

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Monday is election day and we will be called on to select a member of the City Commission to serve in the post filled so capably during the past three years by Commissioner George J. Green, who is not now a candidate. Last year only 1,770 took the time and trouble, if it be, to go to the polls in the municipal election and cast their ballots. It is a sin and a shame that the citizens of our city and county do not value this privilege, as well as duty, more highly. Should there be a threat that this taken-for-granted right-to-vote be denied us, we imagine there would be a rush to the polls. It could happen, you know.

A man who has two wives to support may not be married to both. It may be that his son got married.

We are truly pleased that our county schools will open for the new term on Friday. The uncertainty of the past several weeks has had a most depressing effect on everyone interested in education and this, certainly, includes all of us. It is sincerely hoped that everyone will join in all efforts to assure a full nine-months term this and all future terms. With the new facilities that have been completed and are now being added, along with a fine teaching staff, Lauderdale County's rural system will continue to hold its high place among the school systems of the state.

According to old wives tales, when your palm itches, it's a sign that you are about to receive something. But, if your head itches—friend, you've got it.

The youngster was such an ardent viewer of mystery and shoot-em-up shows on TV that he actually began feeling and acting as if he was a part of each. In fact, it got hold of him so much that when he turns the dial from one mystery to the next he hesitates long enough to wipe his fingerprints off the dial. Safety first, you know.

The woman who applauds when her husband comes home at 3 a.m. singing at the top of his voice must certainly be a music lover. But, what woman applauds!

At the start of every football season, someone is certain to recall the game played in Atlanta on October 7, 1916 between Georgia Tech and Cumberland University. It was a close game—close to a record, that is—as Tech ended up with 222 points; Cumberland with 0. But, to this game should be added the one between Sewanee and the team representing Florence State Normal College, also played in 1916, when Sewanee barely squeaked by to victory by the score of 101 to 0.

As we watch the high powered and high speed boats on the lake, as well as the popular sail boats, we sigh as we realize all the romance is gone from canoeing.

A person who had been enjoying the luxury of psychiatry treatments was the life of the party and all her friends were so pleased with the apparent improvement. "Yes, psychiatry certainly has helped me," she said. "A few months ago, when the phone rang, I was afraid to answer it. Now I answer it whether it rings or not."

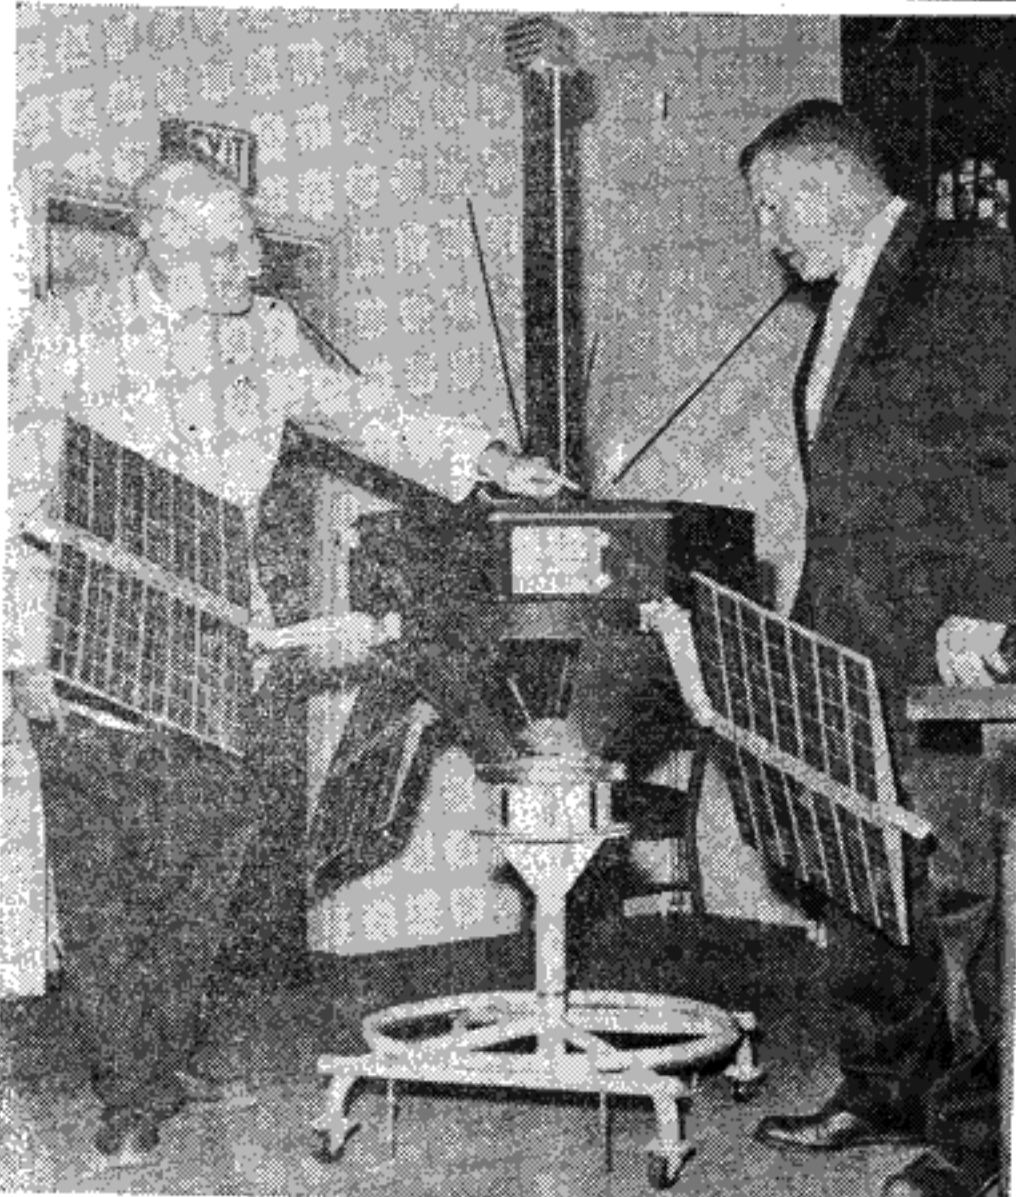

A friend tells us that his three-year-old youngster was truly miffed the other day. He dug a hole in the backyard and discovered he couldn't bring it in the house.

With the battle being waged by Maris and Mantle to break Babe Ruth's home run record grabbing the headlines away from the cold war (except for the interloper Carla, the expected Battle of Berlin has been shunted to an inconspicuous spot on Page 10).

The judge who said that nasty books are not a factor in the corruption of delinquent youth is one hundred per cent correct. Delinquents don't read anything.

A duck owned by a Tona-wanda, N. Y., boy won the title of "Happiest Pet," in a contest, after he had broken away from his young master and eaten a frog, two worms and a cricket. They were all contestants.

The husband, peevish beyond but a few words, asked his wife why women were made so beautiful and yet so dumb. She simply replied: "Well, I'll tell you, my sweet. We were made dumb so we could love men."

Many New Attractions

Twenty-Seventh Annual Fair Opens On Monday

Showing for the first time at the North Alabama State Fair opening Monday in Florence, will be a herd of Santa Gertrudis cattle from Arkansas. This addition to the fine livestock show is evidence of the wide spread interest in the fair which has grown in recent years, to the number two place in the state, being only exceeded in size by the State Fair in Birmingham.

The remodeling and modernizing of the grandstand and main exhibit halls plus extensive additions to the rapidly expanding agricultural department, has entailed the expenditure of many thousands of dollars over the past several years as the fair management has endeavored to provide additional comfort and space for its patrons to enjoy the event.

As the gates open Monday at Fair Park for six big days and nights of fun and relaxation, it will mark the fair's 27th consecutive year as the area's mirror of progress in agriculture, civic endeavor and industrial effort. As usual nothing has been spared to bring the best in entertainment to the fair and this year's edition promises to exceed previous efforts in this respect.

Grandstand Show
Twice daily before the big grandstand will be some of the nation's most famous stars in diving, riding, acrobatics, trapeze and other breathtaking acts. Included are the famous Hanniford bare-back riding troupe, Slivers Johnson and his comedy Ford, the Aqua Maniacs, the Victorians, Russell Paul duo, Olympic Sky-divers, The Wongs, Sam Howard and Company, and Marvin Boone, famous Emcee and comedian.

Each of the six days at the fair will feature special attractions.
Daily Attractions
Monday is Exhibitor's Day featuring displays by FFA, FHA and 4-H clubs and the awarding of the first of three automobiles.
Tuesday is Industrial Day with the annual Youth Talent show at 6:30 p.m. being the special feature for that day.

Wednesday's feature events will be the Tennessee Valley White Baby Show, judging of livestock and the awarding of the second automobile.
Thursday's big feature will be the awarding of a five-room house as a door prize at 7:30 p.m. This is (Continued on Page Two)

Israel Announces Literacy Classes, Teacher Workshop

Plans are now being made for reopening the new term for classes for the Literacy Movement of Muscle Shoals, according to Sam Israel, President. Classes will resume on September 25th with television lessons broadcast on the Muscle Shoals TV Cable, channel 5, Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week, at 6:30 p.m.

Improved Schedule
"This is a much better schedule than in the past, more convenient for both students and teachers," many more of our citizens who cannot now read and write will take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to better themselves through these valuable assets. The cost is negligible but the rewards are great. About 120 students enrolled last year, including about 40 who were studying the second course, and we look forward to a much greater enrollment this year.

Any person who is in need of this training and those who know of adults who are in need of it, are urged to contact the Literacy Movement office in an effort to enroll for the classes which will be held in the same locations as in previous years. The local office is being moved to the Municipal Building in Sheffield, new phone number EV 3-2495.

Carla Called Worst Blow Of Century

Although the century's worst storm, Hurricane Carla, was dying Tuesday after devastating large areas of the Gulf Coast of Texas and Louisiana, tornadoes following in wake of the big blow killed twelve persons and left additional millions in damage.

Hardest hit was Galveston where tornadic winds cut a path two blocks wide in the flooded city, killing six of the twelve and leveling some one hundred homes, including Hurricane Carla the tornadoes brought the total death list to 17. An undisclosed number were still missing as Red Cross crews and others labored to bring order out of the chaos and relieve the homeless, many of them without food or shelter.

The destruction wrought by Carla from Cameron, La., to Corpus Christi, Texas, is estimated to be at least $220,000,000.

Eye witnesses to the Hurricane's destructive force, with winds up to 173 miles an hour, said it pounded the coastline of Texas and Louisiana for six hours before veering off to the northwest. Many small towns that were not leveled by the terrific winds were floated away by the 13 to 15 foot tides that swept inland from the turbulent Gulf of Mexico.

Carla may have run up the biggest insurance loss in the nation's history, Darby Hammond, a Dallas insurance executive stated. He said it would take 4,000 to 5,000 claim adjusters to appraise the property damage.

Scout Roundup Is Launched In Area

In response to increased interest by boys of this area in Scouting, a "Space-Missile Roundup" membership drive was launched September 1, it was announced by Judge Emmett Roden, Council President of the Tennessee Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Under the "Space-Missile" theme, the 360 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units of the Tennessee Valley Council expect to welcome 1400 new members as a result of the "roundup." In many Scout units, the Scouts will invite friends along for hiking, camping or other trips to meet members of the unit and to experience some Scouting adventure. There will be open houses planned for the many boys interested in Scouting and their parents.

Judge Roden said that the roundup will give parents and boys a perfect opportunity to find out more Scouting and locate a unit for the boy to join. Interested parents are welcome to visit or write the Tennessee Valley Council at P. O. Drawer 39, or phone them at 536-6351, to find the locations of nearby Scout units.

BULLETIN

A group of 24 Senators sent an appeal to the House in an unprecedented appeal for the legislature to levy new state taxes for schools. The petition was directed to the House Ways and Means Committee shortly after the committee had killed all pending school tax measures. As for the congressional redistricting bill a Senate committee approved it but a millstone in the form of a no-voting machine amendment appeared likely to doom it a second time.

The Alabama Legislature opened its special session on Monday facing a flood of bills, large and small, but apparently its big concern was focused on the financial crisis facing the state government which was left without operating funds when the lawmakers adjourned a little over a week ago. This bill appeared headed for quick passage Wednesday.

One reason for the numerically high number of bills was the fact the governor was being pressured to keep the special session within the five-day limit needed to pass a bill and lawmakers hastened to get their pet bills in the legislative hopper on the opening day.

The regular session ended ten days ago with the Senate filibuster killing the redistricting bill which would have divided Jefferson County among four neighboring districts.

Naturally many other measures died in the crush or because House and Senate officers were unable to get around to them before adjournment.

Patterson listed only the general appropriations bill and supplementary measures in calling the special session. Any other bills such as the redistricting bill brought up at the special session would require a two-thirds majority for passage, it was explained.

BULLETIN

Following a similar action by the House last week the Senate Tuesday voted a two-year extension of Public Law 874 which provides Federal aid to schools with a substantial number of children of Federal employees. It also extended the National Defense Education Act for a like period. Under the impacted areas program Lauderdale County schools received $83,870 for the year 1960-61 and the City of Florence school system $81,120.

The question of the opening of Lauderdale County's rural school system for the 1961-1962 term was settled Monday night at a meeting of the Lauderdale County Teachers Association called by that body at Killen School to act upon a proposal of the Board of Education. The vote of 115 to 36, with some two dozen abstaining, in favor of the proposal as presented by Superintendent Allen Thornton and Board Chairman Harold May, brought the immediate announcement that all schools in the system would open for registration Friday morning at 8 o'clock and that regular classes would begin on Monday morning at the same hour.

Report Given
In presenting a detailed report on the finances that are assured the Board by the state and from local effort for the upcoming term, Mr. Thornton showed that there was a shortage of funds of $80,000 with an accumulated debt of over $200,000 (that must be met by Oct. 15) that prevented a guarantee of a nine-months school term, however, he said, "We will pay the same salary for each month's work that was paid last term and no teacher or employee will be asked to work one day without full pay."

The question as to the operation of the rural schools for the current term came to a climax on Thursday night, August 31, when the county teachers met at Killen School and voted 179 to 0 not to return to the classrooms unless they were guaranteed a salary equal to that of last term and a contract of not less than nine months, also that certain facilities, such as utility bills, be again assumed by the Board of Education. At that time the State Legislature had not passed the school budget bill and the Board was in no position to make any definite proposal. The date of the opening of the schools had been necessarily postponed from the announced date of August 28 to September 25 pending the action of the Legislature.

The vote Monday night came after a discussion lasting some two hours with numerous questions asked of Mr. Thornton and W. C. Hannah, president of the Teachers Association and the presiding officer at the meeting. It was shown by Mr. Thornton that the Board, in making its proposal, had gone its limit and that no guarantee of a nine-months school term could be made. But, he said, if the proposed 5-mill school fund tax that will be voted on by the state-at-large on December 5th is then later approved in a local election, the funds obtained, estimated at $75,000 annually, would not only assure a full nine-months term for 1961-1962 but would make it possible to guarantee future terms of this length.

Five-Mill Tax
Mr. May, speaking for the Board members, told the teachers that he believed that the people of the county, always supporters of the schools, would not hesitate to approve the 5-mill school tax when given the opportunity to vote but should the voters turn down this small tax that means the life of our schools that somewhere, somehow and in some manner sufficient funds for keeping the school going the full term would come. It was stressed, however, that anything less than a continuing fund would mean only temporary relief and for that reason the Board was not in favor (Continued on Page Two)

Will Brazil Be Next?

As we have stated before all unrest in the world cannot be blamed on the Communists. However we do know that the Communists will not fail to take advantage of any civil strife wherever it may be in order to advance its cause. So naturally we must ask the question... will Brazil be next?

Larger than the United States in area and with potential riches beyond the realm of imagination, this nation "south of the border" could well become a second Cuba and perhaps seal our fate as a free country forever.

The Brazilian constitution has specified that vice president Joao Goulart may assume the presidency since the president has resigned. The ex-president, Janos Quadros, was a self-avowed supporter of Fidel Castro though he had not exhibited too radical a stand.

However the big thing at present is whether or not Brazil can survive inflation and deficit spending, plus a mounting poverty and a need for many economic reforms under the leadership of a man like Goulart, who is already beset with many opposing factions.

Goulart like Quadros is an enigma. He has been to China for a look-see at that country's progress under Red leader Mao Tse-tung whom he has praised for his "success."

Can it be that "Democracy" has failed so miserably to meet the social and economic demands of this continent that presumably intelligent men must journey to Red China for new ideas? Certainly Quadros' endorsement of Castro and Goulart's praise of Mao are not altogether digestible. Both have sinister aspects.

We should not be too long to finding out the score in Brazil. Tomorrow may be too late.

Watch Out For The Children

Labor Day, September 4th was the climax of the 1961 Summer Months Accident Reduction Campaign but must not be the end of our accident prevention program that lies ahead as the school children surge back toward the schools and we face the autumn season when we shall have more hours of darkness and inclement weather conditions later in the season, says Floyd H. Mann, Director of the Department of Public Safety.

We are one hundred per cent with Mr. Mann. Let every one of us resolve to be just a little more careful especially at crossings and near schools where children could be the victim of somebody's carelessness.

Proof that it can be done was evidenced by the 50 per cent reduction in Labor Day fatalities. A campaign was instituted in the state in which newspapers, radio and television stations, individuals and organizations cooperated with law enforcement agencies in the reduction of accidents over the Labor Day weekend. The huge success of this campaign proves it can be done if we try.

So let's do it. One fatality is too many.

Don't Miss The Fair

Once again it's fair time and many busy people are getting their displays ready for the big event at Fair Park, Florence. For the twenty-seventh consecutive year farmers, industries, merchants, schools and clubs have participated in assembling under one roof products that represent the progress and effort of the whole area. The fair, in fact, the only place and the only time where so much can be seen at one time.

Nothing perhaps has done more to build good will and understanding between rural and urban people than the fair. It is a place where friends meet, and where new friends are made. It is a place where serious cares may be thrown aside for a little while and young and old alike take part in a day of fun and relaxation.

The livestock and agricultural departments of this fine farmers fair have grown perhaps more than any other, livestock entries coming from many states to the area. It is now the second largest farmers fair in the state, being second in size only to the State Fair in Birmingham.

Arts, crafts and hobbies, displays from schools and clubs, exhibits from local factories and displays of the latest merchandise, all may be seen in the big exhibit halls at the fair.

The fair management is to be commended for its program of modernization during the past few years, making it possible to have additional exhibits, a large seating capacity and more parking space. Complete with a fine two-hour grandstand show and a midway with a big variety of thrilling rides and shows, the fair promises six big days and nights of gala entertainment beginning Monday.

Take your family and meet your friends at the fair.

Brown Reeder, 83 Claimed By Death

Funeral services for William Brown Reeder, 83, 506 North Poplar Street, Florence, who died at Mitchell-Hollingsworth Annex, Monday night following a lengthy illness, were held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Methodist Church, Florence, with Dr. R. L. Archibald, pastor, and the Rev. Gordon Ware officiating. Burial followed in Florence cemetery with Morrison-Elkins directing.

A lifelong resident of Lauderdale county, Mr. Reeder was former tax collector of Lauderdale county, having served that post for eight years, from 1927 until 1935. Prior to that, he had been a farmer, storekeeper, dryline operator, fertilizer salesman and gin operator. From 1916 to 1924, he served as postmaster at Rogersville.

In 1935, Mr. Reeder became engaged in the insurance business, operating as W. B. Reeder Company, however, in 1952, he sold the agency, but continued to work for the new owner, C. L. Blackwell until 1958.

That year, The Florence Civitan Club presented a "This Is Your Life" type program in honor of Mr. Reeder's twenty-five years service as treasurer of the club and at the same time made him a lifetime member.

Mr. Reeder helped organize the North Wood Methodist Church and served on the board of stewards there as well as at Rogersville Methodist Church and the First Methodist Church, where he transferred his membership in 1930.

He is survived by his widow, the former Emma Harrison of Kilren, two sons, Linden Reeder, Florence, and Marvin Reeder, Chattanooga, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. R. B. ## Bell Company To Sponsor Auburn Football Games

Football fans again this year may see filmed play-by-play highlights from Auburn University games on a statewide television network program sponsored by Southern Bell Telephone Company, it was announced today by Carl T. Happer, Jr., the utility's general commercial manager.

The 1961 Auburn Football show will be the third consecutive one sponsored by Southern Bell. The telephone company's decision to sponsor this year's ten-game program was prompted by the overwhelming response of television football fans to the show during the past two seasons, Mr. Happer said.

Stations other than WSFA-TV carrying the program will be WAPI-TV, Birmingham; WKRG-TV, Mobile; WAFG-TV, Huntsville; WOWL-TV, Florence; WMSL-TV, Decatur. The first telecast scheduled for October 1 will bring viewers highlights of the Auburn-Tennessee game played in Knoxville.

of a tuition charge or for seeking donations. Temporary measures, it was shown, would only continue the controversy now raging, it was shown.

A number of questions were posed among them being whether children could be promoted with less than an 180-day school term; whether the principals would receive a full term contract even though the teachers did not; whether the parents should be consulted before a decision was made and others. The Board was unable to reply to the question of promotion as that was a matter to be decided by the State Department of Education, but it was stated that if the teachers voted to continue their strike, the contracts of the principals would be terminated and possibly the janitors would be placed in charge of the school properties for the time being. It was pointed out by Mr. Thornton that the regular materials fee of $5.00 per student would necessarily be continued and to it a fee of $2.00 per student has been added for utilities. It was hoped by the Board that the latter fee might someday be eliminated.

Questions Asked

The question of whether the teachers and principals would be asked to "ride the roads" to acquaint the people of the need for passing the 5-mill tax was asked and Chairman May replied that he felt that this was the problem of the Board but that the teachers and principals certainly would be interested in given all-out assistance toward this end.

After everyone had an opportunity of expressing his or her thoughts, a motion to accept the Board's proposal was made and duly seconded, whereupon a motion to table this motion was introduced with the expressed stated purpose that the matter should be taken to the parents for their expression before the teachers returned to their classrooms. After much discussion, this motion was defeated 111 to 56. The original motion then was placed before the Association and was passed by 115 to 36.

The announcement was then made that the schools would open Friday morning at 8 o'clock and remain open until 11 o'clock for registration with regular classwork beginning Monday morning at 8 o'clock with all buses operating on schedule.

Position Open

Superintendent Thornton advises that all teaching positions have been filled except that of a high school mathematics and science teacher to fill a vacancy at Lauderdale County High school, Rogersville. Applications are being accepted for this position at this time.

Prize Winning Herd

Santa Gertrudis Cattle To Be Exhibited At Fair

Unique among livestock exhibits at the North Alabama State Fair this year will be a herd of twelve Santa Gertrudis show animals from Winrock Farms, Morrilton, Arkansas. This prize winning herd has shown in past years in competition at many fairs throughout the country, consistently earning its share of blue ribbons and championship banners.

Santa Gertrudis is the first true American breed of cattle having been developed at the famous King Ranch in Texas by crossing shorthorn cattle with Brahman.

A Santa Gertrudis bull was purchased this year at auction by J. T. Flagg of Florence for $59,000, the highest price ever paid for a Santa Gertrudis bull at auction, the previous high being $40,000.

Winthrop Rockefeller, owner of Winrock Farms, will be in Florence for the fair.

They include a bill to employ a second circuit judge, a deputy circuit solicitor, a secretary for the circuit solicitor, and the establishment of a county inferior court.

Another is a bill to give the Court of County Commissioners control over the development of new subdivisions outside corporate limits.

Four other bills would permit the hiring of a secretary, a cook at the jail, fix the salary of the chief deputy at $6,000 per year, and authorize the sheriff to appoint not more than five deputies in addition to present deputies and chief deputy.

also the last of the Industrial days. Friday is the fair's annual school day on which day students and their teachers will be admitted for ten cents each up until 1 p.m. Reduced prices for rides on the midway will also be an added attraction for the children during the afternoon.

Saturday known as Homecoming Day will feature the Tennessee Valley Colored Baby Show and the awarding of the third automobile.

Attend Early The public is urged to attend as early in the week as possible, in order to avoid the possibility of rain later on. Also the management points out that the fair may be entered by Chisholm Highway only after 6 p.m. each day since the Cloverdale Road will be closed after that time except for those leaving the fair grounds. City buses will maintain regular schedules to and from the fair during fair week, it was stated.

Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Mack Ingle
Spend Honeymoon in Smokies

Following their wedding of Sunday afternoon, September tenth, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mack Ingle are now honeymooning in the Smokies.

The bride is the former Rebecca Lou Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Benton Blair of 347 West Lee Avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Luther Howard Ingle of 216 Seymour Avenue.

The ceremony took place before a greenery-banked altar in Highland Baptist Church, with tall floor baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra of burning white tapers completing the nuptial setting.

The Reverend Ronald Hill of New Iberia, Louisiana, cousin of the bridegroom, was the officiating clergyman and the musical prelude was by J. B. Webb, organist, and Mrs. John R. Severin, vocal soloist.

Mr. Blair gave his daughter in marriage. For the occasion, she wore bridal satin fashioned along princess lines with Rosepointe lace distinguishing the bodice, designed with a portrait neckline and long, tapering sleeves. The floor-length skirt was full and extended to form a small train. Her veil of double illusion fell from a bandeau of orange blossoms, both previously worn by the bride's sister, Olive, now Mrs. Earl H. Graffam of San Diego, California, and an attendant in Sunday's wedding; her bouquet was of white feathered carnations encircling a white orchid.

Other attendants, also sisters of the bride, were Miss Laura Blair and Mrs. William Gough. All three wore tea-length dresses of turquoise peau de soie with bateau necklines and tiny sleeves detailing the fitted torsos which pointed at the deep hemlines, accentuating fullness from unpressed pleats at the skirt sides. They were matching accessories and carried bouquets of Fujee mums, turquoise for Mrs. Graffam, cream colored for Miss Blair and Mrs. Gough.

The bridegroom's father served him as best man; Lee Howard Thomas, Eugene Somers and James Blair, brother of the bride, as groomsmen.

Mrs. Blair chose for her daughter's wedding and the reception to which she and Mr. Blair were hosts immediately afterward in the church parlors, a gown of champagne brocade and a lavender orchid corsage; Mrs. Ingle wore lavender peau de soie and a white orchid was her flower.

Assisting with reception courtesies were Mrs. William M. Massey, Mrs. Dan Cummings, Mrs. Robert Brotherton, Mrs. Sherman Burnet, Mrs. Ronald Hill and Mrs. Lewis E. Kelley.

For travel, the bride changed to a three-piece knit suit of vibrant blue with which she wore harmonizing accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

After tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Ingle will be at home at 409 East Thach Avenue in Auburn and both will continue courses at Auburn University.

Acker Rogers and Ben King are enrolled for the coming season at McCallie School in Chattanooga.

Largest Goal Ever Set In County*United Fund Campaign Kick-Off September 26

The Board of Directors and the Budget Committee of the 1961 United Fund of Lauderdale County has set as this year's goal, $129,000.

This goal, the largest thus far in this area, does not seem so much when it is realized that this total will support 14 agencies for 12 months, officials point out. This sum is 20 per cent more than has ever been raised in Lauderdale County and it is felt it can be raised if everyone will remember the campaign slogan, "Give Until It Hurts." Kickoff has been set for September 26.

Fred Moore, chairman of the 1961 Budget Committee setting up the $129,000 goal, points out that there are several important advantages in having the United Fund.

UF Is Practical

One, it eliminates the multiplicity of campaigns. It must be recognized that if it were not for the United Fund and its 14 agencies, there would be 74 campaigns throughout the year, all worthy and all needing support. "Therefore," says Mr. Moore, "it is more practical to have one campaign yearly, to give generously to it and be free of 'drives' for the next 11 months."

UF Reduces Costs

Secondly, it reduces campaign costs. The campaign costs for the United Fund here in Lauderdale County is running less than two per cent. This is far below the national average for campaigns, other than the Fund, which estimates that most run 25 to 65 per cent of the campaign dollar received.

HANG ON TO IT!

This is an amazing accomplishment. All in the South can be proud of it...because all of us helped bring it about.

Yet now is no time for complacency. This enviable record of economic progress and growth is "fair game" for every other industrial area in America. They'd like to take it from us—and they're trying hard to do just that.

We must not let them succeed! Today, it is vitally important to all of us that our fast-growing South continue to create and maintain a friendly and favorable "industrial climate." Directly or indirectly, every one of us has a personal stake in making an extra effort to keep new, job-providing industries heading South and to make sure they stay happy in their "new home."

This is more than a fine record of the past. Unless we thoughtlessly let it slip through our fingers, it is a bright prophecy of still greater achievements to come. Hang on to it!

Progress Reported On County Roads

State Highway Director Sam Engelhardt this week gave a detailed progress report on road construction in Lauderdale County in the amount of $1.49 million during the present administration.

Highway Department records show that from January 1959 to the present Federal Aid construction projects were completed by contract in the amount of $431,000; work performed by State Forces was completed in the amount of $900,000; and projects are now under construction by State Forces in the amount of $163,000. Thus road construction and maintenance in Lauderdale County during the present administration totals $1,494,000.

Of this one and one-half million dollars invested in roadbuilding in Lauderdale County, $1,331,000 represents completed construction and $163,000 is presently under construction.

Grading, drainage, base, paving, surfacing, sealing, and bridge construction projects have been completed on 162 miles of roads, with an additional 19 miles now under construction, making a total of 181 miles of improved roads in the County.

U. S. tax payers are paying $1.4 million each day to store surplus products raised on the farms.

THE SPILLWAY

The college crowds are departing
But fast . . .
They take our best wishes:
May these happy days last!

AND YOU JUST HAVE TO SEE and hear a few of them to realize the happy anticipation they feel. The scene doesn't vary much — there're the mamas sorting clothes and sewing in identification tags — while Dad sits in the background figuring out the budget. We overheard an interesting discussion recently about the present cost of college . . . which makes us want to congratulate, especially, the families (and there're quite a few of them) who have more than one offspring attending college this fall — like Tom and Louise Smith, who have daughter Hunter at Auburn University for her freshman year, and Terry at the University . . . and Margaret and Ralph Penland have Ralph, Jr. at Sewanee, and Lyman at Florida Presbyterian College . . . and Carolyn and Jim Barnwell have Bill at Southwestern and Jim at Georgia Tech. We nominate these, and others like them, for posts in our government's finance divisions.

AND JUST AS SMART, because she must be a "budgeteer" of time, is Myrt Ward. Myrt is not only teaching Art at the college, but ALSO is taking a full senior-year "load" toward her degree. And all this while she manages a beautifully kept home, and does lots of sewing for herself and twelve-year-old Martha!

"AN APPLE FOR THE TEACHER" seems to be an outmoded idea around town. If you parents were figuring on "settling" for anything as simple as an apple, you'd better set your marks a little higher. We've just heard of a delightful evening party given by (Doc) Harry and Patty Brown for the ENTIRE faculty of Richards school, where the youngest Brown is a first grader this year. May've been also to welcome the school to the neighborhood, since the Brown house and Richards must just about "back up" to each other.

We'd like to CORRECT, rather, ADD ON to, an item we had last week. When we mentioned the exciting trip which Harriet Tomlinson is having abroad, we didn't realize that it's even more interesting to all of us since Harriet is being accompanied by Mary Lynn McGough. Hear that there was a REAL bon-voyage party in New York for them before they sailed. And from where we viewed the whole, it seemed there were even more of Harriet's and Mary Lynn's friends here on the local scene who'd have liked to be there too — like Bonnie Carr, who, though she is not traveling abroad, is very busy these days packing the bags — for a school year at Mississippi State College for Women . . . along with Betty Barton Pride and Susan Young.

FAWNCY IS THE WORD for Helen Henry's new dance studio, at the same location on North Wood Avenue. If you want to see a real job of making a place over, just visit this busy scene. This year's dancers will be tripping the light fantastic on pink floors, surrounded by pink walls and a black ceiling. And there're new acting bars, plus attractive stack stools for the mamas.

Speaking of CHANGES, have you seen a charming newcomer among the ladies? Actually, you may have been fooled for a minute as we were. Lucile Darby had her pretty long tresses made into prettier short curls, and we understand created quite a stir . . . and "Jess", her stylist, (is that the word?) has been receiving as many compliments as Lucile. By the way, if you're not a regular customer of one of our many local beauty salons, you might be feeling that your social life is lacking . . . The coffee hours and coke-breaks at these places are as elaborate as you could find, and refreshments range from doughnuts to Nela Williams' chess pie and Nell Carr's cookies, and the like.

THE PARTY OF THE WEEK is unquestionably the surprise birthday party given Carolyn Hipp and Evelyn O'Brien, by hubbies Don-and-Don. MANY resourceful people must've gotten together to think up the decorations and entertainment, but we'll bet that the clever honorees, tho' uninformed and unrehearsed, provided the best entertainment of the evening — partly unbeknownst to them, since they are blindfolded part of the time, and didn't know that so many observers were quietly standing around watching them celebrate.

YODELING IN THE MOUNTAINS will probably resound through North Carolina soon, and we wish we could be there to hear. When we heard that Martha and Jim Gilbert were accompanying Isabel and Adam Williams for a visit with Adam's sister at her mountain home, and that Louise Paxton and Cara Slaton would be visiting Louise's relatives nearby, we just wondered if some harmonizing-yodeling couldn't be gotten up. With musicians like Martha and Louise, such should be arranged!

ANOTHER MUSICIAN IN THE NEWS is Larry Smith, who was attending a Youth Rally in Birmingham last week, and while sitting on a bus, at a Stop, saw his prized possession, his electric guitar, leave the bus in the arms of another rider. While the bus driver stopped the bus again, and Larry had the aid of companions, they still were not able to retrieve the stolen guitar. We'll wish for a minor miracle . . . that the guitar was in his dormitory room when he arrived at the University of Mississippi this week for his freshman year!

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW!

Carrier Exam Set For Lexington PO

An examination for Rural Carrier for the post office at Lexington, will be open for acceptance of applications until September 26, the Commission announced today.

September is the month to seed alfalfa. Drill 25 pounds of certified of verified seed per acre. Be sure to use alfalfa inoculant. After seeding cover and firm with cultipacker.

Make plans to treat new and old stands of alfalfa with heptachlor or granules October 1-15. Use 20 pounds of 5 per cent granules or 40 pounds of 2½ per cent granules per acre. This will control adult alfalfa weevils and keep them from severely damaging the crop next spring.

Livestock should not be grazed on the field before the following April.

A Message
The Citizens

GREETINGS:

On Monday, September 18, you will go to the polls to cast your ballot for your next City Commissioner who will serve you for the three years. The polls will be open from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. and during those hours a very important decision will be made.

I ask that, prior to going to the polls, you give careful consideration to my qualifications for this office and I trust that I may justify your support during the remainder of the campaign and your vote on Election Day.

May I call your attention to the various things that I feel qualify me for this important office, along with my desire to render a worthwhile service to you, our community and each of our citizens. My campaign slogan—PROGRESS WITH EXPERIENCE—I trust you will find well represented in the following paragraphs:

- I am owner and operator of the Hickman Advertising Company and for the past 10 years my business has been located at 234 S. Royal Ave. During the previous 14 years, I owned and operated a wholesale food business.
- For the past seven years I have been a member of the Florence Planning Commission, now serving as chairman of that body. This has given me a most valuable insight to the streets, subdivisions, regulations, zoning and other important information that will be helpful in the handling of the office I seek.
- Throughout my adult life, I have taken an active interest in civic service. Starting as a Boy Scout in 1923 and culminating as District Chairman in 1949-1950. I am a Kiwanian with 20 years of perfect attendance and served as president of my club in 1951. I have been a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Shrine for 22 years and served as chairman of the committee in charge of the new building of Hope Haven School for Special Children. I have served on United Fund committees for the past eight years and this year am a captain in the General Division. I have worked with the Multiple Sclerosis campaigns and was chairman for Florence in 1960 and am chairman for the Muscle Shoals area this year. I have also worked for many years with the Girl Scouts and the Salvation Army.
- I am active in the Chamber of Commerce and served as membership chairman last year. I am a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Now, more than ever, we need, not just lip service but active, aggressive and capable men to fill the important posts as members of the City Commission. I ask you most humbly and in all sincerity, to study the qualifications of all candidates in this race. You owe it to yourself to choose carefully. You owe it to our city to select and vote for the man you think will serve all best.

But—above all else—VOTE! VOTE! VOTE! Don't vote blind—study each of them—VOTE for the man who can do the job best. REMEMBER—MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18th.

SINCERELY,

Local Teams Show Up Well

'61 Grid Season Arrives In Muscle Shoals Area

Coffee 18 — Ramsay 0

More than 7,000 fans were in Coffee Stadium Friday night to see Ramsay pass inside its 15 and Coffee intercept to lead to the first touchdown. Seconds later the Birmingham entry fumbled on a buck-lateral series and a Coffee center romped 45 yards with the loose leather for the touchdown that wrapped up the contest.

Quarterback Jimmy Smith crashed into the end zone with the first touchdown of the 1961 season for the Yellow Jackets and seconds later Center Nelson Wimberly plucked off a wild ball after a fumble on a buck-lateral pitchout and romped 45 yards to paydirt.

Reserve Halback Dan Riley countered the final score in the final period by taking a pass from Quarterback Barry Wood and racing 25 yards to score.

Corinth 7 — Sheffield 6

A pulsating 66-yard saunter by a sprinting fullback with a go-ahead touchdown, went shockingly by the boards for luckless Sheffield Friday night, and the battling Bulldogs were nipped at the wire 7-6 by relentless Corinth of Mississippi's Big Eight Conference.

Jimmy Craft of Sheffield seemingly broke a defensive battle wide open with his dynamic 66-yard sprint midway in the third stanza, reaching paydirt.

The Warriors then tomahawked their Tennessee Valley rivals with a TD and extra point as just 1:16 showed on the final stanza clock.

Deshler 27 — Walker County 6

The Deshler Tigers ripped through Walker County 27-6 Friday night at Jasper in an exhibition of talent by John Gamble who opened the season with a flourish by taking the opening kickoff back on a 80-yard touchdown jaunt.

Gamble and Quarterback George Patton also collaborated on a 68-yard pass-run score and the lean halfback streaked 57 yards for another tally.

Cheered by his first opening game victory in his three years at Deshler's helm, Boddy Moore said team effort paid off for his squad.

Rogersville 13 — Tanner 6

Mrs. Thigpen and Mrs. Mary Putnam as co-hostesses. This meeting was devoted to business and work shop. Plans were made to attend a meeting on arrangement at the Recreation Center in Florence on September 12.

Mrs. G. H. Porter remains ill in the hospital at Lawrenceburg, Tenn.

MS Jaycees To Have Public Park

The Muscle Shoals City Jaycees have begun preliminary work on a public park, consisting of approximately eight acres adjoining the Muscle Shoals City Junior High School. The area will be cleared Saturday morning by the Jaycees and any other interested persons who want to help.

Muscle Shoals City is furnishing the grader work with the remainder of the work to be completed by the Jaycees. The park will include playground equipment of all types, picnic areas, tennis courts, volleyball courts and other recreational facilities, with long range plans calling for a swimming pool and community house.

The initial funds for the park were raised by giving away a Comet automobile Labor Day at Spring Park, Tusculumbia, which was won by Aaron Singleton of Muscle Shoals City. Also on Labor Day, the Jaycees conducted a "Courtesy Check" at the intersection of Highways 20 and 43 urging motorists to drive safely over the holiday. The safety check was only one of many community service projects of the Muscle Shoals City Jaycees.

READY FOR ACTION—Members of Headquarters Detachment of Company B, 20th Special Forces, Alabama National Guard, just before take-off Saturday for Fort McClellan for extended parachute jump training.

Guard Unit At Fort McClellan

The members of Headquarters Detachment of Unit B, 20th Special Forces, Alabama National Guard, commanded by Major Chester L. McKinney, have returned from Fort McClellan where they engaged in extensive parachute jump training.

They received pre-jump orientation, which consisted of location, terrain and hazards of drop zone. They left there for the drop zone and began the jump, in which three flying boxcar type airplanes were used.

The groups are trained to recruit, organize and train partisan and guerilla type bands into effective fighting forces. The phases of training include medical, demolition, weapons, foreign and American, and communications.

Muscle Shoals Mental Health Center An Asset

By ANN SULLIVAN
Staff Reporter

This is the FIRST of a series of articles dealing with the functions and activities of the Muscle Shoals Mental Health Center. The Muscle Shoals Mental Health Center is a facility which helps people to keep themselves mentally healthy. It belongs to the community. There are no charges for its services to people of the eight counties it serves in north-west Alabama.

The Lauderdale and Colbert County Health Departments, under which the Muscle Shoals center operates, are dedicated to the prevention of all illnesses which may interfere with the optimum effectiveness and personal satisfaction of people in this area and to the ultimate recovery and rehabilitation of those whose lives are upset by emotional distress.

Mental health problems may seem trivial and something the person will outgrow, but to the professionally trained worker these problems may mean the beginning of a serious development that should have attention immediately and without help the person could have real trouble.

Mental Health Team
Professionally prepared workers are on the mental health team at the center. They include psychiatrists, clinical psychologists and psychiatric social workers.

The psychiatrist is a medical doctor and has had special training in treating emotional disturbances, the clinical psychologist primarily does testing and also therapy in some cases, and the psychiatric social worker works with families and patients in objective counseling to help them understand the problem and make plans for solving it.

This team helps to promote mental health of the community by leading various study groups, and by taking part in radio, television and other community programs concerned with mental health.

Danger Signals
Emotional disturbance can be recognized by a person's behavior. He may be too easily angered, too violent in his anger, too slow to learn in school, unable to get along well with others, or he may be unduly anxious or worried and unhappy without reason.

Children sometimes are much too shy and have many fears. Quite clearly, any of these people, child or adult, need help. Anyone who recognizes these danger signals in another person or himself either should refer to the center where help will be given.

Group Therapy
One of the services offered by the Health center is Group Therapy. Mrs. Ruth Arnett, director of the Muscle Shoals Mental Health Center, said, "A meeting is held once a week for men and women who have had difficulty with emotional problems. Many persons have seen these programs on television but probably do not know there is a similar type of help in this area."

"Individuals who wish to become members of that group are selected according to what they can give of themselves as well as for what they may receive beneficially from the group and are individually interviewed before permitted to join," Mrs. Arnett reported.

"In the past, a program has been held for ten-year-old boys, early adolescent boys, pre-school children, and parents of these children. Much progress has been made during these programs and group work has become a valuable asset to the center," she stated.

Studies Being Made
Hugh Sherer, Psychiatric Case Worker at the center, said, "We are in the process of doing a study as to what this area's needs are regarding mental health in the two counties. Professional men and women who come in contact with people with emotional problems have been asked to complete a schedule so that it may be found what the needs of these people are and what resources are available to meet these needs."

"Mental illness is nothing to be ashamed of," Mr. Sherer said. "If you know of anyone who is having emotional difficulties, the center is an agency which will help with that problem," he concluded.

forecast for ENERGY

Boosted by millions of new cars per year, America's need for energy will double by 1980

Today, over 72,000,000 motor vehicles are on the road — almost half again as many as in 1950. As our population grows, the number of cars also climbs. By 1980 there will be 70 per cent more vehicles in the nation. Demand for energy to produce these cars, as well as to power them, will rise correspondingly. And this is just one phase of the energy story. New factories, new products, new markets of the future will boost our energy needs twice as high by 1980.

Where will it come from? Much will come from present energy sources, some from new ones. Whatever the source, a large share of energy in its most efficient and usable forms will be transported via pipelines. Texas Eastern's Little Big Inch pipeline system, largest of its kind, delivers liquid petroleum products from Gulf Coast refineries to Midwest markets. Our natural gas pipelines, which stretch from the Mexican border to the Atlantic Seaboard, have capacity to fuel thousands of factories and heat millions of homes. Looking to the future, Texas Eastern is growing and diversifying today to meet tomorrow's needs.

The Unquestioned Compulsion

Years ago there were many who disputed the novel idea of free and compulsory public education. The first truancy laws were opposed as infringements on liberty.

But as our children return this fall to schools that will mold their growing minds—does a single parent complain?

I believe in sound religious education, as well. The molding of the character should keep pace with the molding of the mind.

Naturally I never want my government to exercise compulsion in this sacred area. And my Church, while it offers a complete curriculum of religious training, does so on a free and voluntary basis.

But I'm a parent! And, though I find that example and encouragement usually suffice, I'm not above telling Johnny.

"YES, SON, YOU HAVE TO GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL!"

As a child begins to see the importance Faith has in our lives and in the strength of our nation... you'll be surprised how quickly this becomes an unquestioned compulsion.

Copyright 1961 Kelster Adv. Service, Inc., Strasburg, Va.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Facts

In the past 30 years the value of the soybean crop has increased a hundred-fold. It now is worth over a billion dollars annually and ranks fifth among cash crops.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that 26.4 million acres will be planted to soybeans in the 1961 season. About 1.5 million a year were planted during the 1920's.

The USDA attributes this to: (1) improved varieties; (2) diversion of land to soybeans as a result of price supports and restrictions on acreage of other crops; and (3) a shift in acreage from feed grains to soybeans as requirements for feed for livestock dwindled.

Wartime demand for fats and oils spurred a rapid expansion in soybean acreage. Oil supplies were cut off from the Far East and soybean oil helped alleviate this shortage.

With incomes increasing, there has been a bigger demand for meat. This has resulted in a greater need for more protein feed for livestock.

Value of the soybean crop has increased a hundred-fold in 30 years.

stock and a rising trend in soybean meal consumption. The Corn Belt is the top soybean area, but production has zoomed in the Delta and Lake states. About 15% of the acreage is in the Delta states.

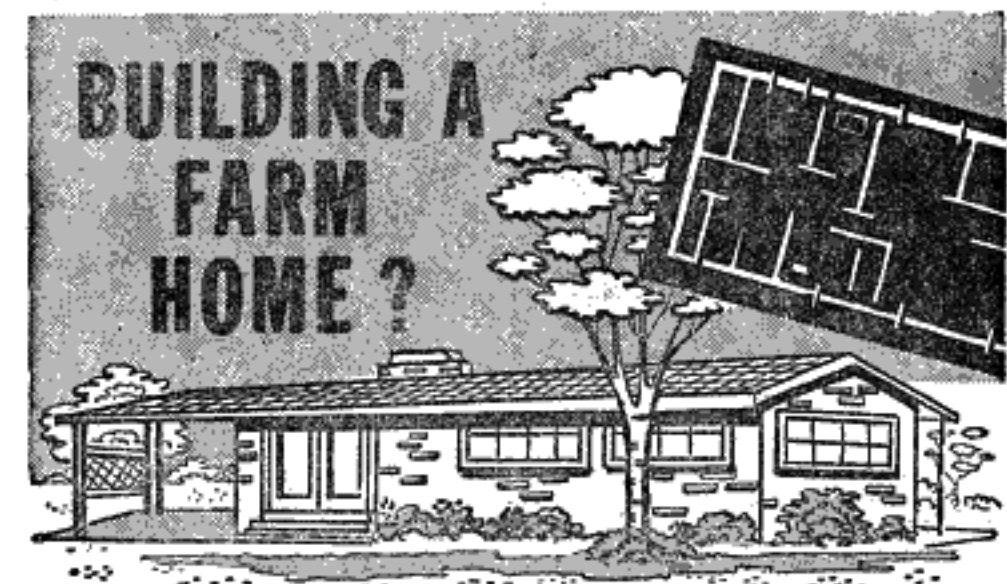

troughs that are at least five inches deep. The troughs should have a one-inch lip and be kept less than half full at all times, recommends Hubbard.

He also suggests that the lip of the feed trough be adjusted to the shoulder height of the chicken. This will help keep the birds from billing out feed and will also help keep litter and foreign matter out of the trough, adds the specialist.

NEEDED, MORE FERTILIZER

By JOHN HENDERSON Assistant County Agent

During August and September, the cotton in many fields in Lauderdale County turned red with rust, stopped growing and stopped putting on fruit at the top of the stalks. In many corn fields, the stalks began to show deficiency symptoms, ears stopped developing and instead of large ears of corn we now find small ears or "nubbins." In most cases this is simply a case of shortage of fertilizer at the time when plants need it to develop a good mature crop. The fertilizer applied at planting may have been sufficient to produce good stalks to hold the fruit but it was all used up by the time the fruit was making. Just when the plants were needing food the most, they had to go on a starvation diet because most of the fertilizer was gone. If you have not observed this in your fields, the next time you are in them, see if your cotton is well fruited up in the top and see if you have large ears of corn on your stalks. If you haven't, it could well be that you did not use enough fertilizer.

Farmers know that to make good cotton yields, we must get fruiting up to the top of the stalk, in other words, make a good "top crop." If we fail to do this, we only harvest that produced near the bottom of the stalks and do not make maximum yields. The same thing is true of corn, we must produce good mature ears to make good yields. And what is true for cotton and corn is true for any crops, it must have sufficient plant food if it is to produce the maximum yield.

Fertilize well those pastures and small grain you are planting this fall so they will grow and make the yield you expect from them. If we continue to increase our yields in Lauderdale County we must use more of the right kind of fertilizer.

You might ask how a person is to know the amount of fertilizer to use so he will not run short during the season. The only sure way is to take soil samples in your fields and have them analyzed. Experienced soil chemists can then take the results from the soil test and make recommendations as to the correct kind and amount of fertilizer for your particular conditions. Then if you will follow these recommendations, you can be sure you will not run short of fertilizer just when your crop needs it worse. We have the necessary supplies and instructions for taking soil samples at the County Agent's office and we will be glad to help you in any way.

So take a look at your crops and see if they seem to be suffering from a shortage of food. If they are, try to imagine the good top crop of cotton and the large ears of corn you could have had if you had only used more fertilizer. Promise yourself now that you will take a soil test and use enough fertilizer next year to make better yields. It's just a good farming practice and the right thing to do. Call on us if we can help you in any way.

October Is Deadline

The deadline is nearing for farm operators to claim a federal tax refund on gasoline used for farm purposes during the period of July 1, 1960, through June 30, 1961.

Foy Helms, Auburn Extension Service economist points out that the deadline for filing the federal gasoline tax refund claim is October 2.

A refund of four cents a gallon may be claimed on all gasoline used between July 1, 1960, and June 30, 1961, Helms states.

The deadline is also nearing for filing claims for a state gasoline tax refund. The state law requires that to be eligible for payment, claims must be received by the Commissioner of Revenue by September 30, 1961, he points out.

Helms adds that forms for filing these claims can be obtained either from the county agent's office or from the State Department of Revenue in Montgomery.

Profits Reduced By Feed Wastage

Wasted feed can take a big bite out of the poultryman's egg profits.

Jim Hubbard, Auburn Extension Service poultry specialist, points out that feed wastage alone can drain a considerable amount of the egg producer's income. The specialist says it takes very little wastage to amount to 10 to 15 per cent. This can represent an additional feed cost of two cents per dozen eggs, says Hubbard.

To cut down on feed wastage, he says, provide four inches of feeder space per hen and use feed
