn Extension specialist in consumer education.

Well-shaped potatoes have less waste, according to Miss Overbey. And clean ones are less likely to decay. Slight dark scars on the skin do not injure the flesh if only skin-deep. However, decay spots are objectionable because flavor is disagreeable even when spots are removed.

For added protection, store sweet potatoes in a cool place and avoid bruising while handling them, the specialist says.

In 1890, it took 25 and one-half minutes of an average factory worker's time to earn one quart of milk; in 1958, it took seven minutes and six seconds. However, the 1960 time is only six minutes and 48 seconds.

Farm Machinery Is Big Business

Alabama farmers have $600 million invested in machinery. This is a huge sum, but farming, like all big business, demands modern equipment.

There are approximately 80,000 tractors operating on Alabama farms plus a large number of self-propelled harvesters and similar equipment. J. T. Gaillard, Auburn Extension specialist in farm mechanization, estimates that the average mechanized farm in the state has about $7500 worth of farm machinery.

Gaillard reminds farmers that a $600 million investment demands protection using servicing and storing machinery properly.

it helps to absorb moisture and ham drippings. The last step is to fold the end of the bag over and double tie with heavy string or small wires. Then hang the bag from the wire so that it can swing freely.

Following this procedure, you should have a ham with a genuine country-cured flavor in about six months, Cavender says.

Duck Hunters Urged Keep Law

Duck hunters will run afoul of the law by shooting canvasbacks or redheads this year.

There is no open season on these species because of the large number of the birds shot last fall despite the bag limit that was imposed, says Earl Kenamer, Auburn Extension Service wildlife specialist. Young ducks born this spring are needed to offset the serious population decline that the birds are undergoing.

In order to obey the law, hunters must be able to identify the drakes and hens of both species, points out Kenamer. And past studies show that waterfowlers have difficulty identifying most of the nearly 40 species of ducks that frequent the flyways. If you don't know your ducks, Kenamer suggests visiting your school library or game warden. Be sure that you can identify the canvasback and redhead before the duck season opens November 23.

Vo-Ag Students Study Hand Tools

The use, proper care and storage of hand tools is one of the topics being studied in a unit on hand tools by the Ag I, class at Lexington High School. This beginning course in farm mechanics, according to vo-ag teacher, James R. Hankins is designed to familiarize students not only with tools in the vo-ag shop but also to give him the foundation knowledge to use and store tools correctly on the farm and in the home.

Teacher James R. Hankins points out that this course will be followed by more advanced training during which students will use the tools to construct useful shop projects. This, in turn, will be followed by studies of power equipment such as drills and saws to complete the vo-ag student's knowledge of woodworking tools.

Farm shop courses are especially popular with the ag boys at Lexington because such a wide variety of skills can be used that each student easily finds a job to fit his likes. At the same time, he is learning a skill which will be useful both on the farm and in urban areas.

ENEMIES OF STORED SEED ARE MOISTURE, INSECTS

The quality of seed cannot be restored after it has been damaged by moisture or insects. And that is why most Alabama farmers make a habit of inspecting their stored seed regularly.

Check the roof and walls of the storage building for leaks and the floor for seep moisture, reminds Melvin Moorer, Auburn Extension specialist in seed marketing. Weevils and other insects can be easily and economically controlled by fumigation. And Moorer recommends a three to one mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride for seed and grain or pyrethrin for shell corn and grain for this purpose.

The average value of food consumed in 1960 will be about $400 per person.

Vo-Ag Class Off To Good Start

The program of vocational agriculture at Lauderdale County High School is off to a good start toward a successful year with an enrollment of 53 students, reports vo-ag teacher C. J. Pennington.

Instruction in vocational agriculture no longer centers around production of crops and animals but takes into consideration current trends in agriculture which are toward fewer actual farmers and more persons in agricultural related enterprises.

The course of study has been revised so that more emphasis will be placed on science related to agriculture, developing leadership qualifications, and discovering and perfecting mechanical skills which students often follow as a life's vocation.

In connection with the teaching program a vo-ag student puts into practice what he learns in the classroom by carrying on a supervised farming program.

Many students have grown into prosperous farmers from the beginning made as vo-ag students while others have used profits to pay for college educations and later returned to the farm or farm-related jobs.

STREAM POLLUTION OVER ETV NETWORK

Stream pollution will be the subject of a state-wide telecast over the Alabama educational television network at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, November 17. Channel 5 to local viewers.

The thirty minute program will feature informal discussions on stream pollution problems by staff members of the Alabama Water Improvement Commission and health representatives from the Jefferson County Health Department.

RESPONDENTS
LEGAL NOTICE
TO: C. L. CURTIS, his heirs and devisees, if deceased and any and all other persons, claiming title to, interest in, lien or encumbrance on the hereinafter described lands, or any part thereof
Notice is hereby given that in the Circuit Court, in Equity of Lauderdale County, Alabama, there is pending a verified bill of complaint filed on November 4th, 1960, by Florence Land Company, a corporation, against the following described lands situated in Lauderdale County, Alabama, to-wit: All that tract or lot of land lying in the City of Florence, County of Lauderdale, State of Alabama, known and described as follows, to-wit: Lot 3, Block 95, according to the Cypress Land Company map and survey of the City of Florence, as shown on the plat of subdivision of Lots 95 and 96, according to the plat thereof recorded in the Office of the Judge of Probate of Lauderdale County, Alabama, in Plat Book 1, Page 145. Said Lot 3 fronts on the Northwardly line of Tennessee Street and extends back Northwardly between parallel lines a distance of 131 feet to an alley; lying and being in the Southwest quarter of Section 11, Township 3, Range 11 West; C. L. Curtis, his heirs and devisees, if deceased, and any and all other persons claiming title to, interest in, lien or encumbrance on said land, or any part thereof.

Said bill being filed to establish the Complainant's right and title to said lands and to clear up all doubts and disputes concerning the same.

In this cause it being made to appear to the Register that Florence Land Company, a corporation, owns and is in the peaceable possession of said land.

C. L. Curtis is, if living, over the age of twenty-one years and, if dead, his heirs or devisees are unknown and their names, ages and residences cannot be ascertained after diligent inquiry; that said Complainant acquired title to said property by virtue of the following described conveyances and deeds:

(1) That certain deed executed by N. C. Elting, Trustee, to the Complainant, dated December 22, 1897, and recorded in Book 53, Page 399, in the office of the Probate Judge of Lauderdale County, Alabama.

(2) That certain deed executed and delivered by the City of Florence to the Complainant, same being dated the 1st day of November, 1960, and recorded in Book 718, Page 404-6, in the office of the Probate Judge of Lauderdale County, Alabama.

That Complainant claims to own the fee simple title to said lands in its own right by reason of said deed, and, by virtue of the first above mentioned deed, has held fee simple title to the lands so claimed for a period of ten or more consecutive years next preceding; and has assessed and paid ad valorem taxes annually on the land during the whole of such period and no other person has assessed or paid taxes thereon nor has been in possession of the same during any part of said period; that title to said lands now stands in the name of the Complainant on the records in the Probate Office of Lauderdale County, Alabama; that the above named defendants claim or are reputed to claim some right, title, interest in, lien or encumbrance upon said land.

Therefore, the above named Respondents and any and all persons claiming any title to, interest in, lien or encumbrance upon said lands, or any part of said lands, are hereby given notice to appear in said cause and in said court to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint by the 10th day of January, 1961 and specify their title, claim, interest in, lien or encumbrance upon said lands or any part thereof, and show who and by what instrument the same is derived or created, so that such claims may be adjudicated by the Court so as to clear up all doubts or disputes concerning the title to said lands, or otherwise a decree pro confesso will be taken against each of them and said cause will be submitted for final decree as provided by Article 2, Sections 1116 and 1132, inclusive, Title 7, 1940 Code of Alabama, as amended.

Done this 8th day of November, 1960.
