Armour Company Industrial Bond Issue Validated

Construction To Begin
At Early Date; Pipeline
To Serve Plant Approved

The last major step toward construction of the new Armour Agriculture Chemical Company's new plant near Cherokee, outside of the awarding of building contracts by the M. W. Kellogg Company in New York sometime between the present and mid-April, is the official validation of the $25,000,000 industrial bond issue Saturday in Colbert County Circuit Court.

The validation was signed by Circuit Court Judge Clifford K. Delony validating the four and three-quarter per cent industrial development revenue bonds serially dated March 1 and September 1, 1963 to 1968.

In the two court actions, the first at 9 a.m. Saturday, the constitutionality of the validation was tested and at 10 a.m. the validation proceedings were consummated.

The town of Cherokee was represented by the firm of Beasley and McCutchen of Tusculum, with Dumas, O'Neal and Hayes, Birmingham law firm, representing Armour.

Contracts are to be let for grading and drainage, building some of the six buildings required, including the administration building and another lot of smaller buildings to be included in the plant itself.

W. E. Shelburne, president of Armour Agriculture Chemical Company, has announced the ground-breaking date as April 17, after which construction work is scheduled to begin. The plant site is located between Cherokee and Pickwick Lake.

Pipeline Authorized

Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas Company has been authorized by the Federal Power Commission to construct and operate approximately 3.6 miles of 6-inch lateral pipeline to serve the new Armour plant. The authorization became effective as of March 24. The new pipeline will be used to deliver gas to the plant on an interruptible basis, normally amounting to approximately 3,500,000 cubic feet per day.

Armour expects to use the gas as a raw material and for other purposes in the production of ammonia and ammonium derivatives. Interruptible gas is expected to be used during the testing and initial operations of the Armour plant prior to the commencement of deliveries of firm gas from Colbert Consolidated Gas Company.

The pipeline, to be built by Alabama-Tennessee, will be large enough to permit the delivery of the full requirements of the plant which are approximately 18,000,000 cubic feet per day, the full requirements to be delivered up to the time when firm deliveries commence.

Alabama-Tennessee expects to spend approximately $131,600 on the new pipeline and plans to begin construction early this summer.

SHRINERS COLLECT $6300 FOR HOPE HAVEN

Perry English, president of the Muscle Shoals Shrine Club, said Tuesday some $6,300 was contributed to the R. C. Burns Hope Haven School and other Shrine charities, through the Palm Sunday paper sales.

The Shriners and Blue Lodge Masons sold the papers on the streets of several towns in the area on Saturday and called on homes Sunday, but everyone couldn't be contacted.

FFA-4-H Fat Calf Show And Sale April 25

Program Started To Hile Beef Production By Young Farmers

LIFE HANGS ON SOME THREADS—These two boys in Chicago are thankful for a new gauze which forms its own blood clot. Tom Setina, left, 6, and Ken Carrano, 9, both hemophiliacs—"bleeders"—had teeth pulled with only slight loss of blood. Holding Tom is Charles Corrigan, president of the Midwest Chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation.

The Florence Chamber of Commerce has agreed to work with the Lauderdale County Cattlemen's Association and county agent's office in boosting the 1961 edition of the Lauderdale County 4-H, FFA Fat Calf Show and Sale which will be held at the Legion Barn in Florence on Tuesday, April 25.

The show will be open to entrants from Future Farmers of America and 4-H Chapter members who must have had their calves in possession before November 1, 1960. Twenty-one participants have been lined up so far this year according to Albert Heaslett, assistant county agent who supervises 4-H Club work in the county. Twenty-three participated last year.

The Chamber of Commerce has authorized a $50 grant for helping promote the show and merchants of the city will also be asked to join in the program which is sponsored by the Lauderdale County Cattlemen's Association with the purpose of encouraging young men of Lauderdale to enter into a full-time beef production program as a farm venture.

Grant Newton of Lexington, who showed an Angus calf weighing 850 pounds, was last year's winner at the annual Fat Calf Show and Sale. E. L. Culver of Florence, purchased the calf for $1 a pound and later donated the animal to the Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital.

The program, sponsors hope, will result in better prices being paid at the shows and sales and hence in a larger membership in the beef production program which is needed to give it the impetus to grow.

There are three divisions to be shown in the April 25th show and sale with 24 offerings consisting of 1 shorthorn, 16 Black Angus, and 7 Hereford. Of these 4-H clubbers will contribute 11 entries and FFA the remaining 13.

Prizes for all divisions, both light and heavy classes, will be donated by local business firms, it was announced.

Scout Exposition Set For April 7-8

King-Sized Exhibits Will Be Shown At Lauderdale Coliseum

The 1961 Scout Exposition for the Muscle Shoals area will include exhibits and demonstrations for most any taste and will be "king-sized."

That's the word from Scout leaders in the area and plans move rapidly along for the April 7th and 8th affair at the Lauderdale Coliseum.

Displays range all the way from the home repairs demonstration by Troop 14 of the First Methodist Church in Florence to the survival camp exhibit by Troop 82 of the Grace Episcopal Church in Sheffield.

Equally indicative of the range of Scouting interests are plans by Cub Pack 215 of the Cave Street School in Tusculum to put on a puppet demonstration or show and the Pinewood Derby exhibition by Cub Pack 287 at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Florence.

Or if your taste runs to more modern developments you might be interested in the Science Fair exhibit to be put on by Cub Pack 284 sponsored by the Harlan School PTA or the aviation exhibit by Troop 267 of the First Methodist Church in Florence.

Naturally outdoor activities rate high with Scouts of all ages. Good examples are the camp cooking demonstration by Troop 55 of St. James Methodist Church in Florence and the archery exhibit by Troop 62 of the First Methodist Church in Sheffield.

Sales of the 50-cent tickets for the exhibit are reported moving briskly as the boys compete for prizes and awards.

In Florence the State National Bank is serving as home base for ticket sales.

WOWL-TV Protests Huntsville Pickup

Cable Company Seeking Realignment Of Stations

Despite vigorous opposition from Richard Biddle, president of WOWL-TV, to its plan to pipe Channel 31, Huntsville into the Shoals area, the Muscle TV Cable Company announced plans for a realignment of stations, made necessary, John Sullivan, the company's manager explained, "to give the most in TV coverage and do it economically."

Mr. Sullivan in a prepared statement at a meeting held on Mon-

NEW CONTRACT FOR POLE USE BEING CONSUMMATED

A new contract between Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Muscle Shoals TV Cable Company, a division of Transcontinent Communication Systems, Inc. in which major differences have been resolved, is in the hands of the officials of the two companies and is expected to be officially signed in due course, John Sullivan, cable company manager advised this paper. This information is substantiated by the telephone company.

The original contract for pole rental expired recently and the new contract with some revisions is expected to be consummated without delay as both parties are in agreement, Forrest Brice, manager of the local telephone company operation said.

day at the Municipal courtroom, said the cable company carries Channel 6, Birmingham, a CBS outlet; Channel 13, Birmingham, NBC and ABC; Channel 10, Birmingham Educational TV; and Channel 15, WOWL, Florence.

He explained that Channel 6 has signed primary contracts with the ABC network and will give up its CBS national coverage, pointing out that this would give his company an excess of ABC coverage by having Channel 6 and Channel 8 (Nashville), both ABC outlets, and Channel 13 partially ABC as well as NBC, and the local station, a composite of all three networks.

"By the inclusion of Channel 31, Huntsville as the ABC outlet, and a change to Channel 5, Nashville for CBS, deleting Channel 6, Birmingham, we can offer national coverage from all three networks and utilize much of our present microwave transmitting and receiving equipment without being forced to unnecessary and illogical expenditures of capital funds," Mr. Sullivan explained. He added that the cost of deleting Channel 6 and putting Channel 5 on the cable would cost approximately $20,000. He said Huntsville has increased its power output and would furnish a "good strong signal."

Mr. Biddle, in presenting the case of WOWL-TV, Channel 15 UHF and channel 3 on the Muscle Shoals TV cable, said that the station has always been subject to outside stimuli from Birmingham, Nashville and Memphis, and that this move would bring an outside market closer to this area. No Date Set For Ground-Breaking At Weyerhaeuser

Construction Expected To Begin Next Week
On New Florence Plant

Ground will likely be broken for the new Weyerhaeuser plant in Florence early next week, according to W. G. Karran, plant manager, who stated Wednesday afternoon, that no official ceremony had been planned since the date was indefinite. Mr. Karran stated however that on completion of the plant people of the area would be invited to an "open house" celebration.

The plans call for the construction of a 57,000 square-foot stage of a three-stage plant which is expected to reach 148,000 square feet and will employ about 100 persons. Building materials by Weyerhaeuser will be used in the structure and will include glue-laminated timbers, roofing, decking and Roddis plywood.

The plant, which will be managed by W. G. Karran, will produce corrugated shipping containers and will employ about 30 persons in the initial stage of operation.

Easter Egg Hunt Set For Friday

The Easter Egg hunt for preschool children will be at 2 p.m. Friday instead of 1 p.m., according to the Florence Recreation Center.

The two other egg hunts will be held by the schedule previously announced; school-age white children at 10 a.m. Saturday and Negro children, all ages, at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Both egg hunts for white children will be in Martin Park, behind the recreation center. The hunt for Negro children will be at Handy Recreation Center.

Reynolds Annual Report Indicates Promising Future

Aluminum Uses On Increase As Company
Expands Production

New aluminum products on the market and under development support confidence that growing demand will require full employment of idle plant capacity. R. S. Reynolds, Jr., president of Reynolds Metals Company, said last week in the company's Annual Report to its 34,000 stockholders.

New Reynolds products cited in the Report include the aluminum can for the frozen citrus concentrate industry, aluminum oil well drill pipe and structural aluminum transmission towers for the electrical industry. Other developments "that will take up the slack," Mr. Reynolds said, include "growing use of aluminum in the automotive industry, the broadening demand for aluminum railroad equipment and the increasing acceptance of aluminum in the shipping, container and construction industries."

Reynolds production of primary aluminum last year was approximately 70 per cent of capacity. The company's plants in the United States, expanded at a cost of $328,000,000 in the past four years, now are capable of handling sales half again larger than 1960, Mr. Reynolds said.

In a separate statement today, he added, "We could even produce twice as much fabricated tonnage as in 1960, provided a large part were concentrated in standard items involving long production runs. Our rolling mills and extrusion plants are geared for mass production of such items as building sheet, pipe, furniture tubing and large structures."

Earnings of Reynolds Metals in 1960, reported earlier, were $25,661,000, compared to $44,634,000 in 1959. The company is the nation's largest aluminum producer. Mr. Reynolds said three factors combined to reduce profits in 1960: A 10 per cent decline in dollar sales, a continuing pressure on prices and the cost of maintaining recently expanded plant facilities that could not be employed profitably during the year.

Brooks To Serve Land Bank Ass'n.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Federal Land Bank Association of Florence, S. K. Brooks, Sr., Route 1, Killen, Alabama was elected to serve as director of the association for a three year term.

At the organization meeting following the meeting of stockholders, John C. Hardin was elected President, L. H. King, Jr. Vice President, and L. N. Thompson as Manager.

Manager Thompson, reported at the annual meeting that the association, entirely farmer-owned had a net worth of $526,737.27 and was serving 1137 loans aggregating $5,500,000.00. The address of Dr. L. B. Nelson was well received by the stockholders in attendance.

State To Dredge Florence Canal

Waterfront To Be Open To Full Navigation In Development Program

Earl McGowin, Mobile and Chapman state docks director, announced Friday the Florence waterfront will be dredged to full navigation depth from one end to the other and to a width of 100 feet, an operation which will cost approximately $125,000 to $150,000.

The TVA officials met Friday to plan their part of the program which calls for the removal of old Dam 1, near the railroad bridge, once the dredging has been completed.

McGowin praised Mayor E. F. Martin and his associates on the Florence City Commission for purchasing the waterfront area from Lauderdale County and deeding a strip 400 feet wide along the waterfront to the state. He said the city's action was one of vision. Captain Conway Graden of Florence, a retired TVA navigation specialist now connected with the state docks department as a consultant, was also praised for his assistance.

The state docks department is now engaged in the task of rounding up the necessary equipment in order to complete the dredging during the dewatered period.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hipp will spend two weeks in Jamaica.

ANYONE FUR TENNIS?—Tennis player-model, Nyda Machin, of London, shows off a newly styled coat of long haired Acrilan. The garment is for spring wear.

Increasing interest in the coming Civil War Centennial commemoration is seen throughout the area, some of it being in the form of beads, some in stories of the Civil War era, and some of it in the collection of relics such as coins, currency, old papers, flags, caps, uniforms, and many other articles that have been cherished through the years by descendants of Civil War veterans and their families.

Merchants throughout the Tri-Cities have offered their show windows for various periods in which such relics may be shown and a list of approved windows, individuals and organizations having such relic displays. The relics and display committee is headed by Dr. Milton C. Dunn, in Florence and Mr. R. E. Hyde in Tusculum.

Dr. Dunn has a fine collection of Civil War coins, currency and other articles besides a very fine historical library on the great conflict. This and other collections are irreplaceable, the committee points out and can only be placed in windows or cases that can be locked, so that all who have such articles may be sure they will be properly labeled and cared for during the time they are exhibited.

Serving with the co-chairman are Mrs. Mary Christian, Paul King, Mrs. Donald White, Mrs. E. A. O'Neal, Mayor and Mrs. C. L. Beard, Sheffield; Wilder Watts, Mayor E. F. Martin, Ethel Pearson, and Elizabeth Henderson.

Another feature of the commemoration scheduled for May 14-20 is the parade which will take place on Wednesday of that week. It will be assembled in Florence and disbanded in Tusculum, it was stated.

Mrs. Earl Holder, general chairman, has urged all who intend to participate, should make the fact known to the parade committee, headed by Henry Rand in Tusculum.

The pageant will be held on Wednesday and Thursday nights, May 17 and 18 at Deshler Stadium in Tusculum, to be followed on Friday night by the Confederate costume ball at the Coliseum in Florence.

Prizes will be awarded at the ball for the best beard and for the best lady's costume.

Charles L. Peery Succeeds Darby On School Board

Charles L. Peery, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Florence, was appointed to the Florence Board of Education Tuesday afternoon to replace Kenneth C. Darby who resigned. Mr. Peery was named to a five-year term by the City Commission.

Darby, a member of the board for 10 years, asked not to be considered for reappointment and stated in a letter, "Because of the great pressure of my expanding business it has made me feel that for the next few years I am going to have to devote my entire attention to it." His request was accepted "with regret" by the commissioners.

The Country Is On The Move

The sometimes bewildering speed with which President Kennedy acts has left some people wondering if the President is not swinging too far to the left, especially in his selection of such avowed social-reformers as Adlai Stevenson, Chester Bowles, and G. Mennen Williams.

However there is good reason to applaud the great majority of Mr. Kennedy's appointments. Certainly most if not all of the 'New Frontiers Team' were selected for their fitness for their separate jobs and already the country is beginning to feel the effects of a vigorous, sober and factual appraisal of its debits and assets.

In fact Mr. Kennedy has stated many times before and after his election that we should "help other nations to help themselves" and not simply keep them on a dole as they have been in the past. His hemispheric plan is a mutual assistance program calculated to help restore the self-respect of impoverished nations south of the border.

Another indication of the President's swing away from the left is his declaration that a sound treasury, prosperous country and flourishing business depend upon a prosperous people. His policy is that a good ship of state rests on the welfare of the crew... the American people.

If Mr. Kennedy appears to lean to the left it is because the country's economic well-being had reached a low ebb and a strong shot in the arm is needed to bring it back, not to normalcy, but to a strong position of leadership.

The world is undergoing a tremendous social and economic upheaval. Neither this nation nor any other can escape it. It is a time that calls for strong leaders capable of thinking and acting wisely and quickly. Not all social changes are socialistic in their end results. Some are quite the opposite.

Congress is the great balance wheel in this country and the new administration's recovery program is subject after all to the checks and balances imposed by the legislative branch of the government.

There is promise, there is vigor, and there is optimism in the new administration. We can expect the program to move ahead.

How About That Overdue Book?

Local librarians report that many books are kept beyond the allotted time despite the change in ruling which doubled the time. Actually the situation was not helped much though the ruling was made as much to accommodate users of the library as it was to relieve the under-staffed libraries of the unpleasant task of sending out notices and levying fines.

Those who do keep books out longer than the allotted period should not quarrel with the librarian over the few cents per day fine she is required to assess. The rules are made and approved by the Library Board and not by the library staff.

It is pointed out by those in charge that overdue books make empty shelves at the library and deprive others of their use. Right now there are some two hundred books out requiring an assistant one whole day each week to send out notices.

Of course the situation seems to be a problem with most libraries but the fact remains our local libraries are suffering because of the thoughtless habit many patrons have to holding books too long. The library would far rather have the book than the fine so if you have an overdue book, please return it as soon as possible and try, in the future, to return all books on or before their due date.

Thinking Is A Basic Liberty

"There is growing evidence that Southerners are being pressured to give up some basic liberties. They are being asked to do so all in the name of liberty," says Robert E. (Bob) Jones in his "Report from Washington" recently.

"One of the most recent signs came in Alabama. A man was invited to speak before a State convention. When a small group objected, because his stated opinions differed from its own, the bid was withdrawn. What the group was afraid of in reality was that the speaker might get people to think differently than the group wanted people to think.

"This is one way of keeping Alabama in a rut. Progress comes from the clash of minds and different opinions. But the most disheartening part of this occurrence is that the mass of Alabama people let this small group get away with dictating what Alabama citizens may hear.

"Washington, Jefferson, George Mason, Jackson, Johnson and Wilson, good Southerners all, if alive today might get the same rebuff the invited speaker got. Their ideas and ideals still live and it is highly possible they do not jibe with those of some groups in Alabama.

"This banning of the speaker and violation of freedom of speech is supposed to be part of the program to preserve 'the Southern way of life'."

Actually the Southern way of life, so-called, is not to be preserved by such thinking but by the same sort of thinking and acting that preserves the American way of life. Usually the people, wherever they may be, north, south, east or west, are capable of thinking things out for themselves... and they usually do.

Kennedy Sends Help To Laos

President Kennedy rushed helicopters, long-range aircraft and other military supplies to Laos Thursday to keep it from being "gobbled up" by the Communists, however, he is hoping that all-out diplomatic efforts will convince Soviet Premier Khrushchev that the United States is not bluffing in its determination to preserve Laos' neutrality. The weapons will be in position for a Laotian counter-attack against advancing pro-Communist rebels if they persist in stalling.

Judge Refuses Bankruptcy Petition

In refusing to review a petition filed by the striking Air Line Pilots Association, Federal Judge Frank A. When ordered to disperse, the students met the officers with a volley of stones, beer cans and bottles.

Lions Give Fans Look At Talents

F-Day Game Saturday At Coffee Well Attended; '61 Schedule Announced

Coaches' Hal Self and George Weeks paraded their 1961 edition dress review before some 2,000 fans in the annual F-Day contest at Coffee Stadium, sponsored yearly by the Florence Kiwanis Club with the Whites defeating the Purples by a score of 22-6.

Student assistant coaches Harold Graham, Neil Hunt and Robert Douthitt directed the winning Whites, while Sammy Smith, Larry Yancey and Wayne Sanderson had charge of the Purples. Weeks and Self were strictly observers as they watched the proceedings from high atop Coffee Stadium in the press box.

The contest proved Mickey Bell and Steve Logan outstanding in offense and the Lions appear pretty well-manned at the key spot of the single wing. Former Tailback Gil Cleveland made his debut as a blocking back, running the option play a time or two, a play that could throw the ten foes of "61" into a tizzy. Freshman Fullback, Gus Garrard of Haleyville, broke loose with a 75-yard TD gallop, the game's longest run.

Individually, Bell was the day's top man on offense, carrying the leather 16 times for 93 yards and completing three of 13 passes for 31 yards running his total to 124 yards. Garrard was next best for the victors with 83 yards in three rushes. For the Whites, Logan was top dog, running for 67 in 16 tries and connecting on three of five passes for 38 to bring his total to 38. Fullback Guin Holland followed by grinding out 97 yards in 17 rushing attempts.

The Lions have six home games this year out of ten scheduled, and while the list is imposing, the local aggregation under the coaching of Self and Weeks, should give a good account of themselves. Following is the 1961 schedule:

Sept. 16, Delta State, Home; Sept. 23, Murray State, Murray, Ky.; Sept. 30, Arkansas State, Jonesboro, Ark.; Oct. 7, Livingston, Home; Oct. 14, Southeast La., Home; Oct. 21, Troy State, Troy, Ala.; Oct. 28, Middle Tenn., Home; Nov. 4, Jacksonville (Homecoming), Home; Nov. 11, Austin Peay, Home; Nov. 18, U.T.M.B., Martin, Tenn.

Younger Disabled Workers Eligible For SS Benefits

Disabled workers under age 50 can now look forward to monthly social security benefits. Unfortunately, not all severely disabled workers are aware of the 1960 amendments which now provide cash disability benefits to younger workers and their dependents.

Many disabled workers who are unfamiliar with the new law are therefore delaying their applications until age 50, some until after age 65. Special efforts are being made by the local office to inform every eligible disabled person, regardless of age, of his individual rights. If by chance, the local office does not know of your disability you should inquire immediately. Remember, benefits once lost cannot be recovered.

Illness or accident may strike at any age. Disability while young often causes the greatest economic hardship with a growing family to be cared for. For this reason, Congress has improved social security protection against the loss of income and offers you disability insurance benefits with no age limitations.

ROBERT TENENT SIMPSON JOHNSON

"A member of pioneer families, it is men like Simpson Johnson who have added stability to the growth of Florence and the surrounding area. Throughout the years he has contributed much to the sound development of the community and has added his knowledge of the district to the sound foundation on which our prosperity has been built," so said a businessman of this city who has contributed his part, also, to this same development.

"Loyal to his friends and cooperative in every worthwhile endeavor, Mr. Johnson has been ready at all times to do his part for the city's betterment," this friend of long standing added.

Robert Tenent Simpson Johnson was born in Florence, November 28, 1891, the son of James Frederick and the late Mary Simpson Johnson. He attended Model Training School of Florence State Normal College and completed his education at the college in 1909.

While at State Normal, he was a member of the football team during his junior and senior years and also was a member of the track team, basketball team and Indian wrestling team. He was a member of the Dialectical Debating Society and took part in dramatics, appearing in a Shakespearean play in his senior year.

Following the completion of his formal education, Mr. Johnson was employed by the Alabama Trust & Savings Bank for three years with the exception of a short time when he was with the Traders National Bank in Birmingham. He resigned his position with the local bank in early 1912 to become office manager of the newly organized Florence Lumber Company, where he was employed for the next six months.

In late 1912, Mr. Johnson accepted a position with Weckley and Weedon Insurance Agency, remaining with that firm until September, 1914, when he purchased a half interest in the W. T. Simpson Insurance Agency. The firm name was then changed to Simpson and Johnson.

In December, 1917, Mr. Johnson volunteered for army service and was assigned as a Field Clerk in Military Intelligence at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Johnson was transferred to the 6th Division at Camp Forrest for special duty. After completion of this assignment, he was ordered back to Fort Oglethorpe where he served during the remainder of World War I. He was discharged in April, 1919, at Fort Oglethorpe with the rank of 2nd Lieutenant.

In January, 1918, while Mr. Johnson was at Fort Oglethorpe, W. T. Simpson died and Mr. Johnson's father, J. Fred Johnson, Sr., purchased Mr. Simpson's interest in the firm. Following Mr. Johnson's return from service, the firm name was changed to Johnson and Johnson.

Mr. Johnson was married to Louise Weatherford, of Chattanooga, October 20, 1920. They had two sons, one, Robert T. S., Jr. lost his life during his service in World War II, and James H. Johnson is a partner in the firm of Johnson and Johnson.

Mr. Johnson was a member of the Florence City Board of Education for fifteen years, serving as chairman the last seven years. He was the first camp chairman of Camp Westmoreland, when the Boy Scout camp was established there. He is a member of the Florence Chamber of Commerce, a charter member of Florence-Lauderdale Chapter No. 11, American Legion, of the Rotary Club, past secretary-treasurer of the old Florence Loan and Trust Company, and a member and past director of Florence Golf and Country Club. He is a member and past vice-president of the Alabama Association of Insurance Agents.

Mr. Johnson is an active member of the First Baptist Church, having served as a deacon and in other official capacities.

Golfing is his favorite hobby but he finds more recreation and pleasure in conversational meetings with his friends.

Interested in the education and training of our young people throughout the years, Mr. Johnson through his work with the city's school system and the Boy Scout movement has contributed much to the splendid recognition given each by educators and Scout leaders throughout the area.

● Citing "great need in the field of public education in our state," Governor John Patterson this week endorsed President Kennedy's proposed school aid program for the "substantial benefits" it would bring Alabama school. The measure is now pending before Congress. Under the plan, Alabama public schools would be eligible to receive almost $20 million next year.

● California will ask death in its gas chamber for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, found guilty of first and second degree murder respectively and conspiracy by a third jury who agreed late Monday after two other juries had deadlocked. The jury was instructed to return to court by Superior Judge David Coleman Monday to decree the penalty.

● A flaming four-engine Czechoslovakian airliner crashed in a wooded area 30 miles north of Nuernberg, Germany Tuesday killing 52 who were aboard. There were no survivors in the crash of the 80-passenger, Soviet-made Ilyushin-18 turbo-jet plane which was enroute from Prague to Zurich, Switzerland. Many of the bodies recovered were those of small children.

● The United States State Department announced Saturday in Washington that the American C-47 transport plane assigned to the U. S. air attaché in Laos was shot down over rebel territory and that one survivor of the eight aboard, U. S. Army Major Lawrence R. Bailey of Laurel, Md. may be in the hands of the pro-Communist guerrillas.

Meaning Of Passover Eternally Unchanged

By Dr. J. S. Gallinger, Rabbi, Temple B'nai Israel

"Passover affirms the great truth that liberty is the inalienable right of every human being," said Morris Joseph, a great American thinker, in speaking of the Biblical Feast of the Exodus, the divine rescue of the God-seeking Israelites from hedonistic Egypt.

The world is about 3500 years older than when the first paschal lamb was offered. "Yet," he continues, "the lessons taught by the ancient deliverance retain their original force. Injustice and cruelty have not vanished from the earth. Passover brands such crimes as an abomination in the sight of the Lord."

Time is a seductive temptress. She tempts us to forget the Passover's deeper meaning. Therefore, we need to be reminded that its true essence is unworried by the passing of the centuries.

This psychological truth is mirrored in the observances of the Feast of Passover in Jewish Temples and homes all over the world this week.

On the supper table of the Passover ritual we still find the ancient symbols speaking their ever-new messages. The traditional lamb, once roasted over an open pit, now is grilled by heat from a gas flame or electricity, but it still speaks to us of the "good shepherd" who leads his beloved sheep through "the valley of the shadows of death" to "the green pastures" of spiritual happiness. The dry slivers of unleavened bread, baked on sandy stones in the hot desert sun, now are mass-produced in the immaculate molds of high-speed machines, but they still speak of the determination and unquestioning obedience with which man must follow the dictates of his highest inspiration. The sacramental wine, pressed bodily in that long ago time from the raw grapes and fermented in earthen jars, now comes in hermetically sealed bottles of many splendorous glass, but it still calls upon mortals to make their bodies holy vessels fit to contain the spirit of divinity.

And so it goes with all the other symbols—the bitter herbs, reminders of the slavery of physical passion; the clay like mixture of fruit, mementoes of the serfdom of man's inhumanity to man; the salted water, warnings of the bitter tears of desperation which must follow the depravity of tyrannical oppression; the green sprigs of parsley and the boiled egg, symbols of the everlasting bounty of human nature with which God sustains his children.

Things do change as time marches on. But the meaning of the Passover is clear: It is only the things that change, not the meaning with which the Bible has invested them. Their change reflects man's ever increasing capacity to alter the physical world about him while their eternal verities remain immutable and untouched challenges for man to fulfill the spiritual purpose with which God has blessed his creatures and his creation.

Passover celebrates man's ability to life himself from the slavery of his human nature to the exaltation of his divine destiny.

While times do change, the meaning of Passover remains eternal—it is a call for man to use his powers in the search of God.

He said Huntsville was adjacent and "very competitive."

Mr. Biddle said he had called the meeting last Friday to see if the community was concerned about the proposed station realignment.

As far as the Florence merchants' part in the matter was concerned Rawson Coleman, president of the Retail Merchants Association, said, that while he could not speak for every storekeeper, it was the consensus of the group that it was a private controversy and that the merchants were not worried over Huntsville competition.

The Chamber of Commerce likewise took no part in the controversy.

April Set Aside As Cancer Control Month In State

Increased voluntary contributions to the American Cancer Society are needed to win the fight against cancer, Gov. John Patterson said in a proclamation setting aside April as "Cancer Control Month in Alabama."

Pointing out that cancer took the lives of 3,675 persons in Alabama last year, Governor Patterson noted that the disease "strikes families in every city and town in Alabama" and "will claim the lives of some 270,000 Americans this year."

He urged "every citizen of Alabama to support the American Cancer Society's three-point life-saving program of research, education and service."

"The American Cancer Society, through its programs of research, education and service," the governor said in his proclamation, "has helped save the more than 1,000,000 Americans, alive today, cured of cancer. Today one half of all cancer patients could be cured, with research offering the prospect of new cures and the hope of future cancer prevention."

Passover Service At Temple Friday

The Biblical Feast of Passover will be celebrated in Jewish homes and Temples this week end and during the coming week. The traditional ritual of worship, song and ceremony will be followed.

The climax will be reached in the communal Seder worship service to be celebrated at Temple B'nai Israel Friday beginning at 6:00 p.m. Rabbi J. S. Gallinger will officiate, assisted by the children of the congregation. The celebration will include a dinner prepared by a committee of the Temple's Sisterhood. In charge of preparations are the Sisterhood's president, Mrs. Gary Florman, with Mrs. Melvin Korman, Mrs. Harold May and Mrs. Betty Zoff. Stanley Rosenbaum, congregational president, will welcome the celebrants.

The observance of the holiday will be concluded with festival worship on April 7.

Family Receives Letter From Miles

Granville Miles, missing locally since March 9, wrote a letter to his wife, addressed to his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sam Crabtree. According to Mrs. Crabtree, the letters, "Col," could be detected on the postmark although they were blurred, and it was thought to have been mailed from Columbus, Georgia, where he was last seen.

Miles, local distributor for The Birmingham News, left his home on Thursday morning, March 9, and was last seen locally at The First National Bank in Florence at about 10:30 a.m., but on March 14, Miles walked into OK Rubber Welders in Columbus, Georgia, according to Columbus police officer, J. J. Griffin.

Evening Ceremony Unites Miss Crymes, Mr. Williams

Wearing lace re-embroidered with pearls over bridal taffeta, Miss Peggy Crymes became the bride of Jimmy Dale Williams in Rogersville Church of Christ at seven o'clock in the evening of Friday, March twenty-fourth. Tom Estes, minister of the church, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Crymes and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Williams, all of Rogersville.

Vocal selections preceding the vows were by Mr. and Mrs. Claud Lewis, Mrs. Barry Anderson and Howard Killen and candlelighters were Tommy Crymes, brother of the bride, and Bailey Rowden of Decatur.

The tableau formed before an altar decorated with all-white blossoms accented by greenery and interspersed with stands of tall white tapers.

A scalloped neckline, sleeves which tapered to points over the hands and a full, floor-length skirt distinguished the bride's wedding gown and her chapel-length veil cascaded from a queen's crown of pearls. A purple-throated white orchid marked her white Bible.

Miss Robbie Crymes, Sheffield, was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Charlotte Goodwin of Killen, Miss Ann Varnall, Miss Doris Norton and Miss Patsy Williams, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Their satin frocks in shades of orchid featured scoop necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and full-gathered skirts and their head-dresses were small, veiled and matching in color. They carried bouquets of white mums in a rosette of orchid tulle with matching ribbon streamers.

Gerald Reeves was Mr. Williams' best man and ushers were his four brothers, Ted Williams, Tommy Williams, Pete Williams and David Williams, all of Rogersville.

Mrs. Crymes chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of beige lace and Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in blue with accessories to match. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception in the church parlors immediately followed the ceremony. Assisting with the courtesies were Miss Elizabeth Baker and Miss Nellie Pollard of Huntsville; Miss Cora Sue Waddell, Mrs. Bennie Hoole and Mrs. Mary Waddell, Rogersville; and Miss Caroline Williams of Athens.

For travel, the bride wore a Spring suit of blue wool, matching accessories and her bouquet orchid.

Now returned from a honeymoon to points of interest in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Williams are at home in Huntsville.

Miss McMurtrey, Mr. Taylor Say Vows In Church Setting

Marked by an evening ceremony in Highland Baptist Church, Charlotte Rochelle McMurtrey and Lucky O'Neal Taylor exchanged nuptial vows at half past seven o'clock on Thursday, March twenty-third, with Wilbert Quillen, minister of Haleyville Church of Christ, hearing their pledges.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Roy McMurtrey of Bridge Road, Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. Silas P. Taylor of St. Joseph, Tennessee.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Laura Shannon, organist, and Miss Patsy Parker of Birmingham, vocal soloist.

For the occasion, arrangements of white blossoms and groupings of greenery decorated the altar and myriad tapers, lighted by Jennifer Ann Martin, cast a soft glow as vows were spoken.

Mr. McMurtrey gave his daughter in marriage. Fashioned of hand-clipped lace and bridal peau de sole, her gown was designed with a molded bodice and voluminous floor-length skirt and featured a rounding neckline of lace scallops embroidered with sequins and seed pearls, long sleeves pointing over the hands and a pouffe bustle at the skirt back. A pearl-studded coronet held her veil of silk illusion and white rosebuds encircled the white orchid which she carried with her prayer book.

Mrs. David Sharp and Miss Linda Bevis were the bride's honor attendants and Miss Bonnie Taylor, Miss Jane Bendall, Miss Sarah McMurtrey and Miss Frances Kaye Taylor served as bridesmaids. Rhonda and Jo Anna Foster were flower girls. Their dresses were green, shaded from pale to emerald, and they wore matching head-dresses and carried bouquets of matching Fujii mums.

S. P. Taylor of Greenhill was best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Jerry Swinea, Dennis McMurtrey, David Swinea, Freeman Wright and Terry Taylor. Johnny Martin was ringbearer.

Mrs. McMurtrey, mother of the bride, was in pale blue lace with blue accessories and Mrs. Taylor, the bridegroom's mother, was also in blue.

The R. R. Martin home on Hackett Boulevard was the scene of the reception which immediately followed the ceremony. Assisting the hosts were Mrs. Walter Bendall, Mrs. Paul McMurtrey, Mrs. Jerry Swinea and Mrs. David Swinea.

The couple left later in the evening for a wedding trip and, upon their return, will be at home in Florence.

England Residence Ahead For Rogersville Newlyweds

Candlelighted and decorated with white gladioli and greenery, Rogersville Methodist Church was the setting on Saturday evening, March twenty-fifth, for the wedding of Judith Evelyn Fuqua, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Fuqua, and Carol Dan Newberg, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon O. Newberg of Minor Hill, Tennessee.

The Reverend William H. Hitt read the nuptial vows following a musical prelude by Mrs. Roger McCormick and Layman Owens.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of lace over taffeta designed with close-fitting bodice featuring a rounding neckline and long sleeves tapering to hand points, and a bouffant skirt detailed with fabric roses at the waistline and a chapel train. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a tiara jeweled with crystal beads and her white orchid bouquet was encircled with feathered white carnations.

Mrs. Melbert Ritter of Huntsville was the bride's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Mrs. Olsen Goode of Rogersville; Mrs. Bobby Stricklin of Florence; Miss Janet Crow of Killen; and Miss Sherry Crow of Minor Hill, Tennessee. Brenda Cagle of Rogersville and Laura Gautney of Killen, nieces of the bride, were junior maids and Susan Brewer of Anniston was flower girl.

Squared necklines, elbow-length sleeves and full skirts marked their peau de sole frocks. Mrs. Ritter wearing pink and the other attendants in aqua. Tiny veiled brides and ushers in bouquets of tinted-to-match chrysanthemums were complementary details.

Mr. Newberg was his son's best man and ushers included Gene Tomlinson, Thomas Newberg, Lewis Fuqua, Jr., O'Neal Bailey, Russell Gautney, Larry Gautney, Jr., and Thomas Zarger, Jr., of Knoxville. Richard Cagle served as ringbearer.

Mrs. Fuqua, mother of the bride, chose a rose-tinted gown for her daughter's wedding and the reception to which she and Mr. Fuqua were hosts in the church parlors immediately afterward. Mrs. Newberg was attired in blue and both wore white carnations in shoulder corsages.

Assisting at the reception were Miss Sarah Fuqua, Miss Lucille Fuqua, Mrs. John Rigdon, Mrs. Harvey Crymes, Mrs. Jarvis Brewer, Mrs. Larry Gautney, Mrs. Thomas Cagle and Mrs. Cowden Horton.

Before leaving for their honeymoon, the bride changed to a suit of green wool with which she wore a feathered hat, bone accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. Newberg will be joined by his bride when he reports in April for duty in England with the United States Air Force with which he now serves.

Joy White Tells Plans For April 8th Nuptials

When Elizabeth Joy White becomes the bride of Dr. Preston Trousedale on Saturday, April eighth, First Methodist Church of Florence will be the setting for the afternoon event and Dr. R. Lambuth Archibald will read the half past four o'clock vows.

William Legg White of Athens, brother of the bride, will give her in marriage and Mrs. John Watson Rheney, Jr., and little Elizabeth Joy Rheney of Orangeburg, South Carolina, twin sister and niece of the bride, respectively, will serve as honor attendant and flower girl.

Dr. Trousedale has asked his brother, Albert Johnson Trousedale, to be his best man and ushers will include Dr. Carl Freeman Luckey, Warden Harold Cook of Romeo, Michigan, and William Shepard King.

A program of nuptial music will be presented by Walter Urban, organist, and John Voorhies, vocalist.

The bride's mother, Mrs. William McKinley White, will entertain with a reception at The Town Club immediately after the ceremony.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell and Dr. and Mrs. John Jackson have spent the past few days in Atlanta where the doctors attended meetings of the Thomas B. Hinman Dental Clinic. They are expected to return to Florence today.

Prenuptial Fetes

Honor Betty Darnall

Continuing the galas honoring Betty Darnall and Jasper Knight Champion of Montgomery prior to their April 8th troths was the dinner courtesy of Friday evening when Mrs. Walter Matthews, Jr. and her son, Walter Matthews, Jr., were hosts at Florence Country Club.

Planned as a "get-acquainted party" for bride-elect Betty's fiancé and her close friends, the group of twenty guests was chosen from former high school classmates and longtime intimates.

Spring flowers were colorfully intermingled to decorate the lounge and to center the buffet table in the New Room where guests were served and the three-smaller tables around which they were later seated.

Miss Darnall wore a black and white tulle dress with softly draped blouse and sheath skirt. Included in the hospitality were her mother, Mrs. Theodore Gerber, and Mr. Gerber.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson were dinner hosts on Saturday evening in compliment to the newly-weds, entertaining at their home on Gordon Drive in Sheffield.

Numerous other parties are calendared to fill the coming week.

Home Wedding Scheduled For Miss Fowler, Fiance

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coven Fowler of Greenhill have announced the betrothal of their daughter, Charlotte Marie, to Ronald Edward Haygood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Miley Fulton Haygood, also of Greenhill.

The home of the bride's parents will be the setting for the June nuptial event.

Hostesses Curtsy To Visitors From Florida

Arriving a week ago from their home in Ormond Beach, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Erskine are dividing this pre-Easter week between his sister, Mrs. Frank Irvine at "Oakridge" and Mrs. Carl O. Walker and Miss Josephine Penney at their home on West Tuscaloosa Street.

Included among the courtesies which are welcoming the visitors was The Town Club luncheon on Friday following their arrival when Mrs. T. M. Rogers and Mrs. C. B. Collier entertained the visitors and their hostesses; also at The Town Club was the brunch of Monday morning when Miss Penney and Mrs. Walker welcomed their guests at half past eleven and used Spring flowers to gay their party table; Tuesday was "Huntsville Day" for the group-of-five who lunched in Decatur enroute and spent the afternoon visiting failair scene of their onetime home; Mrs. Shaler Roberts was luncheon hostess at her home on Waterloo Road yesterday; and a similar courtesy is being extended today by Mrs. Henry Bradshaw and Mrs. Morrison Paxton at the home of the former on South Cedar.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine will leave tomorrow for a visit in Memphis, their former home.

Family Dinner Marks Birthday of Mr. Teks
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Teks were Sunday mid-day dinner hosts to family members at their home, 626 Riverview Drive, in honor of the host's father, Manuel Teks of Athens, whose ninetieth milestone was celebrated.

Covered with a cloth of embroidered linen and lace, the table was centered with a silver bowl of daffodils and green carnations.

Included with the honor guest were Mrs. Teks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Israel, Milton Blunker, and the host's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Teks.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Denbo of Huntsville; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Markowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Teks, Ben Denbo, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Goldberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jaffee, all of Athens; Mr. and Mrs. Max Slaughter and children, Betty and Bobby, and Max Greenwall, all of Birmingham.

Hypatian Club Hears Illustrator's Story

Delightful entertainment was presented to Hypatian Club members attending last Thursday's meeting by Mrs. W. Henry Cromwell who chose for the afternoon's review Norman Rockwell's "My Adventures as an Illustrator," the autobiography of America's best loved contemporary artist which combines the story of his life with the story of his pictures.

Mrs. Fritz Deloney's new home at 2002 Arlington Boulevard in Hickory Hills was the meeting's charming setting.

Thursday Study Club Meets With Mrs. Koonce

Mrs. G. M. Hamby was included with Thursday Study Club members in the group which Mrs. Merwin Koonce welcomed at her home at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of the twenty-third.

For the program, Mrs. Glenn McIntyre reviewed Isak Dinesen's "Shadows on the Grass," a poignant description of African life and the people with whom the author "rubbed shoulders" during her years of residence there.

Mrs. Donald White and Mrs. H. H. Bradford assisted the hostess during the tea hour.

Miss Gail Batson arrived yesterday from North Texas College in Denton and will visit for a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Batson, West Tuscaloosa St.

Speaker To Tell Story Of Congo

The Women of Trinity Episcopal Church, Florence, will hold their regular monthly meeting at 12 noon, April 3 in the parish house. Speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Oscar G. Nelson of Nashville, aunt of David Kearley, rector of St. Bartholomew's Mission, who will speak about missionary work in the Congo and show slides of the country.

Mrs. Nelson is a most interesting speaker and all women of the parish are urged to attend this meeting. She is the wife of a former missionary to China, and her daughter and son-in-law have been in the missionary field in the Congo for several years.

She will have some interesting sidelights on present day conditions in the strife-torn Congo.

THE SPILLWAY

In your Easter bonnet,
With hubby's frown upon it...

WHILE THE "FRILLS" (to quote the well-known song) may be necessary, we feel that the husband's frown is also an intended accoutrement to every Easter bonnet—and we ladies would feel very dull indeed if hubby said he LIKED our hat!

WE TOLD YOU SO... The success of the Art Exhibit at the college surpassed the highest hopes of the organization that sponsored it and was a real hit with the populace. Did you ever see rooms any more packed than those at Rogers Hall, where Dr. Freundlich gave his excellent lecture on Sunday? And we must admit we were completely captivated by the sight of Mr. Rubens doing the pastels... especially with such cute subjects as Kim Smith, Nancy McCrory, Paige Lindsey, Susan Mullins and many others (and we hear that this department of the exhibit was so popular that Mr. Rubens is booking a return engagement)... and in addition to this was the invitation to all those present to visit the College Art Department where works of the faculty were on exhibit... and Bess McCrory even opened the Susan K. Vaughn museum for the afternoon, which was a most complete afternoon for all who came.

SPEAKING OF EXHIBITS, we want to mention the one put on last Saturday night by the local Girl Scouts at the Coliseum. Real talent and industry were in evidence, and you shouldn't have missed it, if you did. We'd like to add that a widely welcomed visitor at this exhibit was Katherine (Harrison) Rickard, who was down from her home in Tullahoma to visit her family, and brought (niece) Polly Robinson, a brand new Brownie, to the exhibit.

A LOVELY SIGHT (in a beautiful ceremony) was witnessed by those present at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning when Ben and Ann Craig had their twin daughters baptized... and Misses Frances Woods and Catherine Dale, in their long christening dresses, were as beautiful as their names.

MORE FAVORITE VISITORS HERE... Eliza (King) Smith is here from Marshall, Texas to visit her mother, Mrs. Phil King and (sister) Katherine Southall... and also, our friend of long standing Alice (DePres) Dowse, spending a few days with Ellen Redd and old friends.

MORE TRAVELIN'—the newest news is of the trip planned by Alberta Rogers and Corinne Ackers... We understand they're to concentrate on France... and this in the merry month of May... And hear that William Lile Harris has had his spring trip to the Big City, which leaves us anxious to hear plans of next year's Concert Association presentations.

OUR LOSS WILL BE RUSS-UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

Is it possible for a veteran to receive hospital treatment in a private institution and, if so, under what circumstances may hospitalization be approved at government expense?

This is possible under very unusual circumstances, to receive treatment in another VA Hospital at government expense. However, before such treatment may be approved, there are three conditions that must be met, and all three conditions must exist. First of all, the veteran must need to be hospitalized for a service connected disability. Second, his condition must be emergent, and third, it must be shown that a government hospital would endanger the veteran's life or health.

The absence of any one of those conditions would prevent the government from approving treatment in a private hospital. Any time a veteran enters a private hospital and can answer all those requirements, the VA should be notified immediately. Under no circumstances will private hospital expenses be paid by the VA for a non-service connected condition.

Bill Irby Talks To Exchange Club

Bill Irby, well-known Alabamian of Sylacauga and first vice president of the Affiliated Exchange Clubs of the state paid an official visit to the Florence Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon.

Mr. Irby, who during the 1940's was a nationally known Golden Gloves champion and who fought in the local ring several times during that period, has been a leader in various club activities throughout the state. At one time he was sparring partner to former Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock.

Appearing as the guest speaker marking the 50th anniversary of the founding of the National Exchange Club, Mr. Irby reviewed the long and glorious history of the organization and stressed the many accomplishments of the organization in the state, paying special tribute to the Florence Club for the splendid record.

Dropping Excise Tax Is Advocated

Bell Company Holds
Levy Discriminatory
Against Phone Users

Southern Bell customers in Alabama paid an average of $13.57 each in federal excise taxes on telephone service in 1960. The total excise tax bill for Southern Bell's customers in the state was $7,119,487 according to W. L. Ferguson and F. W. Brice, Telephone Company managers here.

The ten per cent tax is levied on both local and long distance telephone service. Excise taxes are also placed by the federal government on luxury items, such as jewelry, liquor and furs, but telephone service is the only household utility that is so taxed, Mr. Ferguson said.

Narcotics Studied:

Both Circles of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union the Night meeting with Mrs. E. T. Barnes on Monday evening and the Day with Mrs. J. A. Waddell on Wednesday afternoon, studied the prevalence of the use of narcotics, its dangers, the ignorance of its harmful effects, and its relation to crime and other social evils.

Educating youth to these facts, it was concluded, is the best line of defense against this growing menace in our nation.

Rev. Scott Bagwell, pastor of the Baptist Church, gave the opening devotional, "Gratitude," using Luke 17 as his scripture at the Parent-Teacher meeting on Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. He showed how closely gratitude was related to attitude and how our attitudes affect all areas of living.

Plans were made for a pancake supper to be announced later.

Mrs. Bill Jones fifth grade won attendance prize.

A nominating committee: Frank Crumley, Mrs. Oswald Waddell, Mrs. Dave Scott, and Mrs. Joe Romine, Jr., was named by Hubert Greene, president.

At 6:00 a.m., April 2, under the planning of the Rogersville Pastor's Association, the participating churches will meet at the First Baptist Church for Easter Sunrise services.

Rev. William J. Kaylor, Presbyterian U.S.A. pastor will bring the message.

Plans are nearing completion for Youth Week in the Baptist Church April 9-14. Primaries through Young People will be in charge of all services.

Jim Rithmire, who has been a patient in the Limestone County hospital for several days, is at home.

Attending the Science Fair in Cullman on Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Tucker, Jane Tucker, Barbara Barnett, Linda White, Mary Lou and Bo Waddell.

Herschel Rithmire exhibited a ripple tank from which wave lengths are photographed and measured and received one of the fourth prizes. Herschel is a senior and prepared his exhibit from the Physics class, Cooper Johnson instructor.

The excise tax on telephone service was enacted as a war-time emergency measure to raise revenue and to cut down on non-military use of telephone facilities.

"It was supposed to be a temporary measure," Mr. Brice added, "but it is still in effect."

Removal of the tax would directly benefit all telephone customers, he said. "The tax is added to our customers' bills each month and the telephone company merely collects the tax and passes it along to the federal government," he explained.

The tax on local telephone service was scheduled to expire last June 30, but Congress extended it until June 30, 1961. The tax on long distance, as well as local service, is discriminatory against telephone users and both should be abolished, Mr. Ferguson said.

CIVIL DEFENSE

READINESS TO BE TESTED

The nation-wide test of Civil Defense resources and the country's capabilities to withstand a nuclear war and extreme natural disasters, will undergo stiff trials in late April, while an orientation meeting to familiarize the Civil Defense personnel in the counties and municipalities has been scheduled in Montgomery, Tuesday, April 4, according to information released here today by Bobby J. Blalock, Director, Civil Defense Department, State of Alabama.

Johnny Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Joiner, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hammond and Betty.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Pettus family and Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Corum and son spent the week end in Atlanta, Georgia.

Lexington Home Demonstration Club met March 21st in the home of Mrs. Emmet Wright, with Mrs. Theo Williams and Mrs. Clarence Fields co-hostesses. The president Mrs. Theo Williams presided over the meeting. Mrs. Frankie Hammond led the group in singing and Mrs. C. P. McMeans gave the devotional.

The demonstration was given by Mrs. Andrew Green and Mrs. Clarence Fields on dress fitting. Each member brought a covered dish, and a fine luncheon was enjoyed by all.

The Garden Club met at its regular meeting March 21, with Mrs. Lucille Williams, Mrs. Lella Johnston, Mrs. Beulah Thigpen and Mrs. Neca Newton in charge of the program.

Each member answered roll call by giving the name of her favorite bird and telling some interesting facts about the bird.

In the business part of the meeting we made plans for several worthwhile projects, we wish to accomplish in the near future. One of these was the making of corsages, and bouquets for the attendants at the Spring Festival.

It was decided that we invite Mrs. Maude Harrison of Florence to be our guest at the April meeting to tell us about her etched glass.

TVA News Letter

More than a third of the Nation's electrically heated homes are in the area supplied with TVA power, TVA reported today. There were 293,000 homes heated with electricity in the area at the end of January, 12 per cent more than a year ago. A leading publication of the electrical industry estimates the number of such homes in the Nation at three-quarters of a million.

The Valley region's electrically heated homes are in the following states: Alabama, 32,000; Georgia, 12,000; Kentucky, 13,000; Mississippi, 8,000; North Carolina, 1,000; Tennessee, 225,000; and Virginia, 2,000.

Average residential use in the TVA area for the 12 months ending in January was 9,234 kilowatt-hours, about 2½ times the national average.

Shippers using the Tennessee River waterway during 1960 saved a record $25.7 million over the next cheapest available mode of transportation, according to preliminary estimates announced today by TVA.

The estimate is three per cent greater than that for 1959, when such savings were $24.9 million. It is based on approximately 12.2 million tons and 2.2 billion ton-miles of traffic which moved on the river in 1960. Increases in shipment of commodities such as coal, grain, chemicals, petroleum products, and phosphate rock offset decreases in automobiles, steel products, ferro-alloys, salt, sulphur, and stone, sand and gravel.

Shipper savings for 1960 exceeded waterway operating costs by more than $21 million, representing a return on the net navigation investment of nearly 13 per cent. The operating costs include those of TVA, including depreciation, $3,312,420; the Department of the Army, which operates the locks, $965,000; and the Coast Guard, which marks the main channel and certain tributary channels with lights, buoys, and other navigation aids, $360,000.

The net navigation investment rose during the year to $163,900,000, an increase of about $30 million, due to construction of the new Wilson Dam lock.

Since 1933 Federal costs, including depreciation, for operating navigation facilities total $72 million; the accumulated savings in the same period amount to $212.3 million.

During 1960 investment in new or expanded plants along the waterway amounted to more than $70 million, more than double the figure for 1959. Eight new industries are included: New York Mining and Manufacturing Company, and Penn-Olin Chemical Company at Calvert City, Ky.; Foote Mineral Company, Inc., at Johnsonville, Tenn.; Stauffer Chemical Company at Counce, Tenn.; Armour Agricul-ther, Mrs. Nora Brackin, Florence; two brothers, Richard Brackin, Mt. Hope and John Brackin, Florence; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Carter, Florence and Mrs. Lillie Mae Baintline, Florence; five grandchildren.

Mrs. Minnie Walton

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Viola White Walton, 80, Route 1, Rogersville, who died at 2:30 a.m., Thursday, at ECM hospital, following a two weeks illness, were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Bluewater Baptist Church with the Reverend H. P. Copeland of Arab officiating. Burial followed in the adjoining cemetery with Morrison-Elkins directing.

She is survived by six sons, Thomas E. Walton, Jr., Lennix Walton, Horace R. Walton, Cecil R. Walton, all of Rt. 1, Killen, James E. Walton, Sheffield, Olatha W. Walton, Richard City, Tenn.; three daughters, Mrs. Lula Pettus, Rt. 1 Killen, Mrs. Elsie Butler, Rt. 2, Killen, Mrs. Ophelia Butler, Rt. 1, Rogersville; two brothers, D. B. White, Athens, Thomas T. White, Rt. 1, Rogersville; a sister, Mrs. C. C. Davis, Rt. 1, Rogersville; 31 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Buford Golden

Funeral services for Buford Gene Golden, 48, 1420 Huntsville Road, Florence, who died at 2:45 a.m. Monday at the residence, were held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at First Freewill Baptist Church with the Reverend Willie Justis and the Reverend E. P. Roden officiating. Burial followed in Florence cemetery with Morrison-Elkins directing.

He is survived by his wife, Edna Rickard Golden; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Narmore, Florence, Mrs. James M. Narmore, Muscle Shoals City; three brothers, Buren, Ed, and Floyd Golden, Knoxville, Tenn.

William P. Holliman

Funeral services for William P. (Dutch) Holliman, 61, Rt. 6, Florence, who died Sunday at 12:30 a.m. at Kelley Nursing Home, Haleyville, were held Monday at 2 p.m. at Morrison Elkins Chapel with Gilbert Kretzer officiating. Burial followed in Sherrod Valley cemetery with Morrison-Elkins directing.

He is survived by two half brothers, Edward Golightly, Rt. 6, Florence and James Golightly, Florence; a half sister, Mrs. Oscar Lawson, Florence.

Medical Care Of Aged Program Is Started In State

Alabama's first medical care plan for old age pensioners began Saturday.

Some 99,000 oldsters on the state pension rolls are eligible for up to 10 days of hospital care. It marks the beginning of a program which Gov. John Patterson hopes to soon expand.

"We plan to ask the Legislature for additional funds to provide for longer periods of hospitalization and also to allow persons who are not drawing old age pensions to come under the plan," the governor said. Each $1 of state funds draws $4 in federal money under the present program.

Pensioners will be accepted for hospitalization upon application of their personal physicians.

SUBMIT PETITIONS BEFORE APRIL 15

Residents of Florence who are interested in having their streets improved in the 1961 program are urged to have petitions submitted to City Clerk, James E. Wilson, before April 15, the deadline necessary for the department to have sufficient time to make preliminary surveys and estimates prior to the construction season.

City Engineer, William A. White, stated quite a few petitions had been received; the size of the program is based on the number of petitions.

News of GRASSY

By Mrs. Agnes Williams

Friends and relatives of this community were glad to know that Mrs. Leta White and her sister, Mrs. Losky Looney are improving after having to be treated in a hospital from the accident at Waycross, Georgia last Tuesday morning. They are going on to their daughter and niece Mrs. J. B. Hankens at Jacksonville, Florida.

Miss Cleo Givens, Miss Flora Pettus and Mrs. Lennis White visited Leona Givens at the El Reposo Sanatorium near Florence Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rebecca Davis and Bobby visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Shelton over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cottrell and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Springer and family and Mrs. Ellen Cottrell Sunday.

Oates Springer had surgery last Friday at the Vanderbilt hospital at Nashville, Tenn. He is improving very nicely at this time. We hope that he will be recovered and be back home very soon.

Mrs. Mary White, Mrs. Janelle White, and Mrs. Lennis White visited Mrs. Lettie Hammond at the Limestone County hospital at Athens last Wednesday afternoon.

The uncle of Mrs. Lella Applegarth, Elmer Liverett and part of his family of Vinemont, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Applegarth Friday.

A pre-Easter Revival will be at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church beginning Friday night, March 31, and running through Sunday night. Bro. Jimmy Johnston will be doing most of the preaching. Plans are Saturday night that Rev. Sheppard will preach, all visitors are welcome to come to the services.

The 4-H Clubs held their regular monthly meeting at the school Thursday afternoon. The girls were led by the president, Linda Cottrell. Songs were led by Debra White and Kathy Hammond. Devotional was by the secretary, Joan Shelton. She also read the minutes and roll call. Pledges were by Pamela Cottrell. The demonstration was given by Miss Crockett. She explained to the group about their projects and the contest to be at the next meeting of Muffins, skirts, and aprons. Leaflets were given to the girls about how to make the aprons.

The 4-H Club for the boys held their meeting at the same time as the girls. Roger Shelton, the president led the group and songs were led by Donnie Hammond and Jerry Morrison. Devotional was led by Dwain Robbins. Roll call and minutes read by the secretary, Willie L. Owens. Mr. Albert Heaslett their leader gave the demonstration which was about making lamps and good lights and what type of bulbs to use.

Mr. and Mrs. Landon Owens and family of Noblesville, Indiana visited his father, A. E. Owens last week.

Mrs. Neal Hammonds brother, Charles Haney was treated for cuts in the face at the ECM hospital last Wednesday after being in a car wreck at Anderson.

Mrs. Leta White and her sister, Mrs. Losky Looney were on the way to Jacksonville, Florida last Tuesday morning to visit Mrs. White's daughter, Mrs. J. B. Hankens who had been burned a few days before. The bus wrecked at Waycross, Georgia that they were travelling in. Mrs. White was injured in her back and Mrs. Looney suffered cuts about the face. They were admitted to a near by hospital for treatment. Carmack and Peanut White, Kyle Looney went to the aid of them and the last report was that they will go on to Florida for a few days and are better at this time.

Mrs. Lizzie Dupree was admitted to the ECM hospital last Thursday for tests and treatments. We hope that she will be recovered very soon.

A quilting was given at the home of Mrs. Jewell Sandlin last Tuesday. There were about 20 ladies who came and helped her, they finished 3 quilts.

Mrs. Mollie Hammonds and Mrs. Agnes Williams attended a shower given for the kitchen of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church Friday night. Almost all of the churches in this area of the Cumberland Presbyterian either gave money or cups, plates, and towels for the church to use when they have dinners or other gatherings at the church. Rev. Tadlock led the group with prayer. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

State's Old Age Pensioners With Property Eligible

The State Department of Pensions and Security has modified its regulations so as to benefit old age pensioners owning small pieces of property in addition to homesteads, effective March 1.

Under the new regulations, pensioners are no longer required to sell their property — homesteads excepted — as a condition for getting a state pension. Present rules require that such property be "utilized" rather than sold.

Utilization of property means the renting of pasture land, leasing of mineral rights, selling timber and so forth.

It provides that the net value of real property — other than the homestead — is to be considered in relation to the $1,000 reserve allowed all pensioners. The net value is determined as the assessed value minus all encumbrances.

Pensioners still may have a homestead with net assessed value up to $2,500. This rule has been in effect for some time and was not altered by the regulations governing other real property.

Medical Mirror

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Yellow Blotches

- Ticklishness
- Varicose Veins
- Diet

Q. What causes yellow blotches to appear on the paper when reading?

A. In most cases it is probably due to contrast. Our eyes play tricks on us. Look at the center portion of the accompanying figure. Are you disturbed by spots at the points where the lines cross? The color of such spots, which are simply optical illusions, is determined by the illumination and by the color of the surface upon which the gaze is directed. In rare instances, blotchy vision is due to the taking of certain drugs.

Q. I am very ticklish. Does this have any medical significance?

A. According to a research team that made "tick tests" at a large hospital, if you are very ticklish, you are also very emotional. By the way, most children don't develop ticklishness until they are three or four years old.

Q. During my first pregnancy I had great trouble with varicose veins. If I have another child will the veins get worse?

A. Susceptible persons are likely to develop progressively larger veins with each pregnancy. Doctors often use elastic hose or bandages to compress the dilated, tortuous veins. If bandages are used they are applied from the toes to the knees for varices of the leg. If the thigh is involved, a second bandage is used so that all bulging vessels are compressed.

Q. Is it wise for a person who has kidney trouble to eat meat?

A. Some kidney disorders require more dietary protein (such as that provided in meat)—others may require a restriction of protein. The attending physician would decide which is best.

Quality . . . Professional Skill . . . Economy . . . these are three good reasons for having your prescription filled by our competent staff of pharmacists.

News of LEOMA

By Mrs. L. T. Roberts

Mrs. Mabel Caperton, was moved from the Lawrence County hospital in Lawrenceburg last Saturday to Nashville by ambulance to the home of her son, Kenneth Caperton. Mrs. Caperton sustained a broken back and other injuries in a automobile accident several weeks ago.

Brown Sims and Donnie Headrick have both returned to their homes from the Lawrenceburg hospital and are doing fine.

Birthday Dinner

Elder Millard E. Gibbs, celebrated his 83rd birthday last Saturday evening at his home in Leoma, with his wife and children and grandchildren being present. A delicious luncheon was served along with a very lovely well decorated birthday cake. Bro. Gibbs is a minister of the Church of Christ and preaches three Sundays each month. He also helps hold revivals in different parts of Alabama.

Wedding Shower

Miss Patsy Stout was complimented by her relatives and friends last Saturday night at the Leoma Baptist Church with a wedding and a housekeeping shower. The church was lovely decorated with spring flowers and the honoree was dressed in a blue suit. She helped to entertain all of the guests present, and received lots of nice and useful gifts. The formal wedding will take place on Easter Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the stage of the Leoma Baptist Church, before a background of lovely Easter lilies and greenery mixed with bridal wreath. The Rev. Jesse Hunter will perform the Huckabee and Stout ceremony. Singing School

Alfred Mashburn started a singing school last Monday night at the Copper's Branch Baptist Church and classes will be each night at 7 o'clock and will last for ten days. The public is welcome to attend.

A large crowd attended the 4th Sunday singing at the Center Point Baptist Church last Sunday with several visitors from other states coming especially for the all day singing.

Harold Faulkner, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Comer Faulkner, was rushed to the Lawrenceburg hospital last Saturday afternoon when he was injured in an automobile accident 1/2 mile north of Leoma. He is reported to be resting satisfactory at the present time.

Easter Bonnet

These are the times that try women's souls.

But all the mischief youthful fingers may perform can only fray the nerves and upset the budget.

You can't spoil Easter.

For Easter isn't frills and finery. Easter isn't pride and parading.

Easter is the soul's own Life —bright with God's love today —rich with His promise tomorrow.

Its adornment is a world at worship . . . souls at one with the risen Christ . . . fulfilling the ageless quest for the beauty and joy which cannot perish.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

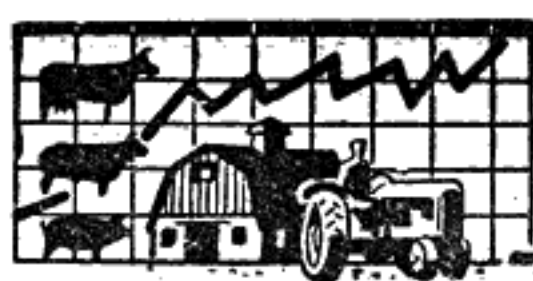

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

4-H Dairy Foods Contest Winners

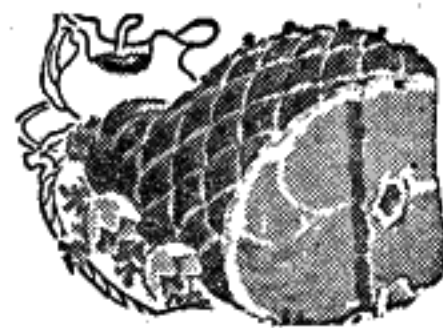

Milk drinks and dairy salads were products made by thirty 4-H Club members in the 4-H Dairy Foods Contest, Thursday, March 16 at the Home Demonstration Kitchen. This is a program in which each year 4-H'ers compete with each other by giving a demonstration using dairy products.

There are three divisions, elementary, junior and senior with a winner selected from each group. Judging is based on the girl's ability to give a demonstration, the finished product and the older girls are also judged on their 4-H records.

Winning first place in the senior division was Martha Smith of Waterloo. Martha has been a 4-H'er for 8½ years. Her food record shows she has prepared approximately 3,400 dishes as well as doing very good work on several other projects. Second place winner in the senior group was Barbara Wright, of Central. Other senior contestants included: Mary Mitchell, Central; Sara Walker, Killen Junior High; Peggy Newbern, Rogers; Jacqueline Balentine, Mars Hill; Linda Murphy, Waterloo; and Gale Collins, Rogers.

From a group of seven girls Nancy Ligon of Wilson School took top place in the Junior Division. Nancy has had foods as a project for four years. The second place winner in the junior division was Sally Barnett also from Wilson School. Others participating in this

Calf Show Will Be Held April 25

FFA, FHA, 4-H Produced Animals To Be Sold At Annual Auction

Future Farmers of America in 36 Alabama counties are grooming fat calves for showing in chapter, county and district fat calf shows during the latter part of March and in April. A county sale will be held in Lauderdale on April 25 with all animals being sold locally.

H. N. Lewis, livestock specialist with vocational agriculture, says that more FFA members are grooming calves for showing this time than in recent years. He estimates 405 FFA calves will be entered in county fat stock shows.

Fat calf shows are held annually during March and April for FFA, FHA and 4-H Club members in the state. This year 16 Future Homemakers of America and 900 4-H Club calves will be shown. Joint shows will be held in counties where more than one organization has members exhibiting calves. FFA, FHA and 4-H calves will be shown jointly at the four district shows.

The number of calves in district shows will be cut slightly by grading requirements. However, Lewis estimates that a high percentage of FFA calves will be shown in the district shows at Montgomery, Birmingham, Dothan and Gadsden. Montgomery holds the first district show April 5-6. Indications are that 354 4-H, FFA and FHA calves will be shown during the two days. Gadsden expects 106 calves for its show April 13-14. More than 300 calves are anticipated at the Birmingham Fat Calf show April 26-28. Last of the district shows will be held May 1-2 at Dothan. Approximately 150 calves are expected.

At the district shows public auctions will be held following the show giving FFA, FHA and 4-H Club members a chance to sell their calves to buyers from all over the South.

division were: Wilma Dee Williams, Lexington; Sara Jean Joiner, Lexington; Vicki Spry, Lauderdale County High School; Kay Weathers, Lauderdale County High School; and Charlotte Murphy, Waterloo.

Gwendolyn Faye Grigsby of Rogersville was selected as first place winner from fifteen elementary 4-H'ers. Gwendolyn demonstrated her favorite vanilla milk drink. The second place winner was Patsy Paulk, the president of the elementary club there. Others taking part in this division were: Wanda Lard, Waterloo; Betty Lou Burbank, Killen; Elizabeth Ann Wallace, Rogers; Eunice Snow Wallace, Rogers; Betty Margolin, Underwood; Patricia Ann McMurtrey, Rogers; Frances Burns, Wilson; Linda Kilpatrick, Rogers; Susan Locker, St. Michael; Frances Bunker, St. Michael; Judy Adams, Underwood; and Jane Hines, McGee.

HOME ACCIDENTS

Half of home accident deaths are the result of falls. Of the 27,500 people who meet death annually in the home because of accident, 13,800 die as the result of falls, and 87 per cent of these victims are persons 65 years of age or over. At least one-third of accidental falls sustained by older people in the home are on stairs.

In many instances, falls are due to missing the last step or the last group of steps in the mistaken belief that the bottom step has been reached. This happens to practically everyone at some time in life, but in the earlier years the individual is more able to maintain his balance. The older person has difficulty in preserving a balance suddenly threatened by a mishap.

Inadequate lighting is a cause of many fatal falls. In this respect, poorly lighted steps and upstairs landings are particularly dangerous. A large number of fatal accidental falls in the home occur because of tripping over loose objects or items left where they do not belong. Old people are prone to accept this liability to trip as part of their normal existence. They don't lift their feet as high as they used to, and they have found it almost impossible to recover their balance once they have begun to fall. Also, they are more likely to trip when tired or in a hurry.

Falls in the home occurring among younger persons are often caused by climbing around the house, inside or outside, while painting, housecleaning, making repairs, or playing. The home should be made as safe as possible for all, especially the older people.

PFC JIMMY R. SNODDY BACK ON OKINAWA

Army Pfc Jimmy R. Snoddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snoddy, Route 5, Florence, recently participated with other personnel from the 2d Airborne Battle Group, 503d Infantry in Exercise Long Pass, a mobility training exercise, at the Clark Air Base-Stotsenberg training area in the Philippines. The exercise, which involved almost 6,000 U. S. Army and Air Force personnel from the continental U. S., Hawaii, Okinawa and the Philippines, ended recently.

Long Pass was designed to test the flexibility and airlift capability of U. S. fighting forces on a global scope.

Upon conclusion of the exercise, Snoddy returned to Okinawa where he is an automatic rifleman in the infantry's Company A. He entered the Army in October 1959, received basic combat training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived overseas last June.

Snoddy is a 1957 graduate of Lauderdale County High School.

Let The Herald Print It!

A wife's employment outside the home seems to have little effect on the nutritive value of her family's food although it does affect food costs. On the average, families with employed homemakers spend about 56 cents more per person on weekly food supplies than families with similar incomes in which the wife is not employed.
Americans spend more than one billion dollars a month on food in the nation's restaurants. The average family spends $10.97 per week eating out.
