

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Today, Reynolds Metals Company is observing the 20th anniversary of the location of one of its great plants in the Muscle Shoals district and what a God-send it has been to every citizen in this area. Reynolds, in addition to providing our largest payroll, has proven a "good citizen" who has been interested in every phase of our industrial, commercial and civic growth and has taken an important part in every worthwhile endeavor that has contributed to our general welfare. We are proud of Reynolds Metals and hope that Reynolds Metals are equally proud of us.

The age of some women is like the speedometer on a used car—you know it's set back but you don't know how far.

It is regrettable when a decorator defames Old Glory by improper display of the flag of the United States. But such has been done in the decoration of the streets of our city and our sister cities. A third grade child knows that no flag, other than a church flag and that only during divine services, shall fly above the Stars and Stripes. Also, that red, white and blue bunting—and not the United States flag—shall be used in decorations where it is necessary to be draped or twisted out of shape. Further, that no flag shall appear at the right of the U.S. Flag in parade or in stands under any condition. Street decorations can be made attractive without the flag of our country being humiliated, as we see all around us.

A refrigerator is where you put dabs of food on dishes you don't want to wash.

Although we have been pleading and begging for regular open membership meetings of the Chamber of Commerce for 10 these many years, a compromise, apparently, has been reached with the announcement that each and every meeting of the Board of Directors will be open to the members, who are urged to attend and express themselves on any subject they feel will be good for our community. The board meets at 4 P.M. each third Thursday in the Chamber office, 104 S. Pine St. We'll be seeing you there.

Women who are cooperative and good sports are more likely to have large families, says a recent report of the American Psychological Association.

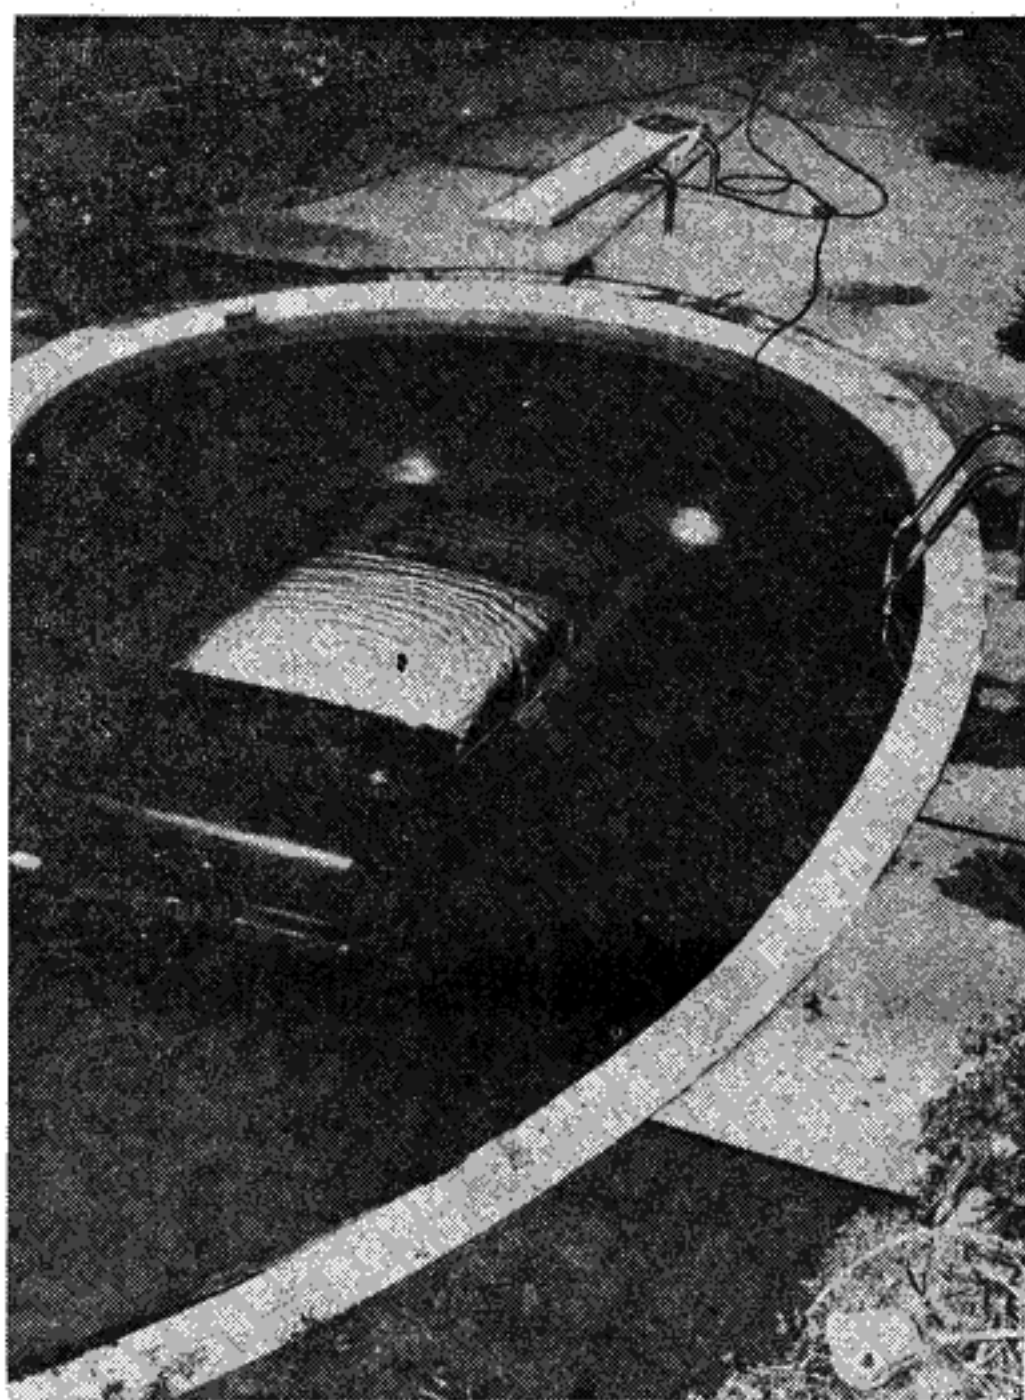

We were interested to read of the formation of the Parents' League of West Knoxville which concerns itself with the conduct of the youth of the community. The parents meet to discuss mutual problems and set standards for their children's conduct and activities and also, find a way to meet the challenge: "Mary's parents let her—why don't you let me?" The problem of parents finding it necessary to give into their children's whims and demands so that they might meet the extravagant standards in dress and party giving, has come up for close scrutiny and the league has adopted standards for each—far below the level they have previously been forced into—and as a result the children are happier and the parents have been saved from bankruptcy, in many cases. Maybe such organizing by local parents is in order. The high cost of keeping up with the teen-age Joneses is getting out of hand, we are informed.

The wife with plenty of horse sense never becomes a nag.

The housewife was very sympathetic Monday morning as her longtime maid arrived for work. "I've already heard about your hard luck," she said, "and want you to know how sorry I am." "Deed, ma'am, I ain't had no hard luck." "But, your husband, wasn't he killed in an accident Saturday night?" she asked. "Yes, ma'am," she replied, "but dat's his hard luck, not mine."

These days you'd think twice before promising your best girl the moon.

We condemn with all the strength that is in us the treatment given the "Freedom Riders" in Anniston and Birmingham Sunday. But, somehow, we have the feeling that this treatment was just what the directing heads of the Racial Equality group wanted or else why should so much advance publicity, with all details of times of arrival, been released! This conjecture on our part does not acquit the hoodlums who perpetrated these damnable acts, but we believe that if the "Freedom Riders" had toured the South as any ordinary tourist, these incidents would not have taken place.

CHECK THE WATER, SIR?—When Ira Yates heard a crashing noise in his back yard in Menlo Park, Calif., he went to investigate. He found a neighbor's car had rolled driverless through his fence and received an instant wash job in his pool. The auto's lights were still burning.

Crowds See Civil War's Centennial

The Colbert-Lauderdale Civil War Centennial pageant will be presented at Deshler stadium in Tusculum tonight at 8 p.m. Widely acclaimed for Wednesday night's dramatic commemoration of the Civil War, a large crowd is expected to see the second presentation of the history making events depicted in "To Arms In The Valley."

The week long commemoration was highlighted by two flag-raising ceremonies on Monday and Tuesday, a parade on Wednesday afternoon and will conclude with a Confederate ball at the Coliseum in Florence on Friday night.

The commemoration is being sponsored by the Tennessee Valley Historical Society and its title, "To Arms In The Valley," was because it primarily memorialized the departure of the first soldiers of both counties for service in the Confederate Army, the Franklin Blues and the Florence Guards.

The roster of both of these contingents that departed the area just one hundred years ago, is contained in a pageant booklet that also reviews the history of the local area and communities in the Civil War period and relates a number of dramatic incidents pertaining to the war itself.

The pageant was made possible largely through the efforts of Mrs. Earl Holder, Tusculum guiding light of the commemoration, and through the generous assistance of many persons who contributed much time and effort to making the events both colorful and authentic. Research for the pageant was successfully accomplished through Dr. Bernarr Cresap, chairman of the research committee and head of the social science department at Florence State College; Miss Nina Leftwich, pageant historian and the author of a book on local history; Dr. Milton C. Dunn, who has an outstanding Civil War library; the Muscle Shoals Regional Libraries; Earl Daniel, W. L. McDonald, Wilder Watts and Oscar Lewis.

Mixed Group Makes Test Run

'Freedom Riders' Beaten As Bus Enters State

Battered and bruised, a group of integrationists, mixed Negro and white, left Alabama by plane Monday night after bomb scares, several false starts and more than 10 hours of waiting. Tension eased after their departure.

A bus was destroyed Sunday as the "freedom riders" attempted to bring their test of bus station color barriers into Alabama. The group, 16 in number, 8 white and 8 Negro, started the trip from Washington 14 days ago. They are said to be members of the Congress of Racial Equality, riding regularly scheduled buses through the South to test racial segregation. The group divided in Atlanta for the trip to Alabama, nine taking a Greyhound bus and seven boarding a Trailways bus.

The buses first ran into trouble at Anniston where the bus station was closed and an angry crowd of about 200 whites milled around. The bus windows were smashed and the driver headed for Birmingham. About six miles out of town the bus had a flat and was caught up with by several carloads of white men who had been following the vehicle. It was set afire and burned although a state investigator aboard the bus and later Highway patrolmen were able to prevent further harm to

Report Is Made By Grand Jury

Fee For Feeding County Prisoners Held Too Low; Jail Condition Scored

The Lauderdale County Grand Jury made its report Tuesday to Judge Robert M. Hill, revealing that forty-two cases had been docketed, 103 witnesses examined and 24 true bills returned.

Two cases were continued and two cases on the docket combined with other cases and joint indictments returned.

Arraignment of persons charged in cases investigated by the Grand Jury will be held on Friday at 2 p.m. in the courtroom. At this time persons may enter pleas to have trial dates set, Charles Edgar Young, circuit court clerk, announced. Criminal trials will begin Monday, June 5.

A special recommendation was made to the state and to each of our representatives, Mr. Long and Mr. Broadfoot, and to our senator, Mr. E. B. Haltom, Jr., that the sheriff's fee for feeding of prisoners be raised from 60 cents a day to $1 per day. This law has been in effect since 1901."

The Grand Jury reported that the Sheriff had been supplementing the fee for feeding prisoners from his own pocket over and above the 60 cents per day.

The usual examination of the books and records of the various county offices was made and reported satisfactory and according to law.

The Grand Jury again reported the unsatisfactory and inadequate condition of the county jail, stating (Continued on Page 2)

the Communists, to bolster that nation's fighting force. The Americans will train the 150,000 man South Viet Nam army of guerrilla fighters.

Their mission will require their going into the steaming jungles and swamps to smoke out and destroy pockets of Communist North Vietnamese.

Meanwhile Vice President Lyndon Johnson who arranged this military aid in talks last week with South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem at Saigon, pledged in Manila Saturday that America will never desert friends who have the will to survive the threat of Communism.

"America will honor her commitments to the cause of freedom throughout the community of free nations," Johnson declared, before a session of the Philippine Congress.

Laos Outlook Dim In another part of Asia prospects for combating Communism were not so bright as the East West appeared to be deadlocked over Laos.

In a diplomatic merry-go-round in Geneva Secretary of State Dean Rusk stood firm against Soviet attempts to bring Communist-backed Pathet-Lao to the conference table with the same status as pro-Western Laotian government representatives who had reached Geneva Saturday morning.

Supporting Rusk in his bout with Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko were Britain's Lord Home and France's Maurice Couve de Murville.

The conference on Laos started four days late with procedural deadlock broken by authorization of President Kennedy to clear the way for opening the conference.

The West is said to be seeking an agreement to ban all shipment of arms to the Southeast Asian Kingdom, and the United States, British, French and Soviet foreign ministers reaching a tacit agreement to avoid raising issues that might put new obstacles in the way of negotiations.

So far talks are in the preliminary stage.

Coup In South Korea In South Korea military forces seized the government of Premier John M. Chang with leaders stating they would arrest Chang and his cabinet.

Backed by tanks, heavily armed infantry, marines and paratroops, a part of Syngman Rhee's half-million man army, swept into Seoul at 4 a.m. Tuesday and seized control of the capital's government buildings. No fighting was reported but martial law was declared by the military leaders.

General Carter B. Magruder, commander of the UN and U. S. forces in South Korea demanded that lawful government authorities be returned to office, however his request was ignored.

Magruder had previously warned of dissension within the South Korean military forces.

Other cities throughout the Republic appeared to be undisturbed, reports stated and that troops on the line dividing North and South Korea remained on the line, steadfast in their positions to assure defense of the republic.

Only about 3,600 troops were said to be involved in the coup thus far, a UN spokesman said.

Reynolds Metals Company today celebrates the 20th anniversary of both Listerhill plants and the first production of Reynolds aluminum.

To mark the May 18, 1941 first tapping, anniversary tapping in the new reduction plant will be made by mayors of the four cities in company with Reynolds officials.

At noon civic leaders, county and city officials, chamber of commerce directors and other business and labor leaders will attend a luncheon where W. Monroe Wells will be the principal Reynolds speaker.

Mr. Wells, who is vice president in charge of operations for Reynolds, arrived here last night from Richmond, Va. headquarters for the big aluminum firm.

Other Reynolds officials on the program include Reduction Plant Manager R. B. Newman and Alloys Plant Manager D. H. Hipp.

Master of ceremonies for the luncheon will be Hoyt Greer, prominent Sheffield business man and former mayor who played a significant role in the original plant location here in 1940.

"We're actually marking the 20th anniversary of both the Reduction Plant and the Alloys Plant," said Robert D. Holloway, southeast public relations manager for Reynolds. "May 18, 1941 was the date of the first tapping of Reynolds aluminum anywhere and the Alloys Plant was under construction at that time. The Alloys Plant rolled its first aluminum in July, 1941."

It's expected that Mr. Greer will call on luncheon guests for comments on the community's view of Reynolds after 20 years.

After the luncheon, guests will go by bus for a brief tour of the new Reduction Plant and the first semi-public showing of the Alloy's Plant's new, world's largest, aluminum rolling hot line.

Reynolds officials here point out that the first Reynolds aluminum-making (reduction) plant ever built was the one which arose outside of Sheffield, starting in late 1940.

Newspaper and magazine articles of that day tell in detail how the late R. S. Reynolds, Sr. saw that a war was coming to this country and that more aluminum would be needed for fighting planes.

To make that aluminum available, he mortgaged the plants he then had to roll aluminum foil and built the Listerhill Reduction Plant. This was followed soon after by the Reynolds Plant for rolling aluminum sheet.

All this was months before Pearl Harbor plunged this country into war.

Construction workers, drawn largely from the northwest Alabama area, broke all records in the completion of that original reduction plant. The first aluminum was produced five months and 28 days after construction started. The previous record of a year was held by Germany whose massive airplane construction program first alerted the late Mr. Reynolds to the danger of an airplane war.

Today, Reynolds officials point out, the largest Reynolds plants in all the world are located here at the Listerhill plant site, so named because of the encouragement and support given Mr. Reynolds by Senator Lister Hill in those early days.

And industrial figures show that the Reynolds payroll, some $23,000,000 a year, is the area's largest by a substantial percentage. Some 4,000 people are employed at the Listerhill plants.

In his remarks at the luncheon today, Mr. Wells is expected to indicate some future prospects for the aluminum industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Zeff and family have moved into their new home on Palisade Drive.

Happy Birthday . . . Reynolds Metals

May 18, 1941 was a day of economic significance in the Muscle Shoals area because it was the date the first aluminum was tapped at the Reynolds Reduction plant at Listerhill, beginning an era of greater prosperity for the Tri-Cities and indeed the whole Tennessee Valley.

Less than three months later the Alloys plant rolled its first aluminum sheet, being built in less than six months and breaking all records for a plant of such size and capacity. The country desperately needed aluminum for fighting planes and other war materiel and Reynolds ingenuity and skill responded.

During the twenty years since the first potline was tapped, the Reynolds Metals Company has continually expanded and diversified its production, spending many millions on improving its products and most of all serving to focus the eyes of other industry on the area.

The Ford Motor Company recently added its great casting plant to the district's growing family of aluminum and other industries, bringing not only a substantial addition to the local industrial payroll but splendid people from other areas, who, like Reynolds personnel, have contributed much to the social, civic and religious life of the local communities.

To the area's largest industry and to the many personal friends we have made in the Reynolds organization, we say, from the bottom of our hearts . . . "HAPPY BIRTHDAY."

George W. Norris—Father Of TVA

The late Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska once declared, "I would rather go down to my political grave with a clear conscience than ride in the chariot of victory . . . a congressional stool pigeon, the slave, the servant, or the vassal of any man, whether he be the owner and manager of a legislative menagerie or the ruler of a great nation . . . I would rather lie in the silent grave, remembered by both friends and enemies as one who remained true to his faith and who never faltered in what he believed to be his duty, than to still live, old and aged, lacking the confidence of both factions."

Nothing could sway George Norris from what he thought was right from his determination to help all the people, from his hope to save them from the twin tragedies of poverty and war.

He is remembered best in the Tennessee Valley for his valiant and finally successful fight for the creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority though he is famous for other constructive legislation in both House and Senate. He brought about the overthrow of "Cannonism," in which he took from the speaker of the House his absolute domination over the powerful Rules Committee, authored the famous "Lame Duck" Amendment and advocated drastic changes in the electoral college system of holding national elections.

Norris once remarked during the earlier days of his forty years in the Congress . . . one by one I saw my favorite heroes wither . . . I discovered that my party . . . was guilty of virtually all the evils that I had charged against the opposition."

John F. Kennedy, in his book, Profiles in Courage, said: No single chapter could recount in full all of the courageous and independent battles led by George Norris. His most enduring accomplishments were in the field of public power, and there are few parallels to his long fight to bring the benefits of low-cost electricity to the people of the Tennessee Valley, although they lived a thousand miles from his home state of Nebraska.

Indeed, because of this man's personal integrity and tremendous drive to get a job done, a great Valley has prospered and a great nation has benefitted.

It is fitting that his 100th birthday anniversary be observed.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

Do you know of a veteran's grave that is not properly marked? By that we mean a grave that does not have a real decent marker that will withstand the ravages of time? One that does not show that the veteran served his country? That does not even show the date of his birth and the date of his death? Well, no matter what the veteran's financial condition at the time of his death, and regardless of the financial circumstances of the family he left behind, there is no reason why every veteran's final resting place should not be properly and decently marked.

You see, simply for the asking the Government will furnish a marble or granite headstone marker to be placed at the grave of any veteran—wartime or peacetime—just so long as he had honorable service. These markers are very attractive and show the veteran's name, rank, outfit, dates of service, date of birth and date of death.

The markers are shipped freight prepaid and all the applicant has to do is to agree to see that it is placed at the grave site when it arrives. Not only that, but the person making an application for a marker does not have to be a relative of the deceased veteran—he may be a "close friend." Full details and application blanks may be had at any County Office of your Department of Veterans Affairs.

Petite, charming, gracious, delightful and attractive are five words that describe Mrs. Ruby Tsao, who has assumed her position as assistant librarian at Muscle Shoals Regional Library headquarters library in Florence.

Mrs. Tsao is married to Dr. George Tsao, whom she met while he was a classmate of her brother at Taiwan University. Dr. Tsao preceded his future bride to America by four years. MARION FRANCIS BARKER

"When you look about our community in search of men whom you can call 'solid citizens' the name of Marion Barker always comes to mind," is the way a longtime friend expressed his appreciation of the part Mr. Barker has played in the steady growth of Florence during the past half century.

"Never spectacular nor one to fight for the honor position, Mr. Barker could, throughout the years, be counted on to do his share of the hard work in the promotion of the good things for the community. Respected for his integrity and high standards, there was never any doubt as to the position he would take on any subject," this friend continued.

Marion Francis Barker was born in Five Points, Ohio, May 13, 1880, the son of William G. and Mary Louisa McGuire Barker. He attended elementary school at Five Points, however, since there were no high schools at that time, elementary school was the extent of his education.

When he was twelve years old, Mr. Barker began working in his father's general store in Five Points and did odd jobs on neighboring farms. In 1895, the family moved to Alabama and settled on a farm near Oakland where they resided until 1898. At that time, the family moved to Florence and Mr. Barker accepted a position with Jackson and Douglass, a leading department store of the city. In 1900, Jackson and Douglass dissolved partnership and Mr. Barker remained in the employ of the Douglass Shoe and Clothing Company.

Mr. Barker resigned his position in 1910 to enter the insurance business, operating under the name of M. F. Barker Insurance Agency. In 1960, the name of the agency was changed to Barker-Martin Insurance Agency when Ellie F. Martin, Jr. became a member of the firm.

On November 20, 1907, Mr. Barker was married to Bernice Baldrige of Fulton, Miss. Mr. Barker is a charter member and past president and secretary of the Rotary Club; past member of the Chamber of Commerce, having served on the membership and finance committees of that civic organization. He has supported and participated in numerous campaigns for the benefit of the Boy Scouts, the Community Chest, and other worthwhile organizations.

He is a member and elder of the First Presbyterian Church. When the spirit hits him, Mr. Barker enjoys fishing, but in most of his spare time he finds pleasure in reading.

McDorman Speaks
To Exchange ClubPast National President
Reports On Experiences
During Year In Office

Clarence McDorman, Birmingham executive and immediate past national president of the Exchange Clubs, was the distinguished guest of the Florence Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon. Mr. McDorman was presented by Madding King, a past state president.

Prior to Mr. McDorman's address, Capt. James Morgan of the U.S. Air Force spoke briefly on the up coming Armed Forces Day and pointed out the part each citizen had in keeping America strong and always on the alert.

President Earle Darby paid tribute to W. H. Mitchell, a special guest, for his address upon the occasion of the club's presentation of the Freedom Shrine to Burrell-Slater High School recently.

Mr. McDorman delighted the members of the club and its guests with an account of many humorous incidents that occurred during the year he traveled over the nation addressing Exchange Clubs and state organizations in every state. He concluded his remarks, however, with summation of the true meaning of the motto of Exchange, "Unity for Service" bringing a full and complete realization to each member of his obligation to his community and purposes for which this national organization was founded.

Late News

● President Kennedy opened his first visit to a foreign country with an appeal for the United States and Canada to stand together "even more firmly than before." In a brief statement on this arrival for a 42-hour state visit, the President said he was confident that the two nations would work together in a massive attack on world problems. He called Canada "the oldest of our neighbors and among the closest of our friends."

● Macbeth, William Shakespeare's tragic play, won five Emmies Tuesday night and stole the 13th annual TV awards show. Barbara Stanwyck, nominated for four movie Oscars, but never a winner, won on her first try in television and in the excitement tore her dress, with Raymond Burr, the defense attorney who never loses a case on the Perry Mason TV show, named best actor in a series. Bob Hope, nominated for the first time in his 25 years of stardom on talent alone, lost to Jack Benny who has won before.

● The Reverend F. L. Shuttlesworth, Birmingham Negro, said a group composed of students who are members of the National Non-violent Coordinating Committee from Nashville, Tenn. were enroute to Birmingham by bus Wednesday in a further effort to crack segregation laws. Police Commissioner Eugene Conner said he received notification from Shuttlesworth, however, police had no immediate plans for extraordinary assignment of officers.

● W. A. (Bing) LeCroy, newly appointed state school superintendent, is for taking schools out of politics. Head of Chilton County schools, LeCroy was appointed to the state's top educational job by Governor John Patterson. LeCroy said it might rule him out next time, but he was for the appointment of the state school superintendent which would move schools further from politics and be the first step toward getting the schools on a business basis in Alabama.

Quarterback Club
Hears Shug Jordan

Ralph "Shug" Jordan, head football coach at Auburn University, was the guest speaker at the Tri-Cities Quarterback Club at the Florence Golf and Country Club Tuesday night. Captain Howell Hefflin presided and the distinguished guest was introduced by Alternate Captain Buck Marsh.

Following the dinner, attended by the largest number yet to be present at a Quarterback Club meeting, 18 new members were initiated into the club by Charles Finney, a past captain of the club. Combining humor with the rules and regulations of the club, Mr. Finney proved an important part of the entertainment program.

Coach Jordan delighted his audience with a general discussion of the football situation at Auburn, as well as giving a resume of the prospects for each of the 12 universities in the Southeastern Conference for the coming season. Discussing the past football record of Auburn, his Alma Mater, Coach Jordan expressed his feeling that football in the colleges of the country, where properly directed, was one of the finest educational programs of the school. He pointed out the need for the highest type of student to participate in the sport these days and showed where a strong body housing an alert mind was certainly something to be sought by every student.

Money for 4-H projects, district and state leader training meetings, attendance at state and national meetings, support for camps, camping facilities and scholarships must be provided from non-appropriated funds.

APA Convention Will Be Held At Dauphin IslandAnnual Meeting To Feature Awards In
"Better Paper" Contest

Alabama newspaper editors and publishers have chosen the state's Gulf Coast as the site for their summer convention, which will feature recognition of outstanding weekly papers.

Members and associates of the Alabama Press Association will convene July 13-15 at Dauphin Island for their 90th annual summer convention, APA President Harold May, co-publisher of The Florence Herald, announced today.

Highlight of the convention will be the awarding of plaques and certificates to the winners in the APA better newspaper contest. Awards will go to weekly papers cited for outstanding work in nine different areas of publishing. They are general excellence, best editorial, original column, use of illustrative material, community service, typography and makeup, best photograph, best news story, and service to education.

Handsome bronze plaques sponsored by daily newspapers, the University of Alabama and the Alabama Education Association will go to all first place winners. Seven of the nine categories are divided into two divisions according to the population of the town in which the newspaper is published.

This will mark the third consecutive year the Alabama Press Association has held its summer meeting at Dauphin Island. The last regular meeting of the newspaper trade and professional group was at Huntsville in February and featured a day-long tour of Redstone Arsenal and the various military and civilian space agencies there.

Besides participating in the awarding of prizes, newspaper editors and publishers will hold several committee meetings, complete plans for a fall workshop, and meet in informal discussion sessions.

The Alabama Press Association is a trade and professional organization of approximately 200 state daily and weekly newspapers and firms in allied fields with headquarters on the campus of the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Bull For $59,000

J. T. Flagg of Florence purchased a Santa Gertrudis bull for a world record price of $59,000 at the annual production sale at Winthrop Rockefeller's Winrock Farms in Morrilton, Ark., Saturday.

The price broke the bid record of $40,000 paid for a King Ranch bull in 1952. Flagg purchased the animal, known only as "133/1", on condition he would sell half interest to Rockefeller and the farm.

Later this month, these four girls will receive the Curved Bar pin, the highest rank in the Intermediate Girl Scout program.

4-H work. Alabama ranks in the top four states with her 4-H program. Funds are needed to provide better opportunities for more boys and girls to participate, to make Alabama more attractive so that outstanding young people will remain in the state.

Contributions and endowments may be made to the Alabama 4-H Club Foundation by anyone interested in this great work. All gifts are deductible for income and gift tax purposes, it was pointed out.

Report Is Made

ing that it was found to be: "obsolete, in a bad state of repair, insanitary and hazardous to the health of the prisoners."

The report stated that the Sheriff and jailors kept the jail in as good condition as possible under the circumstances.

The report recommended a continuance of present efforts to secure the building of a new courthouse and jail.

The sheriff and his deputies were thanked for procuring witnesses and otherwise aiding in expediting the investigation of cases before the Grand Jury. Members of the Highway Patrol and the Florence police force were thanked also for their help and courtesy extended to the members of the Grand Jury in parking their cars during working hours.

Charles Edgar Young, clerk of the court, Miss Martha Walker and Miss Carolyn Flippo were also thanked for their services as were solicitors W. L. Almon and John R. Barnes.

The report dated May 16, 1961, was signed by Charles P. McMeans, foreman, and Malcom E. Davis, clerk.

For their May meeting on the second Tuesday, Pierian Study Club members gathered at the Walter Ross home on Beverly Avenue with Mrs. Hewlett Jackson and Mrs. Harry Nash as Mrs. Ross's cohostesses.

Mrs. Edward Smoot, in charge of the program, chose for reviewing Ann Morrow Lindbergh's "Gifts From The Sea," the author's sensitive recount of the experience of working out the pattern of her own life. Mrs. Wallace Hosmer and Mrs. W. G. Karan were present with members for the program and the tea hour which followed.

Evening Shower Fetes
Bride-Elect Barbara White

Mrs. James E. Barnes and her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Sturges, Jr., were cohostesses on Friday evening, May twelfth, at the Barnes home on Riverview Drive when they honored bride-elect Barbara White with a miscellaneous shower.

Yellow and white were the party colors. Arrangements of specimen iris decorated the livingroom and in the diningroom the punch table was covered with white net over yellow taffeta and centered with a great silver bowl of yellow roses. Tall yellow tapers in branched candelabra completed the appointments.

Wearing pink polished cotton with eyelet trim and a corsage of white carnations, Miss White, who on June third will become the bride of James Lewis Buettner, was joined with her hostesses in welcoming the sixty-odd guests by her mother, Mrs. Earl White, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Paul Buettner.

Featured in the livingroom was a life-sized wishing well complete with slanting roof and "old oaken bucket," and presiding over the inscribed wishes deposited by guests was the junior member of the hostess duo who was dressed for her party "role" in gypsy costume.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Joe Gentry and Mrs. Bob Gentry of Athens; Mrs. A. J. Rickles and daughter, Miss Lena Rickles of Nashville.

Mrs. Ralph Sturges, Sr., assisted the hostesses.

Hightower Home Setting
Morning, Afternoon Fetes

Highlighting last week's social calendar were the two parties of Friday, May twelfth, with which Mrs. Russell Hightower and Mrs. Phillip Kingsley entertained at the home of the former on Lelia Street, including about two hundred fifty Tri-Citians on their invitation list.

Early Summer flowers were used throughout the party rooms. There were pink and red roses in an antique crystal bowl in the living room where guests were greeted; there was a May-basket of mixed blossoms in the den; and centering the teatable was an arrangement of yellow Spanish iris and kellow roses with shasta daisies and marguerites.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. Kingsley's mother, Mrs. John Edmund Bartlett who came from Montgomery a few years ago to make her home in Florence. Mrs. Vernon Brown, Mrs. Russell Lewis, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mrs. Walter S. Bell, Mrs. Richard Parker, Mrs. Thomas F. Smith, Mrs. Thomas Ascraft, Mrs. Fred Osborn, Mrs. Frank Crow, Mrs. Charles Poellnitz, Mrs. Edward G. Mullen, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Wyatt Simpson, Mrs. Fred Douglass, Mrs. Harry M. Simpson, Jr., Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. James H. Schneible, Mrs. Hood Harris, Mrs. Harold Doss and completing the late afternoon group were Miss Virginia Kingsley, daughter of one of the hostesses, and three of her friends, Miss Elizabeth Douglass, Miss Curtis Parker and Miss Hunter Smith.

Discussion Club
Has Guest Speaker

For its May meeting, Florence Discussion Club convened on Thursday afternoon, May 11, at the home of Mrs. J. Rivers Wiggins to hear W. Rutland Cunningham, vice-chairman for the Lauderdale County Civil War Centennial Commemoration, tell about the program which is in progress at this time.

Mr. Cunningham introduced his remarks by saying that the years between 1861 and '65 have grown in our consciousness, inexhaustible in their significance and potential richness. "We may not be able to fully analyze that richness," he said, "but we must try, because in trying we come to understand ourselves. And the need to understand ourselves leads us always to a deeper contemplation of art, literature, religion and history."

Mr. Cunningham concluded his talk as follows: "Because we have a program to commemorate our heritage, we hope no one will say that we are trying to fight the Civil War over again . . . we hope no one will say we are beating the ancient drums of prejudice. We are well aware that we are living in the year of our Lord 1961 and . . . that we are standing on the threshold of a brave new world. And if, in bringing that world into being, we can use the same courage, the same integrity, the same sense of duty and the same willingness to live the truth as we see it as did our forebears in the '61-'65 years, the world which evolves will be a peaceful world, a world of individual freedom and a world in which all men . . . will have a just place . . . We have a rich heritage of which we are duly proud and a great future to which we look forward with confidence." Included in the hospitality were Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. A. S. Baldridge of Oklahoma City, Okla., a guest of her sister, Mrs. Marion Barker.

Mrs. Wesley Patton and Mrs. W. W. Slaton served salad and coffee from opposite ends of the teatable during the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Kilbanoff Speaks
At BPW Club Meeting

At the meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club at Hotel Reeder on last Thursday evening, Mrs. Morris Kilbanoff, representative of Tennessee Valley

Girl Scout Council, was the principal speaker. "Operation Camping" was the subject of her talk and she spoke of the need for more spacious camping facilities; of the purchase of Camp Anderel at the junction of Elk River and Anderson Creek; and of the need for funds in order to carry out this program.

Mrs. Thomas E. Clark, program coordinating chairman, led members in a discussion of the year's work; Miss Inah Mae Young demonstrated with explanatory charts as she told of the smooth functioning of committees; and Mrs. L. C. Morgan, Jr., president, gave a brief summary of the club objectives. In a report on the state convention, the following three awards earned by the local club were enumerated: Merit of Achievement for the coordinated programs; Blue Ribbon for the Small Business Clinic; Equalization Award for membership.

The club is sponsoring a Dutch supper at First Baptist Church this evening.

Reeder Lee Springer has returned to San Antonio, Texas, after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Lee Springer and his sister and family, Mrs. Arvin McKee, Hough Road.

Highlights of 1960

The $1,100-mile Southern System is one of the South's largest industries. It both depends on, and contributes to, the economic well-being of the territory it serves. Because this is so, our progress and performance from year to year are important not only to us, but to thousands of our friends and neighbors who live and work in the modern South.

Several major developments which, we believe, will favorably affect the future welfare of Southern and the South it serves, reached their final form in 1960:

Approval of our purchase of the 88-mile Interstate Railroad, which serves bituminous-rich coal fields in southwest Virginia, was recommended by an Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner. This has now been approved by the Commission.

A 71% stock interest in the 1,956-mile Central of Georgia Railway was contracted for, subject to Interstate Commerce Commission approval.

A substantial interest was acquired in Republic Carloading and Distributing Company.

Stock was acquired in Trailer Train Company and Southern went into containerized freight-piggyback-service in a major way.

Our Management was streamlined to place our Operating and Traffic Departments under the jurisdiction of an Executive Vice President, to insure the closest possible coordination of our service and sales functions.

More than 1400 new freight cars costing about $29½ million were placed in service — making a total investment of $15½ million in new freight cars during the past ten years, many of them special purpose cars of unique design, developed by Southern.

Some of the above have been under consideration for a number of years. All of them will enable us to provide ever-better rail transportation, so vital to the continued economic development of the modern, fast-growing South. All in the South will benefit!

THE SPILLWAY

Whether your interest's adopted or lineal,
You'll still be intrigued by this gala Centennial!

PARADES, PAGEANTS, DRAMAS, AND BALLS... nothing's been overlooked... and each event has been colorful and exciting... The fancy clothes of the "belles" have been eclipsed only by the fancy beads of the "gents"... and at the dressmaker's the other day, there was a dress-of-the-period in size 7-months! (to be worn, we learned by one of our youngest belles—Rhonda Tekes)

BUT SUGGESTION MUST BE MADE by Madame Spillway... that when the Centennial Celebration is over, we return to the present... think of the future... and put the past in its right and respected place. As our good friend, Mrs. Mason-Dixon, said just yesterday... We've got to draw the line somewhere!

TRAVELIN'S THE SUBJECT again... Billie and Frank Hassell are just back from sunny California and from what sounded to us like a real vacation... including EVEN a camping trip in Yosemite National Park... And we're verree interested in what must be a glamorous trip for Pat (Dailey) and Reed Cox (the Lieutenant)... taking Reed's leave from his duties with Uncle Sam in Verdun, France... to travel the Mediterranean countries... Also hear that our concert manager, William Lile Harris, is just before leaving our shores for a European tour.

SPEAKING OF DISTANT TRAVELS, we're wondering if Toby Delony is taking her proposed jaunt over Russia before returning home after a year's studies at Reading University near London... The last we heard, Mama-Louise couldn't make up her mind to give Toby the "go-ahead" on her plans.

A ROSE IS A ROSE, but when there're hundreds of them in gorgeous arrangement, you have the setting for a beautiful party... TWO of which (parties, that is) were given by "Sweetsie" Hightower and Virginia Kingsley last week at "Sweetsie's" home on Leila Street. Lovely parties, indeed... and the many guests all agreed to this fact!

AND IN THIS SAME NEIGHBORHOOD, on the same night, we hear that there was another gala party given by some of our teenagers at the home of Tomie Cox, teen-age daughter of Kathy and Lawyer Bob... The honorees being THREE of our popular young misses, all just-turned-sweet-sixteen... Sandra Thomas, Betty Hatfield and Lynn Woodward.

HAS ANYBODY SEEN A LOST BOAT? Seems that one night recently the (Dr.) John Rea's large boat and trailer quietly (must've been) disappeared from their carport (or was it a boat-port?)... hasn't been seen or heard from since. Could it have been the poltergeist, do you think?

WE'RE LETTING THEM GO, but only since they promise to return often... We think it's nice that Nonnie Haltom, with cute little moppet Emily, can have an apartment in Montgomery with Bert while the legislature is in session, but it's nicer that Nonnie promises they'll spend the week-ends here with us. We can't say that we blame them for not wanting to "be gone" from their nice home on Palisades Drive for too long at a time.

ON THE AVENUE... With the sun's rays getting warmer, we're seeing more and more cars converted-into-convertibles... Saw Don Silveira, accompanied by Dot Lawrence, cruising along in his MG Sports car... looking mighty sporty!

A MOST CHARMING VISITOR among us is Ripple Baldrige... visiting sister-Bernice Barker (and Marion)... She's here from her home in Oklahoma City, and isn't staying nearly long enough, so say her many friends here... Seems she must be on-the-go again soon to visit other family members in Philadelphia and Chicago before she returns to Oklahoma City.

YOU SHOULD'VE BEEN THERE... The opening of the new wing at Mitchell-Hollingsworth Annex Sunday was attended by a large crowd of our citizens, and all report having received a civic thrill at the fine new wing to this up-to-date nursing home... The gray ladies added to the setting—looking attractive in their gray starched uniforms... And there music provided by Mollie Nance at the piano and Sandea Wilson on the marimba. If you haven't seen this attractive place, we recommend it to you most highly... We were soooo glad we went.

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW!

Former Florentine
On "Back Home" Visit

Mrs. Alonzo M. Tenison of Nashville, former Margaret Bickley of Florence, has been the guest since Sunday of Mrs. W. J. Callaway at her home, 434 North Walnut Street, and has been warmly welcomed since her arrival by friends and relatives in the district.

Among the informal courtesies feted the visitor was Mr. Callaway's coffee of Tuesday when small groups called in the late afternoon for an hour of pleasant reminiscing.

Mrs. Tenison was accompanied on the drive to Florence by Mr. Tenison who returned to Nashville after a few hours and, leaving for home this afternoon, she will have as a motoring companion her Florence hostess.

Mrs. Callaway will be with her daughter, Mrs. David Donald, and her son, Dr. James Callaway, and their families for a few days.

Mrs. Speake Hostess
To Firenze Club Meeting

At 3:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, May 11, Mrs. Otto Speake welcomed members of Firenze Club to the last meeting of the current season. Florence Golf and Country Club was the setting.

Mrs. A. J. Darby, vice-president, presided during a brief business period during which time the new year books were distributed. Next year's officers named therein are: Mrs. Darby, president; Mrs. Walter Brown, vice-president; and Mrs. J. R. Wood, secretary.

Dr. Turner Allen, Florence State College dean, presented the guest program on "History of Nursery Rhymes" which he described as often being subtle satire and ridicule aimed at royalty and born of historical events, romances, and political and religious conflicts.

Together We Mark The 20th Anniversary of the Reynolds Metals Co. Listerhill Plants

AERIAL VIEW OF LISTERHILL PLANTS — 1941

1941-1961

AERIAL VIEW OF LISTERHILL PLANTS — 1961

TO OUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS . . .

On this 20th anniversary of the Listerhill operations, Reynolds people everywhere share memories with you of progress in northwest Alabama.

My most vivid memory of Listerhill is that it was here my father risked the results of a lifetime of work. That his dream came true against great odds, that America had enough aluminum in time of war needs, stands as a tribute to you of this area.

Here the very first Reynolds aluminum ingots were made and rolled by men and women who didn't know the word "impossible." Since then in the years of peace we have built together a mighty aluminum-making center at Listerhill.

These plants are among the world's largest. We are still growing at Listerhill. As you know we have been expanding and modernizing almost constantly since 1941.

Never have we known stiffer competition than we face today from other U.S. and foreign aluminum producers. The men who turn out the best product at the lowest cost will prosper and their payrolls will grow with them.

There is even a greater future ahead for aluminum. In building, in transportation, in food packaging, in many other fields we are making sizeable strides forward.

On this 20th anniversary of the Listerhill plants — the first Reynolds aluminum plants — it is my privilege to salute all of you in northwest Alabama. Surely the only thing which can surpass our first 20 years at Listerhill will be the next 20 years.

R. S. REYNOLDS, JR.
PRESIDENT

We Salute These Area Reynolds People With 20 Or More Years Of Service

HEARING LOSS

Many people have trouble with their ears and hearing, but for some reason or other they do nothing about it. Since hearing loss usually develops very gradually without pain, with no running of the ears in most instances, a person finds it hard to believe that his ears are going bad and is inclined to blame the change in hearing on something or someone else. Hearing loss stems from many causes. It also appears in many forms, any one of which may result from infections, disease, or injury, individually or collectively.

Many types of hearing loss can be remedied by medication. Others require surgical attention.

Some persons may not benefit by any medical or surgical procedure, but instead they may be helped with other procedures which might include the use of a hearing aid. The proper decision as to which kind of treatment is to be utilized depends solely on an accurate and positive diagnosis.

Many people think they can be aided by vitamins, operations on the nose or tonsils or ear; but this is not usually the case. People should not be misled by wild-eyed advertising or high pressure salesmanship.

It must be remembered that a hearing aid does not restore normal hearing. Rather it helps the person to hear in the same way that an artificial leg helps a person to walk but at the same time does not restore normal walking. A person should not "shop" for a hearing aid. The process of getting a hearing aid should not be separated from the process of diagnosis and treatment. It should be considered part of good treatment of certain kinds of hearing loss. Hearing loss should not be hidden. It should be discovered and treated. For every person some improvement is possible, if only to allay his fears and if only to learn how to make the best use of the hearing he has left.

YOUR EYES
To be without sight is one of the greatest personal tragedies, yet many persons constantly mistreat their eyes.

The eye is intended to receive and focus light rays and carry visual impressions to the brain. The eye thus brings knowledge of our environment to the brain and serves as a principal agent in keeping each of us in touch with the world outside our bodies.

Proper care of the eye is essential to general good health; and conversely, good general health is important to the health of the eye. When some part of the eye is damaged, undue strain results in headache, indigestion, backache, nervous disorders, and other conditions.

In turn poor sight may be associated with disease, such as syphilis, arteriosclerosis, or diabetes. The normal process of growing old may affect the eye since all of the tissues concerned with the nutrition of the eye, especially the blood vessels, change with increasing age, leaving the eye less

FSC Instructors Attend Meeting

Miss Orpha Ann Culmer, Chairman of the Mathematics Department at Florence State College, and three of the department's instructors, Mrs. Robert Hudson, John Locker and James Hooper attended the eleventh annual meeting of the Alabama Association of College Teachers of Mathematics at Livingston State College during the week end.

Mrs. Hudson served as a member of the Resolutions and Nominating Committees. Dr. Locker was a member of the panel that discussed, "Should Analytical Geometry, Differential and Integral Calculus be Taught as an Integrated Sequence of Courses?"

The 1962 meeting will be held at Howard College.

To make elastic last longer, keep it away from hot water, hot irons, synthetic detergents, chlorine bleaches, face creams, and all oily preparations.

Persons with bad eyesight frequently have red and swollen eyelids, with constant watering, and blood shot areas in the normally white areas. Sometimes the eyelids will be crusted together after sleep. A tired eye is unable to work satisfactorily. It becomes easily irritated and is more likely to be invaded by foreign bodies, such as cinders and dust, because the tissues do not react normally to get rid of such foreign material.

The normal eye should see clearly and effortlessly at twenty feet and adjust itself readily to greater or lesser distances. But civilization, with its reading and industrial activity, is responsible for most of our eye work being carried on within twenty feet.

Work with good illumination, so that the eye is not strained. Get sufficient sleep to rest the eye muscles. Eat nourishing food, because the eye tissues, nerves, and muscles derive their health from the food you eat. While working, rest your eyes occasionally by glancing at some object more than twenty feet away.

Wrong Pan May Cause Failures

Something's wrong with the oven; the oven thermostat is bad; that just wasn't a good recipe — these are all standard excuses for baking failure.

But Auburn Extension Service Economist Elizabeth Bryan says that 90 per cent of these failures are caused by incorrect use of utensils. So the next time the biscuits burn on the bottom, or the pie crust is pale, or the cake uneven, take a look at the pans you are using.

"Some materials absorb heat faster than others. So the kind of material used in the baking utensil affects the appearance of the food and the baking time or temperature," Miss Bryan says. "Dark materials absorb heat rapidly and cause faster, deeper browning while shiny materials reflect part of the heat and make browning slower."

The economist suggests selecting the utensil to use by the length of time the food needs to cook. She says that heavyweight materials which heat rather slowly but retain heat well are best for long-time cooking, while lighter weight materials which heat quickly are better for short-time use.

"A lighter gauge aluminum than that used for surface pans can be used in the oven because it doesn't have to withstand as much heat. The unpainted aluminum bottoms produce a browner crust while polished aluminum pans reflect heat and make for lighter browning."

She adds, "Tin pans darken with use and therefore are able to absorb more heat. However, the surface tarnish serves as a protective coating and should not be removed by scouring."

"Black pans or discolored tin pans may cause cakes to brown unevenly. And food cooked on a baking sheet, muffin pan, pie pan, or cake pan made of a dark-colored material may burn on the bottom," Miss Bryan warns.

CAREFUL EGG HANDLING HELPS KEEP CUSTOMERS

Egg producers who want to keep customers happy should work toward a goal of 90 percent grade-A eggs, says Jim Hubbard, Auburn Extension Service poultryman.

Responsibilities of the producer include collecting, cleaning, and in some cases, grading. Worth checking every month, says Hubbard, are the floor litter and nests. Loose, clean floor litter and clean, well-kept nests are necessary in producing clean eggs.

The specialist notes that poultrymen who use plastic filler flats for collecting eggs have far less breakage and a more accurate count than those who use baskets. He advises poultrymen who still use baskets to fill them just two-thirds full to avoid breakage.

And, the poultryman warns, eggs from hens a year or more old require more careful handling than eggs from younger birds because the shells are thinner.

News of LUTTS

By Mrs. Verta Weeks

The farmers of this section were very glad to see the good rain which fell here Sunday night.

The tornado which passed over here Monday night of last week did a lot of damage; several roofs were blown off, power lines knocked down, and a large amount of timber was uprooted and broken. The road crew and the electricians were quite busy Tuesday getting the roads cleaned up and the power lines repaired.

G. L. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Montgomery, left Monday of last week to enter the armed services. He is a graduate of the 1961 class of the Collinwood High School.

Several from here attended the Memorial Services at Mt. Hope Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Weeks and son, Mrs. Etheridge Tilley and children and Mrs. Icie Balentine spent Sunday at Greenhill with the Jimmy Wright and Harris Wright families.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton and children of Florence spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleatus Reeves,

Willard Reeves and Ray Balentine of Cloverdale were here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warrington and children of Waynesboro spent awhile Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeder Clanton, Mrs. Jim House, Mrs. Goldie Thrasher, and Miss Flora Barkley of Cloverdale were in this community Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Etheridge Tilley and children, Mrs. Icie Balentine, and Mrs. Bill Weeks attended the regular monthly singing at Lindsey's Chapel Saturday night.

Mrs. Lucille Barkley and children spent last Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henson.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Franks attended the house hold shower Saturday night which was given in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Tommy and Mary Franks, at the home of Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Vaughn at Florence.

We are sorry to report little Marsha Barkley is on the sick list. We wish her a speedy recovery.

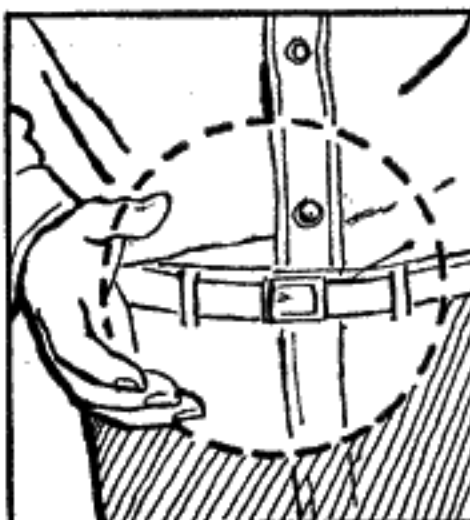

TOO MUCH WEIGHT REDUCES PROFIT

Marketing hogs as heavies lowers pork quality and can reduce over-all profits.

"More feed is required per pound of gain after hogs reach 200 pounds," says Ray Cavender, Auburn Extension meat marketing specialist. He adds, "If heavier weights than 200 pounds are needed for adequate market finish, the hog is bred wrong."

The specialist cites one study in which 10 hogs were fed from an average weight of 206 pounds to an average weight of 306 pounds. The value of the hogs at the end was $3.76 per head less than at the beginning of the study. Added to this loss was $11.92 per head—the cost for feed to put on the extra 100 pounds of weight. Prices declined some during the nine-week feeding period, causing the price span between the lightweight and heavyweight hogs to be a little more than normal.

Better Bowling

Correct grip on bowling ball is similar to handshake.

Use Proper Grip To Control Ball

BY ROCK MAPLE

Initial bowling action is grasping the ball and much of the success or mediocrity of your game depends on a proper grip.

Essentially, a proper grip resembles a handshake (see sketch). The hand is extended forward, fingers vertical on the side, thumb on top. This is the proper position of thumb and fingers in gripping the ball.

In actually taking hold of the ball, fingers are on the side of the ball, and the thumb, hidden somewhat by insertion in the hole, still is in the same relative position as in the handshake.

If you start bowling with a poor grip, your skill stands little chance of improvement even though you master other fundamentals of the game.

News Of ANDERSON

By Mrs. Myrtle McGraw

Mrs. Mae Sinyard of Winter Haven, Florida and Mrs. Doice Jean Osborne of La Jolla, California visited in the Ernest Byram home and that of other relatives here last week.

Mrs. Helen Burns of Birmingham visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. Herman Garner over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nesmith of California are visiting relatives here and in Tennessee.

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. Sally Cole aged 87, at Grassy Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock by elder Miles Jenkins. Mrs. Cole lived with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Williams of Five Points, Tenn. She had been ill for a long time. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Ethel Williams of Five Points, Tenn., Mrs. Tissue Hammond of Anderson, Mrs. Ruby Turner of Loretto, Tenn., and Mrs. Cora Putman of Nashville, Tenn.; two sons, Ernest Cole of Florence, and Edward Cole of St. Joseph, Tenn.; also one brother, Fount Sandy of Nashville, Tenn. She was the grandmother of Otto Williams of Anderson. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The following ladies of the Anderson community attended the Mother's Day exercises in Florence Sunday afternoon: Mrs. Eunice Burnham, Mrs. Follie Johnson, Mrs. Vera Camp and Mrs. Lela Howard.

A tragic accident happened early Sunday morning at the cross roads at Bethel Church claiming the lives of two of the community's best loved citizens, that of Mr. and Mrs. Will Burgess. They were taken to Dr. Jackson's hospital where Mr. Burgess was found dead on arrival and Mrs. Burgess lived till early Monday morning. Others involved in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Harold McConnell and James Albert McConnell. They only received minor injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess are survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mitchell Jones of Anderson, Mrs. Clayton Ezell of Pensacola, Florida and one son Albert Burgess of Indianapolis, Ind. The deceased are very personal friends of this writer, ones I have known all my life and they were the kind of people that any community could be proud of. They loved their families, their friends, their church and always stood for that which was right and good and for the betterment of their community. To the bereaved family we extend our heart felt sympathy.

Patchy Baldness

Q. I have a patchy bald spot on the nape of my neck. Can anything be done to make hair grow on the bald spot?

A. New York doctors studied the problem of baldness in almost 600 patients. Several types of baldness, including the patchy kind called alopecia areata, responded to injections of certain cortisone-like products. However, the new hair fell out within six to nine months after treatment was stopped. Baldness of every variety continues to be a tough and as yet unsolved problem.

Pregnancy Age Limit

Q. Please settle an argument. What is the oldest age at which childbirth has occurred?

A. Pregnancy after 48 years of age is rare. However, one American doctor reports delivering the first child of a 49-year-old patient who delivered the last of her several children at age 52.

Answers appearing in these columns are of necessity, brief and general in nature and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all physicians.

Meat Tenderizers

Q. Our butcher admits that he uses something to "tenderize" his meats. Is it harmful to eat such meat?

A. The enzyme, "papain," is commonly used commercially to tenderize meat. Cooking destroys or inactivates the enzyme, so no harmful effects would be expected from meat tenderized in this way.

Dispensing prescribed medicine is what we do best... do promptly... and do at reasonable cost. Trust your health to your doctor—trust his prescriptions to us.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

IS IT A Compliment?

When someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," is it a compliment, or is it an accusation? Whether you like it or not, children do follow in their parents' footsteps.

Johnny learns that kindness and courtesy are virtues, because you are kind and courteous. He learns to love good books and music, because you love them. He learns, through your example, to speak truthfully.

And if going to church and church school regularly is also a part of your usual routine, Johnny will develop that habit just as he has these others.

Then it is a compliment when someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," for you are doing all within your power to lead him in the right direction.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Nitrogen Aids Cotton Yields

"Side-dressing cotton with nitrogen can up yields as much as a half bale per acre," says Auburn Extension Service Soil Management Specialist Walter Sowell.

"Cotton makes the best use of the nitrogen after the plants are up to a good stand. And the best time to apply the side-dressing is after the first or second cultivation," says the specialist.

The size of the side-dressing varies with the soil type and the amount of nitrogen applied at planting time. "For example," Dr. Sowell says, "60 pounds of nitrogen are needed per acre on Tennessee Valley soils, while 90 pounds are recommended in the Sand Mountain area, and 70 pounds in South Alabama. This amount includes nitrogen applied at planting time and for side-dressing."

However, Dr. Sowell doesn't recommend a side dressing on any soil in the state if a good crop of legumes was turned just before planting.

Deadline To Sign Under Feed Grain Program May 22

Producers Will Not Be Eligible Price Support Unless They Cooperate

Joe J. Rasch, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said Monday corn and grain sorghum growers have until Monday, May 22, to sign up under the 1961 feed grain program.

The program provides special payments to growers of the two crops who divert acreages this year from the production of corn or grain sorghum to a soil-conserving use with up to half the total payment to be earned on a farm made in advance if the farmer requests it.

In Lauderdale county, the average county rates are $16.10 per acre for reducing corn acreage a minimum of 20 percent below the farm base acreage and $13.40 per acre for reducing grain sorghum acreage a like amount. Higher rates will apply for reducing corn and grain sorghum acreage from 20 to 40 percent below the base. Rates on a farm may be higher or lower than the county rates, depending on the farm's productivity in relation to the county average.

While the program is voluntary, corn and grain sorghum producers will not be eligible for price support on any of their 1961 feed grain crops unless they cooperate in the feed grain program. All farmers who are interested, are urged to get in touch with the county ASC office as soon as possible, but no later than the May 22 deadline.

How To Freeze Strawberries For Year Around Use

By SARA FRANCES CONNER
Home Dem. Agent

Strawberry shortcake, a strawberry pie, strawberries with cream—They will be as good in December as they are now if proper methods of freezing are used.

From Home Agent Sara Frances Conner come recommendations for freezing these tasty berries—

If you like a sugar syrup, dissolve three C. Sugar in 4 C. Water. To each cup of cold syrup add 1/4 t. Ascorbic Acid. Pack fruit into moisture vapor-proof freezer containers and cover fruit with syrup. Remove all air and seal container, leaving about one inch headspace to allow for expansion of fruit.

For freezing with sugar, use 4 pounds of fruit and 1 pound of sugar (about 12 cups of fruit and 2 cups sugar). Dissolve 1 teaspoon Ascorbic Acid in 1/2 C. of water and mix well with fruit before adding sugar.

Fill moisture vapor-proof containers, being sure fruit is covered with juice. Remove air by packing fruit very firm. Allow about 1/2 inch headspace. Seal and label giving date and contents.

"Leaflets on freezing other fruits and vegetables are available at no cost from our office if folks will call and request them," Miss Conner stated.

Lush Grazing Flavors Milk

Off-flavors in milk are most likely to occur during the spring and early summer.

Auburn Extension Service Dairyman John Parrish says that the problem is partly caused by cows eating lush grazing. But since this is the most economical feed, dairymen must manage to keep their cows on grazing and, at the same time, avoid the off-flavors.

Parrish had these feeding suggestions which may help solve the problem.

"Feed silage after milking, not during or before milking. Silage fed within three hours before milking gives the strongest flavor, but feeding five hours before milking generally takes care of the off-flavor," he says. He adds, "Dairy-men may want to feed hay between grazing and milking time; and then graze cows after milking for one to three hours."

"Lush grazing," Parrish says, "is a highly nutritional feed but low in dry matter; so dairymen should supplement it with concentrate feed for best production."

Check Sows For Leptospirosis

Reports from the state diagnostic laboratory show that many brood sows in Alabama are reacting positively to blood tests for leptospirosis—a disease which causes many dead and weak pigs at farrowing time.

Dr. Worth Lanier, Auburn Extension Service veterinarian, says that treatment of the disease has been somewhat ineffective because infected sows can shed the disease-causing organism through the urine for several months after apparently recovering from the disease. And this "shedding" infects other healthy gilts.

Dr. Lanier suggests that hog producers call a veterinarian to collect blood samples from all adult sows, gilts and boars. "Positive reactors should be slaughtered and negative ones should be vaccinated preferably at or near breeding time," he adds.

"Also important is a good rat control program since it is possible that they are a reservoir for the disease," says the veterinarian.

Record Of Herd Very Important

"To build and maintain a high producing dairy herd, a dairyman must follow a systematic culling program," says Auburn Extension Service Dairyman Sam Jones.

"Usually, dairymen cull from 20 to 30 per cent of the cows in their herd each year. Of this number, half are removed because of disease, accidents, old age, or similar causes. And this forced culling not only includes low producers, but sometimes it takes the best cows in the herd."

"The other 10 to 15 per cent that the dairyman decides to cull provide him with his only real opportunity to upgrade his herd," Jones says. "For this reason, the dairyman must be sure that he culls the right cows and that his replacements come from cows and bulls with good production back of them."

"To try to do a good job of culling without production records is absolutely hopeless," reminds the dairyman.

Recital:
Numerous small arrangements of greenery with Dutch irises were used across the front of the stage with large baskets of greenery and purple irises in the background to form the setting for the annual piano recital of the students of Mrs. Inez Patterson on Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

Forty-nine pupils were presented in a recital that was both well presented and altogether enjoyable.

Several duets were interspersed in the program to give variety. For the opening number Deborah Dean, one of the younger pupils, played "America" with Cora Sue Waddell, a senior, closing the program with "The Holy City."

Rev. W. W. Hitt, Methodist minister, gave the invocation.

Usherettes were Janie Baggett, Priscilla Waddell, Jane Sharp and Vicki Spry.

Garden Club:
The Rogersville Garden Club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. R. H. Waddell.

In the dining and living rooms were arrangements of multi-colored specimen irises and other spring blossoms.

Mrs. Buford Mitchum gave the devotional to open the meeting which was presided over by Mrs. Essie Goad who also had the program in the absence of Miss Bessie Crow.

She gave numerous garden pointers.

Strawberry shortcake and coffee were served.

Sunday School Meet:
The Mildred Reed Beddingfield Sunday School Class of the Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. Olga Harvey for the review of "God In Our Lives" by Lloyd C. Wycliffe given by Mrs. Buford.

Bible Comment:
What Does It Mean to Worship God in Spirit?

"God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

What does it mean to worship God in spirit and in truth? To worship in spirit means the inward sincerity of worship, the worship of heart and life, as against the perfunctory performance of religious rites or formal routine.

How much of the worship of today is thus truly in spirit, and how much is merely formal?

One cannot say, and the outward expression may be accompanied by the inward reality. The bead or the praying wheel may be the outward symbol of a truly devout soul. It is the prayer, not the symbol, that is the reality.

But to worship in truth brings in a larger dimension. It lifts religion out of the area of form, dogma, external authority and superstition into the larger realm of life and truth.

The eternal challenge to everything in life and religion is this: Is it true?

The cynic still asks with Pilate, "What is truth?" (John 18:38), but to him who worships in spirit and in truth it is the deepest and greatest of all questions, and it is of the realm of truth that Jesus is King (verse 37).

Plant Melons, But Increase Potatoes

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in its acreage marketing guides for 1961 summer and fall vegetables and watermelons, recommends that Alabama growers plant the same acreage to watermelons as last year, but increase sweetpotato and early summer tomato acreage by 10 per cent.

Auburn Extension Service Horticulturist John Bagby says that last year Alabama growers planted 18,000 acres to watermelons, 10,000 acres to sweetpotatoes, and 4,600 acres to early summer tomatoes.

Bagby explains that the guides are designed to help growers plan production so that their crops will be in balance with marketing requirements. Compliance is voluntary, although any USDA surplus removal assistance is based on compliance with the guides, he adds.
