The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

• We are proud of John N. Cochran. Long years ago we attended old Florence State Normal together and there formed a close friendship that has lasted through the years. This native of Lauderdale, who still calls this county home, early visioned a career in insurance and from his first connection in this field began an upward climb. Announcement has just been made of his elevation to chairman of the board of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society and we add: It couldn't have happened to a more deserving man. We extend our congratulations.

• He's a miracle man if he can take the limp out of a lame excuse.

• Maybe patriotism is just a word in the dictionary, except during wartime. And maybe respect for Old Glory is something that lies dormant except when our boys are doing battle with an enemy. At least, when the flag of the United States passes in review today—in Florence—little or no respect is shown. We know that in the schools of our city and county proper respect for our flag is taught but, as evidenced in the Veterans Day parade Saturday, only a scattered few remembered—or cared. As Old Glory carried high in the parade approached where we stood, we instinctively took off our hat, placed it above our head and felt proud in so doing. Around us, many stared as if we were nuts—a few, sheepishly, reached for their sombrero and followed our lead. But most turned away and kept their hats glued to their heads.

• The heaviest load any man ever carries on his back — is packing a grudge.

• New and fabulous creations are reaching the market to meet the needs for all ages from the cradle to the grave. For example, an electronic diaper called "Health Baby" which buzzes when wet is now on the market. But, so far, it does not change itself—they are still working on that. Also, a light weight plastic coffin is being manufactured that weighs only 45 pounds and is both waterproof and decay-resistant and, according to claims, will last longer than the 200 pound wooden caskets. What progress we are making!

• The greatest invention since the wheel — is the credit card.

• We read where the pastor of a certain church ordered that the badminton club stop meeting in the church recreation room because it was disturbing the bingo games in the basement.

• With the holiday season approaching, we realize what a funny creature a man is. He will order a new car three months before the late models are put on display but wait until December 24th to buy his wife's Christmas present.

• Don't brag. It isn't the whistle that pulls the train.

• It is revealed by an employee of a certain Federal income tax office that the return of a housewife, whose name was not mentioned, had neatly written in space for occupation, the two words: "Home Executive." What else?

• Sign on a closed printing shop: "See—we DID undersell everybody."

• We read where a New York man received an expensive car for his birthday with a card saying: "May you always be happy as you are today." The greeting did not come true, however. He was arrested by police on charges of sending himself stolen goods—namely, the car.

Tax Would Be Cent Per Bottle

Bottlers Of Soft Drinks Protest Proposed Levy

The executive board of the Florence Chamber of Commerce Tuesday presented the city of Florence with a request that it delay action on the proposed cent-a-bottle tax on soft drinks until a full study could be made. The action followed a closed session of the board on Monday afternoon.

The board's statement follows: "It was moved, seconded and carried that the Board advise the City of Florence that representatives of the bottling companies have asked the Board's help in the matter of the proposed levy of one cent per bottle on soft drinks. The Board is in sympathy with the bottlers' problem, but also understands the City's need for additional funds. The Board requests the City to delay its action until it has had full opportunity to investigate the possible repercussions of the proposed tax on the bottling companies and to investigate other possible sources of raising revenue.

The Board's action followed special hearings called on Monday in a special session by Jesse A. Keller, president, after a request was made for such hearings by Harold Hammond of the Florence Coca-Cola Bottling Company. All 12 members of the Board attended. Hammond and representatives of other bottling companies that would be affected by such a levy met again on Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the auditorium of the municipal building for the purpose of presenting any information they felt might be pertinent to the proposed soft drink tax.

Hammond, in presenting the case to the Chamber Board contended that a special tax on soft drinks has had a crippling effect on the bottling business and has driven business outside the city limits in every case where it has been tried. "It has failed to realize its goals in every single case where it has been imposed," Hammond added.

Mayor E. F. Martin, in announcing the proposed cent-a-bottle tax on soft drinks last week said the financial needs of the City of Florence brought about the proposal for such a tax. He listed three reasons why the city cannot longer put off seeking additional sources of revenue.

First, according to Mayor Martin, is the continued growth and development of the city making it necessary to finance increased services which such growth produces.

Secondly, the Mayor pointed out, is the great need for new equipment such as police cars, garbage and street equipment and trucks. Lack of provision for replacements in past years now makes it imperative that new equipment be purchased during the present fiscal year.

JAMES D. HAYS

James D. Hays Is New President Of Farm Bureau

James D. (Jimmy) Hays, 52-year-old Madison County general farmer, is the new president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, an organization of 67 county Farm Bureaus with a total membership of nearly 82,000.

Hays, promoted after a 14-year tenure as first vice president, succeeded Walter L. Randolph who had served for 21 years. Randolph, who did not offer for reelection because of a recent illness also is vice president of the American Farm Bureau.

Hays, who contended that the principal issue before the members was "who shall speak for farmers," defeated Sen. R. G. Kendall of Conecuh County by a vote of 249 to 171. Following the election, Kendall pledged his full cooperation in Farm Bureau's program in behalf of farmers.

Hays, a Farm Bureau member since 1937, has a successful farming operation in the Lilly Flag Community which includes cotton, corn, cattle and hogs. His son, John Wade Hays, described by his father as "a real red neck whose only ambition is to be a good farmer," is preparing to take over the operations when he finishes Auburn.

M. C. Stallworth, Jr., of Washington County, was advanced from third vice president to first; J. Lewis Harper, Tuscaloosa, from fourth to third, and Robert E. Lee, Etowah, elected fourth vice president. New members of the state board of directors are James McWilliams, Colbert, and Ira Hudson, Cullman. W. O. Patterson, Russell, and W. H. Brown, Covington, were reelected.

Pretty Judy Self, Madison County, was named Alabama Farm Bureau Queen; Patsy Bryant, Calhoun, won the Talent Find, and Joanne Hughes, Houston, the Talk Meet.

H. Grady Richards Given Community Service Citation

Award Presented By B'nai Brith Lodge At Dinner Sunday Night

Recipient of the third of the Community Service Awards established in 1954 by Tri-Cities Lodge 873, B'nai Brith, was Henry Grady Richards, principal of Gilbert School and widely known Florence citizen who has given unstintingly of his time and talents in various activities that have contributed to the betterment of the community during the past 40 years. Previous recipients of this award were Mrs. Thomas E. Gibbons, of Florence, and W. A. Threadgill, of Sheffield.

Mr. Richards, along with Mrs. Richards, were guests of honor at a dinner at Temple B'nai Israel, Hawthorne and Prospect Streets, Sunday night after which a program depicting his many activities, accomplishments and services to the citizens of the area, especially the young people, was presented by his friends and fellow citizens who were in position to know first hand of the widespread service he has rendered since coming to Gilbert School 41 years ago. Erwin Coleman, president of the lodge, presided and presented Harold May, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Fashioned along the lines of the program, "This Is Your Life," Supt. Rufus G. Hibbert first told of Mr. Richards' career as a student, teacher, principal and humanitarian. He told of the impact that Mr. Richards has had on the boys and girls who have come under his guidance and gave of his personal knowledge the numerous acts of the honored guest that have guided youth, who might have fallen by the wayside, to healthy, happy and successful lives.

Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth reminded Mr. Richards and informed those present of the great work done by Mr. Richards in the Boy Scout movement and told of his other work with the less privileged boys of our city as well as the spiritual guidance he was able to give that kept many, who might have faltered, in paths of better living and more substantial accomplishments.

Howard F. Bolling, Commander, Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion, gave a review of the many posts of leadership that Mr. Richards has held in this patriotic organization and told of the work he has done in the Boys State program, Legion oratorical contests, charitable efforts among veterans down on their luck and dozens of other services that were rendered without hope of reward or even recognition.

In a skit prepared by Max Levinson, Louis Levi and Postmaster Don Holt, it was brought to light (Continued on Page Two)

Herbert D. Vogel, Chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said Wednesday he will not accept reappointment to the agency's board of directors when his term expires in May, 1963. The retired Army Brigadier General, appointed by former President Eisenhower, as TVA chairman in 1954, said he plans to serve out his full 9-year-term and declined comment on what he plans to do after leaving TVA.

'Dough For Dough' Days Sponsored

The Pilot clubs of the Tri-Cities are jointly sponsoring "Dough For Dough" Days on Friday and Saturday in Florence, Sheffield and Tuscumbia, and the public is urged to support this worthy undertaking, the proceeds of which will be used by the clubs for scholarships, nursing scholarships, dental clinic, libraries, Girl Scouts and others.

There will be stands for the sale of bread in the downtown areas of the three towns with both full-sized loaves and miniatures for those who desire the smaller size, it was announced.

Twenty-Seven For Education

Voters To Decide Fate Of Amendments Dec. 5

Perhaps at no time in the state's history has there been more widespread interest than there is in the Amendment election to be held on December 5.

Amendment No. 1 is of primary concern to all citizens of Alabama since it concerns an overhaul and modernization of the state's prison system, one of its more notable features being the separation of young first offenders from hardened criminals and providing them with a program of vocational training and high school education.

Amendment No. 2 would authorize a $3 million bond issue for the construction of a research center at Huntsville in connection with the University of Alabama.

School Amendments
Twenty-four of the forty-five proposed constitutional amendments approved by the 1961 Legislature subject to a statewide election on the above date, are of particular concern to education. Of these all but Amendments 2, 6 and 7 have a direct bearing on local support for elementary and secondary schools.

The constitutional amendment of greatest interest to the public schools—one to allow any county to raise its ad valorem (property) tax rate another 5 mills to produce more school funds—will not be submitted until the voters until May 1962 when the Democratic primary is held.

Here are the school amendments up for ratification Dec. 5. (They are identified by amendment number as they will appear on the ballot):
Amendment No. 2 — To authorize a $3 million bond issue for construction of a University of Alabama Research Institute at Huntsville.

Association Will Collect Gifts For Mental Patients

"Operation Santa Claus," project of the Muscle Shoals Association for Mental Health, in which Christmas gifts are gathered for patients in the state's mental hospitals, will be held this year on December 4, it is announced by Morris Klibanoff, chairman of the committee.

On that date, between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m., members of the association will be at the Lauderdale County Health Department, Tennessee and Pine Streets, and at the Colbert County Health Department in Tuscumbia, to receive gifts and pack them for shipment to Bryce Hospital, Seale, and Partlow School.

Gifts of clothing are particularly needed by many of the patients in these institutions, nearly 200 of them being from the Muscle Shoals area. All clothing should be washable and in good condition, but not necessarily new. Toys for children, toiletries, cosmetics, costume jewelry, books, magazines and records are also acceptable. Gifts of cash can be converted into scrip for use by patient in purchasing personal items from hospital commissaries.

Those who will not find it convenient to take their gifts to the health departments the evening of December 4 may leave them in advance at Florence Shoe Company, 122 North Court Street. Detailed information will be mailed to anyone phoning Mr. Klibanoff at AT 2-7531 or AT 2-7284.

Mrs. J. M. McCafferty was among the Home Demonstration representatives attending the convention of Home Demonstration Clubs in Biloxi, Miss., last week.

Billy R. Barnett, 26, of 4743 Oak Avenue, Hammond, Ind., formerly of Lexington, and Thomas J. Cansler, 34, of 13240 Avenue F, Chicago, formerly of Spruce Pine, drowned Monday afternoon at 12:55, when the car which Barnett was driving smashed into the end of Shoals Creek and dropped into 15 feet of water.

Kenneth Ray Killen, 17, a passenger in the car, of Rt. 2, Lexington, escaped the watery grave when he was thrown from the car and rescued. He was taken to ECM Hospital for treatment. Coroner Stanley Elkins said Barnett, the driver, died of head injuries and drowning and that Cansler drowned.

The Highway Patrol said the car was traveling east on U.S. Highway 72-43 at an apparent high rate of speed, left the road, hit the end of the bridge after spinning around and went off the right side into the water. All three of the men reportedly had planned to return to Indiana Monday afternoon.

Diver Knox Young recovered the bodies.

Funeral services for Barnett were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Richardson's Chapel with Onus Kiliar officiating. Burial followed in the adjoining cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Betty Killen Barnett; a son, Alex Doyle Barnett; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mashburn of Rt. 2, Lexington; a sister, Mrs. Tonis Michal of Rt. 2, Loretto, Tenn.; two half-brothers, Alvin and Wesley Mashburn of Rt. 2, Lexington; a stepbrother, Theo Mashburn of Rt. 4, Loretto, Tenn.; a half-sister, Miss Marcell Mashburn of Rt. 2, Lexington.

Funeral services for Cansler were not announced.

Mrs. W. M. Russell and her mother, Mrs. E. G. Lovell of Birmingham, were recent guests of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Archer, and their family in Columbus, Ohio.

HOW DRY HE WAS—William Barret could not wait until the water boy brought him a cup to quench his king-sized thirst. He took matters into his own hands by drinking from the water container directly. The 240-pound tackle was playing in a U.S. Army football game on Okinawa.

Some two hundred and fifty farmers and civic leaders are expected to attend the annual Farm-City Week banquet at Skypark Restaurant at 7 o'clock Monday night, according to L. Wagon, Lauderdale County chairman of the event. This is the second year that Farm-City Week has been sponsored through the joint efforts of our local civic clubs and organizations, Mr. Wagon pointed out.

He said the basic idea back of Farm-City week, being observed this year, Nov. 17-23, is to foster good relationships between rural and city people and to promote a better understanding of the dependence of farm and city people on each other.

"It is good to know about each other's problems," he said, "as well as keep alive the spirit of neighborliness and cooperation between these two important segments of our American way of life."

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Fred Sington, former All-American tackle from the University of Alabama, it was announced. Special local talent entertainment has also been provided, Mr. Wagon stated.

Local sponsors of Farm-City Week are: Florence Rotary Club, downtown and North Florence Kiwanis clubs, Florence Exchange Club, Florence Civitans, Shoals Civitans, Lions Club, Jaycees and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

State sponsors are: The Extension Service, the State Chamber of Commerce, the Alabama Farm Bureau, the Alabama Press Association and the Alabama Broadcasters Association. State chairman of the event is John M. Ward, executive vice president of the Alabama State Chamber.

Commenting on the value of Farm-City Week, R. G. Arnold, Auburn Extension Service community development specialist, said:

"We have a lot of good farmers in Alabama, and with proper help from local bankers and merchants, even our small farmers can become more efficient and earn a good living."

"In Alabama, says Arnold, "we have many rural community improvement programs where farmers, bankers and businessmen have cooperated to the extent that farm income has been doubled and even quadrupled through group action and cooperation."

Louis Rosenbaum Signally Honored

The Honor Corps will consist exclusively of recipients during the past thirty-three years of the Conference's coveted Brotherhood Award, among them, President John F. Kennedy.

The first meeting of the group will take place in Washington Monday during the three-day annual meeting of the conference. A highlight of the meeting will be a reception at the White House by President Kennedy for members of the board of trustees.

Fans planning to attend the Coffee-Sheffield Thanksgiving Day game are reminded about the kickoff time error printed on the tickets. The game will be played at the usual 2 o'clock, instead of 7:30 as stated on the duet.

Religious Emphasis Week

Special weeks are set aside for many things but none is more significant than Religious Emphasis Week, a time in which we are reminded of our spiritual responsibilities . . . to our God, to our fellowmen and to ourselves.

One might say every week should be Religious Emphasis Week, that no one week or day or month should be singled out where religion is concerned. But human nature being what it is we need to be reminded. It is a human failing to forget and this special week is important in that it does set aside a period for us to take stock of our spiritual needs. Our religion, which is our relationship with God, is the most important thing in our daily lives . . . it is our real guide to inner happiness and spiritual tranquility.

America is a nation of many creeds, each seeking the same goal. Religious Emphasis Week points to this fact just as our Constitution and the Bill of Rights points to our freedoms . . . freedom of worship being most notable among the great freedoms for which our ancestors fought and died. For Catholic, Protestant and Jew, it is the spiritual solace found in each one's church that means most in keeping this freedom alive and this nation safe and secure, in giving it the strength to carry the message of freedom to the far corners of the rest of the world.

People may achieve legal freedom or license without themselves being free, for unless they achieve spiritual freedom they actually have no real freedom.

This is the basic reason for Religious Emphasis Week.

Your Vote Is Important

Of the forty-five proposed constitutional amendments to be included in the ballot on December 5, twenty-seven are devoted to school relief. Many of them, including the amendment pertaining to Lauderdale County (No. 23) and to Florence (No. 24), provide a 5-mill tax increase for schools. These amendments if approved are then subject to a local vote in each of the counties and municipalities they pertain to.

Certainly the people of Alabama will not miss this opportunity to give the school children of the state the opportunity they deserve and must have for proper and adequate educational facilities. Alabama has, for too long, been at the bottom of the list.

Then, lest we forget, there is Amendment No. 1 bringing to the attention of the citizenry of Alabama the need for rectifying the tragic and shameful condition of the state's prison system. This amendment provides for a $10 million bond issue for prison construction, including the overhauling and modernizing of the present system and more important separation of young first offenders from the hardened and incorrigible criminals so that they may receive schooling and vocational training. The importance of passing this amendment cannot be over-emphasized.

It will mean no new taxes and, as explained by A. Frank Lee, commissioner of the Board of Corrections, it can pay for itself in savings on upkeep of the present system and sale of these facilities once the new program is completed.

Taxpayers are assured that the program can in no way affect school monies in any way because schools and prisons are completely separate in the financial setup of the state government. In fact the prison program will affect a savings to every taxpayer in the state, not only through savings on upkeep but through the rehabilitation of youthful offenders, who, with proper guidance, may be returned to useful citizenship.

VA To Ask Those On Pension Rolls To Figure Income

In approximately two months the VA is going to ask all those on the pension rolls to let them know just how much money they received from all sources during the calendar year of 1961, and how much income they expect to receive during 1962.

Now would be a good time for all pensioners to do a little figuring—if you're receiving a pension from the VA your continued entitlement to those monthly payments depends entirely upon your annual income. Veterans and widows under the old law are not entitled to a pension if their income exceeds $1400.00 where they have no dependents, or $2700.00 where there is one or more dependents. Those receiving a pension under the new law, the one that went into effect on July 1, 1960, are not entitled if their income exceeds $1800.00 if they have no dependents, or $3,000.00 if they have dependents.

Should your income be excessive you must notify the VA just as soon as you realize this. If this is done, your pension payments will be stopped, effective on the date of the last payment, but if you know your income will exceed the limitations, and you do not tell the VA about it until you make your annual report after the first of the year, then chances are you're going to have to repay every cent of the pension money you received the previous year.

Should you not have the money to repay the amount of a full year's pension the VA will withhold any future pension payments to which you may be entitled until the full amount is recovered.

McLendon Freed By Jury

Alvin E. McLendon, accused of the February pistol slaying of Floyd Landon, Jr., Mobile service station mechanic, was found "not guilty" Thursday of last week after a Mobile County Circuit Court jury took just thirty minutes to reach their verdict. McLendon's attorney Harry Seale of Mobile had entered a plea of "not guilty by reason of self defense" for his client.

Former High Reds Expelled

Informed sources said Saturday night local Communist Party cells have expelled Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Malenkov is former premier and Kaganovich a former vice premier and Molotov, former foreign minister. Expulsion from the party is subject to final review by the Party Control Commission.

Man-In-Orbit Hopes Dashed

America's hopes for sending a man into orbit around the earth this year were snuffed out Sunday when a planned "rehearsal" flight with a chimpanzee was postponed for at least a week, because of troubles in a space capsule. The manned flight is now off until early 1962, and most estimates are that it won't come until February at the earliest.

President May Ask Tax Cut

President Kennedy is preparing to recommend a delayed-action income tax cut next year. The proposal is due to be included in a broad tax revision program that the President will present to Congress during the early summer. The income tax cut would be the first that the American taxpayers have received since a temporary Korean war tax boost expired in January, 1954.

U.S.-Britain Seek Test Ban

The United States and Britain called on Russia Monday to resume nuclear test ban negotiations about November 28. But this country served notice it would continue testing until a treaty was signed. In notes delivered in Moscow, the Western Big Two proposed reopening Geneva talks that were halted September 9 when the United Nations General Assembly was debating the test question.

Dean Manion

THE MANION FORUM

During the last several weeks and months, much has been said, but little done, about radioactive fallout from the nuclear testing going on in the world. It is dangerous, we know, and its effects are most devastating on the segment of population least able to help themselves, our children.

There is a respectable body of scientific opinion that holds that, unless the tests are ended, the human race may shrivel and die on the vine. Whether this view is right or wrong, and regardless of the impossibility of any binding agreement with the Communists on this or any other subject, the very fact of our attempts at negotiation on nuclear testing is a recognition of our inherent responsibilities to the next generation.

If we are successful in preventing damage to our future generations from this fall-out, we will witness a growth in population during the next generation that will permanently change the United States for better or worse.

In the traditional operation of our free enterprise system, the United States could take these increased millions of people in its normal industrial stride, but, unfortunately, American industry no longer operates in the traditional orbit of free enterprise.

Its productive processes are now fouled up with senseless governmental regulations, while its natural organs of growth are all but completely sterilized by the baneful mixture of confiscatory taxes and a ruinous progressive inflation of the currency.

The whole broad field of industry, constantly seeded itself out of reserved profits and the investment of individual savings. Industrial research, replacement and plant development were thus expanded to keep pace with the ever-growing population of the country.

The explosive growth of our population will make an immeasurable demand upon American industry for new jobs and more products. If necessary jobs are to be made and our standard of living maintained, this population growth between now and 1975 will require some 500 billion dollars worth of new investment in diversified privately-owned enterprise.

Under present tax and spending policies of our state and federal governments, this necessary regeneration plow-back is impossible. The average typical $4,500 a year man works two and a half hours each 8-hour day to pay his taxes, which is more than he spends for any other major item of living expenses. This man will have nothing left for savings or investment.

The Socialists step into this breach with a quick and easy answer: If private industry cannot produce the new jobs for the new people, then the government must and will provide the necessary employment to take up the slack.

We can only hope that this turning point will come in time to save the country from the strait-jacket of Socialist tyranny.

Manufacturers Helped By TVA's Fertilizer Policy

A five-year-old TVA experiment, making it easier for dozens of fertilizer manufacturers to try new TVA fertilizer materials in their own plants to improve their own products, has been a successful venture, Dr. L. B. Nelson, Manager of Agricultural and Chemical Development, said today.

At its Fertilizer-Munitions Development Center at Muscle Shoals, TVA operates one of the most extensive research programs in the country for the improvement of chemical fertilizers and the processes for their manufacture. Several years ago, responding to requests from a number of companies, TVA's Board of Directors adopted the policy of offering limited quantities of its new materials to private manufacturers, enabling them to determine the value of these materials in the production of higher analysis fertilizers. The expectation was to create a demand for industry's production of the new materials and the production of better fertilizers at lower cost to the farmers.

Twenty-four plants used the TVA fertilizers offered them in the fiscal year 1957, the first year they were offered. By the 1961 fiscal year, which ended on June 30, the list had grown to 124. These plants used just under 2,000 tons the first year and 56,623 tons in 1961. Distribution went to 15 states the first year and to 29 states in 1961. TVA offered three products in 1957 and 10 in 1961.

"Although the activity gained rapidly in popularity, plants using the materials are concentrated for the most part in the Midwest and South," Dr. Nelson said. "Large areas in the West and in New England have not yet participated."

"Problem solving has been speeded as a result of the cooperative nature of the venture. This is partially accomplished through a small group of commercial manufacturers equipped for and willing to lead in the adaptation of new processes, products, or methods to larger-than-pilot-plant operations. Most of the larger group of participating manufacturers also work on specific problems related to the TVA materials they are using and the type of plant in which these materials are used. Sometimes a number of manufacturers, along with TVA technicians, work on a problem simultaneously."

"Once a problem has been solved, results are made available to other interested manufacturers. This is sometimes done in technical demonstrations held at participating plants.

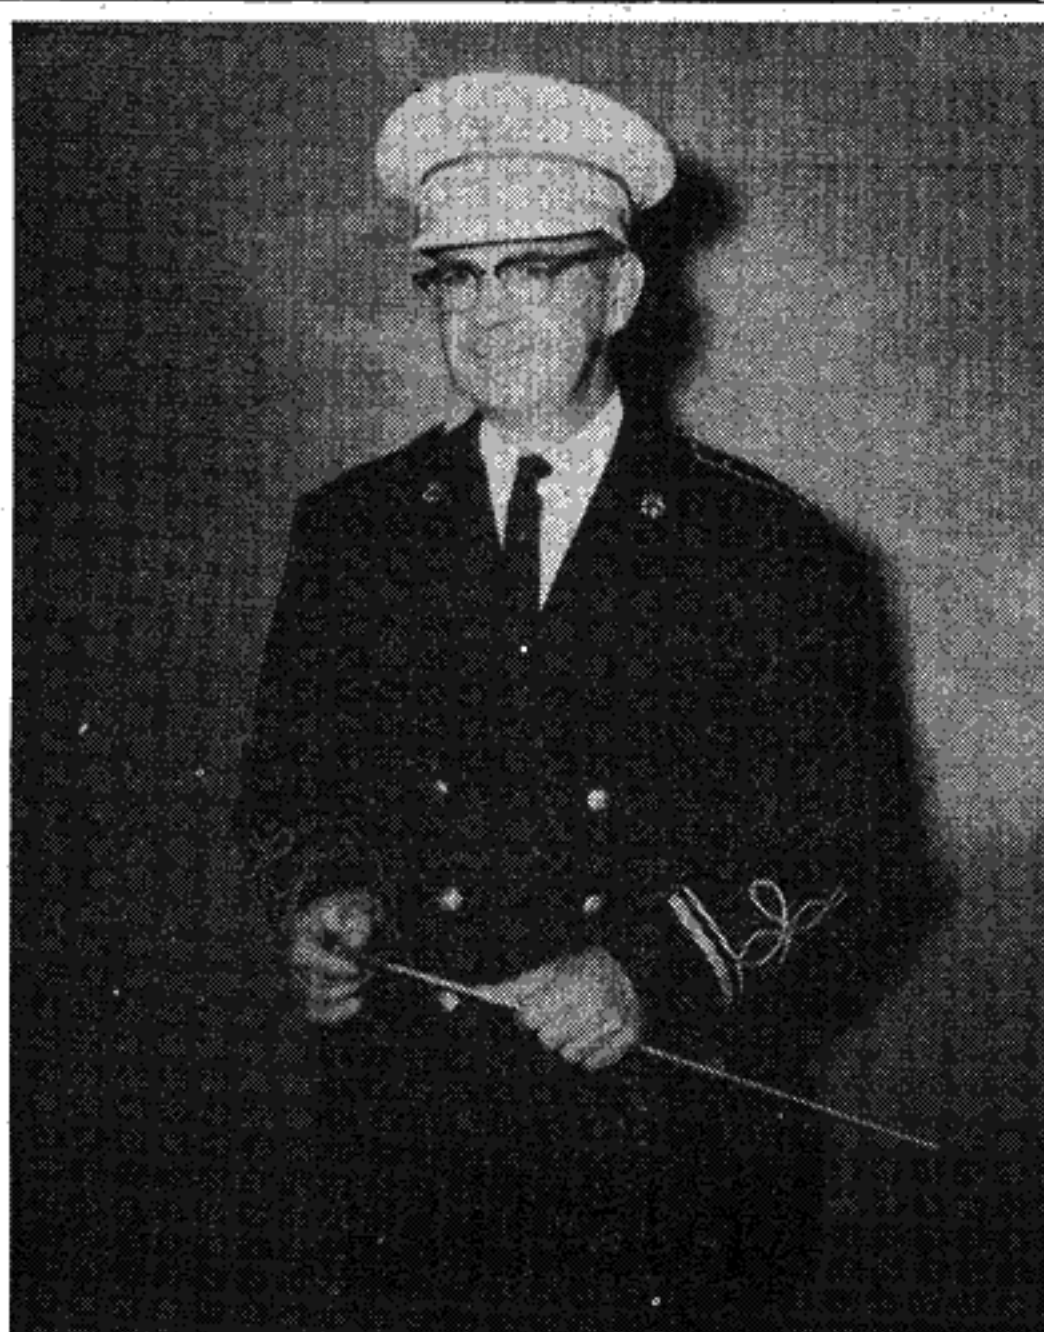

"Problems are those confronting the entire industry. They range from segregation in dry mixes to proper combinations of raw materials and physical condition of products. Then there is a whole series of problems on transition to granulation. Liquid fertilizers present their own special problems, such as how to manufacture higher analysis grades or to prevent salting-out."

"A great deal has been accomplished in the initial years of the program in furthering the application of modern fertilizer technology. With this groundwork and with a large group of manufacturers cooperating in defining and solving problems, more will be accomplished in coming years."

FLOYD CLAUDE MCCLURE

"No section of the country has more latent musical talent among its young people than has Florence and it is my hope that someday in the not too distant future we can provide every possible opportunity for these talents to be cultivated."

Mr. McClure said as he thought back over the more than twenty years that he has supervised music in the schools of the city.

"The wonderful music program we have at Coffee High would be greatly increased and benefited if we could provide the music in the elementary schools that is so badly needed. Some day, we hope, to be able to provide qualified music instructors in each and every school so that our community can truly reach the heights in this field that it so richly deserves."

We have such a wonderful city, truly, a garden spot, and we can easily go forward musically. Cooperation such as that given by our band parents—who work their hearts out—can provide the music in our schools we need so badly," Mr. McClure added.

Floyd Claude McClure was born in Oakley, Ill., August 28, 1914, the son of Claude and Mae Burley McClure. He attended elementary school at Oakley until he was in the third grade when the family moved to Decatur, Ill. He attended elementary school at Decatur and when eleven years old began playing several instruments in the school band. Mr. McClure was graduated from Decatur High School in 1933.

While in high school, he was a member of the football team in his freshman and sophomore years, but turned his full interest to music after he injured his foot in a football game. Mr. McClure was a member of the Glee Club, orchestra and band at Decatur High. Following his graduation from high school, he entered Murray State College, Murray, Ky. He majored in music and minored in voice and biology.

During his college years, Mr. McClure was a member of a dance band which played engagements at the Netherlands-Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati; the Peabody Hotel at Memphis and the Dells in Wisconsin as well as other famous ballrooms in the Mid-West.

In his senior year, he was auditioned by the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and was accepted, but was finally advised that he was too young to play professionally. As a result of the audition, he was offered a job with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, the organization that will appear here this spring as a presentation of the Muscle Shoals Concert Association.

Mr. McClure was a member and served as president of the Vivace Club, while at Murray State, a club which is composed of music majors. In his junior and senior years, he represented his class on the Student Council. He was a charted member of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary national music fraternity.

In 1937, Mr. McClure was graduated from the college with a Bachelor of Music degree and was named the outstanding student of music in his class.

During the latter part of his high school education and his early years in college, Mr. McClure was a member of the Illinois National Guard and played with the 130th Infantry Army Band. In the summers of 1932 and 1933, the band was featured at the World's Fair at Chicago.

that every letter reaching the local post office addressed to Santa Claus was placed in Mr. Richards' box and he, for years, has played Santa Claus to these youngsters, a labor of love that has reached the lives of thousands of young people who, as a result of this man's efforts, have been in touch with "Santa Claus" these many Christmases.

Concluding this well-deserved tribute to a man who continually goes about doing good, were the remarks of Dr. J. S. Gallinger, state president of B'nai B'rith, who praised Mr. Richards for his works and bestowed upon him honorary membership in B'nai B'rith.

President Coleman, with additional praise of his many services to his community, presented Mr. Richards with the Community Service Award that contained appreciation for all his good deeds and the contributions of the past 40 years.

Mr. Richards, visibly affected, spoke briefly in expressing his thanks for the honors paid to him during this occasion which, he insisted, were far beyond what he deserved.

Other guests included Miss Adra Winkelman, Mrs. Don Holt, Mrs. Rufus Hibbert, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hatfield.

Religious Week Is Observed At FSC

Florence State College began Religious Emphasis Week Tuesday morning with a convocation of the student body at ten o'clock. Dr. Peter A. Bertocci spoke on "Security or Creative Insecurity?"

The Rev. Louis T. McCulloch led a forum on "Social Darwinism in American Thought" at 3 o'clock that afternoon.

Religious Emphasis Week is an annual event on the college campus, planned by a committee of faculty and students as a time of intellectual and spiritual challenge. The conferences have no denominational bent, and there are no evangelistic overtones.

Through the years, the program has brought outstanding theologians and laymen to the campus and has provided faculty and students a stimulus in questioning and reasoning.

Dr. Bertocci, an accepted authority in the field of marriage counseling whose books on the subject are judged by many as the very best available, led forums on marriage, which were opened only to married students. The meetings are a special feature of Religious Emphasis Week and attracted much interest this year.

Dr. Bertocci has been a Fulbright research scholar in both Italy and India. He is a graduate of Boston University, received his Master of Arts degree from Harvard and his Ph.D. degree from Boston. He now holds the chair of Borden Parker Bowne Professor of Philosophy at Boston University.

The Rev. Mitchell, curate of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Mount Airy, Ala., is a graduate of Columbia University and Virginia Seminary. He is widely known for his work with college students.

Dr. Bertocci spoke again at a convocation Wednesday and will speak again today. The Rev. Mitchell continued discussions of social Darwinism, and both leaders participated in question and conversation sessions Tuesday and Wednesday night.

Church Ceremony Unites Miss Rogers, Mr. Utley

A tall arch starred with white tapers and entwined with greenery and arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar of Killen Church of Christ for the Saturday evening wedding of Glenda Faye Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelsie Rogers, and Thomas Utley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. Utley of Corinth, Mississippi.

Following appropriate vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Barry Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Harriman, the half past six o'clock vows were read by Wilbert C. Quillen, minister of Haleyville Church of Christ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie designed with close-fitting bodice and full, floor-length skirt. Scallops edged the neckline of the lace yoke and brief sleeves and appliques of the lace complemented the skirt. A crown of sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil of double illusion and with her white Bible she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of her bridegroom.

Wearing red velvet frocks with capellets and wide cummerbunds, the bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. W. H. Reeves of Nashville, Miss Bettie Kirkland of Tusculum, Miss Gayle Stutts, Miss Patsy Cox and Mrs. Herbert Mangum. Bonita Rogers and Vicki Reeves, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Red velvet bows were their headresses and red and white carnations, their flowers.

James Lee Utley of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, attended his brother as best man; groomsmen were Julian Wade and Thomas Brown of Florence, Aubrey Rogers, brother of the bride, and Bailey Marion of Birmingham.

Mrs. Rogers chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of slate blue, matching accessories and a corsage

Premium Waived After 6 Months Total Disability

Total disability for six consecutive months is necessary before the Veterans Administration can grant waiver of premium on GI life insurance policies issued during and following World War II.

This reminder that the disability waiver of premium on government insurance policies (NSLI) is not automatic came today from John D. Chapman, Contact Officer at the VA Regional Office in Montgomery, as a result of the large number of inquiries reaching the VA in recent weeks.

Chapman reminded veterans who become totally disabled that they must apply in writing to the VA to have their premium payments waived, and continue making premium payments until the VA notifies them of its approval of waiver.

When the VA agrees that the disability has been total "for insurance purposes" for at least six months, premiums paid from the date the waiver was made effective will be refunded and premiums suspended for the duration of the total disability, regardless of the duration, Chapman explained.

However, Chapman cautioned, the disability must begin before age 60.

After waiver of premium is granted, the policy is still eligible for annual dividends and the insurance stays in force at full face value the same as under premium-paying conditions.

THE SPILLWAY

We tell of the news that is happy and bright; And we NEVER report out of spite.

RUNNING TRUE TO FORM was the de-lightful luncheon party at the Jewett Flagg home last week, hosted by Charlotte and Hilda Shipper. Gourmet dishes, a lovely background AND the most charming of guest lists comprising mostly old-time Florentines, but with two of our favorite "newcomers"—Gwen Kiester and June Coleman... No surprise that "the party was a huge success."

There're MANY WAYS TO CELEBRATE major events and young Lisa Johnson tried two of them this past week... First, she celebrated her third birthday with an "informal" party at the home of her parents, Jimmy and Lynn, inviting her pigtailed friends to enjoy cake 'n' ice cream with her... then joined big-brother-Woody on a trip to Birmingham for an appointment with granddaddy Parsons, to have him remove their offending tonsils. We congratulate Lisa (along with Woody) on TWO accomplishments.

A VERY NICE TRIBUTE to one who deserves it was the presentation on Sunday evening of the Outstanding Citizen award by the local B'nai B'rith Lodge to Henry Grady Richards, known to many of our citizens as "Mr. Gilbert School." We were pleased-and-delighted to hear all about it and we'll add our congratulations to Grady for the occasion... Just wish we'd been there to hear all the tributes that were paid this man who's meant so much to our city. Hear that Santa Claus was there (most ably personified by Max Levinson) and that Doris, Grady's better half, was heard to say, after all the bouquets had been thrown, that she was afraid that she was going to have a little trouble persuading this Outstanding Citizen to attend to HIS more menial, but nevertheless essential, household chores (the garbage MUST go out) until he comes back down from the clouds.

OUR FAVORITE ROLE — as Cupid's reporter — is always fun... so we hasten to tell you what we've just heard... that one of our handsome AND prominent attorneys is REALLY "that way" over a mighty pretty blonde. 'S very interesting.

ON THE BEAUTY FRONT... we'd say that the management at Marshall's-of-Florence has a good advertisement for its raison d'être in the beauty of its employees... especially noted lately in the addition of a high school Diversified Occupations student there to "learn the ropes" as part of her high school work... the "pretty young thing" being Marcia Williams. BACK HOME, and with lots to talk about, are Mildred Russell, who's been up Columbus way to visit the (now TWO) grandchildren—"the cutest yet" (and, incidentally, to see daughter-Ann and Joe Archer)... and Virginia Turner, back from a short visit with daughter-Ginger, a Freshman at Randolph Macon, in Lynchburg.

As usual, we enjoyed Director Glad Shepherd's Florence State Rehearsal Club presentation of "The Skin of Our Teeth"... as did MANY others. 'Twas nice seeing Alums back for the occasion... Jim Moore of the Muscle Shoals City schools even escorted several of his students there... and his French teacher, the charming Cathy Cariotaka, was there with her French class.

IT'S LIEUTENANT COLONEL Jewett T. Flagg now... and our local industrial rates a proper salute... for his new rank plus other accomplishments... and all of this was recognized by Georgia's Governor Vandiver recently... our congrats to Jewett... And so they sew no more... at least so we've heard... the "exclusive" Friday sewing club has disbanded...

A REMINDER: Don't be confused, as we were... there's a new library policy at the Florence-Lauderdale Public Library... no renewals on books... BUT you CAN keep your books out for three weeks now. What would we do without our fine library?

WHICH WAS MORE FUN, the show on the stage, or the one within the audience? We'll admit the Mobile Civic Ballet presentation was fine indeed, but we loved watching the audience, too... Eve (Flautt) McCamy there with not only daughter Ann, but Ann's little cousins from Decatur, Karen and Bob Flautt... Phyllis Morley, giving little Barbara her first lesson in using opera glasses... Virginia Hill, with her two PRE-pre-schoolers, who, in spite of their years, seemed to be "taking it all in."

SEE YOU TONIGHT at the exciting (we just KNOW) production of "Mary Stuart."

AND... UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW!

Helpful Indians Inspire Colonists To Give Thanks

Two Indians with an English accent deserve much of the credit for the first Thanksgiving in America.

They taught the Plymouth colonists how to make a home in the New World and helped them establish a peace that lasted for more than 50 years.

The first to approach the colonists was Samoset, a chief of the Pemaquid Indians. He walked into the colony one day in March, 1621, and unsettled the settlers by addressing them in English. Samoset, it turned out, had earlier met some English fishermen along the coast of Maine and learned some of the language from them.

Two weeks later Samoset dropped in with his friend Squanto, a well-traveled brave of the Pawtuxet tribe. Squanto had been to England twice, once after having been kidnapped and sold as a slave in Spain by an English sea captain. He had returned to America in 1619.

Samoset introduced the colonists to Massasoit, chief of the Plymouth area. With Squanto acting as interpreter, the chief and the Pilgrims concluded a treaty of friendship that lasted until Massasoit died in 1661.

Meanwhile Squanto went to live with the colonists, teaching them how to plant corn, pumpkins and beans and showing them where to fish.

That year the Pilgrims had a bountiful harvest and Governor William Bradford declared the celebration that became the first Thanksgiving.

Dr. Langstaff Is Guest Speaker At Exchange Meeting

Dr. Quintus A. Langstaff, of Florence, member of the Lauderdale County Medical Society and chairman of the speakers bureau of that organization, addressed the Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon on: "What We Have Reason to Be Proud of in Our Hospital Facilities and Exceptionally Well-Trained Doctors at Our Service." Bert Darby was in charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Dr. Langstaff actually took Coffee Memorial Hospital "apart" to explain to the club members and guests the many departments and services at our local hospital which were much finer than found in any city of the size of Florence which, records show, have made this community a medical center for miles around. He told of this 200 bed hospital and what it now offers and showed that there was now little need for anyone to seek hospital services elsewhere.

Dr. Langstaff, a native of Paducah, Ky., is a graduate of Duke Medical School. He served in the Army Air Force during World War II and came to Florence two-and-a-half years ago where he is associated in the practice of his profession with Dr. John Rice.

Dr. Langstaff also gave a run-down on the doctors that are serving this county explaining the specialty of each and pointed out that very few needs as a medical center had been overlooked. He said that we need a neuro-surgeon, a mental branch of the hospital, and an interne program at the hospital.

Judge John D. Petree and Dr. Glenn Gallien, Jr. were guests.

Loans Available To Farm Groups And Communities

Loan funds are available to eligible Lauderdale County farmers who wish to develop water supply systems for irrigation, household use and livestock; to drain farm land; and to carry out soil conservation measures; reports Robert H. Howard, Chairman of the local Farmers Home Administration county committee.

Lauderdale County farmers may obtain water development and soil conservation loans to drill wells and otherwise improve water supply systems for irrigation, home use and livestock; purchase pumps, sprinkler systems and other irrigation equipment; acquire a water supply or water right; construct and repair ponds and tanks, ditches and canals for irrigation; dig ditches and install tile to drain farm land; make other related improvements.

Loans may also be obtained to clear and level land; carry out basic land treatment practices including liming, fertilizing, and seeding; sub-soil or sod land; purchase posts, wire, other fencing materials; plant trees; establish permanent pastures.

To be eligible for a water development and soil conservation loan, a farmer must be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms from private and cooperative lenders.

Further details about water development and soil conservation loans may be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration office located at 605 South Seminary Street.

For Water and Soil
Rural communities together with neighboring farmers may also obtain loans from the Farmers Home Administration to develop the water resources they need according to Cecil C. Mixon, the agency's local county supervisor.

An association loan for water development or soil conservation purposes may be made for as much as $1,000,000 if the funds are supplied by a private lender and insured by the Farmers Home Administration, or up to $500,000 if made from direct funds appropriated by the Congress, Mr. Mixon said.

Water development and soil conservation loans may be used to finance water supply reservoirs, rural water supply distribution systems, pumps, pumping plants, pipelines and other facilities necessary for an adequate water system. These loans may also be made to develop or improve soil con-

Faye Emerson Is Co-Star In Play At Coffee Tonight

The production of Mary Stuart will be presented tonight at Coffee Auditorium at 8:15 as an independent venture of William Lile Harris. The play is not one of the series of the Muscle Shoals Concert Association of which Mr. Harris is president.

Faye Emerson and Eva Le Gallienne are scheduled to arrive today by private limousine with a chartered bus bringing the remainder of the cast. All will lodge at the Holiday Inn.

The National Repertory Theatre is bringing Schiller's masterpiece to all America in a brand new production designed for audiences across the nation.

The production also stars Scott Forbes, known to millions of television viewers as "Jim Bowie" and husband of Colbert County's Jeanne Moody, and features Frederick Worlock, whose name has appeared on countless marquees from coast to coast as the star of the National Company of "J.B."

"Mary Stuart" adapted by John Reich and Jean Stock Goldstone from Schiller's play, enacts the passionate struggle between two queens for the British throne in the sixteenth century. The iron-willed and tormented Queen Elizabeth is played by Eva Le Gallienne, and the sensitive and sensuous Mary, Queen of Scots by Faye Emerson.

As New York critic Brooks Atkinson wrote, "Mary Stuart" represents the power and bravura of heroic drama at its best, big scenes, bold ventures, dreadful climaxes, melodrama and tragedy. It is a tale of giants calculated to make the theatergoer sit on the edge of his seat.

Measures such as the construction and repair of terraces, dikes, ponds and tanks, ditches and canals for drainage, waterways and erosion control structures.

An organization desiring to obtain an association loan or individuals interested in forming an association for the purpose of obtaining a loan may contact County Supervisor Cecil C. Mixon.

Byrd Is Speaker At Quarterback Session Monday

H. C. (Curly) Byrd, who played college football from 1905 to 1908 and coached the University of Maryland from 1912 to 1934, addressed the Tri-Cities Quarterback Club at the Florence Golf and Country Club Monday night, talking mainly on the comparative formations in the game today and yesterday.

Calling upon the Quarterback members to "defend football with a complete understanding of what is being done," he said he wished all college teachers in the classrooms were as competent as the coach on the field, and if they were, the students would go out into the world better prepared.

Lauding Alabama's Bear Bryant, Byrd said Bryant, who coached at Maryland, left there because he wanted to come to Alabama and saw in moving to Kentucky a step in that direction.

"The claims of new developments in football amaze me," Byrd confided. "Actually," he said, "practically no new changes have come into football since 1905. Football is basically the same today as when I played," he advised.

Howell Heflin, Chairman of the Quarterback Club, presided over the session and introduced guests including Lawrence Holley, a visitor from Vancouver, Wash.

Buch Marsh, who introduced the speaker, announced that Billy Hitchcock would be on the program on November 20 at Skypark, and Benny Marshall, Birmingham News Sports Editor, would talk on November 27, the meeting just preceding the Auburn-Alabama game.

Plans were also listed for a charter member night to be held on November 27 in connection with Marshall's appearance.

Pat Trammell and Billy Neighbors of the Alabama Crimson Tide are scheduled to be guests on December 5.

Farmers spend more than $530,000,000 annually for seed in the U.S.

Alabama producers will gross a cotton income of $125 million from the 900,000-acre crop this year, as compared with $135 million from 860,000 acres last year.

Full Account Of Office Expenses Released By Call

Lauderdale County Sheriff Roy Lee Call Saturday released figures from his office showing the net income for tax purposes for 1959 and 1960 of $5,933.58 and $8,525.31 respectively. Gross income before expenses of the office were listed at $15,211.66 in 1959 and $22,484.64 for 1960.

Sheriff Call said in releasing the figures, that the Lauderdale County Republicans had access to these figures "the very first time they came into my office."

The GOP group has advocated changing the compensation of certain county offices from the fee system to a salary basis and the combining of the tax assessor and tax collector offices.

Sheriff Call said, members of the group reviewed the figures but later stated they had been refused the information. He added that so much had been in the papers he felt the general public should know the figures.

Sheriff Call stated that he did not favor the fee system for any law enforcement agency. "I feel that any law enforcement is a public service and I feel it should be a tax burden just the same as your fire departments and police agencies and not set up as a money-making operation."

He further stated that he did not see how, with the overload on both the tax assessor and tax collector, a reasonable person could favor combining these two offices.

In his financial statement Saturday Sheriff Call listed major expenses during 1959 of over $9,000 including such items as gas and oil, $2,904.79; repairs to automobiles, $530.22; tags and taxes, $112.21; salaries for secretary and cook, $2,989; meals and guards for trips, $495; interest on note of $1,592.

Expenses for 1960 were listed as follows:
In 1960, after showing gross income of $22,484.64 and net income for tax purposes of $8,525.31, the sheriff listed these expenses among others: gasoline and oil $3,924.41; repairs on automobiles, $1,001.38; salaries for secretary and cook, $3,233; interest on financing car and home, $947.59; meals and guards on trips, $598.94; depreciation on cars, $3,072.50.

forecast for ENERGY

America's rapidly growing population will consume twice as much energy by 1980

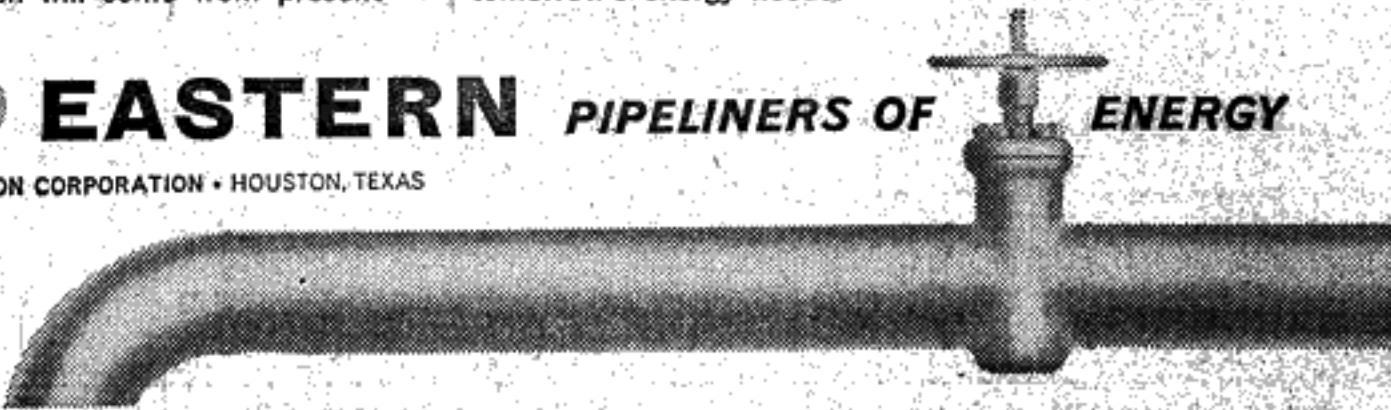

Glance at the second hand on your watch. Each seventh second a baby is born in the U.S.—more than four million a year. We'll have half again as many citizens by 1980. And, our need for energy grows even faster than our population. By 1980 the nation will need twice the energy being consumed today.

Where will it come from? Much will come from present energy sources, some from new ones. Whatever the source, a large share of energy in its most efficient and usable forms will be transported via pipelines. Texas Eastern's natural gas pipelines, stretching from the Mexican border to the Atlantic Seaboard, have capacity to fuel thousands of factories and heat millions of homes. Our Little Big Inch pipeline system, largest of its kind, delivers liquid petroleum products from Gulf Coast refineries to Midwest markets. Looking to the future, Texas Eastern is growing and diversifying today to meet tomorrow's energy needs.

SPORTS

Coffee 6, Etowah Co. 0

The Coffee Yellow Jackets ripped by the Etowah County Blue Devils Friday night with a 6-0 victory before some 4,000 fans at Coffee Stadium. They now head into the final two contests of the season with a 6-1-1 record, the first being with Butler of Huntsville and then Sheffield on Thanksgiving Day.

The Blue Devils moved within striking distance of the Coffee goal a couple of times, but each effort was thrown back by the defenders.

Fullback George Gresham, turning in another fine game, was the touchdown maker with an eight yard slant over tackle as 30 seconds remained in the third quarter. His attempted kick for the seventh point was blocked.

Morgan Co. 27, Rogersville 6

The tough Morgan County Tigers defeated the Lauderdale County Bengals of Coach Max Burleson, 27-6, Friday night at Rogersville.

The Morgan County Tigers did not score until the second quarter, which was well after the Rogersville score. The victors scored twice in the second quarter, one in the third, and again in the fourth to climax the win for them.

Jim Embry carried the pigskin to paydirt for Rogersville after a 33 yard pass from quarterback Gross. Roger Hamner's attempt to run the conversion failed.

Rogers 12, Central 6

The Rogers Pirates at Greenhill turned the last two and a half minutes of play into a ball game Friday night to come from behind and defeat the Central High School Wildcats with a score of 12-6.

With the score six to zero against them, with the ball in the hands of the Wildcats, and with only two minutes and 35 seconds left to play they accomplished the incredible feat of pushing across two touchdowns without gaining a single yard in rushing.

Tommy Brown and Randall Holden did outstanding defensive work for the Pirates. Holden, a guard, grabbed one of the Wildcat fumbles and scampered to the winning touchdown in the waning moments of the game.

FSC 14, Austin Peay 8

Two first half touchdowns and a clutch defense when the chips were down proved the combination for victory Saturday afternoon, as the Florence State Lions turned back the Austin Peay Governors 14-8 at Coffee Stadium.

Wingback Joe Morrow and Freshman End Don Beddingfield accounted for the Florence State touchdowns, while Bob Jackson put the two PAT's on the score board from placement.

The Lions close out the campaign Saturday afternoon at Martin, Tenn., against the U-T Martin Branch Vols.

Athens Completes Treatment Plant

With the recent completion of a sewage treatment plant at Athens, the problem of domestic sewage pollution of the Tennessee River in Alabama has been largely eliminated, according to the Alabama Water Improvement Commission.

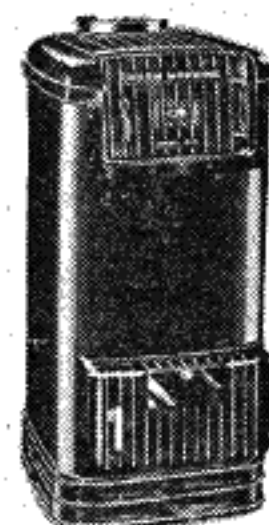

Bolton said this installation represents another step forward in the Water Improvement Commission's program in recent years to remove domestic pollution from the Tennessee River in Alabama. He said that for several years such pollution was heavy in localized areas and prevented fullest use of the Tennessee River waters for water sports.

Other Alabama municipalities in the Tennessee Valley area which have built treatment plants include Tuscumbia, Florence, Scottsboro, Hartselle, Decatur, Guntersville, Albertville, Huntsville, Moulton, and Russellville. Muscogee

Better Bowling

Equipment is important

One can't expect to become a good bowler when using a different ball each week and rented shoes.

The first (and perhaps most important) step in improving your game is having your own ball and shoes.

Your own ball is custom fitted to your hand; therefore, using it over and over, makes it easier to practice fundamentals.

Your own shoes are a must. When your feet are comfortable, you can concentrate on your game alone. Shoes which slide up and down on your heels build tension which distracts.

Construction Of Boys' Ranch Will Start In January

Lauderdale County Sheriff Roy L. Call, who addressed the Lauderdale County Coordinating Council Tuesday evening, told the group construction at the Alabama Sheriffs Boys Ranch at Safford, Dallas County, is scheduled to begin in January, 1962.

"The first buildings will house 18 boys and the house parents," he said. "We expect that the first boys will arrive in August or September, 1962. Certainly, they will be there in time for school."

He explained that boys home would be greatly self-supporting and that it is a private undertaking with no governmental connections of any nature. It is planned that the boys will raise corn, garden truck, and other crops as well as hogs and cattle. The ranch has 400 acres at its disposal at present.

He told the group that the Alabama Sheriffs Association, which is sponsoring the boys ranch, expected to receive only "neglected" boys for the home. Each boy will be assigned his duties and receive an allowance plus other pay for special duties.

Maximum capacity for the ranch is expected to be in the neighborhood of 250 boys. Maximum age will be 12 years and the minimum six or eight.

Total Of 83 Years

Red Cross Staff Has Long Record Of Service

EIGHTY-THREE YEARS OF SERVICE—These three workers have served the Florence area Red Cross office for an aggregate total of some 83 years. They are, from left to right: Mrs. Charles E. Nance, executive secretary, with 43 years; Aaron Lynch, chapter chairman with nine years, and Mrs. Laura Ruth, home service secretary, with 31 years.

The Lauderdale County Chapter of American Red Cross is staffed by two ladies, Mrs. Charles E. Nance and Mrs. Laura Ruth, with a total of 74 years of service. The Chairman, Aaron M. Lynch, is also experienced in Red Cross affairs, having been active for 9 years.

Mrs. Nance, the Executive Secretary, began her Red Cross work as a volunteer in Junior Red Cross in Roanoke, Virginia, in 1918. Then, during the 1920's she engaged in fund raising in Russellville, Alabama.

Mrs. Nance did her first professional work on the National Red Cross staff in 1936, as a disaster case worker. While in this assignment, she was in charge of follow-up work on disaster cases in the Tupelo, Mississippi tornado of that year.

In 1937-41, Mrs. Nance was Executive Secretary of the Lee County, Mississippi Chapter with headquarters in Tupelo. From 1941 to 1943, she served in the same capacity in the Chapters in Lauderdale and Colbert Counties.

The next eight years were spent as a Field Representative on the staffs of the Norfolk and Atlanta Area Headquarters. She accepted her present position of Lauderdale Chapter Executive Secretary in 1951.

Mrs. Ruth, Home Service Secretary, joined the staff of the local chapter in 1944 and has served continuously since that time. Her first Red Cross work, however, was in 1930 when she was a staff and welfare aide in Darlington, South Carolina.

As President of the Gilbert School Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Ruth did her first volunteer work in Florence. Under her leadership, the PTA sponsored work in first aid, home nursing, nutrition, surgical dressings and bandages.

Mrs. Ruth was on loan to American National Red Cross following the Kentucky floods of 1954, the Mississippi-Alabama-Louisiana tornado of 1957, and the Ohio Valley floods of 1958.

The Chairman, Aaron Lynch, has been active in the local Chapter since moving to Florence in 1952. "The majority of my service to Red Cross has been in the blood recruitment program," he added.

Lynch served a term as Chairman of the Sub-Regional Blood Program, including Northwest Alabama and Northwest Mississippi. In recognition of his Sub-Regional work he was presented an Award of Service by the Birmingham Blood Center. For two years, he was Blood Chairman for the local Chapter.

Now in his fourth year as a member of the Board of Directors, he was Vice-Chairman of the Board for two years prior to his elevation to the Chairmanship in July. He was the Official Delegate to the National Red Cross Convention in Atlantic City in 1959.

Foods of the Future

GET "FORTY WINKS" MORE - WITH PRE-FRIED BACON

Soon you may be able to get an additional "forty winks" of beauty sleep in the morning, because your bacon will be deliciously fried and ready-to-serve when you pop open a can. Only a few seconds of re-heating would be required—and the same would be true of other breakfast meats such as ham, chicken livers and sliced salt pork.

Food scientists have developed a surprisingly wide variety of new pre-cooked canned meats which—as the crew of the submarine "Nautilus" expressed it—"are better than most fresh meats." And sailors ought to know! Many changes will improve foods of the future, but BEER and ALE will continue as "old stand-bys" in countless American homes. These wholesome beverages always will go well with many foods—canned or otherwise!

of these mills may be authorized at a subsequent election or elections held hereunder, and the special tax may be levied at such rate as may be reduced in rate pursuant to subsequent election or elections held hereunder, it being the intention hereof that the power of the governing body of Mobile County to call elections hereunder, and its duty to call them upon receipt of petition as here provided, shall be continuous, subject only to the requirement that not more than one election may be held hereunder during any period of twelve consecutive months. All elections held under the provisions of this amendment shall be called, held, conducted, and canvassed in such manner as the governing body of Mobile County shall prescribe.

"D. Not later than February 1 in each year for which the special tax may be authorized hereunder to be levied, the board will certify to the governing body of Mobile County the rate of the special tax, not exceeding the rate at the time authorized by vote of the qualified electors of Mobile County as herein provided that the board has determined should be levied in order to supply the funds needed for public hospital purposes during the next ensuing fiscal year of the board. During the month of February in each such year the governing body of Mobile County shall levy the special tax at such rate as may be certified by the board to be necessary, up to but not exceeding the rate then authorized as aforesaid, and the special tax so levied shall be due and payable on the first day of October 1. If the board should fail to make such certification with respect to the rate to be levied in any year, the governing body of Mobile County shall levy the special tax for that year at the maximum rate then authorized by vote of the qualified electors of the county as herein provided. All moneys derived from the collection of the special tax (whether or not the board has made such certification) shall be paid over to the board as received and used by the board for public hospital purposes in the county. The board shall not be required to make such certification or to issue any order or other securities of the board and may pledge for payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon not exceeding 75% of the annual proceeds from the special tax. All such pledges of the special tax shall take precedence in the order in which they are made and shall create a charge on the special tax prior to the expenses of operation and maintenance of any public hospital facilities. Bonds and other securities issued by the board, including those that may be issued in anticipation of the special tax and also any other securities issued by the board, shall not be deemed to constitute debts of Mobile County within the meaning of Section 224 of the constitution and shall not be construed to be bonds of the county or of any political subdivision thereof within the meaning of Section 222 of the constitution.

"E. The rate of ad valorem taxation for general county purposes that is at the time otherwise permitted by the constitution to each particular municipal corporation in Mobile County shall be reduced for the year of the municipality next succeeding any tax year of Mobile County for which the special tax shall have been levied at a rate exceeding one and one-half mills on each dollar of taxable property in the county, any such reduction to be by a rate of millage equal to the rate of millage by which the special tax so levied shall exceed one and one-half mills on each dollar of taxable property in the county.

"F. The rate of ad valorem taxation for general county purposes that is at the time otherwise permitted by the constitution to each particular municipal corporation in Mobile County shall be reduced for the year of the municipality next succeeding any tax year of Mobile County for which the special tax shall have been levied at a rate exceeding one and one-half mills on each dollar of taxable property in the county, any such reduction to be by a rate of millage equal to the rate of millage by which the special tax so levied shall exceed one and one-half mills on each dollar of taxable property in the county, whichever shall be the lesser reduction.

"G. The rate of that certain ad valorem tax authorized Amendment XVIII to the constitution, as amended by Amendment XLII, and provided for also in those amendments to the constitution known as Amendments LX, C, CXXII, and CLII and in the constitutional amendment proposed by that certain act of the 1961 Regular Session of the Legislature of Alabama that was introduced in the said Legislature as House Bill 1067 shall be reduced, for each tax year for which the special tax shall have been levied at a rate exceeding one mill on each dollar of taxable property in the county, any such reduction to be by a rate of millage equal to the rate by which the special tax so levied for that year exceeds one mill on each dollar of taxable property, whichever shall be the lesser reduction.

"H. Mobile County and each municipal corporation therein are hereby prohibited from making any appropriation or payment to the board during any tax year of the county in which the special tax shall be collected, except to provide funds for constructing and equipping public hospital facilities, unless any such appropriation or payment shall have been authorized by a majority of the qualified electors of the political subdivision proposing to make such appropriation or payment at an election held on the question in the said political subdivision."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 5th day of December, 1961 upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 5th day of December 1961, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months from final adjournment of the 1961 Regular Session of the Legislature will be and occur on Tuesday, December 5, 1961; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

"St. Clair County and the incorporated municipalities therein, jointly or severally, after an election held in accordance herewith shall have full and continuing power and authority to:

"1. Purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind, or to, to any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever;

Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 2 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the county or municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment;

"6. Levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property after collection of said taxes may be used for the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted; provided, that payments of the proceeds of said tax to said public corporation shall be made only to such extent as will not result in the impairment of the obligation of any contract theretofore made with respect to said tax. Said public corporation may anticipate the proceeds from said tax so required to be paid to it by issuing, for any one or more of the purposes for which the tax shall have been voted, the bonds, warrants, or certificates of indebtedness of said corporation, and may pledge for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon a sufficient amount of the annual proceeds from said tax so paid to it;

"7. Create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board of directors, and subject to such limitations as the governing body of St. Clair County may impose, by adopting and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board of directors all the powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon the county or any municipality;

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any project under this amendment, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of St. Clair County or any municipality therein for the purpose of determining their borrowing capacity under Sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in Sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

STATE FARMERS FACE LOW VOLUME PROBLEM

Alabama farmers face the problem of low volume of production. Sam Doughty, Auburn Extension farm and home development specialist, says that most farm businesses do not produce a sufficient volume of crops and livestock to return enough income, after production costs, to provide a satisfactory level of family living.

Due to the cost-price-squeeze, says Doughty, production costs are taking about three-fourths of their gross farm income.

So he adds, farmers increase their total volume of production to keep their heads above water.
