

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

• We have almost broken both our arms patting ourselves on the back during the past few days. We hope you'll excuse our "modesty" when we tell you that "The Passing Parade" was judged the "best original column" in competition with all weekly papers in the state in the Alabama Better Newspaper Contest. Then last Saturday morning we were presented a beautiful bronze plaque attesting to this selection by the judges, all of whom were top award winners in a like contest sponsored by the Mississippi Press Association earlier this year. The Herald is real proud of this and an additional award for typography and make-up. We sincerely hope that we deserve both.

• Scientists are debating whether or not splitting the atom was a wisecrack.

• We believe that finally the United States, along with England and France are taking the right path toward placing Niki, the Soviet funny-man, in his place. (And don't ask us where we think his place should be.) Even benevolent countries can be pushed just so far and it appears to us that the Western powers—and powers they must be—have taken the proper turn in the road.

• The only exercise some people get is jumping at conclusions, running down friends, sidestepping responsibility and pushing their luck.

• The regular crowd was sitting on the porch of the general store settling all the world's problems. The matter of education of the young was the subject at the moment and all, but one, agreed that book learning in the old days was lapped into you to stay with a good-size, well-made paddle. But, the fellow in disagreement said that the only time he was licked in school was for telling the truth. There was complete silence while each tried to take in this remark. Finally one spoke up: "Well, Sam, it sure cured you."

• Actually there is little difference between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out—but the difference is worth knowing.

• Definition of an American: A person who drinks Brazilian coffee from an English mug while sitting on a Danish couch after returning from an Italian movie in his German car—and gets up the next day to write to his congressman with a ballpoint pen made in Japan on paper made in Canada and demands that something be done about all the gold that is leaving the country these days.

• Behind every man there is a woman—and she usually catches him, too.

• We have been bald so long that we have heard all the bald-headed men jokes but there's one nice thing about being bald: When unexpected company comes all you have to do is get up from your easy chair, straighten your tie and answer the doorbell.

• A fellow sitting around the swimming pool the other day remarked: "The more I look at Sue's bathing suit the more I see of Sue."

• A medical professor was lecturing his students on the stress and strain of modern living. "For example," he said, "there was the sultan who kept his harem three miles from his palace. Every day he sent his servant to the harem to select a companion for the day. The sultan lived to be 87, but his servant died at 40." The class waited for the lesson that the professor was attempting to put over. "The moral to this story," the professor said, "is that it's not the women that kill you but the running after them that takes the toll."

• An optimist is a guy who expects a pessimist to have a cheery look.

• Scientists now explain that kissing is simple chemistry. A craving for salt started it all. The cave man discovered that he could cool off in the summer by licking his neighbor's cheek. He also, at the same time, discovered that it was more fun if the neighbor was of the opposite sex. Than everybody forgot about salt.

• The most frightening contraption ever invented and which, today, controls the action of more people than any other contrivance is the parking meter. The effect it has on all of us is enough to give us high blood pressure, tension and hang nails.

Sears' Vice-President Honored By Flagg-Utica

The Flagg-Utica Corporation of Florence was host at a dinner Wednesday night at the Florence Golf and Country Club, honoring L. E. Oliver of Atlanta, Vice-President and Director of Sears, Roebuck and Company. J. T. Flagg was master of ceremonies and introduced the honored guest, who was in Florence to take part in the reopening of the remodeled Sears and automotive stores.

Mr. Oliver, in addressing the group, traced the growth of the company from a mail order firm to the world's largest retail business and cited the growth of foreign imports. He pointed out, for example, that Sears purchased all of its transistor radios from U. S. firms, emphasizing the need of quality products.

He said Sears purchased $60 million in goods from Alabama firms last year and $785 million in goods in the South. The company purchased $15,000,000 worth of goods from Flagg-Utica between 1950 and 1960.

R. B. Coleman, Florence store manager, introduced Sears guests who were J. H. Griffith, Memphis zone manager; L. W. Swenson of Atlanta, general merchandise manager; E. M. Craig of Atlanta, personal director; W. H. Lewis of Atlanta, real estate assistant; L. C. Moore, Memphis zone credit manager; J. E. Dunn of Atlanta, Southern Territory operating manager.

A. G. Adams, Bowling Green, Ky., store manager; Joe Dickson of Memphis, home furnishings field representative; W. H. Dameron and A. L. Hicks, pilot and co-pilot of the company plane.

Flagg-Utica officials attending the dinner were M. E. Eisenburg, executive vice-president; R. G. Davidson, vice-president and manager of the Sweetwater Division here; W. S. Flanagan, vice-president and manager of the Grantville, Ga., Division; M. C. McCreary, vice-president, Knit Kote Division, Florence; and R. C. Collier, Jr., president and in charge of Montezuma, Ga., Knitting Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Flagg-Utica.

Also guests at the dinner were several city and county officials from Lauderdale and Colbert counties and civic and business leaders in the Muscle Shoals area.

HEAD RESIDENT—Miss Susan A. Hughes, of Champaign, Illinois, has been appointed head resident of the New Men's Dormitory at Florence State College. It was announced by Abel F. DeWitt, Dean of Men. A native of Alabama, Miss Hughes attended Athens College, received her bachelor's degree from Auburn University, and has done graduate work at V.P.I., Purdue University, and the University of Illinois.

Reapportionment May Have Final Chance On Friday

Turning from its repeal of the "quickie" divorce Tuesday, by a vote of 88-9, the Alabama House dealt another defeat to an administration supported legislative reapportionment bill.

The legislature reshuffling bill that would give a stronger vote to North Alabama counties, was voted down by House members in the poorest showing the administration-backed measure has had to date.

Last month when the highly explosive reapportionment bill came up for the original showdown Governor John Patterson's forces managed to muster 59 votes for it, five short of the 64 needed for a constitutional amendment. Tuesday the vote was 49-42 showing that 17 supporters for the bill had been lost.

So in quick order the House disposed of two of its most bitterly contested bills though some felt that the door had been at least left ajar for another reapportionment test. The House, while turning thumbs down to the administration's reapportionment bill and defeating two other substitute bills, left one other open for possible reconsideration on Friday.

For several years Mr. Crabtree has contemplated seeking a post on the City Commission and he states that he feels that his interest in better government, his business experience and desire of being of service to his hometown qualifies him for the office he seeks. He has given much thought and study to the problems facing the community, he says, and he feels, if elected, that he will be able to accomplish much that is needed.

The candidate is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Shrine and Elks and is married to the former Florence Holt, daughter of the late C. E. Holt.

"I believe in a honest, efficient and progressive city government and I pledge all who support my candidacy that if honored with election each will be pleased that his or her vote was cast for me," Mr. Crabtree said.

Herald Gets 2 Awards In Contest

Twenty-eight weekly newspapers received awards in the 1961 Alabama Better Newspaper Contest at the closing session Saturday of the 90th annual summer convention of the Alabama Press Association held on Dauphin Island last weekend. Harold S. May, editor of The Herald and president of the Association presided.

Winning two coveted awards, The Florence Herald took first place for the best original column, "The Passing Parade," and third place for best in typography and make-up of weekly newspapers in the larger cities of the state. A handsome bronze plaque accompanied "the best original column" award and a framed certificate signified the second award.

Area winners in the larger town category were the Alabama Courier, Athens, which took first place for general excellence, second place for best original column and second place for service to education. The Limestone Democrat, also published in Athens won second place for the best news story.

The Moulton Advertiser placed highest among newspapers in smaller towns, taking first place honors in three categories: general excellence, best original column and typography and general make-up, and a second place prize in the best news story class.

The awards were presented by Paul Phillips, president of the Mississippi Press Association and Publisher of the Tunica Times-Democrat, at a brunch attended by representatives of most of the prize-winning newspapers.

Certificates were given to newspapers winning second and third awards and honorable mentions. Judging was done by Mississippi publishers in nine classes of Journalism and were divided into two divisions. "A" for newspapers published in towns with less than 3,500 people and "B" for towns with over 3,500 population.

Post Office Will Be Modernized

Don Holt Postmaster said Wednesday plans for the expansion and renovation of the Florence Post Office are to be approved by September 1 and said his most optimistic guess is that work would begin in January 1962.

At that time, the rear of the building will be enlarged about 11,000 square feet for additional working space and the entire structure will be air-conditioned. The basement and first floor will be expanded, but a reinforced roof will be used in event that the second and third floors are increased.

The building will be repainted, the heating plant will be modernized, and new lights will be installed in the project. When the work is completed the rear of the building will be wider than the front allowing loading docks and parking areas on both sides of the building instead of one side.

HUMANE SOCIETY TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

George Hobbs, President of the Lauderdale County Humane Society, has announced a meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium.

This is a very important meeting and every member is urged to attend.

Meeting Scheduled To Discuss Problem

Board Rejects Bids On East End High, Elgin

The Lauderdale County Board of Education met Tuesday afternoon and rejected all bids for construction of a science lab and classroom at East End High School and a lunchroom at Elgin Cross Roads School. Heating systems for both schools were included in additive alternation.

Superintendent Allen Thornton said the bids were too high for the amount of money the county has remaining from the $100,000,000 school building bond issue. The board will meet again Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. to review what can be done regarding the construction of the two projects above outlined in the hopes that some conclusion can be reached whereby these jobs in part, if not completely, may be constructed.

The firms who submitted combined bids for both jobs were J. M. Massey Construction Co., $39,000; Craig Construction Co., $39,327; T. V. Lloyd Constructors, $47,500. Those bidding on the work at East End were Craig, $19,621; Massey, $20,000; Bigbee-Morris, $21,220; and Lloyd, $23,850. Bids on the lunchroom at Elgin Cross Roads were Massey, $19,000; Craig, $19,706; Bigbee-Morris, $21,636; and Lloyd, $23,650.

The Board scheduled another bids opening on Tuesday, August 8 at 4:30 p.m. at the office of Supt. Allen Thornton. At that time, bids will be accepted for the construction of four classrooms at Anderson School.

In other action, the Board accepted the resignation of five teachers, Mrs. Leila Burleson; Ralph Burleson; Mrs. Joan Keppert; Mrs. Martha Edwards and Mrs. Betty Miller.

James Guyton was hired by the Board to coach football at Central High School; Mrs. Marilyn Joan Dean to teach at Killen; Mrs. Katherine Truitt to teach at Rogers; Ralph T. Thompson to teach at Oakland; Larry Garrett to teach at Rogers and Miss Bonnie Sue Lester to teach at Rogersville.

FSC Cadets Make Excellent Record

Thirty-five ROTC Cadets from Florence State College have more than passed the half way mark at the ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Benning, Ga., and from initial reports received at the college, they are performing in an exceptional manner.

Each cadet is rated by a commissioned officer on his leadership performance of duty. These ratings are given at the middle of the encampment and again at the end of camp. As of the middle camp scoring, the Florence State group stood, in both leadership and job performance, third out of the thirty colleges and universities represented. Led only by North Georgia College and Vanderbilt University, the Florence State cadets have demonstrated their leadership ability and their willingness to work hard toward the accomplishment of any assigned task.

On the map reading exercise, the Florence State cadets scored fourth of the thirty schools. With the continued effort on the part of each cadet, they should finish the six-week training period as one of the top college units in the southeast.

FRIDAY IS NEW DATE FOR ASTRONAUT SHOT

The second U.S. man-in-space shot was rescheduled for 5 a.m. Muscle Shoals Time, Friday after Wednesday's cancellation because of cloudy weather to hurl astronaut, Virgil L. (Gus) Grissom into space. A high cloud which moved in over the Cape Canaveral launching site prevented necessary visual observation and was the reason for the cancellation. Grissom had been in the space capsule 3 hours, 26 minutes, when the decision to postpone was made.

Lawsons Caught After Attack On Police Officers

A three-state alarm was out Saturday for five persons who ganged up on Detective Captain Jim Carter and Detective Owen King, Friday, at a farm house seven miles north of Florence. The two men had gone to the farm to take Ernest Lawson, 21, into custody for questioning about the safe robbery at the Florence Implement Company.

The two detectives received cuts and bruises about the face and head when they were attacked by Edward Louis Lawson, Dude Lawson, Ernest Lawson, Hollis Rhodes and C. W. Lawson, who were armed with farm implements and knives.

C. W. Lawson was later picked up near the residence, but claimed he had nothing to do with the attack on the officers, however, he was identified by one of the detectives. The other four men fled the scene, immediately after the incident.

On Monday, the four escapees meekly turned themselves in. Eleven felony charges, including five capital charges of robbery were filed against the five persons.

A hearing is scheduled in Lauderdale Law and Equity Court on the first Friday in August, unless it is determined to hold the hearing earlier.

Horse Show Set By Shrine Club

The Muscle Shoals Shrine Club's horse show scheduled for Friday, July 28 at the Florence Fairgrounds will feature some of the outstanding horses of the Southeast, shown and mounted by championship riders, sponsors stated.

Ringmaster of the event will be Tom Watkins. Judge will be Kenny Burke.

The Muscle Shoals Shrine Club has gone all out to make this fine walking horse event a big success and horse enthusiasts from a wide area are expected to attend.

EMERGENCY LOANS MADE AVAILABLE

The following telegram has been received by this newspaper from Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman, and Rep. Robert E. (Bob) Jones with respect to the adverse effects of excessive rainfall and generally bad weather during the growing season:

We are pleased to advise Department of Agriculture to today (July 12) authorized Farmers Home Administration to make emergency loans available to farmers in Colbert, Jackson, Lauderdale, Madison and Marshall counties because of excessive rainfall and flash floods during past several weeks. Farmers desiring to make applications for such loans because of excessive rainfall should contact their county Farmers Home Administration office.

A grain haul road, which runs from Second Creek to Bluewater Creek, at the north end of Wheeler Dam opened Saturday, providing the first break in the transportation bottleneck caused by the June 2 collapse of the north wall of the old lock.

Since the collapse, only four shipments of soybean oil and one of steel plates for Oak Ridge have passed over Wheeler, whereas nearly 3,200,000 tons of freight had passed over the lock annually before the break. The plates were transported by a huge crane at the south end of the dam which is being used in the construction of three new generators.

Work is progressing at the south end of the dam on a mile-long road to haul the Saturn booster and Atomic Energy Commission nuclear reactor vessel around the dam. The Saturn's downstream trip to Cape Canaveral, Fla., is to be made in August by a Navy barge which is at Wilson Dam for modifications.

TVA workmen are dredging a channel below Wheeler to allow barges to rest near the face of the dam and transport items across the dam to barges upstream. A cofferdam is being built around the south wall of the old lock so the area can be dewatered and the south wall inspected.

A "marine leg", a waterborne elevating grain conveyor, was put into operation Monday, with a second such device to be put into operation in August. Seven transfer pipelines across the dam were installed, two to be used for asphalt, one for molasses and soybean oil, and one for flour, one for Bunker C and other fuel chemicals and at least two for chemicals.

All transfers over the dam will take place at the face of the dam in the non-overflow section between the damaged lock and the spillways with wharf barges to be stationed in between the cargo barges and the dam.

The new lock is to be completely finished in 1963.

Lexington Horse Show Set Friday

The 12th annual Lexington Horse Show will be held on Friday night at 7 o'clock, it was announced by the sponsors. Scene of the event will be the Lexington Athletic Field.

Horses from ten to twelve states are expected to be entered and this year and extra class has been added, the local Pleasure Class for Lexington community horses. Probate Judge Estes Flynt will extend greetings and introduce the guests. Master of ceremonies will be Marvin Conatser. Ringmasters will be Tom Campbell and Earl Mabe.

Veterinarian will be Dr. G. M. Tipton of Rogersville, official farrier, J. W. Hargrove, Lewisburg. Leon Cole of Nashville at the electric organ will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams and son, Ken, are expected home this weekend from a motor trip to the Northwest, visiting Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks and other points of interest.

BULLETIN
President Kennedy in a note made public Tuesday told Premier Khrushchev that Russia would be risking war if it tried to force the Western Allies out of Berlin. Kennedy completely rejected Khrushchev's proposal that Berlin be turned into a "free city" under international control.

Efforts to work out a negotiated settlement of the German problem appeared this week to have reached an impasse as the United States, Britain and France told the Soviets they were jeopardizing world peace, and endangering the lives of millions.

The Western powers completely rejected the Soviet Union's claim that it can wipe out their claims on Berlin by signing a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

The note from this country said that "should the Soviets press the crisis, the international dispute arising out of Soviet claims would have the gravest effect upon international peace and security and endanger the lives and well-being of millions of people." It added that the Soviet Union must bear full responsibility before mankind.

At another point the note declared, "There is no reason for a crisis over Berlin. If one develops it is because the Soviet Union is attempting to invade the basic rights of others."

The United States' note was in reply to an earlier note by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev which was handed to President Kennedy at their Vienna Conference on June 4.

Simultaneous with this country's warning came notes also from Britain and France addressed to the Soviet Union, Britain rejecting the Soviet threat to change conditions in Berlin, and France following suit with a similar warning, and likewise rejecting the Communist contention that Berlin is properly part of the territory of East Germany.

The West has offered to try and settle the crisis by negotiation on the principle of self-determination for the German people.

Military Ring Set Up
While the crisis over Berlin developed during the past several days both Soviets and East German forces have set up a military ring around Berlin. Informed sources said the Communists have around 67,000 troops and more than 1,200 tanks stationed in a girdle 30 miles outside the city.

The ring has not been closed, it was stated, but it has helped add psychological weight to the current Soviet diplomatic offensive.

The East Germans are also said to be building anti-aircraft rocket bases in two rings around the beleaguered city. Some of these are said to be completed.

A total of 11,000 Allied troops are stationed in West Berlin as a sort of token force and these could be reinforced by 3,000 Berlin police armed with light infantry weapons. The regular West Berlin police force totals 10,000 men, it was said.

In West Germany however the Western Allies have about 621,000 troops of which some 250,000 are Americans to offset the 1,400,000 the Communists could mobilize.

Can America "Take It?"

Alexander P. de Seversky's new book, "America—Too Young to Die," is stirring national controversy because, like the late Billy Mitchell who was court martialled because he championed air power, de Seversky comes up with some hard-hitting basic facts that people would do well to heed, and this goes for our leaders, as well.

He says for instance, "during the last decade the American people have been misled by Washington authorities for failure to take civil defense seriously."

"But why should they? de Seversky asks. "For years the American people have been assured by everyone from the president of the United States down to low-ranking officials, that nuclear war was impossible—too horrible to contemplate.

"Could people be expected to bother themselves with civil defense, build atomic shelters, and go through all the nuisances of preparations for atomic warfare while simultaneously they are assured it will never take place? The public is just as bewildered about civil defense as it is about our foreign policy or national defense.

The author goes on to say that he believes if the United States is to survive as a free nation, it must be realized that there are three deterrents to the enemy which at the same time favor the security of our people in war. He listed these as: (1) Superior offense. (2) Superior defense. (3) Will to survive. In a nutshell de Seversky thinks that if two nations are equal in both defensive and offensive power the nation best equipped to "take it" will emerge victorious.

Another angle that makes de Seversky's argument highly controversial is his unwillingness to place military control under a single civilian head. He hits the recommendation of Sen. Stuart Symington's committee that would "feed the wolf and yet keep the sheep alive." The novelty of this committee's views lies in its proposal to eliminate the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Administratively, under the committee's plan these three departments would be leaderless.

DeSeversky also points out that the committee recommends still more power to a secretary of defense, a civilian authority without military experience or education and who only yesterday perhaps, "had manufactured soap, or built automobiles."

Centralized authority, he points out, under the democratic premise of traditional civilian control over the military, is inadequate to settle strategic disputes.

In fact civilian control arose from a need for the people to learn the pertinent facts, directly or through their representatives and to take part in the over all decisions. Certainly strategic planning cannot be left to non-military individuals or groups.

De Seversky is for a single defense set-up "capable of creating strategy that is attuned to the technology of our times." He says there are many brilliant minds in the services that will manifest themselves once they are free from political bondage and the pressures of vested interests that plague their departments.

"The present scattering of efforts is leading us to military absurdity," de Seversky says, adding the observation that no matter how well the various missile and space projects are coordinated, it is ridiculous that all three services should try to become aerospace forces.

One outstanding basic truth in de Seversky's argument is that the running of a highly specialized war should be left to only highly trained and specialized people. Anything less would be suicidal.

Get Your Salk Shots At Once

The National Foundation says that millions of pre-school children and young adults are still without protection against polio. These are the age groups most vulnerable to attack by the world's greatest crippler.

The recent controversy over the relative merits of polio vaccines may have discouraged some parents from seeing that their families are given a full series of Salk shots immediately. This is the critical time of year when the unprotected are most exposed to the polio attack. The Salk vaccine is available now. It is more than 90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio. Those who have not been vaccinated are gambling against the possibility of being crippled for life through their own negligence.

Whether or not the Sabin live-virus vaccine is a better vaccine than Dr. Salk's is a matter for scientists and physicians to decide — later. The National Foundation, which financed all the research leading to both vaccines with funds contributed to the March of Dimes, gives the only sound advice which parents can follow. It points out that, since no live-virus vaccine has yet been licensed for distribution, since you cannot get live-virus vaccine from your physician, and since the present polio "season" will be over before mass production, licensing and distribution of the live-virus vaccine are completed, there is only one course of action for conscientious parents to pursue. Get your family started on a full series of Salk shots today.

Don't let technical controversy confuse you. Vaccinate now.

New York Doctor Convicted Of Spying

Dr. Robert A. Doctors testified Dr. Soblen has leukemia and is not expected to live more than a year. He was convicted of turning over secret data to Soviet agents over a 20-year span, including information from the New York headquarters of the Office of Strategic Services, a World War II agency.

Debate Nuclear Deadlock Requested

The United States and Britain asked the U. N. Assembly, Saturday, to debate the "critical situation" caused by the deadlock with the Soviet Union on a proposed treaty to bar nuclear weapons tests. It was proposed in a note to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that the assembly take up the issue at the 16th General Assembly opening September 19. This is a tantamount to assuring full-scale consideration by the U. N. membership.

Immortal "Georgia Peach" Dies at 74

Ty Cobb, 74, the choice of countless fans as the greatest baseball player of all time, died Monday of cancer at Emory University Hospital in Atlanta. He retired from baseball in 1928 after 24 years of successful assault on almost every record in the books. He wound up his amazing career with 4,191 hits and 2,244 runs, both records. His .420 average in 1911 still stands as the highest in the history of the American League. Cobb played with the Detroit Tigers from 1905 through 1926 and with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1927 and 1928.

Science Center May Doom Campuses

Dr. Charles Mandeville, head of the University of Alabama physics department, said Monday expansion of the University's Science Center at Huntsville may well "destroy the science program of Alabama and Auburn and force the entire scientific staff at Alabama to quit." He warned that opening of the center would take every vestige of basic scientific research from the campuses and force graduate students who might otherwise come to the University to seek better facilities elsewhere.

Late News

● The Alabama House passed a controversial "quickie" divorce repealer Tuesday, aimed at halting Alabama's flourishing fast-divorce trade; the measure cleared the lower chamber on an 88-9 roll-call vote. The bill requires one year's residence for the suing party when the defendant is a non-resident of the state. In divorces where the ground is voluntary abandonment, the husband or wife asking for the separation would have to be a resident of Alabama for 12 months regardless of whether the defendant lived here.

● Chicago police were out in force again Tuesday in Chicago's racially tense Southwest Side where 20 white persons have been injured by roving gangs and 71 Negroes arrested in the past 10 days. Groups of Negro youths continued to roam the drab, run-down area near the Harrison High School despite the presence of a task force of about 150 policemen who augmented the regulars of the Lawndale District to keep a tight rein on the racially mixed high school and neighborhood.

● President Kennedy's plans to spend billions of Federal dollars on public schools received a staggering blow Tuesday from the House Rules Committee who voted to kill three education bills for this session of Congress. The 8-7 vote reflected the conflict over church and state. Rep. James Delaney, D-N.Y., said he would not vote for the $2.5-billion bill unless the committee first approved a bill that included loans for private and parochial schools, a bill which three committee members refused to support.

● Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, Spanish-born beauty and wife of the State Dept.'s chief of protocol, was killed Tuesday when a light plane crashed while ferrying her to her Long Island estate. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FORMER EDITOR'S SON REMEMBERS FLORENCE

My dear fellow-editor:

It is 23 years ago tomorrow that my father, R. Frank Bunting, former editor of the Herald passed on in Renfrew, Ontario. On August 18-21 I shall be in Renfrew, and in Calabogie, our home town, visiting his and Mother's graves, and several cousins.

I edit the EAE Canadian, a quarterly paper for the EAE fraternity in Canada. The next issue comes out in September. I shall send you a copy to see what you think of it.

I have suddenly begun to realize that I am at the door of old manhood, being as I am in my 60's.

It is hard to realize that it is over 50 years since I, as a cadet, first took military training.

My foster-son, Willis, is coming 34 and he has a daughter age six-and-a-half, and a son age two-and-a-half, so I am in the old grandpa class.

It is hard to realize that eight years have rolled by since my last visit to Florence, when I went to Gallatin, Tenn. to preach in my grandfather's old church there.

I would like to be remembered to all my old friends in Florence. I have this past year been in correspondence with Bob Ashcraft, formerly of Florence, today in Atlanta, Ga. He is a brother EAE fraternity man.

Life is what you put into it. It is what you make of the golden opportunity God endows you with to show brotherly love and understanding toward your neighbors.

It is the trying to help others to enjoy life as you do that heals old wounds and misunderstandings and will make wars to cease in all the world.

Sincerely
Robert F. Bunting, III

GEORGE ELBERT BARNETT

Recognized as one of the leading trial lawyers in Alabama, Mr. Barnett holds the respect of his fellow attorneys in both criminal and civil practice. He has participated in some of the most exciting trials held in local courts for the past forty years and is known as an able adversary in any legal battle.

Mr. Barnett is the dean of the Muscle Shoals area bar and since the death of his longtime partner, H. A. Bradshaw, has spread his legal talents over additional branches of the law until his time is fully occupied.

George Elbert Barnett was born in Rogersville, July 6, 1889, the son of Robert Lawrence and Emma Priscilla Goode Barnett. He attended Rogersville Elementary School and later attended Barton Academy in Mobile.

Mr. Barnett then enrolled at the University of Alabama as a condition freshman, working his high school credits off along with his college work. He received his A.B. degree in 1915 and his L.L.B. degree in 1916. He also holds an L.L.B. degree from Cumberland University. While at the University of Alabama, Mr. Barnett was a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity and of Skulls, interfraternity organization.

In June, 1916, Mr. Barnett came to Florence and began practicing law with the firm of Ashcraft and Bradshaw. One year later, he volunteered for army service, but was rejected and placed in limited service. In a further attempt to enter the service, Mr. Barnett went to Washington, D.C. and volunteered, however, he was again rejected.

In an effort to aid the war effort, Mr. Barnett accepted a position with the Alien Property Custodian in the nation's capital. He remained in that position until after the close of World War I, returning to Florence in late 1918, and resumed his law practice.

In 1922, he and the late Mr. Bradshaw formed the law firm of Bradshaw and Barnett which continued until Christmas day, 1959, when Mr. Bradshaw died. Mr. Barnett now has associated with him in the firm, his son, George E. Barnett, Jr. and Stewart O'Bannon, Jr., however the original partnership name is retained.

On October 9, 1943, Mr. Barnett was married to the former Edith Bullock of Wynn, Ark. They have one daughter, Alice Priscilla, 15, a sophomore at Coffee High School. There are two additional children by a former marriage; George E. Barnett, Jr., of Florence, and Mrs. R. A. (Elizabeth) Clark, who resides in Sheffield.

Since 1936, Mr. Barnett has served as commissioner for the Eleventh Judicial Circuit for the Alabama State Bar Association and served six years on the Grievance Committee of the Association. He is a member of the American Bar Association and in November, 1959, served on a committee representing Alabama to plan and direct the regional meeting of the American Bar Association in Memphis.

The firm is attorney for the Lauderdale County Board of Education; Florence City Board of Education and International Minerals and Chemical Corporation, as well as other leading firms and organizations. At one time the firm represented the Alabama Power Company.

Mr. Barnett is a past member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the Rotary Club. He is an active member of Sherrod Avenue Church of Christ.

When asked as to his hobbies, Mr. Barnett said: "There's a limit to what a man can do and I've spent most of my time working since a very early age. However, since purchasing and making my home at "Hickory Hill," the old Coffee Place, since 1937, I have gained much pleasure in raising livestock and small grains and in this added work I find relaxation."

FLYING FARMERS FOR GASOLINE TAX

At their mid-summer meeting at Fort Morgan, the Alabama Flying Farmers adopted a resolution by unanimous vote favoring the retention of the Alabama aviation gas tax and opposing efforts to reduce it, it is announced by Douglas J. Moore, of Marion, president.

The revenue from such tax has been efficiently and wisely expended in the construction of airports in towns and small cities throughout the State of Alabama, the resolution stated.

Soybean crushings are being stimulated by strong demands for edible vegetable oil and protein feeds.

TVA Called "Economic Base"

Vogel Denies Authority Going After Industries

TVA board chairman General Herbert D. Vogel with other TVA officials testifying before a House Appropriations subcommittee, reiterated that his agency does not advertise or try to attract industry to the Tennessee Valley from other areas.

The point came up when the subcommittee was considering the Authority's request for $31,203,000 for the fiscal year that began on July 1.

Vogel was told by Rep. Ivor D. Fenton (R-Pa.) that there was an impression in his district that TVA through advertising and publicity had sought to attract industries. He added that it has a "sour effect."

Vogel in his statement before the subcommittee said the job of TVA was to develop the resources of the region "to the best of our ability in cooperation with the people and the other agencies," and he added, "to provide an economic base that I think has inevitably made the district attractive to industry."

When Fenton persisted and asked whether or not literature put out by TVA did not invite industries to the Valley, Vogel made it plain that no TVA literature invited industry. "I am sure," Vogel declared, "that the literature put out by every section of the country seeks to extol its benefits." He said he meant literature by chambers of commerce.

At the committee's request Vogel discussed relative accomplishments of the U.S. and Russia in the power field. He said that while Russia has built the largest dams in the world the United States has built the largest power units and the largest steam plants.

Russia, Vogel explained, has built tremendous hydro plants and "I am sure we could do the same if we had the kind of physical condition they do." He added that the United States is far ahead of Russia in kilowatt capacity and also in the per capita use of electricity.

Miss Bedingfield Bride
Of Petty Franklin Ezell

Marked by an evening ceremony in Rogersville Church of Christ was the marriage of Patricia Ann Bedingfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bedingfield, and Petty Franklin Ezell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyce Ezell, all of Rogersville, which took place on Saturday, July fifteenth, at half past seven o'clock.

Lighted by tiers of pale yellow tapers, the altar was decorated for the occasion with Southern smilax, magnolia and arrangements of yellow gladioli.

Robert Darnall, minister of Pine Street Church of Christ, was the officiating clergyman and music before the ceremony was by Billy Scott.

Wearing Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A close-fitting bodice, distinguished by its scalloped neckline re-embroidered with pearls and iridescents and long, tapering sleeves, accented the tiered skirt, its fullness caught at intervals with fabric roses and sweeping into a chapel train. A pearl-encrusted crown secured her veil of double illusion and her bouquet of yellow roses was intermixed with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. James E. Head of Albuquerque, New Mexico, was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids included two other sisters, Mrs. Wayne Williams of Louisville, Kentucky, and Mrs. Ralph Wear of Rogersville; Mrs. Jerry Bedingfield and Mrs. Cecil Hudson of Huntsville; and Miss Cynthia Romine of Birmingham; Kimberly Ann Williams and Rhonda Kay Bedingfield, nieces, were flower girls and Kent Lawson Bedingfield of Louisville, a nephew, was ring bearer.

The attendants' dresses of pale yellow silk organza were worn with matching headpieces and their bouquets were fashioned of yellow roses.

Ralph Wear served the bridegroom as best man and ushers included M. D. South, Jerry Ezell, Carlton Kelley, Robert Bedingfield of Louisville and Thomas Cosgrove of Florence.

For the wedding and the reception to which the bride's parents were hosts at the family home immediately afterward, Mrs. Bedingfield chose a gown of mauve lace, mauve accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Ezell, mother of the bridegroom, was in aqua blue and she, too, wore orchids.

Assisting with the reception courtesies were Mrs. Jack Rogers of Athens; Miss Ann Lawson, Decatur; Mrs. Ellis Reeves, Nashville; Mrs. Robert Bedingfield, Louisville; Miss Linda Ezell, Miss Sue McLeomore, Mrs. Jerry Swine, Mrs. Ira Bedingfield, Mrs. Mary Ezell and Mrs. T. E. Norton.

The bride is the daughter of Leo Hampton of Athens and the late Mrs. Hampton and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Miller of Rogersville.

Miss Barzara Gist presented wedding music.

Before an arch entwined with greenery and flanked by basket arrangements of all-white blossoms and candelabra of burning tapers, Mr. Hampton gave his daughter in marriage. Caught to a tiara of pearls, her veil of silk illusion cascaded to full-length and she carried a white orchid bouquet.

Miss Elaine Hickman of Pulaski, Tennessee, was the bride's maid of honor and bridesmaids were her cousins, Miss Patricia Hampton and Miss Janice Hampton of Decatur, and Miss Wanda Hampton of Pulaski. Flower girls were Kathy Hampton, sister of the bride, and Jackie Miller. Their blue frocks were complimented by white carnation bouquets.

W. D. Miller was best man for his brother and groomsmen were Wayne Hampton, brother of the bride, Allen Goode, Marvin Hanson and Winifred Lumpkin.

For the occasion of her stepdaughter's wedding, Mrs. Hampton wore blue lace and her flower girls wore white orchids; Mrs. Miller, the bridegroom's mother, chose a pink gown and she, too, wore white orchids.

Photography On Display At FSC

Florence State College's Collier Library has placed on display this week a group of prominent selections in the field of photography. These photographic selections are the work of Jimmie Taylor, of Huntsville, who is currently employed at Redstone Arsenal and a part-time student at Florence State this summer. The compositions in photographic art have been entered in the Huntsville Photographic Competition and many have received awards.

Taylor recently won two of the two hundred awards given in the United States and Canada by Anscochrome for color slides.

A past president of the Huntsville Photographic Society, Taylor began studying photography under Nelson Van Pelt at Florence State College. He is photographer for Redstone Rocket, the newspaper of Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville.

According to Miss Ruth Dacus, Florence State Librarian, the display will remain on exhibition for the remainder of the summer session.

THE SPILLWAY

"Man is a peculiar creature:
He needs his summer vacation.
He packs up his gear and family,
And they're off in a wagon, model "station;"
But what does his cat, dog, goldfish get?
A right expensive visit to the vet!"

BET A LOT OF YOU ARE SHAKING YOUR HEADS in the affirmative . . . reluctantly so, probably . . . but in such a situation, dog's best friends have no alternative . . . of course, if you're a lucky enough pet like some we know, your "folks" don't go on vacations . . . for instance, there's Ruth Haynes' beautiful Doberman Pincer whose mistress chooses to take him out for an evening and let him romp up and down the neighborhood, the proper exercise for a Doberman . . . From the big one to the little ones we enjoy Elaine Whitten's two teeny-weeny (not polka-dot) Chihuahuas, whose big barking noises scare the biggest insect walking by and no one else . . . And right in between is Paige, Meredith and Courtney Lindsey's kindly Dachs-hund, whose litter of puppies has made children in several families happier this summer . . . anyone else know any good dog "tails" going around lately?

WHAT A WHALE OF A BALL GAME we saw . . . and never a more interesting one . . . than last Tuesday when we watched the students at the College's Crippled Children's class engage in a real smack-em-to-the-outfield type of contest . . . and what an enthusiastic gallery they had as those able to stand the gaff took their turns at bat . . . and speaking of a whale of a game we must add . . . what a whale of a job Kitty Forney is doing with these lovable youngsters.

FROM NEAR TO FAR AWAY PLACES we hear of letters received from William Gregory, an old-timer from Florence whom many of you remember so well and so affectionately from the "good-ole days" . . . You can guess what he's doing way over in Ghana Africa (without looking it up on the map, that's on the Gold Coast, we think), teaching farmers latest methods adaptable to their type of agriculture . . . just as he used to do in Alabama. Perhaps some of you have even seen his mother since she moved back to Florence some months ago.

AND BACK TO FLORENCE for one of . . . (we understand) . . . the "loveliest" parties of the summer, a luncheon given by Lucia Reeder at the Town Club . . . her old friends are always glad to see her home for a vacation where she plans to spend the summer, unless she goes on an "unplanned" trip (which she usually does) . . . well, anyway, the lively group of good friends decided to make the most of the time and were all in a very partyish mood . . . which reminds us that the test of a good "eatery" is the efficiency of its staff when the head of the establishment is gone, and we heard unconfirmed reports that Margaret Brown was putting on a big party in Montgomery about that time . . .

AND OUT TO CAMP WEST-MORELAND, the Boy Scout camp on the local lake waters here about, where we heard the type of introduction to a main speaker that should always be given . . . this time by Buster Arnett about our beloved Dr. Hollingsworth who was to dedicate the new chapel at the camp . . . Bus said that he had always heard the senior minister fuss cause introductions were too long, so even though we didn't count the words, we'll bet anyone it was the shortest made in a long time!

FROM NORTH CAROLINA TO FLORENCE via Mr. Bell's invention, Peggy (Ezell) and Charles Hollandsworth's little Kathy was almost frightened away from the phone when Grandpa Harvey and Grandma Blondine decided to blend their voices in a sprightly "Happy Birthday to You" duet . . . Peggy regained the phone long enough to apologize for the five year old's confusion and tell momma and pappa that the family is getting along fine and hope to come for a visit some time this summer.

HERE FOR THE GRAND OPENING of the local Sears new remodeling were many officials . . . at least that was supposed to be their stated reason for the visit, but we'll bet the invitation to the stag party given by Flagg-Utica and its president, Jewett Flagg at the Florence Golf and Country Club was an added incentive for a "business" trip! Bet this was one opening many of the men will never forget, for our Florentine business and professional men can really make a visitor feel at home.

FROM FLORENCE TO LONG-VIEW, TEXAS by way of Mississippi went Jack and Jeanna Tauber to visit former Florentimers Norman and Sissy Coleman and little girls . . . there is something about Texas that attracts everyone at one time or another! The Taubers left young daughter Susan off at Mississippi Southern where she is attending a music camp for a fortnight . . . the talented young miss should certainly enjoy her stay there.

AND FINALLY WAY UP IN TENNESSEE one recent weekend the Wilson Footes were "parents" to four Florence boys including their own Bill, who are enrolled in Castle Heights . . . They took the boys out to a local lake for swimming and boating, then back to the dorm after a memorable outing. Naturally, the Florence parents were given a good report about their sons from the "Foster" parents (for a day), the Footes!

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW.

Patrons Asked To Return Overdue Books To Library

One of the saddest and most time consuming tasks in a library is the effort of getting books returned and fines collected. This is a problem that exists in libraries all over the country. In the Florence-Lauderdale Library, at least a day and a half each week is spent sending out overdue notices for books, and recordings and posting delinquent records. Many people have indicated that they want to help the library. One of the most helpful things these people can do is to return their books on time. The library sends a first and second overdue notice, if these fail, a strongly worded letter is sent. If it becomes necessary to send a messenger, the cost of the messenger service will be added to the fine due.

The library maintains a Delinquent file, which holds records of those who have long overdue books and those who owe fines. When a transaction reaches the stage that a delinquent record is made, a charge of $1.00 for making the card is added to the amount involved. Anyone whose name is in the Delinquent file is not permitted to use the library until the record is cleared. The library now has a rule that those who wish to renew a book that is overdue, must pay the fine due before they are permitted to renew it.

The system of fines is one method used to discourage the abuse of borrowing privileges. Fines for overdue books are the most common, but fines are also charged for damaging books — torn pages, marks by crayon, pen, and such, water damage, chewed by dogs, etc. A fine is charged for tearing the book pocket or losing the date card. Of course, a lost book, or one so severely damaged that it can no longer be used, must be paid for.

The staff feels that serious action must be taken to get books back to the library. The public library belongs to all the people.

INSURANCE AGENTS RETURN FROM COURSE

Associate Manager J. E. Atchison and Agent Charles R. Bolton of Liberty National Life Insurance Company have returned from the company's Home Office in Birmingham, where they participated in an advanced training course relating to life insurance sales and service to policyholders.

Wisdom Teeth May Be On Way Out

Q. Why are wisdom teeth so named and why do they give so much trouble?

A. They are so named because they come through late and at an age when we should have acquired some wisdom. Wisdom teeth are usually of poor quality. They decay easily and are often so lifeless that they fail to erupt, becoming impacted. The consistent production of substandard merchandise may be Nature's way of eliminating wisdom teeth. She has had some experience along these lines. Early man had four molars (grinding teeth). As the jaw shortened, one molar was lost so that modern man has only three (first, second and "wisdom"). Perhaps Nature has decided to eliminate the wisdom tooth by the simple process of neglect. But don't expect immediate results. It took 500,000 years for man to discard the fourth molar!

Built-In Protection

Q. Why do fewer women than men have heart attacks?

A. One theory is that younger women have built-in protection in the form of estrogen (female sex hormone) which seems to delay hardening of the heart arteries. As the supply of hormone lessens in later life, female susceptibility to heart attacks increases to about that of men.

Before Birth Breathing Q. Does the unborn child breathe?

A. No, not if you mean taking air into the lungs. The unborn child has no need to breathe because oxygen is obtained from the mother. However, as birth approaches the unborn child shows various kinds of activity, including respiratory (breathing) movements. Although some fluid is probably inhaled at this time, it is largely forced out of the lungs as the child passes through the birth canal. The remaining fluid is normally not sufficient in amount to prevent filling of the lungs with air when the first breath is taken.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Destination: GOD

What's this little fellow up to? Where's he going? Why?
He knows. Maybe he couldn't put it into words, but he's just as sure as any little man can be.
He is taking in God's world with all his little-child faith. He knows that tree and how God made it strong against the storm.
Those clouds? He knows God painted them in the sky for him to enjoy.
He knows that more of God's wonders are right up ahead—and that's where he's going. Just walking among God.
In the truest sense of the words, our young friend doesn't have to FIND God—he is WITH God.
We are older. A lot of things clutter up our lives. We are busy losing God. When we do search for Him we scarcely know where to turn.
It would be nice to join this young fellow—to share his thoughts, his hopes, his dreams, his God.
We can't do that. We don't have a child's faith. But we can come CLOSER to God and ease our restless hearts.
We can go to our church—God's temple, our place of worship.
God will be there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Facts

About 51% of the 1959-60 cotton crop was harvested mechanically. An estimated 36% was machine picked and 15% was machine stripped.

From the Carolinas to central Texas and in irrigated areas of the Far West, when cotton is harvested by hand, workers pick the fleece from the open bolls.

The spindle-type picker duplicates this process as its revolving spindles engage and pull the cotton from the bolls. It does not pull leaves or unopened bolls. Picking, therefore, may be repeated as often as necessary.

In cotton yielding 300 pounds of lint per acre, the average hand picker gathers about 20 pounds of seed cotton per hour. The one-row mechanical picker can pick almost 650 pounds per hour. It can do the work of from 30 to 40 hand pickers.

Unlike the spindle-type picker, the stripper is a once-over machine. It breaks off the entire boll, simulating hand snapping, a practice followed in the semi-arid areas of Texas and Oklahoma. It can harvest more than a bale of cotton an hour — as much as 30 laborers hand snapping. Virtually none of the cotton crop was mechanically harvested prior to World War II; only 3% in 1947.

PROTEIN action
from Milk!

Protein builds energy—because it repairs and replaces muscle cells used up in activity. Milk is man's first source of protein. And, the older you get—the more you need protein...to repair and replace body cells in muscles, tissues and vital organs. Milk is one of the few complete protein foods—containing all the essential amino acids in a readily digestible form. To build up, to pep up, to grow up...drink plenty of milk!

PROTEIN...
All-Jersey Milk!

Nature favored the Jersey above all other dairy breeds...and gave her milk a greater abundance of protein—and other essential elements. Every glassful of "All-Jersey" milk is brimming over with extra protein, extra calcium, extra phosphorus, extra lactose, extra flavor...more than any natural milk of the same milk fat content!
